Work Started on New Budget

OUR TOWN

by Jim Moore

• We can think of nothing that typifies better the spirit of Coral Gables than the community party that is scheduled for next Wednesday evening at the Country Club of Coral Gables.

This "open house" is no innovation. Coral Gables has been staging community parties ever since it has been a city. If the facts were available we imagine that this community has had more civic get-togethers than any other city of its size and age in the United States.

Coral Gables is that kind of a town. Its people are welded by a bond that makes our city stand out among others as a place where people live as a family, working together for the progress of the community.

Of course, like any family, Coral Gables has its squabbles, but they are soon forgotten in the more important task of building a city of homes.

We would like to particularly urge the new residents to attend the Wednesday evening. We believe that you will become imbued with the spirit that is Coral Gables. You will meet your neighbors, who will soon be your friends and you will realize, more than ever before, the wise choice you have made in selecting Coral Gables as your "home community."

Have you ever heard the tone of pride that comes into a resident's voice when he tells someone, "I live in Coral Gables?" It's there every time, because there isn't a single Gableite who isn't proud of his community and who doesn't delight in telling "less fortunates" about the best place to live under the sun.

It's that feeling of pride, together with the common bond that welds us together and labels us "Gableites," that has been responsible for the rapid growth of our city. It has also been responsible for the preserving of our community and the nurturing of beauty and culture in Coral Gables.

Come on out to the party Wednesday night and feel the tingle you get when the lights are low and the soft strains of "When the Moon Shines in Coral Gables" float across the palm-lined patio. Look around you and see the friendly smiles on your neighbors' faces. Feel the firmness and sincerity of their hand-claps.

That, my friends is Coral Gables.

City and Chamber Will Stage 'Open House' Party At Country Club June 25

Residents of Coral Gables will be the guests of the city and the Chamber of Commerce next Wednesday evening at an Open House to be held at the Country Club of Coral Gables.

The party, which is being held to introduce the new commission and the directors of the Chamber to the residents, will include dancing, refreshments and entertainment.

Mrs. Alvie Lindborg, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is chairman for the event. Honorary hostesses include Mrs. Joe Whitley and Mrs. Frank N. Holley, co-chairmen; Mrs. Thomas C. Mayes, Mrs. Andrew Healy, Mrs. W. Keith Phillips, Mrs. A. B. Curry, Mrs. George N. Shaw, Mrs. George E. Merrick, Mrs. A. R. Cassidy, Mrs. Upton C. Ewing, Mrs. D. J. Heffernan, Mrs. D. V. Remart, Mrs. Hollis Rinehart, jr., Mrs. Ralph Wilkins and Mrs. Andrew N. Houston.

Assisting the honorary hostesses will be Miss Patricia Brandt, Miss Lillie Chandler, Miss Mary Katherine Heffernan, Miss Margaret Ann McGeary, Miss Harriette Rogers, Miss Helen Reynolds, Miss Loretta Sheehy, Miss Dora Thomas, Miss Betty Wray, Mrs. Thomas C. Mayes and Mrs. Celia Smith.

Ralph Wilkins will serve as master of ceremonies, introducing the city and Chamber officials. A short address by Dr. Louis K. Manley of the University of Miami is also scheduled. Harry Reser and his Country Club orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

No charge of any kind is being made for the party and all Gableites and their friends are invited to attend. Mrs. Lindborg has requested that each person wear a card, bearing their name, in order that residents will get to know each other.

Kiwianians Hear Defense Report

A report on the recent meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce was given members of the Coral Gables Kiwanis Club on Tuesday by Francis Miller of Miami.

Mr. Miller, who spoke at the club's luncheon at the Country Club of Coral Gables, presented a picture of the United States at work on defense, gleaned from speeches made at the Chamber meeting in Washington.

Mr. Miller warned of an increase in taxation and said the Florida tourist trade next winter might be affected because of lack of transportation facilities. (Please turn to Page Five)

Legion Post Plans Party

Coral Gables Post American Legion yesterday announced plans for a gala Fourth of July celebration at the post home, Alhambra Circle and Salzedo Street, at which the aviation cadet detachment at the University of Miami will be guests of honor and to which the citizens of Coral Gables have been extended an invitation to attend.

Plans formulated at the Wednesday night meeting of the local Legion post for the celebration include a fish fry and evening dancing in the club house patio. The Coral Gables City Commission has acted to cooperate with the Legion Post in staging the event.

When announcing plans for the entertainment of the University aviation cadets detachment, Commander W. Edward Winegar of the post stated that the action was in line with the nation-wide move by United Service Organizations to provide (Please turn to Page Four)

Venetian Pool To Open for Night Swimming

The Venetian Pool will open for night swimming next Friday and evening sessions will be continued five nights a week until labor day, Russ Ellington, pool manager announced yesterday.

The pool is now open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and commencing Friday, the evening sessions will be held from 7:30 p. m. until 10 p. m. No night sessions will be held Sunday evenings and Saturday evenings will be reserved for special parties, when picnics, suppers, swimming parties and small informal dances can be arranged by private groups.

Two life guards will be on duty at the pool at all times and the water will be changed every night. The pool is emptied and thoroughly scrubbed twice weekly.

Special rates are available for Gables residents and resident members of the Country Club of Coral Gables are admitted without charge.

Miss Dorothy Ashe of Coral Gables is congratulated by H. A. Orr, C.A.A. Inspector, upon her reception of a private pilot's license.

Air-Minded Gables Girls Prepare for Defense Work

American co-eds are distinctly defense-conscious and are enthusiastically preparing themselves for serious work in the event of war. This trend is emphasized by student activities at many colleges, including our own University of Miami.

A large number of University of Miami girls have been taking primary flight training at the Embry-Riddle School of Aviation here, the most prominent of its recent graduates being Dorothy Ashe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bowman F. Ashe; Elaine Devery, of 3225 S. W. 27th st., and Jean Small, of 514 Palermo st.

Each one of these girls has selected a definite field of defense activity, and they have embarked on careers in aviation that promise to be as dramatic as they are useful. Dorothy, for example, has set as her goal the mighty important war task of handling air ambulances, if they'll let her, and if not, she's going to ferry war planes from factory to pilots for combat service.

Elaine, known to her intimates as "Dev", has selected an equally important job—that of assisting other girls to learn to fly, thereby helping increase the number of feminine pilots who, in turn, can relieve additional male pilots. "Dev" can be found on the job at the Embry-Riddle land plane base at the Municipal airport each working day, ready to help start fledgling girl pilots on their (Please turn to Page Two)

In Appreciation

(An Editorial)

This is the last issue of The Riviera that will carry the name of its founder, John D. Montgomery, in the mast-head.

It is with regret that I transfer my responsibilities as publisher of the only newspaper in Coral Gables.

It has been my endeavor to publish a paper that would be a credit to this beautiful and distinguished city, and I am proud that it has been recognized several times as the best weekly newspaper in the state of Florida.

I take this opportunity to thank my associates and my many other friends, who have, during the 16 pleasant and unforgettable years, helped in building The Riviera. I know that Albert Harum, the new publisher, will find that same friendly spirit of cooperation and I wish him every possible success.

No Increase In Mileage Anticipated

Coral Gables' new city commission buckled down to work on the 1941-42 budget Wednesday night in the first of a series of extra meetings before the open hearings scheduled for July 7 and 9.

Meeting with the commission were Finance Director George N. Shaw and City Manager A. B. Curry, who were both reappointed to their positions on Tuesday.

The city manager's budget estimate, which has been presented to the commission, establishes the millage at 22, the same as last year. Anticipated increase in revenues from new construction and greater departmental incomes, has allowed the operating portion of the budget to be increased to $346,333.29, $30,910 above last year's original budget. The debt service millage is fixed by the refunding agreement of 1937 and has been set at 8.75778 mills, an increase of .1155 over last year. The increase is due to additional notes given for the purchase of equipment, bought on three-year terms.

