Kickers nip Rollins in OT, 3-2

It seems every time the Sunblazer soccer team plays, it rains. Late Tuesday (Oct. 10) no rain could drown the team's spirit.

In overtime, FIU (5-3) edged arch-rival Rollins (7-2) by a score of 3-2.

Al Njie scored the winning goal unassisted after three and a half minutes of overtime. The other FIU goals were by Luis Cordoba and Miguel Solozabal. It was Solozabal's goal with 6:14 left in regulation which tied the score at two apiece.

A tenacious defense received compliments from many of the players and Greg Preston was a standout defensive performer.

The 'Blazers outshot Rollins 38 to 15.

This victory brightens FIU's hopes for a playoff berth in the NCAA Division II championships. For more soccer see page 10.

Hispanic week picks up pace with horse show

GEORGE VIA Contributor

FIU's Hispanic Heritage Week, which began Friday with Fiesta Guajira, started off to a mild cantor but by mid evening had broken into a full trot.

Heading down the steps of University House, the concrete walls gave way to a fiesta of gala delight.

The evening had arrived, and so had the horse show.

Standing by a roped off area, a constant stream of beautiful caballos and caballeros paraded by. So graceful were their struts that one horse bore a remarkable resemblance to a Spanish flamenco dancer with his quick rigid steps.

Other horses were resplendent in Hollywood attire; a bold, black stallion toting a caped Zorro made his way through the arena while a light brown Palomino (who looked like "Buttermilk" of Roy Rogers and Dale Evans fame) dazzled the audience with her beautiful demeanor.

Eventually, a light drizzle persisted and Fiesta Guajira was moved inside the UH Forum. There, a Latin brass band played songs with a good beat, while children beat a traditional Pinada with a baseball bat until the whole donkey broke open and spilled its candy.

There was food and exotic drinks on hand.

All in all, Fiesta Guajira was the beginning of a festive week.

SHORT SHRIFT

Fast tradition

Today is Yom Kippur, a solemn day of atonement for members of the Jewish religion. Many Jews will be fasting as a way of reconciliation with their God.

Testing and class decisions will be left up to individual instructors, according to the office of academic affairs.

Vocationers meet

The division of vocation in the School of Education hosted the fall meeting of the Florida Association of Vocational and Adult Teacher Educators. There were representatives from the vocational and adult education programs of each of the nine state universities at the meeting.

The representatives discussed development of a master plan for vocational and adult teacher training and staff development in Florida. Dr. Glenn Fardig, Harry Hall and Dr. Bob Paugh of Florida Technical University will be coordinating this pioneer effort.

In another move, Dr. Rosemere Baum of FIU's home economics department was named president-elect of the association.

Steinberg at meet

State representative Paul Steinberg will be the guest speaker at Phi Delta Kappa's first meeting of the year Oct. 18 in UH Forum at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting is open to the public. For more info call 940-5820.

Meat served

Anybody with $12.50 can buy tickets to the FIU League's second annual Holiday Ball. It's Dec. 9 at the Eden Roc Hotel and will feature music, food, dancing, professional entertainment and door prizes. Tickets in PC 230 at Tamiami Campus and TC 210 on North Campus.

SAY CHEESE!

Meet the press

FIU's yearbook Elan is sponsoring professional photographers to come to both campuses to take student portraits. The photos are free, and students who have their pics shot will receive a ticket for a free beer in the Rat.

All photos are by appointment only. These appointments can be made in the Student Activities offices at each campus.

Photos will be taken between Oct. 16 and 25.

The FIU Public Safety Department will soon begin issuing $1 tickets to cars without the proper decals.

Decals can be purchased at the Cashier's office (PC 120). The cost is $5 for faculty and $3 for students; motorcycle decals cost $2.

The Public Safety Department issues both University and Metropolitan Dade County parking tickets. University citations are placed in the student scholarship fund.

University parking citations can be appealed to the university traffic authority within seven calendar days.

