Big Names Ready For Gables PGA

The two biggest money winner- the history of golf, Cary Middlecoff and Sam Snead, will be fighting for another crown as the Coral Gables Open gets under way this week at the famed Biltmore Golf Course, Middlecoff, top official PGA money winner in the post-war era, recently notified Biltmore Pro Bill Tinder that he will be a participant in the second annual $25,000 event.

Snead, the country's all-time money winner, made an earlier commitment to appear.

A field of 150 pros will be battling for the Gables title, presently held by Doug Sanders.

Names of 77 players who have signed commitment slips for the Gables tournament have been sub ted to Tinder by PGA Field Secretary Jim Gaquin. The roster includes such stars as George Bayer, Doug Ford, Bob Goalby, Paul Harney, Frank Stranahan, Tom Nieporte and Fred Hawkins, Hawkins recently shot a 64 to win the por-Sertoma Open.

Gables contestants has been forwarded from Mobile, and that Beach Open.

Dec. 8-11, is preceded by three days of qualifying rounds, a slated to cost about $375,000, ties and a teachers' lounge.

Variety, Convenience Attracting Thousands

Christmas Shoppers

Flocking to Gables

Christmas 1960 appears destined to break all existing records for the numher of shoppers who visited Coral Gables to do their Yuletide shopping Spokesmen for the Retail Merchants Division and the Chamber of Commerce both expressed their belief that this is a banner season for the city's fashionable shopping area.

"The reason's simple," said Mr. Bernie Blanck, President of the Chamber, "All of Dade County has discovered the fact that you can find whatever you want in Coral Gables, Variety, convenience, and selection are the magic words."

Citing a few specifics, Blanck pointed out that there are almost two hundred retail shops on Miracle Mile and Ponce de Leon Blyd., two of the city's principal shopping streets. The variety of goods available at these shops "staggers the imagination," he

"Convenience is the second magic word," says the Chamber spokesman. "Sixteen large off-street parking lots are strategically located near the main shopping area, thus alleviating one of the principal headaches for the shop-

Selection is the clincher in choosing Coral Gables for your shopping, says the civic booster, "For instance, do you want a tie for dad? Ties are sold in over 27 shops here. Everything from the most expensive ascot to the thrifty clip-ons for utility wear is available in the Gables.'

Coral Gables Stores Open Evenings

Retail stores in the downtown Coral Gables shopping area have decided to remain open evenings beginning Friday, December 9th, until Friday, the 23rd. "This was absolutely necessary," one retail merchant commented, "if we were to accommodate the many people who must work during the day and only have their evenings free to do their Christmas shopping."

Self Guided Tour Is Popular With Visitors

Coral Gables is known as The City Beautiful on a year 'round basis. There is no time of year, however, that better proves this description than the Yuletide season, Throughout the Gables, literally scores of homes become veritable fairylands of festive lights and decoration.

There is no better way to enjoy this holiday beauty than the Self-Guided Tour of Coral Gables planned by the city fathers to show all the points of interest in this unusual

The Self-Guided Tour is ten miles in length and is all clearly marked by pointing signs. To aid the visitor and resident, alike, who would like to take this tour, the Chamber of Commerce is giving away free maps of the Gables that have been marked with the complete route of the tour. Offices of the Chamber are located at 50 Aragon Ave. Tour Maps may also be obtained at the Information Desk at Coral Gables City Hall.

CONTEST RULES

Here is the Santa's Sleigh loaded with $150 in prize money to be awarded to 35 winners in the Santa Sleigh Contest. Anyone may enter except employes of the TIMES, and members of their families.

First We'll Tell You What A Santa Item Is

Each store participating in the Santa Sleigh Contest is listed on these facing pages and has a "Santa Item" in its advertisement located somewhere in this newspaper. The Santa Item may consist of numerals, one word, or a phrase. For example, a jewelry store's Santa Item might be "Wrist Watch, $49.50." A furniture store's Santa Item might be "Easy Terms." Whatever it is, the word or phrase that comprises the Santa Item will immediately precede or be above the designation "Santa Item."

