Contributors

JEANNE BELLAMY, who selected the material from the journal of Hester Perrine Walker for printing in this issue, is a Miami Herald staff writer.

VINCENT GILPIN, as the portion of his mother's diary printed in this issue indicates, made his first visit to Florida in 1885. He calls West Chester, Pennsylvania, home. He contributed "To Miami, 1890 Style," also from his mother's diary, in Tequesta, Number One, 1941, and is co-author with the late Ralph M. Munroe of "The Commodore's Story."

WATT P. MARCHMAN was formerly librarian and corresponding secretary of the Florida Historical Society, St. Augustine, Florida, but since 1946 has been director of research of the Hayes Foundation and director of the Hayes Memorial Library, Fremont, Ohio.

T. RALPH ROBINSON is retired from government service and resides at Terra Ceia, Florida. He was a plant physiologist in the Division of Fruit and Vegetable Crops and Diseases, Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. He spent much of his time in Florida Stations. He contributed "Henry Perrine, Pioneer Horticulturist of Florida" in Tequesta Number Two, 1942.
