Mr. George Hammrich, Jr. Trust Department 1st State Bank of Miami P.O. Box 1298 Miami, Florida 33138

Dear Mr. Hammrich:

I was informed by Mr. Douglas Wilbur that you are now handling the Trust for Mrs. Gertrude Fowler, 300 N.E. 91st Street, Miami Shores. He also informed me that he advised you of the pending designation of that property as a Historic Landmark of Miami Shores Village.

This nomination will be on the agenda for the Historic Preservation Board meeting of April 18, 1983. The decision made at that time will be forwarded to the Miami Shores Village Council for final action.

I hope your Trust Committee will have had an opportunity to review the information submitted so that our Board will have your comments available at our meeting.

If you have any questions, please call me at 758-1957.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Marty Stofik

Mr. Douglas Wilbur Senior Trust Officer First State Bank of Miami P.O. Box 1298 Miami, Florida 33138

Dear Mr. Wilbur:

As you are aware, the property at 300 N.E. 91st Street, Miami Shores, has been honored by being nominated for consideration as a historic landmark of Miami Shores Village. Since this property is being held in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Gertrude Fowler, approval of the trust committee is necessary before any such designation will be awarded by the Village Council.

The Historic Preservation Board has not yet recommended this property for designation. It is on the agenda for our February 14th meeting. If the Board deems the property worthy of the designation, we will defer sending the recommendation to Council until your committee has an opportunity to respond.

A copy of Ordinance 439-82 has been sent to you. Per our telephone conversation last week, I would like to review the significant points.

The first area you will want to consider is Section 3. This house has been nominated under points 1 and 2 because of the property's connection to Mr. L.T. Cooper, who played a significant role in the development of this community, and point 3 because of the value of its architecture and craftmanship. It is also believed, and we are attempting to substantiate, that it is the second oldest house now standing in Miami Shores Village. Any information you may have in your files regarding the exact date of construction would assist us in making this determination. I should point out the site we believe is older has undergone substantial renovation whereas this property has not, giving it additional historic value.

Next you should examine Section 4, Paragraph D. This limits the scope of the designation to exterior features subject to public view.

Mr. Douglas Wilbur First State Bank of Miami - 2 -

February 8, 1983

In the case of the property in question, this would include the front of the house facing N.E. 91st Street and the west side facing N.E. 3rd Avenue. There is no impact on the interior of the house.

Third, please review Section 5, Paragraph 5, which insures future owners of being aware of the property's historic value and its designation as a landmark.

Section 6 will be of interest to you. Before a building permit is issued for any alterations that would affect the architectural appearance of the house, a Certificate of Appropriateness must be obtained from the Historic Preservation Board. This simply gives the Board an opportunity to review the plans and work with the property owner to be sure the alterations will be compatible with those architectural qualities which earned the property designation as a historic landmark. The property in question appears to have no significant landscaping that would be affected by this section except large trees that already are covered by the Dade County tree preservation ordinance. I would also point out that the Secretary of the Interior's guidelines, which we use for guidance, recommend removal of any trees which endanger the fabric of the structure, thereby expediting approval for removal of any landscaping that is threatening the actual structure.

Section 7 outlines the procedure for applying for a Certificate of Appropriateness. Most of the information called for in Paragraph A-2 is required prior to obtaining a building permit. Although it would not seem to be a consideration any time in the reasonable future, Paragraph B does provide for demolition after the property has passed its useful life.

We have no information to indicate that Section 8 would apply to this property.

Particular attention should be given to Section 9 which covers ordinary repair and maintenance to the property, referring to Section 2, Paragraph (13) for definition.

Finally, Section 10 provides an appeals process to protect the property owner from any seemingly unreasonable demands by a Historic Preservation Board.

Miami Shores Village

Mr. Douglas Wilbur First State Bank of Miami - 3 -

February 8, 1983

The purpose of the preservation effort in Miami Shores, and all of Dade County, is to retain significant structures that both reflect the heritage of our community and which visually identify our Village. The Board is anxious to work with property owners who want to renovate their homes by providing advice, assistance, sources of information and materials, and alternatives of which they may be unaware, in order to protect the beauty of the Village, while still allowing owners full use of their property.

Historic landmark designation in Dade County traditionally has increased the resale value of properties. Coral Gables, which has had such a program for ten years, has led the way in increased property values. However, tax assessments have not been increased simply by virtue of the designation. I would mention that the building and zoning laws in Miami Shores also are quite restrictive, and have helped maintain property values in the community.

I am enclosing copies of our Guidelines for Designation and for Granting Certificates of Appropriateness. Also enclosed is information on the Dade County interest grant program which is available to properties designated in Miami Shores. The enclosed ERTA and TEFRA FACT SHEET provides information on tax credits that would be available if this house were to be converted to a depreciable rental property by the secondary beneficiaries after Mrs. Fowler no longer resides there.

If you have any further questions, please call me at 758-1957, I would be happy to meet with your committee if you feel it would assist you in your decision.

Thank you for taking the time to consider this matter.

Sincerely,

MS:gm encls.
