Library head to resign because of bad health

WENDY COBOURNE
News Editor

Howard Cordell, library and media director for almost 10 years, will resign from the position on Sept. 1, he said.

"It's a matter of being in the job for a long, long time. I'm just ready to step down. I'm tired," he said.

Cordell said he will remain on the library staff

"for three or four more years until I retire. It's not fully decided which campus I'll be at. I may work at both, but it will probably be at the Bay Vista Campus."

Cordell, who suffered a heart attack and underwent a coronary bypass five years ago, said his health was a deciding factor in resigning from the "high-stress job."

No action has been taken yet to fill the position, but Academic Affairs will form a Search and Screen Committee for that purpose, he said.

"I presume it will be filled by someone from the outside," he said. "I want to stay as far as I can from the search and screen process, though. I don't think it would be ethical for me to get involved."

New in-house bus service begins as FIU drops MTA

JIM CARSON
Editor

A free, in-house bus service between Tamiami and Bay Vista Campuses will replace the MTA shuttle service beginning the first day of class of the spring quarter, according to Ron Arrowsmith, vice-president for Administrative Affairs.

The MTA (Metro Transit Authority) service, which cost riders 75 cents each way when operated during the fall and winter quarters, was scrapped the last day of the winter quarter because of escalating cost.

FIU incurred a $53,000 debt in the fall quarter and over a $40,000 debt in the winter. The debt for the fall quarter was paid for by funds from the parking decal account. It has not been determined how the winter quarter debt will be paid.

It had been projected that most of the cost for the service, called FITS (Florida International Transportation Service), would be paid for by the 75 cent fee, but ridership (2,600 for the fall quarter) was below expectations.

The new in-house service will be paid for by money provided by the School of Public Affairs and Services, located at the Bay Vista Campus. The cost has been estimated at $8,500 per quarter.

The University will hire two full-time bus drivers and will use three mini buses which have been leased from the federal government's Department of Transportation. The buses hold about 20 riders each.

There will be four round trips Monday through Thursday and three on Friday. The MTA service provided 12 round trips daily, but some trips for the in-house service were eliminated to cut cost.

Buses leaving for Bay Vista from Tamiami are scheduled to depart at 7 a.m., 11:30 a.m., 4:15 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. (except Friday) and are expected to arrive an hour later.

Buses leaving from Bay Vista to Tamiami will depart at 8:05 a.m., 12:30 p.m., 5:20 p.m. and 9:20 p.m. (except Friday) and are estimated to arrive 45 minutes later.

Arrowsmith said the FITS service was salvaged because the University determined the program would be cheaper than paying faculty and staff to make the trip each day.

"If the FITS service will make it easier for students, faculty and staff to commute between campuses, I am committed to keep it going," Arrowsmith said. "We carefully estimated the cost for the service and came up with the $8,500 figure. We hope our estimate is correct."

"I don't want to get into anything over our heads."

While the in-house bus service is on an experimental basis for the spring quarter, it will be continued in the summer and fall quarters if the cost does not escalate. If it does, Arrowsmith said new ways of funding will be sought.

"We have asked the SGA to provide us with money and there are other sources we can check," he said. "But if the cost does get out of hand and it would be cheaper to pay faculty and staff for the trip, then that is what may have to be done."

Should such a situation arise, there would be no public transportation provided for students, except through regular MTA bus routes.

China

Discover Far-East country this summer

WENDY COBOURNE
News Editor

FIU students can earn credit for taking a three-week study tour of China. The tour is being offered by the University of Miami, in cooperation with Miami Dade Community College and FIU, from July 27 to Aug. 17.

The tour is worth five credits to FIU undergraduate students who attend a one-day lecture on July 19 and complete a final exam after taking the tour.

"This is not a sight-seeing tour of China," said Thomas Breslin, associate dean of international affairs.

"Students will attend lectures at Peking University and in Sian, the most important archaeological site in East Asia," he said.

Graduate students must complete a curriculum project in addition to the final exam, he said.

The course is offered on a credit/non-credit basis only. No letter grades will be given.

Cost of the trip, including airfare, hotels, meals and tours, is $2,799 a person. Undergraduate and audit students must pay an additional $10.50 per credit; graduate students must pay an extra $22 per credit, Breslin said.