The traffic authority is a duly constituted legal body with original jurisdiction concerning violations of University regulations. The body is composed of representatives from the student and faculty senates plus one at large representative serving on an annual basis.

Some traffic and parking regulations:

✓ Motorists should yield the right of way to pedestrians crossing the roadway in an identified crosswalk.

✓ The campus speed limit is 25 miles per hour on roadways and 10 m.p.h. in the parking lots unless otherwise posted.

✓ Vehicles inclusive of bicycles are not to be operated on the grass, sidewalks or non-approved accessways.

✓ Traffic accidents must be reported to the Department of Public Safety immediately.

✓ Vehicles may be parked only in spaces specifically identified as parking spaces. Vehicles must park within the identifiable boundaries.

✓ Parking is not allowed on grass, sidewalks, crosswalks, building apron/patio areas, or on roadways except where specifically allowed and identified as an exception. (Bumper blocks properly located may sometimes be recognized as temporary parking)

✓ Motorcycles, motor scooters, mopeds and bicycles will be parked only in specifically identified areas.

✓ Double parking is not allowed at any time.

✓ Students, faculty or staff member needing to load or unload materials from any classroom, offices, etc., shall obtain a loading/unloading permit from the department of public safety prior to loading or unloading.

✓ Vehicles left on the campus overnight should be reported to the department of public safety. Vehicles left on campus for more than three consecutive days and nights will be considered abandoned and towed away at the owner's expense unless special arrangements are made through the department of public safety.

✓ Major repairs to vehicles shall not be performed on campus except in authorized areas.

✓ Any student, faculty or staff member with a physical disability which requires special parking consideration may apply to the department of public safety for information concerning parking privileges in the parking areas for handicapped.

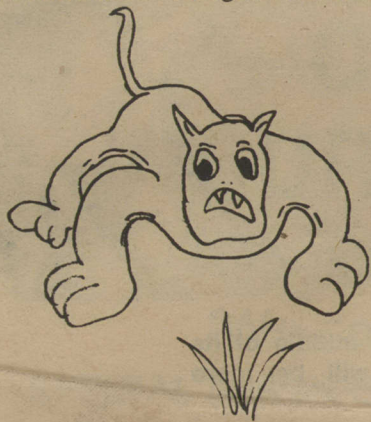

✓ University parking violation fines double after seven days if the citation is not answered.

Fine schedules for parking violations include unauthorized parking in no parking or loading zone, $5; parking over center line in lot, $1, double parking $3; parking in manner which blocks or impedes traffic, $5.

Two new parking lots open this year. The Vier-tes Haus parking lot has 151 places, the Owa Ehan lot has 162 spaces and a 100-space visitor's lot.

The public safety department will assist motorists in many cases, such as jumping cars with dead batteries, call 552-2626.

FIU's department of public safety is a state empowered law enforcement body composed of a university police division and a support services division. Police personnel are fully empowered state university police officers who have the authority to arrest, carry a firearm and preserve peace.

Student does what has to be done

PEGGY SCHUMO VERNON
North Miami Campus Editor

(NORTH MIAMI CAMPUS) Whether it is promoting dance marathons or other fundraising events for the Muscular Dystrophy Association or working with student activities to bring first class entertainment to campus, FIU student Tom Marano is not one to sit back and let others do it. He's right up front in the thick of things doing what has to be done.

Marano, a business management major and volunteer in the student activities office has been active in MDA at all levels for the past three years and presently is chairman of MDA's National Youth Committee.

Marano's involvement with MDA goes back to his senior year at Lake Park High School in Roselle, Ill., where he coordinated and ran a 20 hour dance marathon which netted $35,000 for the MDA.

"I was invited to Las Vegas to present the check to Jerry Lewis during the telethon and that's when I got hooked — seeing the wonderful work they do and their genuine care and love for the patients," Marano said.

After returning from Las Vegas, Marano began his freshman year at Loyola University where he not only continued to work tirelessly for MDA, but he also became active in student government.