Of the total of 8,75889 for debt service, producing $194,114.40, 7.27533 mills, or $171,008.60 (Please turn to Page Four)

Will Discuss Waterways in Radio Speech

Coral Gables' waterway improvement program will be explained to radio listeners at 9:15 this morning when Roy Page is interviewed by Grover Theis on his regular WKAT program.

Mr. Page will describe the work being done on widening and deepening the canals and the dredging at the entrance to the bay. He will also tell what this work will mean to the Coral Gables of the future.

Bell, Vice-Mayor C. S. Robertson Municipal Judge

Wallace A. Bell was appointed vice-mayor of Coral Gables this week by Mayor Joe Whitley and C. S. Robertson was named municipal judge.

Both appointments were made at Tuesday's commission meeting when Finance Director George Shaw and City Manager A. B. Curry were reappointed.

At the same meeting the commission advanced $15,000 to the University of Miami to cover current expenditures.

• Sale of all stock in the Riviera Publishing Company by John D. Montgomery, founder of the Coral Gables Riviera, to Albert E. Harum of Hemstead, Long Island, was announced by Mr. Montgomery today. Mr. Harum, who has been the assistant city editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, and Mrs. Harum, who also is a newspaper woman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Davidson, of 1248 Coral Way arrived today from Long Island and will make their home in the Gables. Mr. Harum will take charge of the Riviera immediately.

Albert Harum

Mr. Montgomery came to Miami from Kansas in the fall of 1926. At that time there were only a few business buildings in the Gables. The Coral Gables corporation newspaper in Coral Gables, made plans for the Riviera. An office was opened in the old Construction building (now the Terminal building) and preparations for the first issue were started. The editorial staff consisted of Montgomery, Helen V. Walker, A. D. Hale and J. B. Crandall. The first issue appeared January 15, 1926—the date of the formal opening of the Miami Biltmore hotel.

The Riviera office was moved to its present location at 306 Coral Way in the late spring of 1926. At that time there were only a few business buildings in the Gables. The Coral Gables corporation administration offices (now the post office) and the Ground Sales building (now the Granada Shops) were the center of activity. Plans had been announced, though, for the big building now occupied by the Colonnade Pictures and the First National bank. Renault Arcade, the Central office and apartment buildings across the street, the LeBlond building where the Alcazar Pharmacy is now located, the Bank of Coral Gables (now the Presbyterian Church), Sam's filling station (across the street south from the bank) the Myers Electric company and Peacock's bakery were the other store buildings along the main street.

Only a few months after the Riviera moved into its new building, which had been erected by Edward Dezen-dorf, the 1926 hurricane demolished the rear shop portion. It was rebuilt immediately. During the few weeks that the plant was being repaired the Riviera was printed at the Miami Daily News as a special courtesy of the late Morton M. Milford, editor, and Ross Reeder, business manager.

In 1929, Mr. Montgomery and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Montgomery, of Junction City, Kansas, made a world cruise and during that period the Riviera was published under the joint direction of the late Clarence T. Francis; W. J. Buchan, who is now a professor of economics at Tulane University; E. E. Johnston, former associate editor of the Saturday Evening Post, and Harry Parsons, printing foreman. Mr. Montgomery's stories about his travels around the world were printed in the Riviera.

For the last several years, Mr. Montgomery's other interests have necessitated his absence from Coral Gables much of the time. Clarence T. Francis, who died last winter, and James B. Moore, the present editor and general manager, have been in active charge of the Riviera in recent years.

Mr. Montgomery is the publisher of The Miami Beach Daily Tropics and resides in Miami Beach.

Meet Albert Harum

Albert E. Harum began his career as a newspaperman through the friendly interest of H. V. Kaltenborn, famous news commentator.

Kaltenborn, then an editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, recommended Harum in 1928 for a position on the Eagle's night staff.

His work soon brought him to the attention of Eagle executives, when a vacancy had to be filled in Flatbush district, most important section covered by the Brooklyn daily.

After serving as Flatbush district reporter for two years, he was brought into the office to handle the school news department. During this period as school editor, Harum scored several outstanding news scoops at the expense of chagrined school editors of such papers as the New York Times and the Herald-Tribune.

He then became editor of a magazine issued by the newspaper. In rapid succession, he was elevated to the position of picture editor and finally assistant city editor. In the latter position, held until his resignation from the Eagle, he directed a staff of reporters covering the entire metropolitan area of New York City.

Combining experience obtained both as a reporter and editor, Harum won the respect of residents of the Suffolk section of Long Island when he served as editor of the Suffolk Daily Island News for two years.

Busy as he was, he also found time to launch the Hempstead Times, weekly newspaper, in Hempstead, Long Island, in 1937, and served as editor and publisher of the Times until he left New York.

Through these years of activity, Harum has been able to gain a thorough knowledge of every field of newspaper work. His experience has carried him through the fields of news pictures, feature and news writing, editing, advertising, and executive supervision in news and advertising.

Details of Proposed Water System Purchase Explained By Finance Director

By GEORGE N. SHAW
(Director of Finance and City Clerk)

Freeholder registration books are now open at the City Hall for the registration of persons qualified to vote in the water revenue bond election called for Tuesday, July 15th, 1941. While the books are open only for the registration of freeholders, that is: legal citizens of the City who also own or own an interest in real estate in the City, the registrations now being taken will be transferred to the regular books so that those now registering will be qualified to vote in later general elections. The registration books will be open, except on Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays, until Tuesday, July 8, 1941. Hours for registration are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

through Monday, June 30, 1941, and then from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. through Tuesday, July 8, 1941.

City officials are hopeful that there will be a large registration, and a large and decisive vote, in order that the question may be definitely decided at this time. A small registration and vote might leave the question open and result in another later election upon the same question, doubling the expense to the taxpayers, as has been the case in certain recent Dade County elections.

The election will be upon a single question: whether the City shall issue water revenue bonds in the amount of $800,000, bearing interest not to exceed 3½% per annum, for the purpose of financing the acquisition of the water distribution system of the Consumers Water Company, including certain lines of that company running into county areas west and north of the city, and for the purpose of securing a $25,000 working capital fund for the operation of the system. The City now has a contract with Natt T. Wagner, of New York, to take the bonds at an interest rate of 3% per annum if they can be authorized and delivered before September 20, 1941, but the authorization is being made for "not to exceed 3½%" so that in the event of failure to deliver under the present contract, the City may proceed with the sale of bonds at auction, with an interest rate possibly slightly higher than 3%. For the $800,000 of bonds the city will receive all of the physical assets of the system, and $25,000 in cash as an operating fund, so that the operations may be commenced and carried on without drawing upon other funds of the City. The system will be entirely self-supporting, and will not require assistance in the form of taxation or other municipal support either for the operating expenses or for the payment of the interest and principal of the bonds. In fact, the ballot will include the statement: "said bonds to be payable exclusively from the revenues of said system, and the payment of which water revenue bonds shall not directly or indirectly obligate the City to levy or pledge any form of taxation whatever therefor", and the bonds themselves will contain a similar provision.

The principal and interest maturities of the water revenue bonds are so scheduled that the annual payments commence at approximately $41,000 per year, and increase gradually to but never exceed $43,000 per year during the entire thirty year period. The studies made by the City show that the system can easily support those payments out of present earnings, without speculative dependence upon future growth to pay the bonds or their interest.

The Consumers Water Company's figure for the reproduction cost of the physical properties to be purchased is $918,635. City Manager Curry has studied this inventory, and has eliminated or adjusted certain items, reaching a figure of $789,565. Neither of these figures takes into account "going concern" value, which, in a transaction such as this, would no doubt be a quite large figure.