Dr. Clyde Wooten from the University of Miami arranged the trip. He said about 60 students will be able to go on the study tour.

"There's a lot of interest in it," said Breslin. "Already 37 have signed up. Only two are from FIU, so far."

"I expect it to be filling up in three to four weeks. Eventually, we may be getting more students than we can take," he said.

A $250 deposit is required by April 15. To register, contact Thomas Breslin in PC 110, or call 552-2846.

Hospitality management courses offered

Hospitality management professionals can take short, career development courses during the summer at area family resorts, the School of Hospitality Management announced.

Nine one- and two-week courses will be offered beginning June 16 and ending Aug. 1.

Professionals desiring to take the non-credit courses will be able to do so while taking a family summer vacation.

The classes will last five hours a day, most ending at 2 p.m. to allow time for family recreation and visiting local attractions.

Each course will cost $150. Some courses incur additional fees and textbook costs. Hotel costs range from $40 to $46 per day.

Applications must be submitted to DM 453 by June 1 and must be accompanied by a $100 deposit.

Dutch art on display

"Ups and Downs," an exhibit by Per Arnoldi, internationally acclaimed artist and long-time friend of President Gregory Wolfe, is on display in the Visual Arts Gallery until Wednesday.

The exhibit, which opened the "President's Choice" series on March 24, includes four paintings depicting the amazing feats and tragic death of world-famous aerialist Karl Wallenda.

Arnoldi's images of stylized props in vivid colors reflect the happy mood of the circus and theater.

Wolfe met the Danish artist while vacationing in Venice 11 years ago. They have maintained a friendship ever since.

Bringing Arnoldi's art to FIU from Denmark took about six months of work, according to Visual Arts Gallery Director Dahlia Morgan.

"Ups and Downs" can be viewed at no charge between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. in PC 112.

Give blood this month

The John Elliott Blood Bank is conducting blood drives at both of FIU's campuses.

They will be at the Tamiami Campus April 1 in UH 140 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and at the Bay Vista Campus at the bus loop on April 10 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The Elliott Blood Bank, according to Barbara Johnson, a registered nurse at Bay Vista Campus, is "campaigning to become an all-donor, self-sufficient blood source, as are banks in other major cities in the United States.

The non-profit blood bank serves 54 area hospitals, charging only for the expenses of collection.

For further information, call Student Activities at Tamiami Campus, 552-2137. At Bay Vista Campus, call Johnson at 940-5620.

