About the Exhibit

"Warmth of the Everglades is a photographic exhibit by David Dunn consisting of 20 16x20 black and white images. These images were produced with standard 35mm film, 120mm film, and Infrared 35mm film. Corresponding with the 50th anniversary of Everglades National Park in 1997, "Warmth of the Everglades" travelled the state of Florida, attracting viewers at the Florida Museum of History in Tallahassee; the Florida Aquarium in Tampa, the St. Petersburg Museum of History, and Florida International University.

All photographs in this exhibit are copyright David J. Dunn 1997. They were digitally reproduced for the Everglades Digital Library with the express permission of the creator. All rights reserved.