The system proposed to be purchased consists of all of the mains, laterals and connections now serving more than 3,600 customers in Coral Gables, immediately neighboring areas north, west and south of the city. The revenues of the system during 1940 were $134,148.20, and the estimate of revenue for 1941, on the basis of operation by the City, is $137,715. This estimate is a conservative one and will probably be exceeded. The water supply source will continue to be the plant of the City of Miami, under the contract now in force between the City of Coral Gables the Consumers Water Company and the City of Miami. Using the same statistical basis as in the estimate of $137,715 revenue, the cost of water purchased will be $55,809, and pay roll and other expenses will be $12,180, making total cost of $67,989, leaving $69,196 net from operations. It is estimated, based upon previous experience of the Consumers Water Company, that replacements, extensions and improvements to the system will require approximately $24,000 per year, leaving a margin of $45,196 to cover the principal and interest payments on the water revenue bonds. Even if the City does not grow, the margin is sufficient to provide for the service of the bonds during their entire period. Added income, arising from growth and expansion of the system, will be free for other constructive uses, either for the system or for general municipal purposes.

A trust indenture to be executed in connection with the bonds, and administration by a trustee (to be some Florida bank or trust company) will assure that the operation of the system will be kept out of politics, and that the policies of management will be purely businesslike.

In short, if the purchase is made, during the next thirty years the system will pay for itself, without cost to the taxpayer, and will provide out of its own revenues approximately $720,000 ($24,000 per year) for replacements or extensions, and will also return a profit, small at first but no doubt quite large later on in the period, to the City, to be used for municipal purposes with the effect of replacing or reducing city operating taxes.

Present water rates will be maintained, under the provisions, and administration by a (Please turn to Page Two)

"U. S. O." Is a Vital Cause

During the past few years alphabetical agencies happened to us so fast that even the most ardent "new dealer" had trouble trying to remember all of them, let alone keep track of what they were doing.

In view of this fact you may have formed the opinion that the "U. S. O." is just another one of these governmental letter societies and decided not to worry about it.

To set you right, "U. S. O." is NOT a governmental agency. The "U. S." doesn't stand for "United States", and the "O" doesn't stand for "Official". The letters "U. S. O." stand for "United Service Organizations"—an independent civic effort to do a mighty big and important job that needs to be done right now.

Your Uncle Sam has had his hands plenty full the last few months getting a million or more young men into camps throughout the country and training them for national defense. The hours are long, the work is hard, the regulations strict and the pay poor. But these men have answered their country's call and they are not whining or bellyaching about it.

But when the cross-country march is over, when the planes are grounded, the artillery is muzzled and the tanks are in the shed, there are hours allowed for rest and recreation.

Now a large percentage of the boys in our Army camps today find themselves away from home for the first time in their lives. And some of them are a mighty long way from home. They get a day or an evening off and they are lost. They have nowhere to go. Their friends are all back home. They used to be able to "go over to Bill's house" or there'd be a party at Mabel's, or dance at the clubhouse. There was always something to do, some place to go, friends, companionship, fun.

Towns and cities in the neighborhood of our great military camps, while able to meet the normal demands of their own populations for spiritual, recreation and welfare needs, have found themselves totally unable to cope with the problem of meeting such needs of thousands of young men who have swarmed in from nearby camps.

That is where the U. S. O. comes in. For the U. S. O. is comprised of the following agencies: Y. M. C. A., The National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, Y. W. C. A., National Jewish Welfare Board and the National Travelers' Aid Association, who are pooling their efforts and plan to maintain and operate clubhouses for service men where religious services, counsel and guidance, dramatics, music and crafts will be provided under the leadership of capable men and women especially trained for such work.

At these clubhouses the boys will be given an opportunity to meet young men and women of the local communities in a clean and wholesome atmosphere. They will find any number of interesting and worthwhile activities awaiting them. Books and magazines will invite them in specious reading and recreation rooms. There will be desks with stationery available and friendly folks to help and advise them and see that they "get acquainted" and always have somewhere to go and something to do.

Today about the only place open to the off-duty soldier is a cheap beer hall or noisy jook joint, and his welcome, even in such places, wears out as soon as his money is gone. Companions he picks up in such places don't help him or the morale of the nation's military service.

The U. S. O. is the answer to this acute problem. The government is providing suitable buildings for these clubhouses in those communities near camps and the U. S. O. is prepared to man and operate them.

Now here is where you and I come in. Our job is to provide the funds for equipping, furnishing and maintaining them. During the next few weeks you will be called upon to contribute toward this worthy cause. It is not "just another" drive. It is much bigger, much more important than that. . . . It is a major effort in the National Defense. . . . It is an opportunity for you and for me to really DO SOMETHING. R.K.

Yacht Regatta Planned To Celebrate Opening Of Gables Waterways

Plans for staging a gigantic yacht regatta and barbecue during the early part of December, celebrating the completion and opening of the widened and deepened Coral Gables canal from Miller Road to deep water in Biscayne Bay, are now in embryo and will be worked out by a tentative committee appointed by Frank N. Holley jr., president of the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce this week.

"The completion of this ideal haven for large yachts in Coral Gables' own canal will mean a great deal for this city as well as the entire area," Holley declared, "and a real celebration in honor of the completion of the first unit of George E. Merrick's dream of '40 miles of water-front', will attract yacht owners from all parts of the country to participate and eventually utilize its facilities".

The tentative committee as named is as follows: Roy Page, chairman of arrangements, and Dr. H. L. Carver, Milton Garrison, J. Lamar Paxson, Samson Pederson, Dr. F. E. Kitchens, A. J. Daino, A. B. Curry, Upton C. Ewing, F. N. Holley jr., W. Keith Phillips, Wallace Bell, Paul D. McGarry, Joe Whitely, Andy Healey, Tom Mayes.

sions of the bonds, but operation after the purchase by the City of Coral Gables water users will not be merely buying water—a part of their water bill payments will be used for acquiring an equity in a plant which in all probability will save them money in their taxes.

Water rates may be reduced in the future, when the incomes of the system have grown sufficiently to guarantee the payments on the bonds with reduced water rates.

Houston Hurst Named Agents Of Express Co.

The Houston Hurst Paint Company was this week appointed local agents for the American Express Company, according to an announcement made by Andrew N. Houston.

The local firm will handle American Express Company money orders at the same rates as the United States Post Office. The firm's offices in Berlin and Lisbon are still functioning and accepting money orders from the United States, Houston said.

The American Express Company is the successor to the Wells Fargo Express Company of historical fame.

Jean, who, like Dorothy, took her primary training at the Riddle seaplane base on the County causeway, has two ambitions: she again, like Dorothy, wants to ferry planes, but if denied that, she will become a flight instructor.

"They won't admit it, perhaps, but there are dalways will be certain types of women whom men dislike to teach flying. I'll take on these and make meal flyers out of them," Jean declared.

These three girls have, in a sense, pioneered co-ed flying at the University, and have won their wings within the past two weeks.

May Teach Spanish in Grade Schools

Tallahassee, June 19, State Superintendent Colip English today urged Florida's elementary school teachers to prepare this summer for instruction in conversational Spanish and the history and customs of our neighbors in Latin America.

The teaching of Spanish in elementary schools is an innovation adopted by the State Department as an educational defense measure. Instructors are urged to pursue special reading, travel, or summer courses relating to improved cultural relations of the Americas.

Following the appeal by Superintendent English a special summer course was announced by Southern College at Lakeland. Elementary teachers who have little or no training in the Spanish language will acquire skill in pronunciation while high school Spanish teachers assist them in preparation of word lists, Spanish club units of classroom activity, and related reading in geography and history.

Nine rural summer schools in Polk County have been teaching Spanish in elementary grades since they opened May 1. Superintendent Frank Brigham reports that pupil interest has already resulted in classroom and home conversation in the Spanish language and a demand of teachers for enlarged word lists suited to use of both parents and children. The schools are Kathleen, Polk City, Rockledge, Green Pond, Ft. Meade, Griffin, Carver, Combee and Winston.

The program is in accord with a recent request from the national office of education for "prompt enlargement" of study of Latin-American countries as a step toward long-range, hemispheric, or total defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Edwards returned Wednesday from Texas.

