PARADING IN WHITE (But Working In The Dark)

NCE UPON a time the writer of this little piece, who also happens to be the editor and publisher, lent his efforts to establishing the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, like most other young bloods over the country, thinking he'd have a great time getting away from home on club meeting nights, donning old sheets, and riding a horse on dark nights to a rendezvous in the woods and, by the weird lights of a bonfire, tell dirty stories.

But when he learned that it wasn't romance, he somehow managed to avoid becoming a charter member of the Indiana Klan. And, of course, the conviction of Organizer Stephenson and a couple of other boys a few years later, on a charge of murder, together with the startling revelations that are still being revealed, rather justified his common gumption in avoiding anything so contrary to ideals of our forefathers.

In the center of this page are some rather strange documents. They are authentic. And so thoroughly disgusting that even Miami Klansmen are telling friends about them.

It was not our idea to indulge in the presidential campaign this time. Both Smith and Hoover are too fine a type of men to run the gauntlet of the narrow-mindedness and bigotry that have been shown in this election. Either is capable of being the best president the United States has had in the last quarter of a century.

But this thing of the local chapter of the Klan, as crippled as it is, about which we have bragged so

This paper feels that it is not necessary to invoke ritualistic punishment for free expression of religion or politics. America was founded by people seeking both. And finding religious, racial and political freedom, they all-Protestant, Catholic, Jews-have made America the greatest nation, in every way, on earth-a melting pot of mankind, where tormented souls of the old country are finally able to laugh, to sing, to joy in living the few little years they've been allotted on this earth-all without oppression from church, state-and mob violence. Why go back to the Crusade era, when men were so dumb (if historians inform us correctly) that they harnessed their wives when they went to the Holy Land to kill off all the infidels?

We trust that what we are disclosing in this issue will convince intelligent folks that this "imperial" body, that seems to be hounding a goodly church of Miami and our Nation, is guilty of the very thing it is accusing that church of. Personally, we don't think the Pope is nearly so powerful, nor could he ever be (for he had his chance when the world was small-and he couldn't hold his power then!) as these persons who are apparently trying to be a Simon Legree to honest, hard-working, conscientious voters of Miami.

Why can't some of the downtown filling stations keep open after seven o'clock on Saturday nights? Or are we supposed to be in bed by that time?

He tells of the evil effects of horses and dog tracks, and opines that Miami will prosper without them. He declaims fiercely that the merchants will suffer if races come to Miami. (We wonder just what merchants made money last winter when we had no races. It seems that a few steamship lines and travel bureaus reaped a harvest by booking thousands of our tourists to Havana, where racing was in its glory.) Somehow it appears that Lilburn could do good in the show business. He might even approach Flo Ziegfeld in that line. He could star. For isn't he one of Miami's leading "Follies"?

TANKER PARTY 7

Make Your Stomach an Incinerator OR the month of October statistics prove that over 20 large stills were destroyed by the Federal prohibition forces.

Nearly everyone of these stills were located in outof-the-way places. Mangrove swamps, stables, base-ments, attics, and in the Everglades. They ranged in capacity from 50 to 600 gallons.

The destroyed stills were marvelous pieces of mechanism. Some of them operated by motor power and some by steam. They produced everything from Ba-cardi to Scotch. Gin and rye also were popular products.

One still, a 600-gallon affair, was discovered and One still, a 600-gailon aftar, was discovered and destroyed. It was located in a swamp. The only water available for distillation purposes was the muddy water of the swamp. It was used. And later the product ap-peared on the Miami market as rye. Another still of 300 gallons capacity was located out on the Tamiami Trail. When the officers arrived they found the still in full operation. The tank was full. The liquor-to-be contained eight large dead rats. It would probably have turned out to be Bacardi.