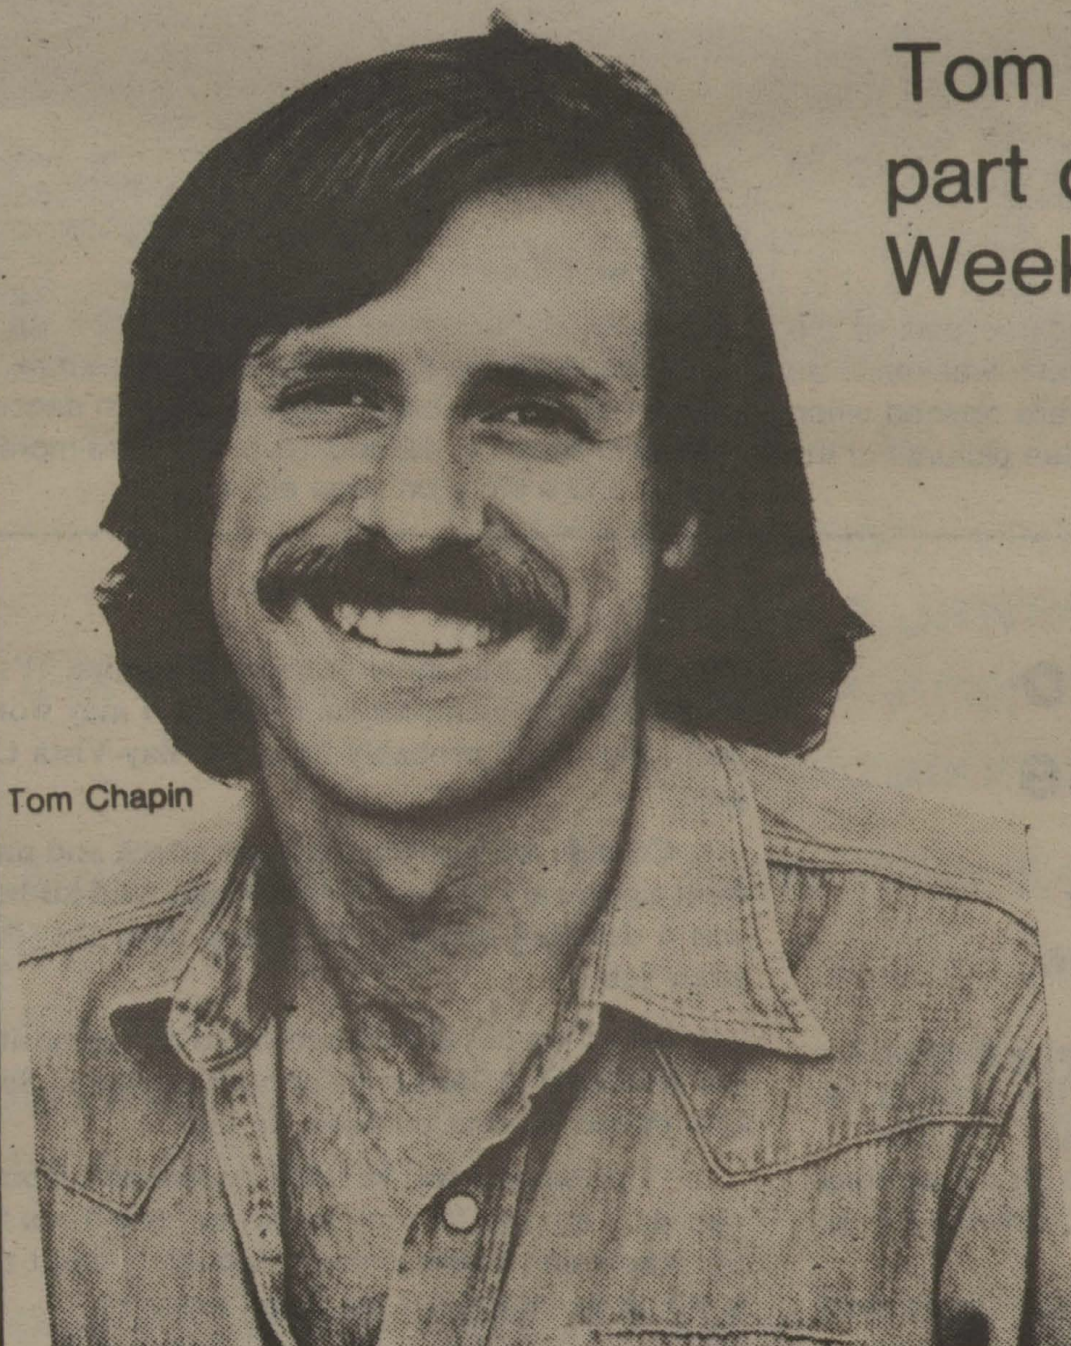

Psych department needs help

The psychology department is looking for persons willing to participate in various faculty research experiments.

Participants are paid in the range of $3 per hour. The experiments are neither harmful nor stressful.

The majority of the experiments deal with memory and learning, though other areas of psychology are represented. In most cases, the experimental sessions are of one hour or less.

Persons interested in taking part should call the psychology department at 552-2880.

Tom Chapin part of International Week festivities

Tom Chapin, little brother of the famous Harry Chapin and an accomplished performer in his own right, will perform during FIU's International Week, on Thursday, April 17 in AT 100 on the Tamiami Campus. Chapin will perform two shows, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Tickets are $2 and may be purchased at the Student Activities office in UH 211. Chapin is only one of the highlights of International Week, the yearly spring festival which accents the various nationalities at FIU. Sports, discussions, entertainment, fashion shows and parties are all part of International week. Most of the activities will take place on Tamiami Campus, but some will go on at Bay Vista Campus. Most of the fare is free, so go on out and enjoy.

Short Shrift

Locos perform

Loco-motion Vaudeville, an act that combines circus arts, slapstick comedy and humour reminiscent of the Vaudeville stage, will perform at FIU Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in the UH Forum. There's juggling, magic, stunts and audience participation in the act. And its free.