To Boston
Miss Margaret Beaton, librarian for the Coral Gables Library left this week for New York and Boston. She will attend a six weeks library school at Columbia University. Later Miss Beaton will attend the National Library association meeting in Boston.

Joins Summer Staff
Dr. Robert Gregg has joined the staff of the University of Miami summer session faculty to teach courses in general and field zoology. He teaches regularly at the State Teacher's College, Duluth, Minn., and has taught at the University of Chicago.

● Summer parties may be the porch variety, the morning bridge, the dip in the surf, or the evening dance. They are usually informal and therefore more fun. Mr. and Mrs. Bradbury Barnes entertained 16 at dinner, served buffet style, Saturday night at their South Greenway drive home, preceding the dance at the Country Club of Coral Gables. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Page were there, the William H. Merriams, the George Corrigan, Mrs. Helena Elliot, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fincher, the Rees Marshalls, sr., Lieut. Commander and Mrs. L. P. Clephane and Arthur B. Headley . . . Mr. and Mrs. Graham Place chose the cocktail hour Wednesday to introduce their brother-in-law Dr. Lionel D. Lawson of Spartanburg, S. C. About 30 gathered in the attractive new home of the Places, at 512 Avenue Almeria, the living room of which, combines the alluring and cool looking colors of turquoise and coral for a stunning effect.

Little Miss Susan Paisley Colville made her bow to this mad world June 8th at University hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce J. Colville (Betty Susong), and first granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Susong . . . On June 9th same hospital, a son was born to Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas B. Carnahan who are living in Dean Henry West's home on Avenue Romano for the summer . . . And now by long distance telephone, word comes of the arrival of a daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Campbell Boyd, (Nell McGarry) Wednesday June 18, at Hendersonville, N. C., Mrs. Paul D. McGarry is in Hendersonville to welcome the first McGarry grandchild.

Mrs. Thomas P. Caldwell left Wednesday by plane for Jacksonville to spend about two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Hoyt . . . Mrs. Homer C. Frazier, jr., 700 Avenue Valencia, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Harvey Fell, jr. (Eleanor Harris) in her Atlanta home . . . Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Cordes 4504 Alhambra Circle, are in Denver attending the Rotary International Convention.

Mrs. Charles F. Flynn 2103 Country Club Prado has returned from Havana, where she spent several days on business and seeing friends . . . Mr. and Mrs. David W. Dyer 1120 Sunset drive, have returned from a trip to New Orleans and High Hampton, N. C., Charles F. Baldwin 2604 Desota Boulevard, returned Wednesday from Hendersonville, N. C., where he accompanied Mrs. Baldwin and their son Jack.

Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Gibbs left Wednesday for Atlantic City, where Dr. Gibbs will attend the annual convention of Osteopath doctors. Later the Gibbs will visit in Middleton, N. Y. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Louie Lanford also left this week by motor for Hot Springs, Va., where Mr. Lanford will attend an insurance convention. Later the Lanford's accompanied by their son Bruce and Mrs. Lanford's mother will visit many northern points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holley, jr., have returned from Waynesville, N. C. where they placed their son, Buddy, in Laughing Owl Camp. The Holleys visited their former home in St. Mary's O., enroute to North Carolina, were gone only a week and traveled 3,000 miles . . . Jane Blackwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Blackwood will leave July 1 for Brevard, N. C., where she will attend Camp Conestee.

Jack Morganthaler, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Morganthaler, jr., received his master's degree, a new job and orders to report for duty in the United States army all within a couple of days. Jack, finishing his fifth year at Massachusetts Institute of Technology was awarded his bachelor of science and master's degrees on the 10th. His new job is with the "Dravo" engineering company in Pittsburgh. This he would have filled at once, if the army hadn't called him to Ft. Belvoir, Va., where he will be stationed as a second lieutenant in the Reserves . . . Another Coral Gables boy called to the colors is Charles J. Susong, jr. who left Wednesday for California where he will be stationed at the army air base at Bakers Field air port.

Mrs. Robert Ramsey (Barbara Sycle) will leave Saturday for Detroit to join Mr. Ramsey after a two weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sycle of 3225 Riviera Drive . . . Mrs. John T. Rowe left Thursday for Highlands, N. C., where she will again summer at the Tricent Terrace . . . Col. and Mrs. P. J. O'Shaughnessy who are building a new home on Riviera drive are summering at Moody Farm, Franklin, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. L. Gordon Walters returned Wednesday from Havana where they spent the week end. They made the trip by clipper ship and celebrated the Montgomery's first wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Harum are arriving this week from New York to make their future and permanent home in the Gables. Mrs. Harum is the former Julia Davidson, daughter of the James H. Davidsons, winter residents of 1248 Coral Way. The Harums have two young sons, Albert E. jr., and J. Davidson, 6 and 5 years respectively. Incidentally, Mrs. Harum, as Julia Davidson did newspaper work and conducted a column called, "Let's Join the Ladies".

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Roberts, jr., 717 Alhambra Circle are leaving tomorrow for an extended motor trip vacation. They'll be accompanied by their young son Bill, but no "knitting" Mr. Roberts says. Mrs. Roberts, has just fulfilled a long year of being knitting chairman in charge of distribution of yarns, and wools for Red Cross and has well earned her vacation. They will visit kinfolk and friends in Savannah, Ga., and Newark, N. J., in New Haven and New York and in Brooklyn will pick up Mr. Roberts' mother for the return trip.

Friends Learn Of Betrothal At Luncheon

● Small white ribbon tied scrolls attached to corsages, revealed the engagement of Miss Myrtle Speyer and William J. Sheer to 16 intimate friends at a luncheon Saturday given by the bride-elect's mother. The wedding will take place August third in the patio of the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Speyer is the daughter of pioneer Miamians, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Speyer, of 422 Avenue Majorca, who came to Miami Beach in 1907. She attended Ponce de Leon High school and was graduated from the University of Miami.

Mr. Sheer received his education in the New York schools. He is a draftsman and estimator for the Giffen Roofing Company of Coral Gables.

President Will Entertain Auxiliary

● Members of the American Legion Auxiliary Coral Gables Post No. 98 will be entertained at the president's home 613 Avenue Navarre, Wednesday evening. Co-hostess with the president, Mrs. B. F. Landahl will be Mrs. Walter J. Rhodes.

The auxiliary will also be hostess club to the Dade County council at the regular quarterly luncheon at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday, Mrs. A. L. Buzzell, sr., national department chairman, will preside. Mrs. L. A. Marvin is chairman of the luncheon.

Two Hundred Sign Up for Free Spanish

● Dade County Federation of Women's clubs has named Mrs. Evan D. Roser, chairman of its defense program and Mrs. Alfred H. Patterson chairman of the free Spanish classes sponsored by the club as one of its defense projects.

From an expected registration of 50, over 200 have signed up to take the free conversational classes in Spanish. Registrations closed Monday. These classes taught by volunteer expert teachers will meet twice weekly both day and night classes in the Sunshine room of the Florida Power and Light Company.

Two Hundred Attend Tea For "Rushees"

● More than 200 attended the Panhellenic tea for "girls going to college for the first time", Friday and Saturday at the Administration building of the University of Miami.

Miss Lois Taylor, Miss Mary B. Merritt, Mrs. Frank E. Denton, Miss Eloise Patterson, Miss Barbara Garfunkel and Mrs. Thomas E. Mayes were among those receiving.

Pictured above is the attractive Mrs. Robert Bassett Meyer, the former Miss Mary Jane Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hayden Davidson of Coral Gables. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer are on their wedding trip and upon their return will live in Westerleigh, N. Y.

Friday's tea honored the girl pledges of the various sororities planning on entering the University. "Old" girls were distinguished by white name cards. Pledges wore blue and red.

A patriotic color scheme was carried out in the tea table appointments. Red white and blue flowers centered the lace covered table. The large silver punch bowls, gifts of the Town and Gown at either end were filled with red raspberry ice. Red and white ribbon sandwiches and cakes frosted in the colors were pretty.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

● Miss Phyllis Porter, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Coulton Skinner was hostess Sunday at an informal party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, 3811 Segovia Street.

