BUYER'S GUIDE

This Buyer's Guide is published by the Miami Beach Chamber of Commerce as a service to visitors and residents. It is planned so as to assist both visitors and residents in locating the merchandise and services in which they may be interested. The directory lists members of the Chamber both alphabetically and by business or professional classification. Since Chamber of Commerce members are pledged to ethical business practices and to courteous, efficient service, we commend them to your support.

We offer our thanks to the many advertisers in this directory who have made its publication possible. The booklet is free to our members and obtainable at a mere $1.50 to all our other friends.

While every effort has been made to avoid errors, changes in ownership and management of business, hotels and apartments do occur. These should be promptly reported so that corrections may be made in future editions. The directory is published annually and at such other times as the Chamber officers and governors feel necessary. So please keep listings up to date at all times.

TO ERR IS HUMAN — TO FORGIVE DIVINE ...

We made every effort to attain 100% accuracy in the listing of firm names, addresses and telephone numbers at the time this Buyer's Guide went to press. However, sometimes errors occur.

FACTS ABOUT MIAMI BEACH

ACCESS

Miami Beach is easily reached by plane, train and bus, as well as by automobile or boat. Traveling by car visitors will find good roads and continually improving superhighways, good overnight accommodations en route, and plenty of sightseeing opportunity throughout the State of Florida. Those who travel here by small boat can plan on a leisurely trip along the Intra-Coastal Waterway with convenient dockage and marinas all along the route.

BY PLANE

Most major airlines offer direct, non-stop jet flights into Miami—while economy fares are available on mid-week or off-hour flights and excursions as the seasons demand. Consult your travel agent or the airlines for particulars.

BY CAR

Detailed route maps, showing major arteries and highways leading to Miami Beach are available at service stations—or local automobile clubs will assist motorists with a planned itinerary.

BY BUS

Major cross-country bus lines provide excellent service to the Miami Beach area from cities in every section of the United States, either direct or with convenient connections.

BY TRAIN

The Seaboard Coast Line Railroad offers both passenger and freight service to Miami from the eastern seaboard and the Midwest, with regular and frequent runs to and from New York City and Chicago. Accommodations vary widely with a corresponding range of fares. Check with travel agents or the railroad.

BY BOAT

The Intracoastal Waterway, closely paralleling the coast of Florida, extends a distance of 349 miles between Jacksonville and Miami Beach. Many visitors regularly travel here along this scenically attractive and protected water route.

DRESS

"Casual" is the description for apparel at Miami Beach. With a maximum of sunshine and temperatures averaging 68 degrees in winter and 81 degrees in summer, dressing for comfort is simple. Surf temperatures are mostly around 70 degrees. Simple cottons and synthetics are suitable for most times of day with addition of cardigans or light wraps to ward off cool breezes at night. Most hotels and restaurants request men to wear jackets and ties in the evenings.

TRANSPORTATION AND ACCESS

Miami Beach and the Metropolitan Miami area are served by a county-wide bus system, operated by the Metro Transit Authority. Air-conditioned buses serve most areas. Taxis are freely available; and automobiles of all types, convertible, sedan or limousine may be rented either locally or at the Miami International Airport. Limousine service is available between Miami Beach and the airport. Hotels, motels and apartment buildings provide parking in Miami Beach. In addition to the usual street parking, Miami Beach maintains off-street parking areas in most sections of the city with spaces available for periods ranging from two to 18 hours. Four causeways offer easy, pleasant access between Miami Beach and the Florida mainland: MacArthur, Venetian, Julia Tuttle and North Bay Causeways.

HISTORY

Population figures probably describe the success story of Miami Beach better than anything else. The first census, 1920, counted 644 residents. In 1930, there were 6,494; 1940, 28,012; 1950, 46,282; 1960, 61,435; today's estimate, 83,000.

But figures are abstract. They are as the girders of a building, supporting the structure, but containing nothing of the original dream, the human effort in construction, the final beauty and utility when completed. So census counts leave the humanities out of the Miami Beach story, and these run the gamut of emotions.