He transferred to FIU this fall from Loyola, a prestigious private University, after carefully considering the advantages for his education and career.

"Educationally, I wanted to have the experience of (attending) a state university system. I plan to attend an eastern graduate school and I feel my chances are enhanced by graduating from a state system.

"I also took MDA into consideration — there's plenty of untapped potential down here that should present a challenge."

As MDA's national youth chairman, Marano receives no salary. However, the association does pay his travel expenses and accommodations for numerous trips to address regional conferences, conduct workshops on effective ways to raise money, running summer camps for patients, and show how youth committees can insure better patient services.

During fall, Marano worked with Chuck Zink, South Florida TV personality and MDA vice president, in conference planning for a national leadership conference in Hollywood, Fla. Marano was impressed and inspired by Zink's dedication to MDA.

"He (Zink) has done so much through the years to promote MDA and has really made Florida a large part of the MDA family," Marano said. "I'm looking forward to working with him now that I'm in Miami."

SGA seats open

Fall into elections

BILL SOPKO
Sports Editor

The FIU Student Government Association's twice-yearly elections will take place next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the UH Forum and at the machines at North Miami Campus. Voting times will be from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

The number of petitions received is about average for the fall term elections. The hottest races seem to be in the College of Arts and Sciences, where 12 students have filed petitions for the four Senate seats, and for Associate Chair where four petitions have been received.

Positions will be contested in the Schools of Business; Hospitality; and Technology. The six petitions received for the Senate in the School of Technology represents an FIU record.

Five petitions were received for International court, and there are five positions open. The top vote-getter will be the Chief Justice, and the other four will be Associate Justices.

In the Schools of Public Affairs and Education, there were not as many petitions filed as vacancies.

No petitions were received for the unpaid positions on the Budget Committee, in which one seat from each School will be filled.

Six hundred T-shirts will be given away to the candidates and the first voters. The T-shirts read: "Sex is more fun after voting" on the front, and "SGA Elections: Oct.16-18" on the back.

SGA election worth a vote

The SGA elections are open to all students. They will be Oct. 16, 17 and 18. The candidates and issues are covered on pages six and seven of this issue.

All we can say is vote.

If something doesn't work, move it south

In late October, the Board of Regents will be asked to approve a Master of Arts in Economics program at FIU.

At the same meeting, the BOR will be asked to terminate a Master of Arts in Economics program at the University of West Florida.

Seems hardly anyone is interested in the program up there at UWF so it is sort of being sent south beginning in fall of 1979.

That makes sense?

Paper Chase

Emmett Benjamin, of FIU's Labor Institute, political candidate and as you can see a lover of newspapers is shown here trying to rip his lips off during a meet the candidates forum in University House Oct. 4.

President sets goals for year

To the Editor:

Students, your active participation in the learning experience this fall at FIU is indicative of your drive to future success. We welcome you to the University and look forward to joining with you to prepare for our future together.

Your goal is to become an FIU alumnus. I will experience that feeling later this year when I become a past-president of the University. I would like to share a few thoughts with you as we face a similar future.

Students are the greatest accomplishment of FIU and with over 10,000 alumni already, we are indeed proud of our accomplishments. It is a tribute to the University that current and former students work hard in support of the future for FIU. I hope you will join me in pledging a lifelong commitment to your university as it seeks to provide continuing service and expanding educational opportunities.

This is an important year of presidential leadership transition, re-accreditation, self-study, and tight budgets again to deal with our complex urban needs.

Your understanding support and active participation in this year of excitement and achievement will be one of the ingredients required for success.

I hope you will join with me and the other members of our university community to make the 1978-79 academic year an experience of great benefit to all of us and FIU.

Fraternity helps retarded youth

To the Editor:

Alpha Phi Omega, National Service Fraternity has applied for a National Charter on the FIU campus, with the installation of charter members tentatively scheduled for the Fall Festival.