Ooooooh, Mr. Bill

Oh no, it's Mr. Bill. "Hi boys and girls, it's me, Mr. Bill. You know, from 'Saturday Night Live.' Well, I'll be at FIU's Bay Vista Campus today through Friday, on film of course, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the lobby of Academic I. The videotape presentations of me are free and the shows are continuous."

See artsy exhibit

The art of Sandra Burns, Lise Drost, Simba Greenberg, Lori S. Kaplowitz and Pauline Ashkanosky Weisfeld will highlight the BFA Exhibition in the Visual Arts Gallery, Monday, from 8 to 10 p.m.

Scholarship available

The FIU League has a $1,200 scholarship available for a worthy student. This year the League is seeking student nominees with excellent academic achievement who also have personal handicaps in attending school. Nominations may be submitted by April 15 to Karel King, FIU League scholarship chairman, PC 314.

CPR class offered

Cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) classes will be given free at FIU the second Monday of each month, beginning March 14. The classes are sponsored by the Heart Association of Greater Miami and will go from 7 to 10 p.m. Advance registration is required for all classes and that can be done by calling 751-1041.

Plant sale for alumni

The FIU Alumni Association, in conjunction with the Community Habilitation Center, is sponsoring a plant sale next Monday, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to benefit the handicapped. It will take place at the central fountain on Tamiami Campus.

Check your locker

If you left your things in the athletic lockers during the break, you'd better hurry over to the W-6 building and claim your stuff — before FIU does.

FIU - DEPT. OF CONFERENCES WILL PRESENT A COMPREHENSIVE SPEED READING PROGRAM

Reading Development, a speed reading course, will be offered on the FIU Tamiami and North Campus. Through Reading Development literally 1000's of students have learned to read 3 to 10 times faster in their textbooks.

Students taking the course at FIU last quarter reported increases of up to 10 times with comprehension. Improvement to 3, 4 or 5,000 words per minute is not uncommon and three students have actually learned to read 12,000 words per minute with excellent comprehension!

Unlike most speed reading courses, there is no additional reading required—you will learn to read faster in your own books. Reading Development does not use any so called "standardized" readings. ANYTHING you can read now, you can learn to read 3-10 times faster. Bring your own choice of books to each class.

It is guaranteed you will read at least 3 times faster with the same or better comprehension or your tuition ($112.00) will be refunded.

The Reading Development course includes a lesson on how to study efficiently, information all students can use.

In order to make this course more available to FIU students and interested persons, the fee will be reduced to $112.00. Usually the fee for this course is $225 per student (as compared to off campus courses at $275-345).

The course is open to students and non-students.

The course will meet once a week for seven weeks, each lesson lasting 2-2½ hours. One hour of homework is required each day.

Each class meets once a week for seven weeks.

Hooray for FIU Well, maybe

Tudadump, tudadump, todadump-dump, todadump, todadump, dadump, its Ron Arrowsmith to the rescue.

No, he doesn't wear a black mask, just a white hat. That good guy Ron Arrowsmith, vice-president for administrative affairs, has rescued the FIU community that commutes between Tamiami and Bay Vista Campuses.

Standing up for truth, honor, and justice the American way, Arrowsmith has saved the FIU community a lot of money.

By coordinating the implementation of the new in-house bus service between FIU's two campuses after the University dropped the MTA service because it was too expensive, Arrowsmith should be praised.

He, along with Juan Argudin, director of auxiliary services, and Adam Herbert, dean of the school of public affairs and services, worked out a plan that saved the University from having to pay faculty and staff for making the trip each day.

They estimated a cost of $8,500 for the bus service. Lets hope that is a correct estimate.

Because the University also estimated that it could pay for the MTA service by charging a 75 cent fee for each rider each way. It didn't work and FIU ended having owing nearly $100,000 to Metro.

If the estimate is not correct and cost escalate, then the new in-house service will have to be ended unless others funds are found.

Arrowsmith says the SGA could provide funds. They should, if the need arises.

If the University can not fund a commuter service between campuses, then faculty and staff will be paid to make the trip.

And what about the students? We get there the best way we can.