Follow Those Simple Rules

- 1. Find the correct Santa Item in each store's advertisement.
- 2. List the words that comprise each Santa Item neatly and plain in each store's box on these two pages. Using a typewriter, pencil, crayon, ink or any medium that is legible.
- 3. Do the same thing on each of the four sets of facing pages, each set of which will appear on four consecutive Thursdays, November 17, November 24, December 1, December 8.
- 4. When you finish all FOUR SETS of facing pages, assemble them in the order in which they appeared in the newspaper; the November 17th set on top, the second set next, and so forth. Do not send entries one at a time or in separate wrappers. Send them all together after finishing all four.

1000 Take Part In Children's Book Week

The Coral Gables Public Library is delighted to announce the success of the National Children's Book Week program which was held nationally from Nov. 13 through 19.

Response to the program at the Bral Gables Public Library was so enthusiastic that our celebration was extended through Nov. 29. Approximately 1000 children, parents and teachers visited the Children's Department for the daily programs. We are so pleased with the cooperation of Merrick Demonstration and Coral Gables and St. Fresa Elementary Schools in encouraging the children to become familiar with their library by these field trips.

Easy Books

The second and third graders were introduced to the new easy books during storytelling sessions conducted by Mrs. Barbara W. Frink, children's librarian. Young actors and actres of the Junior Repertory Theatre, under the direction of Mrs. Ester J. Brezo, presented delightful, dramatic excerpts from such well-known stories as "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," "Cinderella" and "The Wizard of Oz" to the fourth and fifth grade students.

Special Performances

Special performances of "H el and Gretel," "One Hundred Dresses," "Little Women," and a repeat performance of "Tom Sawyer" were presented on Saturday, Nov. 19, at the Coral Gables Woman's Club for an audience of over 100 children and their parents.

Gables Man Is Fined For Drunk Driving

A Coral Gables man was fined $115 and costs in Metro Court Nov. 28 on charves of drunk and careless driving filed after a three-car accident Sunday at 2321 Ponce de Leon Blvd.

Charles D. Eaves, 40, of 504 Aragon, also had his driver's license suspended for 90 days and received credit for two days spent in jail awaiting trial.

Also arrested in the same accident, but not tried Monday, was William C. Vance, 49, of 3141 Carter. He was charged with careless driving.

According to Officer Henry Porterfield, Eaves was northbound on Ponce and struck the Vance car as it pulled out of a parking space.

The Vance car was shoved into a third car driven by Elizabeth W. Spencer, 44, of 1803 SW Fifth St., which was parked on Ponce.

Damage to Eave's car was estimated at $150. The Vance car sustained $300 damage and the Spencer car $200.

Better Grades, Safety

"He has one, why can't I?"

That sentence, spoken by a teenager, has probably caused more trouble for parents than any argument we can think of off hand.

Most parents, when confronted by the apeal that they should grant a privilege to their teenagers because other teenagers enjoy the same privilege find themselves almost incapable of refusing.

We suspect that this appeal has a great deal to do with the fact that our very youngest teenagers, 14 years old, are the source of considerable concern to a local PTA group.

The Ponce Junior High School PTA is seeking a sensible solution to problems which have arisen because parents have granted a privilege to young teenagers which they are not mature enough to appreciate.

That privilege is the right to operate motor scooters at the age of 14 and to drive automobiles at 16.

The consequences of this leniency towards young teenagers are serious ones. Ponce PTA has discovered that there is a direct correlation between poor grades and the ownership of motor scooters. They have also unearthed figures that reveal the number of accidents caused by reckless teenage driving.

Their solution to the problem is simple. Raise the age limit for learner's permits to 16 and for driver's licenses to 17.

Another solution, of course, would be the exercise of parental authority to deny the use of motorized vehicles until the age of 17. However, with the law and the use of motor vehicles by other teenagers working against the parents, it is not difficult to see why Ponce PTA is looking toward a change in the law to aid parents.

Despite the sophistication of modern teenage life, our young men and women are still inexperienced in the ways of this world. Early introduction to cosmetics, adult dress, scooters and motor cars may give these young people a patina of adulthood. But underneath it all, they are still children who need parental guidance.