Supper was cooked on the outdoor grill in the garden for the 12 guests and games were the diversion of the evening.

● Joyce Hockaday, staff member of Jessie's Beauty Salon, is vacationing in Colorado and writes home that she has enjoyed various kinds of cold weather including a blizzard.

Mary Jane Davidson Becomes Bride of Robert Bassett Meyer

● In a simple ceremony attended by members of both families, Miss Mary Jane Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Davidson, of 1248 Coral Way, and Westerleigh, Staten Island, New York City, became the bride Saturday of Robert Bassett Meyer, son of Mrs. Henri A. Meyer, of Grassmere, Staten Island and the late Mr. Meyer.

The wedding took place at six thirty o'clock in the evening, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Col. I. James Lovell, at 42 Boulevard, Westerleigh. The Rev. Dr. Samuel Hefelbower, of the faculty of Wagner College, officiated.

The bride wore a gown of traditional ivory satin, made with long leg o' mutton sleeves, fitted basque, and a full skirt looped at intervals at the hemline to show an underskirt of white pleated net. Her three quarter length veil was attached to a cap of antique rosepoint lace, a family heirloom, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids. Mrs. Clarence V. Reichelt, of West New Brighton, Staten Island, served as her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a toe-length gown of delphinium blue chiffon, and a straw bonnet decorated with pink roses and forget-me-nots, and carried pink roses and delphinium.

James Hayden Davidson, Jr., brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Meyer.

A reception for 50 guests at the Lovell home followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Meyer attended Ponce de Leon High School and the University of Miami, and transferred in her sophomore year to Wagner College, Staten Island, from which she was graduated in 1933. Mr. Meyer attended Wagner College, and is now employed by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Miss Atkinson, Lieut. Hasencamp Betrothed—Wedding August 1

● Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Atkinson of 1312 Avenue Astoria announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Lou Atkinson and Lieut. James Robb Hasencamp, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hasencamp of North Platte, Neb.

The wedding will take place Friday, the first of August at the First Presbyterian Church with a former classmate of Lieut. Hasencamp's performing the ceremony.

Miss Atkinson was graduated from Ponce de Leon high school and has just completed her junior year at Florida State College for Women, Tallahassee, where she was president of Pi Beta Phi, social sorority; president of Mortar Board and a member of Pi Delta Phi, honorary french society. She was also in charge of Even Demonstration in 1940 and a member of Estere Honorary and Cotillion clubs.

Lieutenant Hasencamp was graduated from the University of Florida in February and is stationed at Camp Lee, Va., at present. He is a member of Pi He was a member of Scabbard while in school held these fraternity offices: vice president, secretary and social secretary. He was a member of Scabbard and Blade, national military organization; Delta Sigma Phi, business fraternity and was on the Dean's list.

● Capt. and Mrs. James H. Cunningham arrived Wednesday from New York and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Gordon Walters, of Hardee Road. Mrs. Cunningham will be remembered here as Miss Ruth Lutz, University of Miami graduate.

NEWS OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE PERSONNEL OF PAN-AMERICAN AIRWAYS

By Nancy Humphreys

The Navigation School at the University of Miami hits the news today in the form of Lieutenant Thomas B. Carnahan, who is announcing, proudly, the arrival of a son to Mrs. Carnahan at University Hospital on Wednesday, June 11th. The five pound, 13 ounce lad is to be christened Sanford Byron Carnahan. Lieut. Carnahan is second in command of the Navigation School.

A couple that are known to Coral Gables Country habitues as beautiful dancers have decided to go on "dancing through life" together. Plans for the wedding of Miss Evelyn Isaac to David Butler Webb have been completed. The ceremony will take place June 29th at 5:30 p. m. in Bryan Memorial Church with the Rev. Albert Dale Hagler officiating. Mrs. J. R. Roman, sister of the bride, will be matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Janet Mercer, Miss Audrey Dolan, Mrs. Robert E. Olson and Miss Hazel Helseth, Fort Pierce. Miss Mary Agnes Isaac, sister of the bride, will be junior bridesmaid. Robert Boyer will be best man. James Heck, Donald Link, J. Pafford and J. R. Roman will be ushers.

A reception at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Isaac, 3945 Loguit Avenue, Coconut Grove, will follow the wedding. Mr. Isaac will be remembered by Gableites as formerly principal of Ponce de Leon School. The bride-elect's parents will entertain the bridal party at a rehearsal buffet supper June 27th. The groom, who has always shown a flair for art and design, is a draftsman for Pan American Manufacturing and Supply Company in Coral Gables.

The migration to the Beach for the summer has begun. Roger Woin, of Pan Am's Public Relations department, is very happy in a lovely casita on Di Lido Island. And Voit Gilmore, who has just returned from a very educational (his description) business stay in Washington, D. C., is living in a bachelor's heaven in the Lake Side Apartments.

A young man who made a name for himself last year as a football player for the University of Miami is now trying hard to become a sedate accountant for Pan American. Crumpson L. (Jolly) Snowden has given up the heat of the gridiron for the cool air of the seventeenth floor of the du Pont Building.

Draftsman W. H. Martin of Engineering, is reported to be recovering satisfactorily in Jackson Memorial Hospital from an operation he underwent last week.

Substituting in Public Relations is Miss Lola Holland, a very neat eye-fel.

Setting down after a North Carolina honeymoon are Panscoian Dan L. Verlin and his bride, the former Edna Lee Baxter.

Last Friday evening Miss Priscilla de Lima from Dinner Key Maintenance and James Moffett of Engineering became Mr. and Mrs. Until our deadline they were not to be found—so, more later.

Humphrey W. Toomey, Division Engineer, left Miami by plane Saturday to attend the Division Engineers' Conference in New York City; expects to be away about a week.

Vacation Notes: Comes enthusiastic word from Mrs. Bob Davis of Purchasing that Mexico City is just about the most wonderful spot on earth for vacationing. . . . and that her young son is a perfect escort. . . . Mrs. Peggy Williams of Accountant is temporarily childless. . . . she's packed her two children, Sally and Bill, off to Frankfort, Kentucky to spend two months with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bucker (which is really a vacation for Peggy). . . . Miss Marie Jackson, tamed and rested, has just returned from a visit to Brownsville, Texas—her old home town. . . . Vacationing in Miami is John Donahue, an old-timer in the airport industry. . . . he's been in the game since 1916—been with P.A.A. since its inception. . . . On the shores of Lake Lure, N. C. are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lyon, sr. and sons, Homer, jr. and Eugene—twins. . . . In his birthplace, Bluff City, Tennessee, Howard Cantor drank from an old spring (aqua pura) that he frequented when a very young lad. . . . he covered the Blue Ridge Mountains. . . . visited Memphis, Tennessee and Bristol, as well as Asheville, North Carolina. . . . Also just back from Tennessee is Walter Stephenson, who headed straight for Memphis and home.

Sr. Paulo Einhorn, public relations representative for Panair do Brazil in Rio, really covered the continent on his first—and very recent—tour of the United States. He touched, among other places, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Miami. Of course, Sr. Einhorn has been to Miami before. When he flew up from Rio nine years ago the trip took six days—this trip over the same distance took only 2 1/2 days—Time flies on!

Aviators Will Dance Tonight At Club

The Embury-Riddle Aviation school will stage its second party of the season tonight at the Country Club of Coral Gables.

After the dance, at which Harry Reser and his orchestra will play, breakfast will be served. About 200 are expected to attend the party.

Many members of the college set will attend the regular dance tomorrow night as guests of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

TOWNSEND CLUB MEETS IN SOUTH MIAMI

The Townsend club number one of South Miami met last night at the community hall.

Scheduled on the program were Brownie Haston an dher orchestra, from the First Christian Church of Miami, and a quartette from the Christian assembly from Coconut Grove.