Letter policy

The International tries to publish as many readers' letters each week as possible. If you want your thoughts published in the student newspaper, follow these steps:

Type or print neatly one side of a piece of paper your thoughts in 300 words are less. Longer letters may be accepted, but are likely to be edited for space.

Sign your name. We will withhold your name from publication upon request, but all letters must be signed.

Bring your letter to the International's office in UH 212A or put it in our mailbox located in the hallway outside the office.

The Editor reserves the right to edit letters for typographical errors and space, but will not change the letter's original content.

Call this a policy or anything you like. I'll call it the International's hopes and aspirations for the spring quarter.

Newspaper will be different; we hope you like it

Our regular readers might notice some small changes in the newspaper. We hope you like them.

For our new readers who might have been attracted by the changes, thank you for picking up the paper and reading it. We hope it becomes a regular occurrence.

The International is an independent student newspaper funded solely by advertising. That means we are completely free of any controls the administration might want to administer, but it also means we don't get any financial help from the University.

So from time to time, you might see an editorial or column from the International which will speak its mind about FIU.

By the same token, we will gladly provide all the editorial space needed for any replies from the University or any interested reader.

Many times in the International, you will see a great deal advertising. Please understand that this is our lifeblood, and without it there would be no International.

We try to balance copy and advertising equally, but some weeks there will either be a little more copy or a little more advertising.

We have a small staff so we need input from the University. If there is anyone at FIU — faculty, staff and most importantly, students — who would like to contribute to the International, please feel free to do so.

Being a weekly newspaper that does not have late-breaking news very often, we try to keep stories in perspective. Although we are technically called a "newspaper," don't be surprised to see some things out of the ordinary.

For instance, we might devote an entire front page to one story some weeks. And it won't necessarily be a monumetal news story. We will pepper the front page with, news, sports, entertainment, features and maybe even an opinion piece.

In this issue of the International, we lead the page with a news story about a new, in-house bus service. We felt the story deserved its postion on the page.

Next issue, that same postion might be given to a story about witchcraft or anything else.

So those of you who read the paper every week, stick with us. We think you'll like the changes. For our new readers, welcome aboard.

We need more than leadership from politicians

To the Editor:

It has been said that we humans are followers. All through our history we have longed for someone to lead us into a more stable living situation.

We want an instant leader that has instant problem-solving capabilities. We want that one man with all the answers or someone that makes believe he has all the answers.

Our history reveals many of these leaders. Hitler, Genghis Khan, Hirohito, Karl Marx and Fidel Castro, just to name a few.

The subject of leadership is serious indeed. I have asked many of my fellow citizens why they are voting for Kennedy, Anderson, Reagan, Bush or any of the potential candidates. The most common answer is "He will give us leadership." I disagree with that statement.

The media cons us into believing in a particular "super leader" only to destroy this super leader once he is elected to office. An example of that is our current president.

As soon as the media sensed they had a media stooge, the President was consequently built up. As soon as indications of the American people were turning sour, the media sets out for overkill.

Let us not kid ourselves. We want our elected officials to help solve the nation's troubles. Not leaders who will hurt our special interest.

With this kind of selfish thinking, our country will never rekindle that once signified U.S. resolve. So the next time a candidate says his leadership will solve the nation's inflation problems, high crime rate, poverty and energy cost, tell him to wake up.

Mooooooooo! Ok kids, gather round and learn how to milk the cow. Moooo!

Fun fare

It had it all. Rides, exhibits, food, a circus, a rodeo, high diving, live music and lots and lots and lots and lots of people. So many in fact, that those wishing to find a parking space at the Dade County Youth Fair, had to search FIU's parking lots for one. FIU's Public Safety Department did its best to keep the merrymakers out, but the situation got out of hand this past weekend and the FIU lots were opened. The Fair ran from March 20 through March 30 and more than 700,000 people attended. In case you missed the Fair, we have photographs of the proceedings. Have fun!

Lively bats give baseball team 27-7 record

Jerry Margolin/International

Jerry Margolin/International

PEDRO FONTEBOA
Sports Writer

FIU baseball coach Danny Price enjoys watching his team at bat. The Sunblazers have been having fun at the opposing team's expense this season and the first-year head coach likes it.

"A lot of teams have one guy that does it all, but we have several players that can do the job," Price said.