The purpose of this fraternity is to assemble college students in a National Service Fraternity in the fellowship of the principles of the Boy Scouts of America as embodied in its Scout Oath and Law, to develop LEADERSHIP, to promote FRIENDSHIP, and to provide SERVICE to humanity and to further the freedom that is our national, educational, and intellectual heritage.

Current officers are: Tom Tilden,

President; Glenn Cuttler, 1st Vice President; Mollie Pinnas, 2nd Vice President; Lila Neese, Secretary; Pete Wassenar, Treasurer; Walter Hall, Sergeant at Arms.

Service projects include mentally retarded Boy and Girl Scout Troops supported in part by the fraternity. Current members serving as leaders are: Glenn Cuttler, Boy Scout Troop 356, Haven School for the Mentally Retarded and Lila Neese, Girl Scout Troop 516, Special Education Department, Riviera Junior High School.

General meetings are held at 12:30 in UH 316 on the second Monday of each month.

To the Editor:

The Elan staff has started their work for the 1978-79 yearbook. We have decided what we need for our introduction section. This section be all color and completely finished by Nov. 1. We have outlined the pages as follows:

- 1 Title page
- 2 Change Day (registration)
- 3 Opening of the Rathskeller

- 4 & 5 Hispanic Heritage Week
- 6 & 7 Student Life
- 8 & 9 Tradition (Logo...)
- 10 & 11 Fall Festival and Homecoming
- 12 & 13 North Campus Buildings
- 14 & 15 Tamiami Buildings
- 16 & 17 Night Students

We need any color photos, not slides, you may be able to contribute by Oct. 15. We will give you photo credit for the ones we use in the yearbook. Come to UH 212C.

Foreign films shown on North Campus

To the Editor:

In regards to a recent letter, it is my hope to set the record straight. The North Miami Campus is sponsoring the International Cinema Series.

"Last Tango in Paris" shows Tuesday Oct. 17 with future titles such as

"Satyricon," "Amacord" and "Hiroshima Mon Amour."

In our Thursday-Friday series we also have "Cries and Whispers," "Annie Hall" and "Goodbye Bruce Lee." For further information call 940-5805.

Group supports human rights

To the Editor:

During the past year Amnesty International documented such violations of human rights as arbitrary detention, torture, unfair trials and the death penalty in more than 110 countries and worked for the release of more than 5,000 prisoners of conscience.

The AIUSA Miami group is seeking students and faculty members willing to write one or more letters to Uruguayan and Philippine authorities concerning the plight of two forgotten prisoners.

The Mayor of Dade County, Steve Clark, has proclaimed this week, beginning Monday, Oct. 16, Prisoner Conscience Week and urges the people of the county to join with him "in supporting the many meaningful contributions of these 'Good Samaritans'" in focusing the spotlight of public concern upon the plight of men and women

S&C defends choices

To the Editor:

This open letter is for Ms. Butterworth for her "Movie Selection Questioned" (10-2-78) and anyone else who feels dis-satisfied with the current entertainment offerings available at FIU. The film committee is composed of students who reviewed the student input and budgetary limitations; they carefully selected a wide variety of films so there would be something for almost everyone.

"Provocative and cinematic jewels" of this age or any other, do not appeal to everyone, which is why there is a wide variety.

The Social and Cultural Committee meets every Wednesday at 10 a.m. in UH 313. Additional student input has always been solicited before the fact.

TV fails miserably

The Distinguished Service Cross is a medal awarded by the United States Air Force "for valor," as the inscription states, and for extreme heroism in the face of the enemy. Few men have ever received such an award.

The Distinguished Service Cross is second to the Congressional Medal of Honor.

A man with the DSC does what he knows is best for the country. Few people ever question his integrity, his authority or his demeanor.

Apparently, Executive Producer Glenn Larson of Universal Studios never researched the type of man who would hold the DSC.

In a made-for-TV movie entitled "BJ and the Bear" Larson's main character was a man who held the DSC.