Have You Seen These Royals Blooming Now in Coral Gables?

Gableites, who have been driving around looking for Royal Poinciana Trees will enjoy a trip to see several of the older specimens, now in full bloom and worthy of mention.

In the gardens of the E. N. Belchers, at 737 North Greenway Drive may be seen a large tree, also next door in the A. O. Renhart's garden is a large tree. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Headley 3701 Durango street have one of the prettiest. It spreads its lovely red head almost over their roof top and grows in their garden at 3701 Durango Street.

One of the oldest if not the oldest tree in Dade county is the proud possession of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Dasher out on Red Road (between Bird and Miller) Mrs. Dasher tells us it was planted in August 1914 and has attained a spread of 90 feet. It can be seen plainly over the top of their large white house.

CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL RESUMES

The Sunday School of the Congregational church will resume all sessions at 10 a. m. Sunday.

The senior young people's class conference in High Springs the past week will report on their experiences.

Those who attended in this group were Colleen Delaney, Polly Harned, Mary Nash, Jean Iverson, Nat Pratt and Frank Dempsey.

PETERSONS MOVE TO EL PORTAL

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Peterson formerly of 119 Ciabo Court have bought a new home in El Portal, an incorporated village near Miami Shores.

Mr. Peterson, who is with Pan American Airways, informs us his taxes are about 11 dollars a year. Sounds alluring.

Legion—

proper entertainment for service men everywhere. Formal action was taken Wednesday night at the Legion meeting to bring before the American Legion National Convention at Milwaukee in September thru the Department of Florida delegation, American Legion support for legislation now pending in Congress which would expunge from the military record of the late Brigadier General William A. Mitchell, Air Corps U. S. A., all findings of the General Court Martial which convicted him in 1925 of insubordination for his outspoken advocacy of an adequate air force for the nation's defense.

The resolution was presented to the post by Pass Commander Phillip E. Paine will be presented to the Department of Florida American Legion and to the Florida representatives in the Senate and House of Representatives.

To cooperate with governmental agencies seeking to augment the vitally needed supply of aluminum for national defense purposes, Legion heads announced that Coral Gables residents who have any spare aluminum pots, pans or other articles made of the much needed metal will find a receptacle at the Legion home where they may deposit their contributions.

The meeting was addressed by Frank Malone, well known radio news commentator who stated that we are not getting into this war but the war is certainly coming to us. And rapidly. We must speed up our defense preparations and all of us must recognize the fact that we have thousands of enemies within our borders.

Mr. Malone scored the delays which our governmental agencies are allowing labor agitators and others striving to sabotage the defense effort get away with it. The Harry Bridges case is outstanding in this matter of failure by government to take a firm hand in ridding the nation of dangerous agitators. The American Legion thru its more than 11,000 posts in the United States should take concerted action to seek a remedy for such conditions. Mr. Malone is a Legionnaire and holds the nation's highest award for gallantry in action during World War I.

Florida State Defense Council has reported that University of Miami students have responded enthusiastically in the defense bond and saving campaign launched near the close of the academic year. Student registration for civil defense at the institution was also splendid, according to Dean Winslow S. Anderson of Rollins College, state chairman of student defense activities.

FOUR TABLES ARE IN PLAY AT CLUB

Four tables of bridge were in play at the regular weekly bridge party Monday afternoon at the Country Club of Coral Gables.

Mrs. Frederick C. Beck and Mrs. Benjamin W. Turner tied for first prize. Mrs. Winifred E. Martin was a guest.

Jack Roosen, associate with his sister, Miss Frances Roosen in her beauty shop on Ponce de Leon Boulevard, is in Baltimore where their father, John Roosen, underwent a brain operation on Wednesday, at John Hopkins Hospital.

Budget—

is for the required and agreed service of the city's bonds and tax participation certificates and for payments on judgements and agreements.

Commenting on the increase in the operating portion of the budget, Curry stated, "During the year 1940 there was added to the tax roll 253 new buildings, which we estimate as indicating a population increase of approximately 760. Upon this conservative estimate, the per capita operating costs of this proposal and of the last budget differ but a few cents. The increase in operating costs is supported by an equivalent increase in estimated receipts, in which additional receipts from licenses, the net income from the transportation system, golf course and pool, and departmental incomes, such as garbage service fees, permits, fines and forfeitures etc., play the major part. The increase in operating taxes from real and personal property is but $11,223.00.

In connection with this slight increase in operating taxes, I should like to point out that while $1,833,198 of new value has been added to the tax roll by new building and additional personal property, the value subject to the operating levy has increased only $834,266, additional homestead exemptions having offset this new value to the extent of $798,972. If there were no homestead exemption in effect, all of the operations and debt service requirements of this budget could be supported by a levy of 17.02 mills, 22.7 per cent less than the present 22 mill levy."

In the actual cost of operating the city departments, the increase is $15,505.15, of which $11,308.00 is accounted for by proposed to spooling operations and by increases in street light building maintenance and equipment replacements.

The contingent fund has been increased from $14,216.59 last year to $23,522.19 for 1941-42. It is estimated that this increase will be used largely in accomplishing street and bridge repairs now in contemplation, but for which the costs cannot be definitely ascertained at this time, Curry pointed out.

Two widely separated areas in Coconut Grove have been deeply concerned with zoning problems during the past 10 days: one group of very much ruffled residents, numbering approximately 250, appeared at the Miami planning board's zoning meeting in the courthouse Monday evening. . . . they vehemently explained to the zoning board that encroachments on white resident area properties had been made along Florida Avenue west of McDonald (32nd Avenue) . . . that houses for negro occupancy had been erected and were occupied by colored residents. Mrs. B. J. Allen, Frow Avenue resident, reported that negroes had been trespassing on her home property and she feared further trespassing, should the negro residential area be extended as proposed by representatives of the Dinner Key Realty Company. Ex-tensions proposed by Irving J. Thomas and by M. Earl Baum, attorney for E. W. F. Stirrup negro properties, drew strenuous objections from the audience. The board voted to remain the "color-line as hereinbefore established" and those white residents whose homes are in the vicinity went home satisfied with their achievement. . . . another proposal to amend certain zoning in the area between Virginia Street and S. W. 27th Avenue, was rejected.

A group of young people, members of the Plymouth Fellowship, (Plymouth Congregational Church), have returned from the annual Congregational meeting at Camp O'leno, (30 miles from Gainesville, Fla.), and several of them will tell of the work and achievement, at the Sunday morning services at 11 o'clock, in Plymouth Church.

W. A. Glass, City of Miami water division head, and F.P.L. executive advises that frequent heavy rains north of Dade County together with the fact that local rains have allowed considerable cessation of lawn sprinkling in the city, give indication that Coconut Grove's water supply will very soon be

"Tchak" Tehakarian Is Known Over State Of Florida as Man Who Builds Pipe Organs

By HELEN REYNOLDS
Those Gableites who know Tchakarian of 244 Avenue Aragon, know him as "Tchak". That is his nickname. In fact he is known all over the state of Florida by his nicknames and his ability to build pipe organs. This is his trade and a fast disappearing trade, we'd venture to say.

Perhaps "Tchak" doesn't think it's a disappearing trade. Right now he is engaged, assisted by his son Bob, in building or remodeling a pipe organ for the little Methodist church in Oakland, Fla. But more of the Oakland job later.

His shop is in the rear of his eating establishment more generally known as the Aragon Restaurant, situated at the above address and managed by Mrs. Tchakarian. But "Tchak" isn't at home only when he is at work at his beloved trade. If you happen to run into him on the street, he'll very likely fish telegrams out of his pockets. Telegrams from Skinner Brothers, largest makers of pipe organs, announcing another Florida sale of an organ for him to install. Telegrams from the Woman's State College in Tallahassee, on whose campus he has already installed three pipe organs. From Gainesville, Orlando—high schools, colleges, churches.

