FALL FEST

Brings clowns and marionettes to campus

TERRY WILLIAMS

Entertainment/Features Editor

After a year's absence, Fall Festival is back.

Fall Festival originated four years ago as an orientation for incoming students and their families. It was also a day of fun for the alumni.

Over the years, the purpose of Fall Festival has not changed, but the event has grown from a day of fun, to major event on campus.

This year's festival is being called October Fess, 'On the Trail' (at Tamiami Campus) and 'On the Bay' (at North Miami Campus). During the four-day event both campuses will have a chance to host events that will be open to students and their families.

This year an international touch has been added. A bit from France, a drink from Germany and a slice of America.

October Fess will include the traditional homecoming soccer game: The FIU Sunblazers vs. Eckerd College. There will also be a parade after the soccer game from the field to the OE building.

Saturday is alumni day. Admission to the soccer game is free to all alumni that present their mini-diploma or association membership card. T-shirts will be given to the first 100 alumni.

For the schedule of events turn to page 6.

On Saturday, Dixon's Marionettes will entertain the young and the old; followed by the Ace professional frisbee throwers, clowns and the FIU Jazz Ensemble.

Local senators favor four-year FIU

While students were taking their summer break, a group of consultants had a public hearing Sept. 12, at the Sheraton River House Hotel, to provide all interested persons an opportunity to discuss the idea of FIU becoming a four-year university.

The hearing was a result of House Bill 1689, which requires the Board of Regents to submit a report to the legislators on the upper level universities in the State University System (SUS) of Florida.

The BOR, which governs SUS, hired four external consultants to provide recommendations on whether to alter the present structure of these universities in Florida which offer only junior and senior level courses.

They are Florida Atlantic University (Boca Raton), University of North Florida (Jacksonville), University of West Florida (Pensacola) and FIU.

Two hundred people attended the three-hour meeting to discuss the four-year concept at FIU.

Sen. Jack Gordon led the group in support of FIU becoming a four-year university.

Gordon, who was the original sponsor of the bill that mandated the BOR to submit a report to the legislators, said, "We need to make a decision based on what the community needs and not what North Florida good ole boys want."

None of the five universities in the SUS that have four-year status are located in South Florida.

John Folger, a member of the State Education Commission, and one of the consultants said, "We need to operate under the assumption there is limited growth in higher education for the future."

Students, faculty, administrators and community interest groups repeatedly said that in order for FIU to become a quality university, we need to have four-year status.

BOR member Betty Staton who also chairs the BOR's Programming and Planning Committee, which will advise the BOR on whether to alter the four upper level universities, said, "The committee will take advice from the consultants and the BOR Budget and Planning Analyst staff and then make a recommendation at the BOR meeting."

Staton added, "If the BOR decides to go with FIU becoming a four-year university, the legislators would then need to provide for the funding in order for it to happen."

Sen. Gordon, who also is chairperson of the Ways and Means Committee said, "I am in support of spending more money for quality education, meaning recruiting good students and more faculty."

Senator Dick Anderson, who also attended the meeting, said, "I am in favor of FIU becoming a four-year university. From a realistic standpoint, I think we need to start slowly."

The BOR must submit their report to the legislature before Oct. 1, 1979.

Helpful busing

Is your schedule a ping pong between NMC and Tamiami Campus? Take a bus.

MTA has buses simultaneously serving both campuses. The charge is $.75 one way. For schedules, check with the Information Center in UH 102.

Take my picture, please

Smile, it's time to have your picture taken for Elan, the school yearbook.

But first you must make an appointment, this is a high class publication. To do so, come by UH 212 between Oct. 22 and Oct. 29 ask for a pen and sign up for your sitting.

Rabbit run

Forget that killer rabbits, who never ever attack, attacked him. The man needs help.

The Carter/Mondale presidential committee needs student volunteers to work on various projects.

If you are interested in working with the committee to re-elect the president, call Andy Menendez at 693-0330.

Religious notes

Yom Kippur services will be performed Sunday, Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. and Monday, Oct. 1 at 10 a.m. at Hillel, the Jewish Student Center, PC 245A.

The Campus Ministry has two new members on its staff.