Prosperity and the natural desire of parents to make their children happy have brought with them many privileges which appear as benefits but which in truth are injurious to teenagers.

The growing use of motorized transportation by teenagers is just one example of these injurious privileges disguised as benefits.

We are with the Ponce PTA in its campaign to hike the age limit for operating motor vehicles. But until the change becomes a reality, reform on the domestic front is in order. The next time Junior asks for a motor scooter because his best friend has one, say "no." Better grades and safer streets could be the reward now without waiting for the law.

Objects To 12-Story Apartment

Editor, The Times,

The writer wishes to file objection to the proposed twelve - story "apartment" building to be located at Biltmore Way and Cardena St. As my protest, would you consider the following facts as perhaps being representative of the opinions of the women of the Biltmore and Granada Sections:

1. Statistics reveal an increase in crime (assault, robbery, etc.) in communities where cars crowd the streets at night. Laws in many towns require that all cars be off the streets after dark, and this is a proven deterrent to crime.

2. From the distaff standpoint, consider the increase in dirt and grime; the unpleasant odors from exhaust fumes from 150 apartments concentrated in one area and disseminating from the proposed monstrosity over the entire Biltmore and Granada Sections; the noise and hazard of the many trucks necessary to service this concrete pile.

VA Hospital

3. Surveying the landscape in all directions from the center of Coral Gables, one sees no mass of comparable size. The Veterans Administration Hospital without its beautiful tower is not twelve stotries high; nor does the new International Airport Building intrude itself into the sky to the height of twelve stories plus. Until one's eye reaches the far-distant horizon of Biscayne Bay, there is no such concentration of steel, concrete and humanity.

4. Surely the unhappiness and complaints created by conditions adjacent to the Veterans Administration Hospital should be sufficient warning to the Commission that there is no place in central Coral Gables' residential and apartment section for such huge buildings and concentration of population.

Visitors here and residents alike are escaping from cities where these human anthills exist. Coral Gables' fame and prosperity do not rest upon the many facets of bustling business and tourism, but upon its enviable reputation as a quiet haven from the pressures of city life — a quiet community of beautiful homes, apartments, gardens and trees.

Why Destroy? Why, then, should this concept be destroyed? Why should Mr. Sakolsky and his associates be granted the very special privilege of satisfying his ambition by being permitted to erect this human beehive which because of its incongruity would deface a large area of Coral Gables, downgrade the community, devaluate the properties of good citizens and taxpayers who were established here before him, and cause immeasurable unhappiness to the many permanent residents who take pride in their close-in homes and beautiful two-story apartment properties,

Displeasure with our City Government grows more wide-spread. Why not do something to foster better feeling of our citizens toward our elected and appointed officials, rather than break trust further with them.

South Miami Roundup

By EDWIN KNIGHT

"NEW YORK?" HE ASKED, "A good place to visit, but I wouldn't want to live there. Now take Coral Gal's. It's a wonderful place to live, but I don't like to visit here." A man of few words this dining companion of mine. He has been to many cities and many states. He has held numerous positions and yearns to reside in South Florida. He is a visitor to Coral Gables now. And he decidedly doesn't like to play the role of visitor in Coral Gables.

REVERSING THE age-old description of New York and applying it to Coral Gables was new to me. If Coral Gables is such a wonderful place to reside, why wouldn't it be held in the same esteem for those who visit "The City, Beautiful?" His answer again was curt. "Very simple," ... said, "Coral Gables has everything for the resident and little for the visitor."

HE EXPLAINED HIS reasoning. "Coral Gables is the city of beautiful homes. And this is true. Visitors have little opportunity to enter these homes. So they are left with a frustration of having missed the biggest attraction of Coral Gables. The naming of Coral Gables streets makes it difficult for the visitor to find his way around. And even if he found his way around Coral Gables, what is there to do or see? Coral Gables has few, if any,outstanding dining establishms a. There are no cocktail lounges where one may go to meet a friend and there are few after dinner attractions to whet the appetite of the cultured visitor."

