TWO weeks ago, MIAMI LIFE declared in its Page One editorial that Beach City Manager Renshaw would resign before he'd do anything detrimental to the powerful S. & G. Gambling Syndicate, which he has protected and fostered from its inception.

Only a few days later Renshaw had an opportunity to substantiate everything that MIAMI LIFE had said.

Pat Perdue, probationary detective in charge of gambling enforcement, had been demoted by the new chief, Albert W. Simpson, to the status of patrolman.

Renshaw, for the first time in Beach police department annals, attempted to override the chief's actions. City Attorney Ben Shepard supported him. Shepard claimed Renshaw had the power.

But the newly elected councilmen who had sworn to end the rule of the Syndicate were adamant.

They had appointed Simpson and they backed him up. The patrolman status of Perdue stands.

History-Making Precedent

BUT the important thing about this fight was not whether Pat Perdue would remain a detective or become a patrolman. It's the history-making precedent in the Beach gambling situation that's so all-important.

All the talk indicated the Syndicate would retain

But this action proves conclusively that, if necessary, Renshaw will be fired. At least, an attempt will he made to fire him.

Renshaw's actions stem from the fact that Pat Perdue has always faithfully carried out the wishes of Renshaw, who, by his actions in the Perdue case, proves that both Chapter 20953, Laws of 1941, is known as the "FIC- he and the city attorney in the past have believed that TITIOUS NAME STATUTE." Shepard publicly stated that City Manager Renshaw had the right to undo, if he wished, the police chief's acts . . . in other words, that the chief was just a "front" man for the city manager.

Whether it's legal or not, we know as a newspaper that this is the way the police department has been run for the last two decades, at least.

WHAT YOU PUT IN LIFE

STATE LEGISLATORS LOSE CONFIDENCE OF THE PEOPLE

MIAMI LIFE:

The behavior of the entire Florida Legislature in regard to that bribery case was, to put it mildly, very peculiar. They just , all aside and kept their mouths shut, so none of us have found how they stood—they acted as if it was just none of their

This has practically amounted to a whitewash of the whole Why, when such a serious thing as bribery theatens, you all get together and stop everything before the scandal the second name breaks? Don't pretend you are so then a thing has happened before and someone gets away with it, then it's time to be on the alert. All our legislators have but the confidence of the people.

And the way they have been sidestepping and squirming on the sales tax, we might have known from the first that they were going to place that sales tax on us from now and forever hencegoing And there's Governor Warren, too; he said he just didn't have any ideas on the subject. And after getting elected on the promise he would not back a sales tax.

It will be no wonder if they pass a legal bookie act, too. No matter if the people of certain counties don't want it, all those little hick counties that live off the graft they get from South Florida anew chance to grab more if they put over that legal bookie Why not-they will get more money sitting down on their we are deprived of the votes to which we are legally entitled down we are deprived of the votes to which we are legally entitled down indoors or out, particularly on the bound to get the cream of the new business. here, they put over on us whatever dirty plots they wish, up the footing. stat. Radio Giveaway Ban Follows Life Attack

By B. B.

TT WAS only last week that we commented upon the quick response we often get to our articles in MIAMI LIFE, how a public announcement on sidewalk cleaning was issued as soon as this paper hit the streets directing attention to this need.

Now comes another surprise—and this is of national tonsequence, affecting just about everybody in the U.S. A. Several weeks ago we turned our guns on the giant radio give-away lotteries, how they were tending to destroy radio, how they discouraged business and purchases, and how they created false hopes in winning fortunes without effort and knowledge. They had a bad moral and economic effect—and were quite idiotic. Or words to that effect.

And what happens? Well, by the time our exposition of the evils had reached and been digested by Washington, the Federal Communications Commission issued a cease order, banning such big prize handout programs from the air after October 1. The Commission is to be commended for its prompt response to our appeal in ending the non-

While one or two of the large stations announce they will fight the ruling through courts, we have a sneaking suspicion that most of them are glad of it and were in cahoots in bringing about the prohibition. Producers and advertisers must have been appalled at the vast numbers of articles distributed on the various national quizzes. Radio managements must realize that these tawdry shows, in which people are called on the telephone, have been weakening respect for the radio and cutting down the listening audience, at least to all other and better programs. This absurdity could not go on indefinitely. It was bound to blow up eventually of its own accord—like all silly Ameri-

Presumably the order will not halt the old standard quiz shows in which members of the audience are given opportunities of winning from a dollar to several thousands for answering bonafide questions. But the huge jackpots depending upon the chance of a phone call will desert him go into the pot—even if this does interfere with the telephone company.

MIAMI LIFE hastens to extend congratulations and points to this as a further achievement in which we led the nation. Our winter series of articles exposing Spiritualist fakers were reprinted by a number of national publetter: lications and excited wide comment.