Father George Garcia of St. Agatha's Church has joined the ministry. The Father's job is to represent the Catholic faith on campus.

Also, Janice McArthur, a graduate of FIU, is the Ministry's new program director.

You can have a free cup of coffee with both in the Campus Ministry located in PC 245.

Recruiting members

Your student organization can get a little padding in the membership department, Sept. 27, at the North Miami Campus Activities Fair.

Organizations interested in recruiting student membership can reserve a table by calling Shiao Moore at 940-5804.

The tables will go up at 11:30 a.m., and come down at 7:30.

Take that ad down immediately. The bulletin boards at the UH now have advertising regulations, according to George Federici, Information Director.

To avoid having your ad torn down, follow the following:

* Ads must be neatly printed or typed on a 5X7 card. The cards are furnished free at the Information Window, UH 102.

* All advertising must be dated at the above mentioned window.

* Ads can be posted for only a two-week period.

* Staples and tapes are a no, no. Thumb tacks are a yes, yes, and like the cards, will be furnished for free.

* A special section of the bulletin boards will be used for flyers and posters.

* Unauthorized ads will be swiftly removed.

Federici said the new regulations are not a form of censorship.

"We just want to keep UH looking neat."

Hypnotism to be offered at NMC

Hypnosis has been at work. It can aid in weight control, increase memory, treat chronic pain and assist criminal investigation.

FIU's departments of criminal justice and conferences and the Hypnosis Consultation and Training Center are sponsoring a course on the scientific and practical application of this phenomenon.

Martin Segall, director of the center and a highly-regarded professional in the field, will conduct the 10-week course from Sept. 28 to Dec. 7 at North Miami Campus.

In the course, Segall will outline the history of hypnosis, dispel misconceptions and teach standard techniques of hypnotic induction. Segall has written many articles on the subject, and a popular book: "The Questions They Ask About Hypnotism." He is also a founding member of the Association to Advance Ethical Hypnosis.

Classes will be at the Trade Center Rm. 333, on Fridays from 7 p.m. to 10. The registration fee is $300. Advance enrollment is necessary and the class will be limited to 15 people.

Olander heads west

Joseph Olander, a one time top contender for FIU's presidency, has been named vice-president in charge of Academic Affairs at the University of Texas in El Paso.

Olander had served at FIU since 1971, first, as faculty member and later as executive vice-president under President Harold Crosby.

After Crosby's resignation in 1978, Olander became the favorite, with the FIU community, to inherit the throne. However, his nomination was strongly opposed by Chancellor E.T. York of the Board of Regents.

Following much tugging and pulling, Olander withdrew from the race, clearing the way for Gregory Wolfe to be named president.

Upon taking office, Wolfe quickly phased out Olander's position.

Kennedy is keeping them guessing

Sen. Edward Kennedy is the talk of the country lately, and while the senator may not be running for the presidency, yet, Kennedy delegates are trying to get elected to Florida's state party convention at St. Petersburg in November.

What happens at the convention is a non-binding, straw ballot vote for president by the delegates. The vote, it is said, will determine both President Carter's re-election chances, and Sen. Kennedy's intentions to run.

"We think Kennedy will make his decision after the convention in November," Phil Hammersmith, press spokesman for Florida for Kennedy, said.

To elect delegates, Dade county is holding a caucus Oct. 13. For that reason, aspiring Kennedy delegates will be at FIU looking for registered Democrats to vote at the caucus.

The caucus is an informal, county-wide election and will be held at the Joseph Caleb Community Center at 5400 NW 22 Ave., from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 13. For those who do not wish to drive there, a bus will be provided from FIU to the Center and back.

For more information, look for a Kennedy table this week in the UH Forum area or contact Florida for Kennedy at 576-1922.

Cafeteria prices rise

New health fee in effect

You'll be dishing out more money for your cafeteria food

Due to inflation and the purchase of new equipment needed to better serve their patrons, the cafeteria has put a higher food priced menu into effect.

Juan Argundin, director of auxiliary services, the department food services falls under, writes in a memo to the University community:

"This is notify you that the University has approved, with much regret but little option, some food service price increase to be effective the first day of classes."