The operators of these stills are mostly foreigners who have unbathed negroes to perform the actual la-bors. They have no regard whatsover for the drinkers' welfare. All they seek is the profit. Nearly every alcoholic case of sickness and death from drinking in Miami comes from drinking the pois-oned liquor produced by these stills. Men who cry out with howls of rage when a dirty dish is set before them, down the rotgut liquor without any hesitancy. They throw the stuff into their stomachs and smack their lips. And when the stomach complains they blame it on a hamburger sandwich.

a hamburger sandwich. A dime for a sandwich and 50 cents for a drink of rat-contaminated and doctored poison. The greatest workers for prohibition we have are those manufacturing alleged liquor. They are slowly but surely sapping the innards of our prize drinkers. A rum-runner, bucking the elements of the Gulf Stream archibition officiency surfaces and bijecters and Stream, prohibition officers, customs men, hijackers and stool pigeons, is entitled to some consideration. He's taking risks to smuggle in good liquor. The moonshiner imitating the real goods is entitled to nothing but contempt and jail.

Somehow the moonshiner gets the breaks. The gov-ernment has to stand by and watch the U. S. commis-sioner release moonshiners on $200 bail, while the rum-runner gets hooked for $2,000.

Nothing much has ever been done about it, though. Probably the reason is to be found in the minds of those who are content to drink the rot-gut. Their stamina and will power has been sapped to such a degree that black is white so long as they can get a drink.

When consumers learn to demand good liquor in bottles which bear all the ear-marks of the genuine goods—and taste, odor and containers are the best evi-dence—then will the poisoners be put out of business. For where there is no demand there is no trade.

Vultures—Only Ten Per Cent Per Month

THE old game of shylocking is again gaining rapid 1 foothold in Miami. Loan sharks—the "all loans kept confidential, at small rates of interest"—are gradually getting a grip on the unsophiscated, unwary, and untutored, who believe that, for a small rate of interest,

ON MOVIETONE

A Dozen Reasons Why THE TRUTH HURTS NO ONE!

Read the Operators' and Stage Employes' side of the question in connection with the lockout at the Capitol Theatre.

1. Organized labor did not leave the Capitol Theatre without notice. They were ejected from the theatre by detectives as though they were criminals, because they re-fused to accept the pay offered by the management.

2. Their places were filled by unorganized labor, whose only experience was received in the colored theatres of this

3. The demands of the stage employes and operators upon the Capitol Theatre are identical with those now paid by every other Movietone and Vitaphone theatre in the city of Miami.

4. The management of the Capitol theatre has refused to negotiate with the Employes, although for the last three months it has promised organized labor a contract, and has merely used the stage employes and operators until the new movietone was installed, making it unnecessary to any longer use organized musicians.

5. The management of the Capitol Theatre requested a hearing before the American Federation of Labor to con-sider the union scale of wages, and after having arranged for the hearing, refused to appear before that body.

6. The management of the Capitol Theatre resorted to an injunction suit in the Circuit Court of Dade County, in an attempt to enjoin the union employes from advising the public that the Capitol Theatre was unfair to organized labor, and they were unsuccessful in this case.

7. The scale demanded is not only in conformity with all sound theatres of Miami, except the Capital Theatre, but with the scale paid throughout the United States of America.

8. Organized labor is merely demanding a square deal, that is, recognition of organized labor, and the scale of pay accepted by all other theatres.

9. The scale varies from $50 up in other theatres, ac-cording to the hour of opening and class of projection. 10. The new policy adopted by the Capitol Theatre has more than doubled the work of stage employes and operators, but these employes are merely demanding the scale of pay that has been accepted by all other theatres.

11. We feel that all persons believing in a square deal —"live and let live"—and "honest pay for honest work," will sympathize with us in this strike.

12. We print this statement merely in the interest of truth, to combat the unfair explanation by the Capitol Theatre management as recently advertised in Miami news-papers, and as now being shown on the screen at the Capitol Theatre at each performance.

Most of the Hoover Demo-crats we know never were Dem-ocrats anyway. The idea of "Hooverizing" themselves is a clever piece of propaganda spread by the Republican or-ganizers.

