

PROSPECTUS
OF
FOUR YEARS OF FIGHTING.

A BOOK OF BATTLES:

A Volume of Narrative, Adventure, Incident, and Personal Observation, with the Army and Navy, East, West, North, and South, from the first Battle of Bull Run to the Fall of Richmond, by CHARLES CARLETON COFFIN,

“CARLETON,”

The Army Correspondent of the “Boston Journal,” and author of “Winning His Way,” “Following the Flag,” “My Days and Nights on the Battle-Field,” etc.

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED.

A Steel Engraving of the Author, in the highest style of art, by RITCHIE. SEVERAL FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS on wood, from designs by WAUD, EYTINGE, and other artists.

ANTIETAM; SHERMAN'S BUMMERS; JOHN BROWN IN CHARLESTON; RICHMOND IN FLAMES; PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S WELCOME TO RICHMOND; GETTYSBURG BATTLE-FIELD; SHILOH CHURCH; A MISSISSIPPI SCHOOL-HOUSE; also, DIAGRAMS OF BATTLES.

The writer of this volume commenced his duties, as an observer of events, on the 11th of June, 1861, continuing till the last rebel had laid down his arms. He has had unequalled privileges for observing the great events of the times. He was an eye-witness of the first battle at Bull Run, Fort Donelson, Island No. 10, Fort Pillow, Memphis, Corinth, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, Fort Sumter, Wilderness, Spottsylvania, North Anna, Hanover Court

House, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Weldon Railroad, and Five Forks. He was in Savannah soon after its occupation by Sherman, and was one of the first to enter Charleston in the hour of her deepest humiliation. He witnessed the last grand movement of Grant around Petersburg, and rode into Richmond with Weitzel's troops on the day of its occupation by the Federal forces.

His letters have given delight to millions of loyal hearts in our own land, and many of them have been republished in England, France, and Germany. His descriptions of battles are marked by clearness and vigor of comprehensive statement, a truthfulness and correctness which give them a high historic value. Officers, soldiers, and civilians, alike, have accepted them as trustworthy and as best delineating the scenes and events of the various campaigns. His nom de plume is a household word the country through.

The lamented Major-General McPherson, Sherman's favorite commander, who fell before Atlanta, was accustomed to read his letters aloud to the members of his staff, around the camp-fire, often remarking that for clearness, terseness, and vigor of description, they were unsurpassed in history.

The volume is wholly historic. In addition to the descriptions of battles, incidents of marches, the camp, and the hospital, there is a chapter of exceeding interest, giving the secret history of the rebel cotton loan in England and France, from original documents which were obtained in Richmond. Among the papers in the possession of Mr. Coffin are letters from

JOHN M. MASON, Rebel Minister to England;

JOHN SLIDELL, Rebel Minister to France;

BARON ERLANGER, Banker, of Paris, Negotiator of the Loan;

GENERAL C. J. McRAE, Rebel Agent in charge of the Loan;

JAMES SPENCE, of Liverpool, Rebel Agent, and Correspondent of the London "Times;"

G. C. MEMMINGER, Secretary of Rebel Treasury.

The correspondence between these parties shows how the loan was brought out; how persons occupying positions of influence were bought up; what commissions were paid; who made money; how the English Press in general was secured to the interests of the Rebellion; how the London "Times," in particular, was brought into the service of the Rebels; and how the Emperor of France congratulated Baron Erlanger on the success of his operations.

It is a chapter which will be read with eager interest on both sides of the Atlantic.

The publishers believe that no book has been offered to the public surpassing this in interest,—a volume which will always have a place in American literature and American history.

This book will be sold by subscription exclusively. It will be issued in one handsome octavo volume of about 600 pages, printed on fine paper, and in clear type.

Bound in muslin, $ 3.50; in leather, $ 4.50.

TICKNOR & FIELDS,

PUBLISHERS,

No. 124 Tremont Street,

BOSTON.

FOUR YEARS OF FIGHTING,

CHARLES CARLETON COFFIN.

ORDERS

FOR

BY

A BOOK OF BATTLEES.

FOUR YEARS OF FIGHTING.

A BOOK OF BATTLES.

A Volume of Narrative, Adventure, Incident, and Personal Observation with the Army and Navy. East, West, North and South, from the first Battle of Bull Run to the Fall of Richmond, by Charles Carleton Coffin,

“CARLETON,”

The Army Correspondent of the “Boston Journal,” and author of “Winning His Way,” “Following the Flag,” “My Days and Nights on the Battle-Field,” etc.

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED

With a Steel Engraving of the Author, in the highest style of art, by KITCHIE, and SEVERAL FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS on wood, from designs by WAUD, EXTINGE, and other artists, of Antietam; Sherman's Bummers; John Brown in Charleston; Richmond in Flames; President Lincoln's Welcome to Richmond; Gettysburg Battle-Field; Shiloh Church; A Mississippi School-House; also, Diagrams of Battles.

In addition to the descriptions of battles, incidents of marches, the camp and the hospital, there is a chapter of exceeding interest, giving the secret history of the rebel cotton loan in England and France, from original documents which were obtained in Richmond. Among the papers in the possession of Mr. Coffin are letters from JOHN M. MASON, Rebel Minister to England; JOHN SLIDELL, Rebel Minister to France; BARON ERLANGER, Banker, of Paris, Negotiator of the Loan; GENERAL C. J. McRAE, Rebel Agent in charge of the Loan; JAMES SPENCE, of Liverpool, Rebel Agent, and Correspondent of the London “Times”; G. C. MEMMINGE, Secretary of Rebel Treasury. The correspondence between these parties shows how the loan was brought out; how persons occupying positions of influence were bought up; what commissions were paid; who made money; how the English Press in general was secured to the interests of the Rebellion; how the London “Times,” in particular, was brought into the service of the Rebels; and how the Emperor of France congratulated Baron Erlanger on the success of his operations. It is a chapter which will be read with eager interest on both sides of the Atlantic.

This book will be sold by subscription exclusively. It will be issued in one handsome octavo volume, printed on fine paper, and in clear type. Bound in muslin, $3.50; in leather, $4.50.

Subscribers' Names.	Residence.	Plain Cloth, $3.50.	Leather, $4.50.	Remarks.

Joseph H. H. H.	Kingston	Thin 1/2	Delivered
Frank Fuller	Kingston	Plain 1/2	Delivered
Lucia C. Fuller	Kingston	"	Delivered
Abbie C. Buchanan	Kingston	"	Delivered
Keatu K. Scudder	Kingston	"	Delivered
Elizabeth E. H. Atkinson	Kingston	3, 50	Delivered
Edith E. H. Atkinson	Kingston	3, 50	Delivered
G. S. Newcomb	Kingston	3, 50	Delivered
Arthur S. Buchanan	Kingston	Plain 1/2	Delivered
Lency D. Waterson	Kingston	3, 50	Delivered
May C. Bartlett	Kingston	3, 50	Delivered
J. A. Fuller	Indian Pond	3, 50	Delivered

Henry Lovejoy	Kingston	350	Delivered
Henry F Cook	Kingston	350	Delivered
E E Waterman	Kingston	350	Delivered
Joseph J Robins	Kingston	350	Delivered
Charles C Bryant	Kingston	350	Delivered
Mary J C Sporne	Kingston	350	Delivered
Rebecca Hewitt	Kingston	350	Delivered
C. J. Carley	Kingston	350	Delivered
Branch	Kingston	350	Sept 29th
Martin Woodward	Plympton	350	Delivered
Isabel M Wright	Plympton	350
George W Robins	Plympton	350	Delivered
Daniel Weston	Plympton	350	Delivered