One of the guys doing the job is Joe Hughes, who smacked two home runs last Saturday to lead FIU to an 8-3 victory over visiting Bowling Green (Ohio).

Hughes, who has 11 homers this season, set a new school-record consecutive games hitting streak with 18, breaking the old mark of 14. But the way the Sunblazers are hitting, not even Hughes' record is safe.

The Sunblazers are batting .359 as a team and three players are challenging Hughes' record. First baseman Tim Fogarty is riding a 15-game hitting streak, while Rusty McNealy is one behind and Pete Dawes is at 13 games in a row. Hughes, however, wouldn't mind if his teammates took turns passing him up.

All of the players will try to extend their hitting streaks today when they host Jacksonville University at 1 p.m.

"I've already told Tim that if he breaks the record, I'll take him out on the town, and that goes for anyone else that goes past 18," Hughes said. "I'd like to see them all beat the record. It would mean that they're getting hits and that's what we need now as we enter the toughest part of our schedule."

Fogarty, however, acts as if it didn't matter to him. "The record is fine, but what I'm trying to do is be a consistent hitter and help the club. Maybe I'll just get to 18 games in a row and stop," he said jokingly.

"I can't say enough about the way the team is playing," Price said. "It seems that all these guys are always ready to play. We haven't had any extra batting practice and look at the way they're hitting."

Hughes says he has the answer for all of his teammates going for the 18-game hitting streak. "Everyone can stop on 18 and we'll have a big party on me."

Park is hitter's paradise

Looks can often be deceiving. A first glance at the 1980 FIU baseball stat sheet makes most observers do a doubletake at its extraordinarily high figures.

Entering the final third of the regular season, the Sunblazers (27-7) offensive output resembles the New York Stock Exchange Index more than it does baseball statistics.

Through the first 32 games, FIU has hit for a .359 team average, with 411 hits, 334 runs scored, 73 doubles, and 49 homeruns. It has a team slugging average of .594. Eleven players are hitting better than .300, 15 players have at least one home run, and 12 have one or more game winning RBI's.

"This is definitely a hitter's ball park," said Head Coach Danny Price, referring to Sunblazer Field. "We've got a fine hitting team and I can't take anything away from them, but this ball park helps you hit. It's a long ball hitter's paradise."

Women at 10-4

Senior Debbie Harrit is one of the chief reasons behind the successful spring of the Lady Sunblazer tennis team. Harrit's 12-2 singles record is tops on the team. Entering the last date of the regular season, a quad match in Columbus, Georgia, against Columbus College, the University of Alabama Huntsville, and Montevallo, FIU's dual match record is 10-4.

NCAA bid more likely after upset

When FIU's men's tennis team arrived in Orlando last Friday to play the University of Central Florida, Coach Gary Montour and his Sunblazers received a cool reception from their hosts.

The Knights, with their 18-4 record, had their bags packed for a return trip to the NCAA Division II National Tournament, May 15-17, in Edwardsville, Ill. The thought of an FIU victory seemed as unlikely as Mickey Mouse quitting his job at Walt Disney World.

"They were all ready to go," said Montour. "Last year, Rollins and UCF represented Florida and they thought it was going to be the same this year. They didn't give us much of a chance."

But the Sunblazers (8-7) rose to the challenge by winning four of six singles matches enroute to a 5-4 victory, thus keeping their tourney chances alive.

NCAA rules state that eight players from Florida receive bids to the nationals with no more than four going from any one program. The last time FIU sent four players was in 1978, when the Sunblazers finished sixth.

"This was a big win for us because it shows we have just as much talent as any college division team in the state," said Montour. "It should be the win that gets us to the nationals. With four matches remaining on our schedule, I believe we can go the rest of the way undefeated."

Montour has received steady performances from his players, who he says are all fairly equal in ability. Four of the six — Terry Gibson, Rich Nakon, Bob Neinken and Tom Breece — have held the No. 1 singles position at least once this year.

Blazers beat pros

FIU soccer Coach Bill Nuttall gives instructions to his team during a break in a game against the American Soccer League's Miami Americans. The Sunblazers lost that one earlier this month. But in another game against the pros, this time the Fort Lauderdale Strikers, a playoff team in the North American Soccer League last year, the Blazers prevailed, 4-2.