Howey, the Republican can-didate for governor, has made a good impression where he has been heard. But to beat Carl-ton, well, North Florida, in re-venge for South Florida grab-bing the nomination which so long has been considered a North Florida morsel, may throw a good many votes Howey's way:

The most enthusiasm discov-ered in the political fields is found in the national election. Locally, pep is as dormant as a door-mat. About every other person is absent-minded as to who is running for state and county offices. The Independ-ents and Republicans have add-ed a little fuel to the melee by introducing self-nominated can-didates, but Barnum's army just won't fall for the stuff.

The returns from next Tues-day's election—the Literary Di-gest and the Rev. Dick Merrill notwithstanding — will find Plorida ensconsed in the Demo-cratic column, and this despite the heavy registration through-out the state.

Republicans are banking on Florida as the one state which will be first to break the solid South. They probably could come nearly doing so if they would pull together, but their antics at present are Demo-cratic vote-makers.

John W. Scott has organized his campaign fairly well for the office of justice of the peace of the third district in opposi-tion to Dick Newcomb. Scott is an oldtimer in Miami and formerly was chairman of the Dade County Republican com-mittee. With his adherents thoroughly on the job, Scott may come close.

Rumors are current that the governor may change the elec-tion results in the judicial branches throughout the state. Election does not mean going into office here. The governor is the boy who can place others in the jobs.

The old saying that Ponce de Leon brought a batch of laws to Florida and handed them over to the Seminole In-dians, who in turn buried them in Tallahassee, where they were later discovered by legislators and enacted as the statutes of the state, seems to be true.

FOR THE GOOD OF THE CAUSE FOR THE GOOD OF THE CAUSE The Young Men's Democratic Club, recently formed in Miami, is something more than a tem-porary organization. Not alone will it be active in future elec-tions, but, if handled and man-aged rightly, a better grade of men will be pushed for public office.

office. Men of the present group of members of the club are young and have the interest of the city, county, and state at heart. They believe that education of the younger voters will do a lot to awake interest in public mat-ters, and with that interest, the communities will advance. communities will advance. A good idea, I say.

keeper, was acting as one of Baby's sec-onds and his son was helping Hays Arm-strong, the substitute timekeper, to keep time. Curious to relate the bell frequent-ly went immediately after Baby had land-ed a blow and before Pal could come back. One round was plenty short. After the decision, Jack Bently, who was one of Pal's seconds, tried to get hold of the sips-but Joe would not give them up. One man who won fifty dollars on Baby gave the money back to the loser be-cause he "wouldn't take money on a decision like that."

eral days. I happened to get interested in the art of making a bundle of leaf into a smokable cigar and went out to Hialeah to get the lowdown. I had seen it done before, of course, but I discov-ered that it was being done so much more easily here. It was then I learned that the climate is just right for the work.

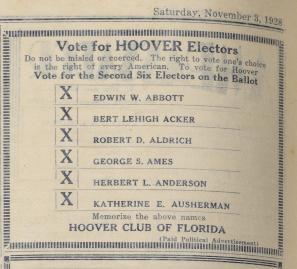

Is just right for the work. I also found out that the own-ers of the Universal Cigar plant have a lot of land they are willing to give away to cigar makers if they will start fac-tories in Hialeah. Which seems a fair offer.

a fair offer. A large number of Tampa ci-gar makers have been visiting Hialeah to get first hand re-ports and most of them are thinking seriously of leaving the west coast city and coming to Miami

BABY Stribling and Pal McDon-BaBY Stribling and Pal McDon-ald staged the main bout at the Coliseum last Monday, and the announcer announced that Strib-ling was the winner. The decision was not popular, by any means, though Stribling certainly won on points. After the fight he was all in and Pal was feeling quite all right, but that didn't count. Also, throughout the ten rounds Baby tried to trip Pal by placing his toe behind McDonald's heel and then jerking. He succeeded once and they both fell. Another thing was that Baby kept hitting in the clinches when he had Pal's two arms held. Owing to the Stribling family borrowing a little religious intollerance from the political sit-uation Eddle Maguire had to leave the refereeing to Howard Livings-tone. They could have called the bout a draw without hurting any-body. This is the first time I ever saw religion butting into the fight game. game