MY FRIEND WIPED HIS hand on a napkin now. But he continued his visitor's estimate of Coral Gables. "The business district, aside from being clogged with cars at all hours of the day or night, has no big department stores. The transportation system to the worth while attractions is poor, and the visitor is left with the feeling of being in a beautiful city but definitely on the outside when it comes to any stand life."

THIS, THEN, is a visitor's opinion of Coral Gables. It is a bit caustic, but more true than we are willing to realize. Visitors come in many forms and descriptions. UM students can be counted as visitors. So could traveling salesmen, older couples passing through the city, college students here for the holidays with their Coral Gables friends and, yes, even the holiday shopper.

THE TRUTH IS that Coral Gables apparently dopen't want visitors. It is a city of residents, with a quiet reside all atmosphere ruling over all other interests. Even though the visitor, whether a shopper from West Dade or a tourist from the north, is cajoled by the Chamber of Commerce and enticed by the merchants, the residents definitely have the upper hand in Coral Gables. Yes, my dining friend, Coral Gables is a nice place to live. But there is not much here to interest the visitor.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS—yes, the season is he, as if you didn't realize it by now. The stores begin putting on Christmas luster in November. The cities are a little later with their show of lights and tinsel and when the homeowner begins climbing ladders to hang his lights, you know St. Nick isn't far off.

SOUTH MIAMI KNOWS the season is here when Holsum Baking Co., on South Dixie Highway just south of Red Road, puts up its display. There are few displays in South Florida like it. It has its own theme, its own music, Santa Claus and all the trimmings. People come from m around to see the display. And it's well worth the trip.

SATURDAY, Dec. 10, is the day slated for the unveiling of Holsum's display, rated this year as the largest animated Christmas display in South Florida. Theme of the display is "A Medieval Christmas," a gigantic three-dimensional spectacular consisting of a realistic castle with stained-glass windows, battlements and turets, all festooned by lavish Christmas decorations and Santa sitting on a throne.

IN SIZE, THE display follows the Holsum tradition bigness with a width of 50 feet and a depth of 20 feet. Portion the display extend upward some 55 feet, with figures darted throughout the display. The Holsum scene will remain until Jan. 2, where an estimated 87,000 people wil shave an opportunity to see it.

SOUTH MIAMI COUNCIL got the surprise of its life at a pre-council meeting Tuesday night. Mayor Paul U. Tevis read a letter from Metro Commissioner-elect Winston Wynne asking the Council if the South Miami body had any suggestions for Wynne's aiding the city during his coming ten of office. Wynne, now a Coral Gables City Commissioner, e. ... went so far as to ask the South Miamians to list the items they felt were most important to them.

FOLLOWING THE CHUCKLES and acknowledgements of Wynne's apparent generosity towards the city, the South Miamians began thinking. Tax relief, sewage, roads and South Dixie Highway were the first items mentioned. And the list got longer as the meeting went on South Miami Council wants first to meet with Commissioner-elect Wynne, if for nothing more than to shake his generous hand. But by the time the meeting is held, the list will be a long one. And Commissioner Wynne will know South Miami's ins and outs, past and present troubles with Metro and the city's future requests from Metro. And Mr. Wynne brought it all on himself.

... vacuum cleans rugs, too

Weighs much less than standard vacuum cleaners, yet does a big cleaning job. More dirt capacity than other lightweight cleaners. On bare floors the Sweep Master picks up dust and debris. Cleans better in corners and along baseboards...where brooms and dust mops can't reach.

Vacuums all types of rugs. Swivel-head reaches under turniture, bare floor attachment for vacuum sweeping...head designed to clean corners best.

Father's Day Cake Is Holiday Fare

PICTURES AND STORY By LOWIS CARLTON

They celebrate Father's Day a dozen times a year at the Al Marx home, every time Gerrie Mark serves her husband and three children their favorite chocolate frosted devil's food

"We call it Father's Day Cake, because I first baked it for that occasion 10 years ago. Now it is such a favorite that we have it at least once a month," said the pretty homemaker. She is the mother of Don, 12; Janis, 9; and Gail, 5.