During the course of the movie, this lead character missed a chance to steal a million dollars worth of "old" money which he hauled in his truck. He made several hauls but his last haul was a load of seven runaway teenage whores who had escaped from a "ranch" where they were apparently being held against their will.

As they tried to get across county lines the girls lost their trust in their only hope (BJ) and conspired against him. In effect, they called him a liar, a cheat, a thief, and a con-artist. This "man" was so inept at handling people that when the girls threatened to beat him with little sticks, he had to be saved by a monkey with a gun.

"Poor taste" would not effectively describe the worth of this film.

Kaminsky was right

To the Editor:

I would like to add my personal opinion (and support) to that of Mr. Kaminsky (10-2-78), specifically to his analysis on the lack of preparative education encountered in the two plus two educational format.

Basically, we do not enjoy the ample time necessary to re-teach, un-teach, or plainly teach juniors in specific beginners techniques they need in math and writing.

In History, according to Kaminsky, students "have to be led into the difficult but essential techniques of essay-writing," in Technology, according to Llevada, in addition to writing they must be led into principles of problem-solving and math.

The anticipation is over, the hype has ended, the ax is ready to fall.

Sound serious? Not really, it's only the normal stages of the annual new T.V. season. This season, like most others, has been a disappointment.

Of the shows that premiered, eight from both CBS and NBD and five from ABC, it appears only a handful will see another season.

Below is the TV racing form as it stands three weeks after the networks opened the starting gate.

'Ondine' auditions today and Thursday

Auditions for University Theatre's fall production of Jean Giraudaux's Play, "Ondine," will be Oct. 10-12.

"Ondine" is a romantic fantasy set in the middle ages. Many roles are available. The production requires singers as well as actors, and backstage help is needed — there are three settings and numerous magical effects.

Actors are requested to present a prepared monologue in any style or period. Auditions will be in VH 100 (University Theatre) from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Woody Allen is no Ingmar Berman and that is the setback in Allen's unfunny follow-up to his Oscar winning "Annie Hall."

"Interiors" is Allen's attempt at a change to a more serious style, but what he has concocted is a natural improbability.

Does a musical starring Bela Lugosi sound appealing? Wait! How about a ballet choreographed by Leon Spinks? This serious movie by witty Woody falls into this category.

Unfortunately, for all Woodymaniacs, Allen has written and directed a lackluster story about a well-to-do, but miserable family. They are morose, unsatisfied and have an unnatural obsession with death — "God, the immortality of it all," they exclaim.

Oscar winner Diane Keaton, an Allen regular, plays the older sister, a successful writer married to a not-so-successful writer, mopingly played by Robert Jordan.

Kristin Griffith and Marybeth Hurt are the younger sisters; the three suffer from a terrible case of sibling rivalry.

Geraldine Page, their unstable mother, is the root to the girls' suicidal tendencies, coke-sniffing and over-all dissatisfaction with life, a big Chinese puzzle to them.

They try to solve it through talk — long boring dialogues that never cease, a terminal case of going around in circles.

The only life in this sterile and rigid family portrait, photographed by Gordon Willis ("The Godfather") is Maureen Stapleton, as the girl's boisterous step-mother.

Stapleton is a breath of fresh air in this musty film.

Allen tampered with unknown forces and lost. "Interiors" is just a bad Bergman imitation. Rated PG.

Movie review

'Madame Rosa' enough to make audience cry

LUISA YANEZ
Entertainment Editor

"Madame Rosa," last year's Academy Award winner as Best Foreign Film, has finally arrived in this area. It was a worthwhile wait.

Simone Signoret and Samy Ben Youb star in this bittersweet story of a dying Jewish prostitute and her partner in hard times, Momo, a 14-year-old Arab boy who has been abandoned by his parents.

Madame Rosa, once a successful prostitute in the Belleville quarter of Paris, in her old age takes care of the younger prostitutes' mistakes — their unwanted children.

But due to her approaching death, Madame Rosa slowly loses her army of kids until only Momo is left.

The two victims of life cling to each other for survival. Momo even rejects his father who comes to claim him. His place is with Madame Rosa.

