CHARLES M. BROOKFIELD, LCDR., USCGR., has been a South Floridian for twenty-six years. He has been much interested in the maritime and natural history of the region. He is Florida representative of the National Audubon Society. He is co-author with Oliver Griswold of They All Called It Tropical, now in its second printing. He is a charter member of the Historical Association of Southern Florida, and a member of its Board of Directors.

ALONZO CHURCH was born at Madison, Florida, in 1870. He visited Miami in 1892 as member of the Ingraham Everglades Expedition described in "A Dash Through the Everglades". He visited Miami again in 1939. His comments on the second visit, together with other biographical data, appear in the introduction prepared by Watt P. Marchman of the Hayes Memorial Foundation, Fremont, Ohio.

J. K. DORN has been a Miami resident since 1895. He has been active in many phases of the community's growth. He recalls with great satisfaction his part in the Miami Coliseum Corporation which brought the Chicago Civic Opera Company to Miami for a week of Grand Opera in 1926. He was three years a director of the Miami Chamber of Commerce, four years president of the Miami Pioneers, and two years president of the Historical Association of Southern Florida of which he is now a director.

OLIVER GRISWOLD is co-author with Charles M. Brookfield of They All Called It Tropical, an account of the Everglades National Park region. He has done considerable writing on historical and conservation topics, some of which have appeared in Miami newspapers. He is program coordinator for the University of Miami Radio and Television Department.

HENRY J. WAGNER was born in Miami in 1871. His grandfather had come to the region in 1855. A part of this paper was read at a program meeting of the Historical Association of Southern Florida in December, 1944, and appeared in the Miami Herald January 2, 1945. The original manuscript in longhand is owned by his sister, Mrs. Maude Black, who resides at the "Original Sausage Tree" place on Ingraham Highway. A copy is in the files of the Historical Association of Southern Florida. It is printed here exactly as he wrote it except for the correction of some of the spelling.
