Areas of Significance: Architecture; Community Planning 910 = =

Significance:

Structure is one of a group of four homes side by side which reflect the original plan for the Miami Shores development of large homes on heavily landscaped lots. The architect, Robert Law Weed, was one of the architects who helped shape the Mediterranean Revival theme for Miami Shores and designed many of the original homes, along with other significant 1920s-1950s Dade County structures.