In the film's most amusing scenes, to shake the irate Arab father, Madame tells him that, by mistake, his son has been brought up to be a "nice little Jewish boy."

"What a careless mistake on my part," she says with a grin. It's too much for the father. He drops dead on the spot.

Tenderly directed by Moshe Mizrahi from his screenplay, "Madame Rosa" is a wish in film for old-young, Arab-Israeli togetherness.

Signoret gives a magnificent performance as the retired prostitute with the proverbial heart of gold, and Youb is haunting as Momo.

"Madame Rosa" is rated PG. Don't forget to take your hanky.

Box Scores

Here's a look at some of the fodder TV has to offer the next few days. Don't forget World Series baseball Wednesday through Friday at 8 p.m. and Saturday at 3 p.m. on chs. 7, 5 and 20.

Tonight

"Lifeguard" comes to the tube where it may be better accepted than it was at the theaters. It doesn't deserve any acceptance, however. It's a real trashy film with no plot to speak of. We do recommend it as a sedative. Chs. 4, 11, and 34 at 9 p.m.

Thursday

"Mork and Mindy" in its usual time slot. God bless television. Chs. 10, 12 and 26 at 8 p.m.
"Sneak Preview" sounds interesting and may be worth a try. It's about motion pictures. Ch. 2 at 10 p.m.

Friday

"A Guide for the Married Woman" stars Cybil Shepherd. Enough said. Chs. 10, 12, and 26 at 9 p.m.

"Second City Television" a mediocre Canadian satire show is a bit out of date but appeals to some. Ch. 2 at 11 p.m.

"The New Avengers" is as good as the old Avengers. Hell, we never liked Diana Rigg anyway. This is one of the best shows TV offers. Chs. 4, 11 and 34 at 11:30 p.m.

Saturday

"Rescue from Gilligan's Island — Pt. One" is like a dream come true for real TV fans. It's about time for a remake of this masterpiece. This is one special special. Part two will be shown next Saturday. Chs. 7, 5 and 20 at 9 p.m.

Meet Gordon Lightfoot

JOLIE CURTIS

Special to the International

Projecting an image of the rustic man of the earth and music, Gordon Lightfoot has some very strong views on music and songwriting.

"A good song gets better with age," he says. "You'll never get tired of singing it, and you'll always sing it better."

Lightfoot, relaxing before a recent concert at the Miami Beach Theater of the Performing Arts, went on to say, "Writing is a craft. It's born into you."

"You always know when you're going in the wrong direction with a song," Lightfoot explained. The twang of his voice echoed his Canadian upbringing.

Lightfoot's career began in the early 60s. "I played at the Newport Folk Festival," he said. "But I was callow and had no experience."

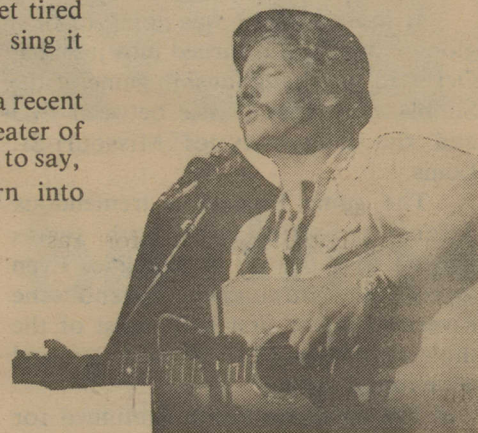

He first started recording with United Artists and later switched to Warner Brothers. "I went to Warner Brothers because I felt an excitement. I felt energy. I was offered a bigger contract and it was a bigger company."

For 1978, Lightfoot has a distinctive sound. He does not play rock and roll. "People don't like heavy duty balance all evening." And, he adds, he plays mellow ballads because, "you can't lay it on too thick."

If his songs sound like life, it is for a good reason.

"Personal experience has inspired my music. I write less romantic music now because I have written enough of it."