Let's go back to 1868—exactly 100 years—and see Miami Beach through the eyes of Henry Lum, a New Jersey native, a California 49-er, a man obviously with an itching foot and a dream of wealth, who first saw Miami Beach from the deck of a schooner and observed a few coconut palms growing along the sands. At once Lum envisioned himself as a rich copra planter.

But for a variety of reasons this didn't work out for Lum, or for those who followed him, until much later when John S. Collins, a nurseryman, also from New Jersey, entered the picture with new money and a different idea—to grow fresh vegetables for the northern winter market, along with avocados. He would ship via the new railroad that had just reached Miami across Biscayne Bay. But Collins, too ran into financial difficulties.

Carl Graham Fisher, Prest-O-Lite millionaire from Indiana, came to the rescue, produced money and in return obtained lots to convert to a winter resort for wealthy northern residents. The village of Miami Beach was incorporated in 1915 (with 30 voters) and in another five years was a city beneath the coconut palms.

Through bust of the Florida land boom of the 20's and the 1926 hurricane, Miami Beach limped its way once more into the limelight. The city was recovering nicely by 1935. Water and electric power had been brought from the mainland and two causeways provided easy transportation across the bay. (Today there are three causeways within Miami Beach city limits and three outside the city boundaries). World War II interrupted a busy period of hotel and home building and for four years the city became a training center for the Army Air Corps, with most of its hotels turned into perhaps the world's fanciest barracks.

With end of the war, building began anew at an even greater pace and tourists flocked to Miami Beach in record numbers. Some 60 hotels went up in 10 years and, with air-conditioning, the city's winter season was turned into an all-year season.

At present Miami Beach counts 376 hotels, nearly 10,000 homes and nearly 3,000 apartment buildings, many of them luxurious "high rises." The city, its only industry tourism, boasts 32,000 hotel rooms and 36,000 apartment units, is host to 2,225,000 visitors every year. They come in droves, fall, winter, spring and summer from all parts of the nation and the world and all here for one purpose—rest, relaxation and also fun in a near-perfect year-round climate.

Limited to a land area of little more than seven square miles, Miami Beach now has to build upward, not outward. Few vacant lots remain and most new construction entails the demolition of older, obsolescent structures. Thus, its people like to say, this is a new city, growing newer all the time.

MIAMI BEACH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE STAFF

Leonard A. (Doc) Baker is General Manager of the Miami Beach Chamber of Commerce with responsibility for its operation according to rules and regulations laid down by the Board of Governors.

Mrs. Elaine F. Arrow is Assistant to the General Manager. She serves as his secretary and also conducts the operation of the Chamber office and personnel.

Maria Alvarez conducts the Chamber Bookkeeping and Membership Departments. This entails handling billing and Chamber financial details. She also maintains membership files and assists in compiling data for publications such as this directory.

Mrs. Rosalind Klein is in the information section of the Chamber. She answers all incoming mail requesting information of Miami Beach as well as incoming telephone calls with questions about Miami Beach. Mrs. Klein also serves as Secretary to Chamber committees.

Flo Kokot is in charge of the Chamber Information and Inquiries department. She answers all mail requesting information about Miami Beach as well as telephone inquiries about this city. She also is responsible for out of town telephone directories, organization lists, and films.

James G. Larche is Coordinator of Membership and Advertising. As such he carries out a continuous membership promotion, seeking new members and maintaining contact with the general membership.

Margaret Nedeau is in charge of Chamber publicity and promotion, releases Chamber information to the various news media and edits the monthly Chamber of Commerce publication.

Mrs. Pearl G. Oppenheim is in charge of Trade Relations, Research and Statistic Departments. The Trade Relations Department handles all complaints from visitors as well as local residents. The Research and Statistical Departments consists of securing and compiling all statistical information that appears in the Miami Beach Chamber of Commerce monthly Bulletin and the Facts Book.