In her pink and aqua kitchen at 1715 SW 83rd Ct., Gerrie prepares some 1095 meals a year, spending about one-fifth of her days in the kitchen. Yet. she has never lost her enthusfasm for cooking. She keeps a recipe clipping file, a wellthumbed row of cookbooks and tries new dishes regularly to avoid monotony. Raised in the North but now a confirmed Southerner, her cooking combines the best from both areas.

Today, Gerrie Marx is an excellent cook but this was not always true. When she married insurance agent Al Marx 13 years ago, Gerrie could not cook at all.

She remembers one dreadful day when she had struggled to jusually comes into the picture. bake a birthday cake for her Gerrie bakes cakes for PTA mother. "It takes time but it's really delicious," said Gerrie.

Birthdays and other happy events call for a home-baked pie or cake. Frozen rolls and bissuits get Gerrie's approval, but she mixes her own cakes and pie crusts. Luckily, she enjoys baking because the faimly al- utes; keep warm till used. ways expects a dessert.

The most cherished appliance of this good cook is her home freezer. Buying on a budget, she takes advantage of sales to buy food in quantities and freeze it. When baking, she usually doubles the recipe, serving one pie or cake and freezing the other. School lunches are prepared ahead and frozen. Shortening cans are saved and used for storing food in the

AFTER 20 YEARS, A REUNION

Seven little girls who lived in the same Coral Gables neighborhood, friends since their pinafore days who attended the same schools and Sunday School, decided to get together for a Dutch treat luncheon Saturday at the Country Club of Coral Gables, According to Dot (Mrs. Wendell) Thagard, instigator of the pleasant plot, conversation at the party ran to "Do you remember when?" Today, of course, all of the girls are married, their children are in college, the service or mar-In fact, Dot reports a couple of grandchildren for one or two, In addition to Mrs. Thagard (Dorothy Dutcher Thagard) there were Mrs. Barbara Sandquist McGlathery, Mrs. Helen DePhamphillis O'Neill, Mrs. Florence DePhamphillis Powell, Mrs. Mildred Nauman Sandberg, Mrs. Bessie Bailey Cary and Mrs. Patty Eisenmeyer Cooper, all residing hereabouts.

Mrs, Leslie Peckham, 1160 S. Albambra Cir., called The Times to report how pleased former residents Mr. and Mrs. Erben Martin, now of Youngstown, Ohio, are on receiving The Times, which they read from cover to cover each week. The M tins moved in October. Just before they left, Mrs. Peckham gave Mrs. Martin a dessert party and handkerchief. shower - as a reminder of her Coral Gables friends. Out of town at the time, Mrs. Billy Bevins, subscribed for the newspaper, which Mrs. Martin now writes she can't live without. It was snowing in Youngstown the day she wrote her letter.

Mrs. Rosebud Clephane, who will be remembered as a former Coral Gables resident, skilled as an artist in oils and now of Washington, D. C., will greet a few of her old friends 5 day at cocktails from 5 to 7 p.m. at her home for the season at 745 Zamora Ave.

Santa's Visit is the name of the annual fashion-show ball members of the Country Club of Coral Gables enjoy each year. This year, however, the affair wil take place Tuesday, Dec. 13, family night at the club, at 7 p.m. Mrs. F. Judson Hill, Mrs. Sidney Cass, Mrs. Harry Graham, Mrs. Herman Cook and Mrs. James Wadhams are the club committee arranging the details.

THIS TIME JUST FOR FUN

Getting the holidays off to an early start are members of the Coral Gables Junior Woman's Club. This year the annual Christmas ball will be held tomorrow night, Dec. 9, beginning at 9 p.m. at the Miami Springs Villas Playhouse. Mrs. Richard L. Anderson, chairman, says, "It's just a ball for everyone to enjoy and not a money making project as before." Decor will follow the theme.

Mrs. James Douglas Brown, 1450 Cecelia Ave., tells that their son, "Jimme" Jr., a sophomore at Florida State Univerany, has pledged Theta Chi social fraternity. Jimme is majoring in Business Administration, The Brown's also have a daughter, Ellen, a student at Ponce de Leon Junior High Schol. Nr.
