WILLIAM H. SAUNDERS, a native of Kansas, came to Lake Worth in 1890. He worked as engineer on a number of construction jobs until he returned to Kansas State College in 1912 as Agricultural Engineer. When he retired in 1930 he returned to Florida. He is president of the Lake Worth Pioneers Association and resides at Inverness.

NATHAN B. SHAPPEE is a member of the History Department at the University of Miami. As student, teacher and newspaper man in western Pennsylvania he did considerable work in local history, notably a study of the Johnstown flood. He recently published in the Florida Historical Quarterly an article on the Roosevelt, Cermak, Zangara episode in Miami.

JAMES LORENZO WALKER is a member of a pioneer family of Lee and Collier counties. He grew up with the building of the Tamiami Trail of which he writes. He is a real estate broker in Naples, and is serving his second term in the State Legislature.

LAWRENCE E. WILL of Belle Glade writes of his own experiences on the Florida frontier. He has lived in the Lake Okeechobee region since early in the century when drainage began to open up the area, and has collected much data in notes and pictures on the early history of that region.