Argundin goes on to say that the increase will show tangible improvements this fall. The following extras have been added to the cafeteria and to the Rat:

- *Three new cash registers
- *An additional grill in the Rat patio
- *Wine and sangria in the Rat

The cafeteria prices are not the only thing going up, two new fee changes go into effect this fall.

A new $5 health fee has been established to support the health clinic services. Students on both campuses are affected.

Also, the old parking decal fee has been eliminated. Instead of just car owners paying a parking fee, everyone will be charged a $1.25 fee. regardless of whether they drive a car to campus or not.

The revenues from the parking fees will go into the maintenance of sidewalks, lighting, drainage and bike paths.

Both fees have to be paid at the cashier's office by the end of the first week of school.

SPEED READING ON CAMPUS

NOT SKIMMING, SCANNING, OR KEY WORDS— COMPREHENSIVE SPEED READING!

I am a student at the UM and can read 5,000 words per minute. I found reading my own material at that rate gives me an incredible advantage over my fellow students. I highly recommend and support Reading Development.

—Jeffrey Kline
UM Student

"I feel that speed reading is essential for students and professionals. I highly recommend your course for anyone who wishes to increase their reading speed and comprehension. Thanks again for offering me an alternative to the restrictive traditional reading approach that I had been taught in school."

—Laura Stoller
UF Student

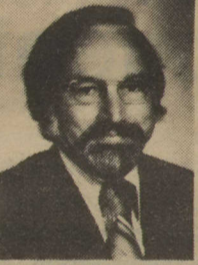

After taking this course I most assuredly recommend it as a required subject at any level from Junior High forward.

—Dr. John Favrey
CPA, Professor in Accounting
FIU

"Everybody who has to read a lot, like high school students going to college for instance, should have a course like this to save time and be able to read more. It is very important that the person keep using it. I would recommend Reading Development for the students."

—Father Otto Martinez
Acting Principal
Belen Jesuit Preparatory School

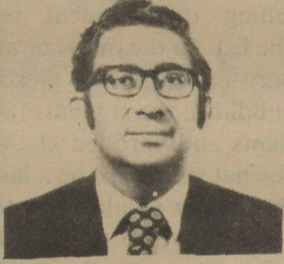

As a student the skill I learned in Reading Development has helped me greatly in my studies at the University of Florida. I started out at 257 WPM and finished the Reading Development course with a speed of 1800 WPM, which is seven times as fast as when I started. I not only find it easier to read but find I can understand the material better.

—Don Van Landingham
UF Student

"An extremely valuable experience. Not only does it increase speed but provides a powerful approach to developing study habits that will serve students and teachers well, whether reading for fun or in the pursuit of new knowledge."

The International is back in the soapbox

The International is back in business.

Not the business of selling ads and making enough money for the staff to take an extended vacation to Rumania, but to the business of informing, and being a sturdy soapbox for the students.

That's our real business.

We are here to serve as a platform for the people who pay tuition and expect a good education in return. A fair exchange, we think.

But when that exchange is strained, we want to hear about it. If you have a complaint write to us. If you want your voice heard, write to us.

The International remains a free newspaper funded solely by advertising revenue. It is edited, published and supervised by students.

If you would like to contribute in any way, or if you have any comments, call us at 552-2118 or write, The International, UH 212A, Tamiami Campus. The zip code is 33199.

We are here, use us, read us.

Letter

Student unhappy about northward move

To the Editor:

Passing through the offices of the School of Health Services Administration, I happened to notice a memorandum addressed to the faculty and staff from the Dean of the School of Public Affairs and Services.

I find it absolutely appalling that student requirements are at the bottom of the list. In the midst of an every crisis, our program has been moved to the North Campus to fill otherwise empty buildings. The students (80 per cent of which are night students and enrolled at the Tamiami Campus) were polled, in what seemed to be a last minute survey, and responded that many would have to drop the program in the event of a move to the North Campus.

The Memorandum read: "...the high quality scholarship and professional actions of the faculty." It seems to me the faculty has done everything but consider the needs of their students all in an effort to acquire additional funds to turn FIU into a 4-year school. The faculty's actions appear to be all but professional. Why wasn't the School of Hotel Management moved, where they could benefit from a location only a few miles away from "Hotel Row" on Collins Avenue in Miami Beach.