Yes, "Tchak" is a busy man and his pet exclamation, as he wipes the honest sweat from his shaggy eyebrows is, "I am busy like blazes". Last December, when workmen were going over the Durand estate in Palm Beach with the new purchasers, preparatory to remodeling it, they came upon a pipe organ hidden behind a grille.

"But we don't want a pipe organ," cried the new owners, "Take it out, throw it away". One of the workmen, a member of the Hamline Methodist church in West Palm Beach ventured to ask the owners, two elderly ladies, if they really meant what they had just said.

They most emphatically did. The workman told his minister. The minister made the gift a reality and then the real problem came, for who was to dismantle the intricate pipes and bellows. Frantz' inquiries revealed but one man, a man

Defense Work At Art Center

The personnel of the Coral Gables Art Center-WPA, now devoting 75 per cent of working time to co-operation with defense areas has completed three insignias, each six feet in diameter, to hang above and on each side of the proscenium arch of the movie theatre at Opa Locka Naval Air Station.

They are replicas, in color, of the U.S. Government seal, the Navy's and the Marine Corps'. These, when hung, will add a colorful balance to the constantly changing art exhibitions which the Florida Art Project-WPA is now supplying for the armed forces in this district.

The Art Project made eighty posters for the Dade County Defense Council's registration booths, and the Coral Gables Art Center sculpture unit is now working on an eight-foot eagle, in art stone, for the U. S. Naval Reserve Armory, now under WPA construction. Inside the Armory there will be a terraza floor designed by the Ceramic-tile unit of the Project.

auxiliary women spent 146 hours in the work of National Defense Registration undertaken recently. Members spent several hours daily taking registrations of persons within the county; 15 members have spent 34 hours making Red Cross garments; 11 members have completed 190 hours in first aid work; 2 members have completed 10 hours in the Red Cross home nursing course and 3 members have expanded 33 hours in the Red Cross canteen work. A cash donation to the Dade County Blood Bank was also reported.

How many women in this vicinity, affiliated with one of the several organizations so active during the winter season, have received cards pleading for workers for the Coconut Grove British War Relief Society? Mrs. Lodowick Rosner, summer committee chairman, (during Mrs. Edward Wright's absence from the city), has received several bolts of dainty colored percales to be used in making little girls' dresses and she needs a few hours work from a number of women who have time to spare for the aid of Great Britain. Patterns are for eight-year olds, and are in the popular Peter Pan mode for children. Knitting yarns and other materials for making garments for the British may be taken home to be worked upon by those women who cannot conveniently spend any time in the work headquarters in the Grove Theatre Building.

July 24 has been selected as the date for a large benefit party to be given by members of the Housekeepers Club. Fourth of July motif will be used for the event which is scheduled to be a dessert bridge, with both table and door awards to be given. Luncheon is planned for one o'clock and all bridge devotees are invited to telephone Mrs. Leslie Barrett (telephone 4-5422), for reservations.

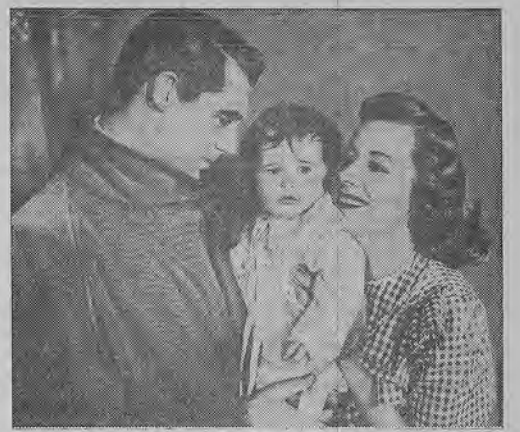

Fred W. Gurney, prominent winter resident of Coconut Grove has purchased the well known estate of the late Kirk and Mrs. Monroe, on Douglas Road, and plans to raze it in the Fall. Mr. Gurney left recently to attend the fiftieth anniversary of Oberlin College, in Ohio, and upon his return here in the Fall, will build a new home on the author's property.

Miss Prunella Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wood, 4330 Lennox Avenue, and fashion editor for King Features Syndicate, has been enjoying a visit with her parents. During her stay Miss Wood spent her days in Havana.

Miss Sophie and Miss Lisa Downer, Utopia, have gone to North Carolina for the summer months. Their brother, Louis DeF Downer, plans to remain here "with his boating and boys interests."

Mrs. Irving J. Thomas and her sister, Mrs. Clark Harper, are enjoying a several weeks' visit with relatives and friends in New York and Washington.

Angus Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus D. Harrison, has left for Boys' Camp, Chimney Rock, N. C.

Irene Dunne and Cary Grant are co-starred in George Stevens' "Penny Serenade" opening at the Grove Theatre, Sunday. Grant appears as a carefree newspaper man who eventually settles down to being the perfect husband and father, only to revert to his original irresponsibility when the going gets tough.

Mrs. R. Marshall Price, 3952 Douglas Road, has returned from New York City. Mrs. Price was recently announced as a beneficiary in the will of Arthur Curtis James, Grove resident and railroad magnate, who died in his New York home June 4th. Mrs. Price will receive more than a half million dollar bequest, under the will which is in New York Court of Probate.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL WATER REVENUE BOND ELECTION

The City of Coral Gables, Florida

July 15, 1941

As provided by a Resolution duly adopted by the Commission of The City of Coral Gables, Florida, on June 11, 1941, a special election will be held on Tuesday, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of The City of Coral Gables, Florida, who are freeholders therein, the question whether water revenue bonds of The City of Coral Gables, Florida, in the aggregate amount of $800,000 shall be issued for the purpose of financing the acquisition of the water distribution system now owned and operated by the Consumers Water Company and supplying water to The City of Coral Gables and its inhabitants, and without said City, and for the further purpose of acquiring necessary working capital for the operation of the water distribution system which the City Commission has determined to be in the amount of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars. Said bonds shall be payable exclusively from the revenues of said system, and for the payment of which the City shall have no power to levy or pledge any form of taxation for the payment of said bonds. Said bonds shall be dated August 1, 1941, shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed 3 1/2% per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of February and August in each year, and shall mature annually, August 1, $10,000 1942 to 1946, inclusive, $15,000 1947, $20,000 1948 to 1952, $25,000 1953 to 1958, $30,000 1959 to 1964, $35,000 1965 to 1967, $40,000 1968 to 1970, all inclusive, and $80,000 1971. Said bonds shall be issued under and secured by the provisions of a trust agreement to be entered into by and between the City and a bank or trust company organized and doing business under the laws of the State of Florida and authorized under the laws of said State to execute trust powers.

For said water revenue bond election the general registration books for elections in the City shall be used and such books shall be open for the registration of freeholder electors not theretofore registered in the office of the City Clerk in the City Hall of The City of Coral Gables, Florida, (a) from 9:00 A. M. until 5:00 P. M., on each day except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, beginning Monday, June 16, 1941, and ending Monday, June 30, 1941; and (b) from 9:00 A. M. until 9:00 P. M., on each day except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays beginning Tuesday, July 1, 1941 and ending Tuesday, July 8, 1941.

The polls at said election will be open from 7 o'clock A. M. until sundown of the same day. Said election will be held at the usual polling place in the City Hall of The City of Coral Gables, Florida, and the following persons have been appointed as inspectors of Election and Clerk of Election for such polling place:

- Clerk: Lewis H. Fogle
- Inspectors: H. R. Anderson, Joseph Byerly, R. J. Beaton, E. C. Bishop, Wm. Rutherford Brown, S. J. Delaney, Jr., Chas. E. Michel, John M. Montgomery, James B. Moore, R. E. Temple, Madeline Whitcher, G. N. SHAW,

City Clerk of The City of Coral Gables, Florida

By order of the City Commission of The City of Coral Gables, Florida. Dated this 12th day of June, 1941.

University Publicity Department Tells World About Local School

Each year as the cities of Coral Gables and Miami seek nation-wide publicity, more attention is being paid to the valuable advertising the University of Miami brings this area.

