Areas of Significance: Architecture 910 = =

Significance:
 Structure is a fine example of Mediterranean Revival architecture applied to a smaller, single-story home. Noteworthy features include an arched French entry door on S facade, flanked by two arched windows, all three with double-light transoms. Structure is in scale and character with surrounding neighborhood.

CONTINUATION SHEET

Physical Description:

Structure is a one-story Mediterranean Revival cottage. Three-bay entry on S has French doors flanked by windows of similar proportion, all three with double-light ^{arched} transoms. Entry screened door is excellent example of wrought iron tropical scene with palm trees and birds. Entry steps are faced with decorative glazed tile. Stucco is extremely rough. Some windows have solid wood hurricane awnings; all have wrought iron security grills. Semi-detached single-story garage in rear is of similar style.