The memorandum also made mention of a "painless and productive move...to better serve the citizens(?) of South Florida." Again, it certainly seems that they did not have the students' welfare in mind. Myself and many other students, who live near the Tamiami Campus (and even further south) are now plagued with a 50-mile round trip to attend classes at North Campus, as if gas were free and students had nothing better to do than drive home 25-miles at 11p.m., after classes. It seems to me that the faculty might have considered hiring additional staff an adjunct to teach at both campuses.

As if that weren't enough, the students, each quarter, are harassed with circulating petitions to obtain cklases (course requirements). At this rate, it will take twice as long to graduate.

On behalf of the students and myself, I want the school to know that had I known of this pending move and poor organization of the staff, I certainly would have seriously considered a school elsewhere without such problems and a "professional staff."

Aside from this fact, an attempt was made by several students to form an organization to represent our school, but due to lack of interest on the part of the students and the faculty, this organization is now defunct. Apparently, no one gives a damn.

Pinball wizards in the large gameroom will have to move to smaller quarters

Gameroom bounced around

LUISA YANEZ
Editor

Attention all ping pong players.

You might have to pack up your paddle and pong over to a smaller gameroom soon.

Tom Riley, Student Affairs coordinator, says the gameroom will be moved to a new smaller location in UH 210 and the present gameroom will become a ballroom -- and possibly a disco.

The reason for the move?

"There is a lot of valuable space not being used in the gameroom. This move will change that," Riley said.

The only change in equipment will be the loss of one ping pong table, but the number of T.V. sets, pinball machines and flossball and pool tables will remain the same.

So far, Riley said $15,000 from Auxiliary trust fund has been put into a ballroom. The disco move, however, needs approval and funds from the SGA.

The revenues from the rental of the ballroom would partly go into the purchase of a large screen T.V. for the Rat, Riley said.

The Other Quarter is an alternative source

The "Other Quarter" is a series of non-credit classes or short courses offered in specialized areas and classes of special interest. This program is offered to provide varied forms of entertainment, recreation and learning.

Enrollment is not restricted to FIU students. "We hope the Other quarter will contribute to the student life at FIU and will provide additional opportunities for students and non-students to interact in a recreational situation,"

Ruth Hamilton, assistant director of Student Activities, said.

The courses will be from six to eight weeks in length with most starting in the week of Oct. 8.

Small user fees are charged to cover the cost of instruction and supplies if needed.

Registration is in Primera Case 220. Mail-in registration forms are also available around campus.

The following courses are being offered:

- How to Use Your 35mm Camera
- Sneak Batik
- Beginning Ceramics
- Stained Glass
- Make Your Christmas Gifts
- Medieval Brass Rubbing
- Purple Physics
- Belly Dancing
- Disco Dance for Beginners
- Intermediate Ballet and Variations

Cementing a well-worn path

The shortest distance between two points is a straight line — that's an easy lesson in geometry.

But try telling that to the walkway which unites the rear of the Rat patio to the Antheneum, it insisted on defying that theory.

So FIU walkers had defied the walkway and had made their own path, a straight line from one point to the other.

Finally this summer a crew of cementers cemented the well-worn path making it a bonified, legal walkway.

Plenty to pick from recreational sports

MARCIA GOODHART

Sports Editor

A cooperative effort between the department of intercollegiate athletics and recreational sports and the department of conferences has brought about a series of physical activity classes aimed at the average student and the general public.

The theory behind these classes is to provide quality instruction at a minimal cost to the student and to maintain a self-supporting program.

"The FIU student has no sports courses offered for credit. These leisure activity classes fill that void on campus," explained Gary Montour, coordinator of recreational sports.

A small fee is charged for each of these classes. This fee covers the expenses of the class and makes it self-supporting. The SGA subsidizes the losses incurred by these classes.

Assistant coordinator of recreational sports, Peg Hertz, does most of her work on North Miami Campus, for which she has big plans.

"We have opened a lot of our classes to the public to encourage greater community involvement at FIU," Hertz said. Montour and Hertz will be aided by Larry Coffin, a graduate assistant, and by Sid Huitema, who doubles as assistant coordinator of recreational sports and wrestling coach.