Students make news. Each day some college or university "breaks into" the news either through an important scientific discovery, an exciting sports event, or even some freshman's eating goldfish. Each day colleges provide events that are news.

At the University of Miami each occurrence suitable for publication is handled by an Information Service, a branch of the journalism department. News stories are written for University students' hometown newspapers—1500 of them during the past school year. Items have been sent to more than 30 states. Each of these carries a certain amount of advertising value for the cities of Coral Gables, Miami, and the University too.

Also handled through the Information Service this year was the announcement of a state-wide journalism scholarship competition, sponsored by Lead and Ink, honorary journalism fraternity. Information about the competition was sent to every daily and weekly newspaper in Florida and even to all high school publications in the state.

This news-story alone placed Miami not only before many high school seniors in Florida, but also before their parents and friends. Letters of inquiry about the scholarship have been received from other states and from Canada, and two national magazines have asked to see the winning manuscript to consider it for publication. Since this is an annual award, interest in the scholarship is expected to increase.

Most widely distributed of University publications is a publicity booklet, "Where Are You Going to College?" Nationally distributed, this booklet is now in its fourth annual revised edition. In four years, 125,000 copies of this picture booklet of the Miami area have been sent all over the United States, and the percentage of post-card replies has been very gratifying, according to University officials.

As in most colleges, the sports program at the University of Miami wins far-flung attention. The University tennis team boasts national recognition, and for the past three years has claimed the title of national champion. Many of the members of the tennis team are high-ranking tennis players in national listings. Wherever they play they carry the names of the University of Miami and Coral Gables.

Several outstanding amateur boxers representing the University, and therefore the Miami area too, have gone to national invitational tournaments. Last year three students participated in the National Collegiate Boxing Association tournament at Sacramento, Calif., and recently two University boxers went to New York City to the National Golden Gloves elimination fights. As a team, the University boxers have travelled widely and have fought before large groups. Billy Regan, coach at the University of Miami, is now president of the National Collegiate Boxing Coaches Association.

The University football team has done its share of traveling too, and in the past three years has played in Des Moines, Iowa, Washington, D. C., Columbia, S. C., and Lubbock, Tex. News-pictures and movies of the University of Miami football teams, practicing and playing "midst tropical splendor," carry valuable advertising of the Miami area everywhere in the United States.

National fraternity organizations on the University campus also do their share toward publicizing Coral Gables. Of the fifteen national fraternities and sororities on the campus—including social, music, law, art, and drama groups—many have national publications. These print articles and photographs of this region, with emphasis on its beauty, climate, and other advantages as the gateway to Latin-America. Each fraternal organization is host to numerous visitors from other states during the school year.

With national defense a main concern of all Americans today, the University of Miami is taking its place with other recognized institutions in the work. More than 200 United States Army Air Corps flying cadets are now in training at the University, learning navigation and meteorology. These cadets stay three months and are then re-

New Art Exhibit At University

An exhibition entitled "Alaska" will open on Monday, in the music rooms of the administration building of the University of Miami. It consists of fourteen paintings by Prescott Jones and Vernon Smith of Massachusetts, who were among the twelve artists of outstanding ability from various parts of the country who were assigned for a period of work in Alaska under the WPA Art Program.

They have given a vivid and personal account of Alaska from Ketchikan northward, making graphic records of ports of entry teeming with interest and pushing further into the country or visiting remote islands. In this way both the external evidences of man's effect upon the scene, as in pilings of wharves and mushroom towns, as well as the deeper significance of primeval forests, the formation of land and rock, and the infinitely slow movement of glacial rivers are faithfully rendered.

The paintings were assembled by the National Exhibition Section of the WPA Art Program, Federal Works Agency, Washington, D. C.

Local Men Sought by Marines

A bill authorizing an increase in the peace-time enlisted strength of the Marine Corps passed the senate and was sent to the President for signature late last week, provides that the Marine Corps have an authorized peace-time enlisted strength of 46,000 regulars and an undetermined number of members of the reserve component on active duty. This bill also authorized the President, when he considers it necessary, to increase the strength of the Marine Corps by Executive Order to 80,000 men during times of emergency, according to Sergeant Stanley Gordon, in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting activities in Miami and for this district.

In reporting the bill to the Senate, the Military Committee commented on the fact that this number anticipated only the immediate needs of the Marine Corps and advised the Senate that each of the two self-sustaining, streamlined Marine Divisions now in process of formation would require 14,000 of these men, and that several thousand additional men would be required to man amphibian tractor battalions, balloon barrage squadrons and various other units necessary to the modern military machine. Additional defense battalions are also needed and expansion of the Marine Corps air corps will require 7,000 more men. In reporting contemplated and future needs of the Marine Corps, it was stated that to take care of the new demands placed upon it in providing detachments for new ships, security units for new bases and miscellaneous naval and Marine Corps activities, the corps will require a gradually increased enlisted strength during the next five years, reaching its peak of approximately 136,000 men by June 1947.

Sergeant Gordon also pointed out that with this new increase for the Marine Corps, more and more opportunities are presenting themselves to enlisted men of the corps. He urges every man who is interested in the Marines to visit or write his office in the Post Office Bldg., Miami, today for further information, literature, and application blanks for enlistment. It is also reminded that the new age limit for enlistment in the Marines is now 17 to 30.

The Sunshine Theatre at Florida's Exhibit on the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, will open officially on the 21st with the first showing of Florida films in color and sound. Visitors at the Florida Exhibit who show special interest in Florida will be invited to make up the audience of this intimate little theatre. From time to time the stage will be used by Florida artists and distinguished speakers.

Florida woods such as mahogany, lignum, crabwood, torchwood and black mangrove are made into jewelry and displayed at Florida's exhibit on Atlantic City's fashionable Boardwalk.

Registration For Draftees Is Announced

Registration of all men who have become 21 years of age since October 16, 1940, under the Selective Service Act, will be held for the District 7 area at the Fire and Police Station in Coral Gables and the American Legion home in Homestead on July 1.

Any man who is to far from his home board on the day of registration may register at the nearest place of registration.

Board 7 officials stated. Eighteen men from the local board left Wednesday to start their year's training at Camp Blanding, Florida. They include B. K. Clark, 3044 S. W. 28th Lane; Carl Tom Sapp, 355 University Drive; Oshmer Kozlov, transfer from Schenectady; Joseph P. Whalen, 645 Avenue Minorca; John Kurucz, Jr., 355 University Drive.

Charles Gordon Sherwood, 3622 LeJeune Road; Sanford J. Siegelstein, transfer from Tarrytown, N. Y. James L. Loper, Homestead; Roy Leland Smith, Homestead; Theodora Thomas, Homestead; Lonnie J. Brantley, transfer from Georgia; Jesse F. Hughes, South Miami; James David Root, Coconut Grove; Augustus H. Jarrett, transfer from North Carolina; Milton S. Brooks, Miami; Charles J. Sussong, 3245 Riviera Drive, enlisted; Ignatius Loyola Edwards, Miami, enlisted; Robert John Titus, transfer from Alabama.

A familiar figure will return to public life this week as John Alston again takes office of Mayor of the Gateway City. Occupy West Home

Lieut. and Mrs. Caranahan and two children will occupy Dr. and Mrs. Henry West's home on Avenue Romana during the latter's summer in the North. Lieut. Caranahan is stationed at the University air corps training school.

Many busy executives in Washington run down to Atlantic City for a day or two and so get acquainted with the Florida Exhibit there and with what it has to offer for defense projects.

The official opening of the Florida Exhibit on the Steel Pier at Atlantic City took place on Saturday, June 14, when the Orange Blossom Quartet of Tallahassee with Lois Miller at the organ opened the summer season of community sings which are attended nightly by thousands.

From the flaming blossom of the Royal Poinciana come the brown-black seeds which are used in unique jewelry introduced at Florida's Exhibit at Atlantic City.