Lightfoot works hard on his songs. "I worked on 'Spanish Moss' for three years. But, I had the most fun working on the 'Sundown' album." The audience at the Miami Beach concert Saturday had fun, too. Lightfoot backs up everything he says when he steps on the stage.

Gloomy day forecasts loss for soccer team

ARTURO POLO
Sports Writer

It looked like it was going to be a gloomy day, and it turned into just that Oct. 8 in the championship game of the Sunblazer Soccer Classic between FIU and the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

The game became a tremendous defensive battle, with both teams playing to a 0-0 tie at halftime. Even though the Sunblazers outshot the Rivermen in the first half, most of the shots were from 15 to 20 yards out and none found the net.

The defensive battle continued for the next 12 minutes of the second half, but just one second later, the Rivermen scored on a header by Mike Flecke.

Flecke's goal stood up and UMSL (5-3-1) emerged the champions in the first Sunblazer Classic.

To reach the championship game, the Sunblazers had defeated Biscayne the day before. This proved an easy task as FIU defeated the Bobcats 6-1. Six different players got into the scoring act for FIU. Luis Cordova, Al Njie, Dale Kardasz, Selwyn King, Fernando Godoy and Ed Wania each scored as the Sunblazers outshot Biscayne 31-4.

Coach Bill Nuttall realized that his team would have to start winning for the Sunblazers to receive its second consecutive bid to the NCAA South

Regional Championship next month.

"It's down to Rollins, the University of Maryland-Baltimore County and us for two spots in the tourney," Nuttall said. "Now it's up to our players to decide how bad we want a bid."

In prior matches, FIU lost to the University of Tampa 3-2. "That's when our season really began, after the upset loss to Tampa," Nuttall said.

Against undefeated Eckerd, the Sunblazers recorded a 6-2 overtime victory. This leaves FIU's season record at 4-3.

Spikers try it in Jersey

The Women's volleyball team will travel to Princeton, N.J. this weekend to participate in the Princeton University International Invitational.

The Lady Sunblazers will compete in a round-robin format against Princeton University, McGill University of Montreal, Canada, and Northern Kentucky, Oct. 12-14.

While only three returnees appear on the '78 roster, second year Coach Linda Miskovic is confident of her team's chances of success in the season ahead.

"Talent-wise, I have to say we've probably fielded the best team in the university's history," Miskovic said.

The team will be led by senior captain Letha Brown, last season's MVP. Brown's specialty is hitting the quick plays and the short sets.

Despite a slow start, Miskovic sees areas of promise for her inexperienced squad.

"Physically, the girls are capable of competing with just about anyone," she said. "Psychologically, team togetherness hasn't fully developed. But that's going to take more playing time on the court until each girl knows how the person playing beside her is going to react in certain situations."

SPORTS SHRIFT

Women, men play around

Both of FIU's intercollegiate golf teams recently played their initial tournaments of the fall campaign.

The men's team, lead by Bill Moretti and Ken Chase, finished second in the Junior-Senior College Challenge, at the Fontainebleau Golf Course, Oct. 1 and 2.

The women, who last season finished third in the nation during the AIAW National Championships, placed second in the Pat Bradley Invitational, at the Hollywood Lakes Country Club, Oct. 1-3.

Moretti shot 71-76 for 147, while Chase carded a 73-75 for 148.

Mules laden with Blue Maguey pinas on their way to Cuervo's La Rojena plant.

Since 1795 we've gathered our Blue Magueys for Cuervo Gold the gentle way. It's the old way. And still the best.

At Cuervo we know that there is only one way to make Cuervo Gold perfect. The way we've been doing it for more than 180 years.

That's why people still nurture our fields of Blue Maguey plants. And why mules are still used to bring these precious plants to our distillery. For tradition is still the most important ingredient in Cuervo Gold.

This is what makes Cuervo Gold truly special. Neat, on the rocks, with a splash of soda, in a perfect Sunrise or Margarita, Cuervo Gold will bring you back to a time when quality ruled the world.