Details for all of the following leisure activity classes are available through the department of conferences at 552-2600.

Fishing Clinic — Get hooked at these fishing clinics while learning the elements of sport fishing as outlined by some of South Florida's top anglers. Rigging bait, artificial lures, kite fishing and many other topics will be discussed. More details and information can be obtained from Jim Burns of the South Florida Anglers at 245-5178.

Racquetball — Classes will be held on FIU's three-wall racquetball courts. Basic skills, rules and regulations and a general introduction to match strategies will highlight this popular leisure sports activity. Students must supply their own racquet and one can of balls.

Sailing — Prepare to get into the water with tennis shoes and clothing during the first two sessions. A swim test will be given to determine which people will be required to wear life jackets while in the boats. The first session will meet in the eastern section of Trailer 100.

Scuba Diving — The first class of each week (Monday and Tuesday) will be at Diver's Paradise, 10740 Coral Way [SW 24 St.]. The second class each week (Wednesday and Thursday) will be in the Tamiami Park Pool and will be in-water sessions. Heavy equipment is supplied by instructors.

Slimnastics — Offers an opportunity to exercise and learn proper body control and general fitness. Ideal for weight watchers.

Judo/Self Defense — Students interested in achieving physical fitness through demanding activity will enjoy this recreational sport.

Tennis (Beginners) — Basic skills of the forehand, backhand, lob, volley, smash and serve will be introduced. General introduction to rules and regulations will be included in the six two-hour sessions. Each student must supply his own racquet and one can of balls.

Tennis (Intermediate) — All the skills of tennis will be quickly reviewed. Emphasis will be on skill refinement, advanced strokes, and general match strategies.

Dry Sailing — Students will be taught the elementary physics behind boat construction, variations in sails and general aerodynamic principles of sailing.

Intramural sports offer varied competition

Racquetball, anyone? Well you don't have to leave campus to find racquetball courts and competition.

The department of intercollegiate athletics will offer an intramural racquetball tourney Oct. 17-19. Applications are due by October 15.

Are you a member of a campus club, an active member of your department or an individual athlete? Then you may want to start toning up your muscles for the Fall Festival Olympics.

Coed teams will be competing in athletic events on Oct. 6, with Oct. 4 as the deadline for applications.

Intramural bowling is offered at Tamiami at Trail Bowl, 9600 S.W. 8 St. This program includes a 24-week schedule with handicap bowling for coed bowlers, plus bowling parties.

North Miami bowlers will be offered the same structured program at Brunswick Congress Bowl at 1650 N.E. 124 St.

If team sports are your preference, then get ready to join the softball and soccer leagues for coed competition. These leagues, with one game per week, will commence Oct. 10, with Oct. 8 as the application deadline.

Armchair athletes and gameroom fanatics are invited to a showdown in ping pong, pool and foosball at Tamiami Campus, and chess tournaments on both campuses. Application due dates are: ping pong, Oct. 16, with play on Oct. 18 & 19; pool and foosball, Nov. 13, with play on Nov. 15 & 16; chess, Nov. 27, with play Nov. 29 & Dec. 1.

North Miami Campus athletes can participate in a round-robin croquet tournament on Oct. 17-19. Applications are due by October 15.

Open volleyball games will be running on the North Campus, Monday Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, from 12:30 - 1:30. Everyone is invited to join in the fun.

Intramural sports offer participants an opportunity for fun, the pleasure of sharing mutual athletic interest with others and a good way to keep in shape.

NAVY OFFICER. YOU GET RESPONSIBILITY THE MOMENT YOU GET THE STRIPES.

A lot of big corporations offer you a big title. But how many offer a young college graduate a really important job?

As a Navy Officer, you don't have to wait to do a job that counts. We give you one as soon as you've earned your commission. A job with responsibility for the lives of others, and for millions of dollars of complex equipment. A job that requires skill and leadership. A job that Navy Officers have been doing proudly for 200 years.

If that's the kind of job you're looking for, speak to a Navy recruiter. You'll find that Navy Officers have unequalled opportunities in fields like Nuclear Power, Aviation, and Engineering.

Or call toll free 800-841-8000. (In Georgia, toll free 800-342-5855.) Early responsibility. It's what being a Navy Officer is all about.
