

HistoryMiami

On April 29, 2010, the Historical Museum of Southern Florida changed its name to HistoryMiami.

With the new name change, the institution will seek to raise the profile of several of our entities in order to more fully articulate what it offers to the community. Below is a listing of them.

- The Museum
- The Archives & Research Center
- The South Florida Folklife Center
- The Education Center
- City Tours
- Miami International Map Fair
- Membership & Interest Societies

Each of these programs and events assist us in fulfilling HistoryMiami's mission of connecting people by telling the stories of Miami's communities, individuals, places and events.

Membership

Members are the public face of HistoryMiami in the community. They demonstrate a commitment to a shared mission, vision and values. With the name change, membership at HistoryMiami has been expanded to allow customization by interest. Additional society options such as the Flagler Street Society, the 11th Judicial Circuit Historical Society and the Pillars Society will serve to enhance the membership experience. All members enjoy a wide variety of benefits, including free year-round admission to the Museum and Archives & Research Center, subscription to HM The Magazine of HistoryMiami (formerly South Florida History) and Tequesta, invitations to exclusive exhibition openings, discounted admission on City Tours and other special events.

To join HistoryMiami and for a complete listing of active members, visit us online at historymiami.org.

Tequesta

Tequesta, the scholarly journal of HistoryMiami, has been published annually since 1941. It contains articles about the history of South Florida, especially of the Miami area, the Florida Keys and the Everglades. Time periods for topics range from pre-Columbian history to the late twentieth century. While most articles are scholarly studies, many first-person accounts also appear in the journal. The breadth and depth of the articles make Tequesta one of the best sources for the study of South Florida history.

The contents of Tequesta are copyrighted, and all rights are reserved. Reprint of material is encouraged; however, written permission from the Association is required.

The editors welcome inquiries and submissions. The Chicago Manual of Style should be consulted on matters of style. Illustrations may be embedded in electronic manuscripts to indicate their locations; submit them also as separate, 300 ppi or higher jpegs or tiffs. Include credit lines in the illustration captions. Send inquiries and contributions to publications@historymiami.org or:

Editor, Tequesta
HistoryMiami
101C West Flagler Street, Miami, Florida 33130

The current issue and some back issues may be purchased from the Museum Store. Complete sets of the journal are in the Archives & Research Center, as well as at Floridiana collections in libraries throughout Florida.

To purchase single copies and back issues, contact the Museum Store at 305-375-1492 or museumstore@historymiami.org.

Electronic versions of out-of-print issues of Tequesta have been produced by Florida International University Libraries' Digital Collections Center, thanks to funding from the State University Libraries' Florida Heritage Program. To view them and tables of contents, visit historymiami.org.