We launched and spearheaded the fight upon the proposed Florida sales tax, which has since been taken up by Miami and Florida merchants and business men and the citizens. The Dade county delegation of mis-representatives in the state legislature, ignoring the wishes of their constituents and the welfare of this area, were seduced by the Miami Herald, the duPont and other big interests. Politicians and all those with their feet in the trough are shouting for the sales and other taxes, but the merchants, the Herald advertisers, little business and the mass of the people have swelled the opposition chorus to such an extent that even Gov. Fuller Warren and his legislators may be forced to the voice of the people.

Your front page story about Sen. Pepper in the current issue of MIAMI LIFE shocked me. Is there really a serious movement on foot to try to unseat him in the next election? Are the people of Florida crazy?

Why, ditching Pepper would be just like pouring ice in the gulf stream to cut off Miami's climate. Pepper and Florida are synonyms. You say Pepper is the greatest man to come out of the South since Andrew Jackson, Don't make me laugh. As compared to Pepper, Andrew Jackson wouldn't have even made a good kindergarten pupil.

I was in Washington a couple of weeks ago and, helieve me, boy, they have plenty of respect for Pepper in a joint where big boys are a dime a dozen.

They don't kick him around in Washington.

When he speaks, they listen, and when he wants something, he damn well gets it.

He is the first and only man Florida ever sent to Washington who has ever done anything for the state. Who do you think gave Florida more airfields and training camps than any other state? Who do you think turned Florida into the Summer White House? It was Pepper and that is only a small drop in the backet as compared to other things he has done for the state, which until the time of his election, was treated like a stepchild and ignored by the ers that be. all of that almost from the beginning. l'epper ch

Warren Nemesis: Sales Tax

(Continued From Page 1) you governor of this state so you could carry out your destiny of serving its people well.

They admired you for your guts . . . undergoing so many major operations in order to get in physical condition for acceptance into the armed forces as a fighting soldier.

They knew you as a liberal, as a champion of the people. Even now they do not realize that you may desert them and permit a Sales Tax!

If you do-as we stated before-you'll lose more than any other man in the political history of Florida . . . in one fell swoop! . . . through a SINGLE mistake!

MIAMI LIFE already has thousands of its Sales-Tax vote-coupons returned, properly signed—and OPPOSING a Bales Tax.

We hope they will STEEL you into RESISTING ANY form of Sales Tax.

Study the means by which other states without a sales tax or the benefit of pari-mutuel wagerings and in better financial conditions than Florida-raise their taxes . . . AND YOU WILL FIND A WAY!

In this same issue, we're citing other localities. Study the New Jersey set-up, for example.

New Jersey receives 13 per cent of its total income through taxing public utilities.

Florida receives LESS THAN ONE PER CENT FROM THE SAME SOURCE!

Don't tell us, governor, that we can't be as smart as New Jersey!

Again we're printing coupons all through MIAMI LIFE so that the public may express its

Renshaw Faces Jail

While their friends controlled the council and the city manager, the Syndicate got all the breaks in the gambling ONE councilman (D. Lee Powell) declared this week:

going to get the breaks.

The present city council is, by no means, opposed to a liberal policy . . . and we certainly include Melvin Richard, who attained his councilship by fighting the

AN INVESTIGATION is being made at this very minute to determine if Renshaw has illegally and wrongfully misused public funds and materials for

The statute of limitatons, by the way, doesn't protect a public official who holds office continuously! Renshaw may not realize it, but he actually faces 'Liberal Policy' Will Live-But It'll Be CLEANED UP!

"It'll be a sad day for Miami Beach and the police de-Now the friends of the majority of THIS council are partment when Mr. Renshaw cannot direct the police department."

This again proves MIAMI LIFE'S contention that it was by Renshaw's personal orders to the Miami Beach police department that it was possible for the Syndicate to come to life and carry on its vicious government-undermining and cut-throat monopoly.

It received more protection and became more open than any other gambling alliance between Underworld and Officialdom in America's history-not even excluding the hectic criminally dominated areas of New York and Chicago!

The Syndicate became an accepted fact in Miami

Councilmen and Syndicate heads openly fraternized, drawn as to actual need. The Ate together.

Voted the same slates.

It wasn't strange to see the head of the Vice Squad riding around with members of the Syndicate.

But those days are ended.

Liberal policy will live in Miami Beach. But in the future, it's going to be a much cleaner affair.

"What Is Itemized?"

When the governor's committee on taxes and finance met in Miami last week, Mr. Cordes of Burdine's asked for a detailed statement on the appropriations act of 1949. He said that he believed the taxpayers should know how much was for salaries, expenses, other items, so that conclusion could be MIAMI HERALD'S account on the meeting skipped over this request.

But THE HERALD told a letter to the editor correspondent off this week. Answering "T.H.B.'s" comment on no "itemized statement about what the money is to be used for or has been used for in the past," "Editor's Note" stated: "The appropriation bill passed by the Legislature itemized the proposed expenditures. The Legislature, however, didn't provide the tax bill to raise the needed money."