Cuervo. The Gold standard since 1795.

Five lettermen returning

Wrestlers look tough

Last year's Sunblazer wrestling season may have appeared to be disastrous, at least on paper. But the team was actually much better than the final record of 6-10-1 indicated.

Considering the schedule, which included some of the nation's highest ranking teams in Division I, and a host of powerhouses from Division II, the team didn't fare so badly.

Head coach Sid Hiutema has five starters with impressive credentials returning to form the nucleus of this year's team.

Former state champion and last year's co-captain Bill Hoke from Ft. Meyers, will wrestle at 142 lbs. Hoke was second in the state and third in the Southeastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association Championship

(S.E.I.W.A.) last year, for an overall record of 14-7-1.

Rick Blake, from Kent, Ohio, returns at 167 lbs. Last year, he placed second in the state and third in the S.E.I.W.A. with an overall record of 17-9-2.

These two will serve as co-captains this year.

Bill Sopko, from Mt. Pocono, Penn., returns at 158 lbs. He won the state championship last year and was fourth in the S.E.I.W.A. with an overall record of 27-8.

Tim Celso, from Rochester, New York, will be at 126 lbs. He was second in the state and fourth in the S.E.I.W.A. with an overall record of 20-12-1.

Kurt Ferraro, from Huntington, New York, returns at 177 lbs. Ferraro was second in the state and fourth in the S.E.I.W.A. for an overall record of 22-13-2.

Celso, Hoke, Sopko and Blake all qualified for the N.C.A.A. Div. II Championships in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Blake placed in the top eight and Sopko placed in the top twelve.

"Our whole team is experienced and crafty with contrasting styles complementing one another on the mat. We are a very confident and determined group and promise to lead FIU to a championship season," Hiutema said.

He said the returnees will be battling for starting positions with an outstanding group of junior college transfers whom Hiutema recruited from the northeast and south Florida areas.

The new wrestlers bring with them an outstanding combined won-lost record of 354-85-6, giving Hiutema his most talented team ever at FIU.

"We have the potential to be a national championship team this year," Hiutema said. "But it depends on how badly we want it and how hard we want to work."

FIU faces defending Division II national champions Northern Iowa, third place finisher South Dakota State, fifth place finisher Northern Michigan, ninth place finisher Morgan State and a host of other Division II roughies. Division I powers Indiana, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Florida, Nebraska, Virginia Military Academy, Virginia Polytechnical Institute and Appalachian State also dot the schedule.

Anyone wishing to try out for the team should call Coach Hiutema at 552-2756.

What would Socrates think of O'Keefe?

If you question long enough and deep enough, certain truths about O'Keefe become evident. It has a hearty, full-bodied flavor. It is smooth and easy going down. And, the quality of its head is fact rather than philosophical conjecture. We think there's one truth about O'Keefe that Socrates would not question: It's too good to gulp. As any rational man can taste.

Speak funny languages, study abroad

Sweetwater may be the home of this campus, but students in the State University System can also take classes in London and Florence. That's England and Italy.

The cost for tuition is the same as those campuses as it is here, but the neighbors talk funny.

A program fee covers the cost of living and the only difference between taking the classes here at FIU or in Europe is that you would be living overseas. You want specifics?

The London-Florence program is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors with at least a 2.0 grade point average.

The program fees — which cover living expenses and are in addition to the tuition — for the winter-spring quarters are $2725 (London) and $2545 (Florence).

These fees cover just about everything, but with the U.S. dollar falling fast, you may need a few hundred each quarter for ale and whatnot.

The co-ordinator of this nifty program is a guy named Charles Wellborn, a former professor of religion at FSU. He was educated in London and headed the London program from 1973-1975.

About the London-Florence deal, Wellborn says, "I like heading the program because I get to visit London.

"This program is open equally to all S.U.S. students on a first come, first served basis."

There are openings. For even more information, check in UH 212A or contact Wellborn at FSU.
