

2 DIE IN PLANE CRASH

Dive Kills Grove Boy And Teacher

Wing Falls Off Plane During Flying Lesson

Albert Kasanof, a twenty-one-year-old Coconut Grove youth, was killed in a spectacular plane crash just south of Coral Gables yesterday. His instructor, Mrs. Mary Hall Brooks of 140 Northeast 95th Street, Miami Shores, also met death in the accident.

Kasanof, an aviation student living with his parents at 1780 Fairhaven Place, Coconut Grove, had been taking a flying lesson with Mrs. Brooks, flying a blue and yellow monoplane equipped with dual controls when, according to witnesses, the right wing of the plane suddenly ripped loose and fell to the ground. Two planes circling near by were unable to give any assistance to the crippled craft.

Kasanof was observed jumping from the plane, but he fouled his parachute on the ripped fuselage of the broken wing. Mrs. Brooks apparently made no effort to leave the plane. Kasanof was unable to free himself from the fouled chute and the plane did a perpendicular tailspin. The plane crashed to the ground with its human cargo, landing one-half mile north of Rockdale Road, which is the northern boundary of the blimp base.

'U' Offers Fast Spanish Course

In response to a war-intensified demand for college graduates who know Spanish, the University of Miami will offer concentrated language courses beginning with the fall semester, September 21, Dean J. Riis Owre has announced.

The concentrated plan will allow students to complete a full year's study of Spanish in one semester of four and a half months. Thus, in nine months, Dr. Owre said, a student can finish two years' study of the language. The rapid progress is made possible by having the class meet eight hours a week instead of three.

Purpose of the concentrated plan is to prepare students for war-time jobs in which a knowledge of Spanish is necessary, in less time than ordinarily required.

The classes will emphasize conversation more than in slower courses.

Gableite Bob Anthony, 21 Gains New Step to Air Career

Chico Field, Sept. 11.—Aviation Cadet Robert B. Anthony, a 21-year-old youth, will soon have achieved his life-long ambition—that of becoming a pilot in the U. S. Army Air Forces. Anthony, who enlisted in the aviation cadet training corps March 3rd of this year, is a step nearer his goal as the result of his recent completion of the basic flight training course at Chico Army Flying School, the Army's newest basic training school on the West Coast.

Hailing from Coral Gables, the youthful fledgling began his Army flight training at Mesa Del Rey, at King City, California. There he received primary instruction in light aircraft.

After his successful completion of primary course, Cadet Anthony was transferred to the new Chico field for basic training in heavier planes. It was at Chico Field in the famous Vultee BT-13's that he learned cross-country flights, formations and night flying.

His graduation from the basic course completes the second stage of the intensive three-phased training program destined to make him into one of

Gene Shaw Stricken In Alabama

Eugene A. Shaw, 17-year-old son of City Manager George N. Shaw and Mrs. Shaw, is in a serious condition in the Selma, Alabama, Hospital, according to word received here on Wednesday. Doctors told Mrs. Shaw, who flew to her son's bedside, that they believed the popular Gables youth had been stricken by meningitis. They have not as yet made a full diagnosis of his condition, however.

Eugene was a student at the Marion Institute, a military academy, where he was getting his pre-school requirements for entry into Annapolis. He was graduated from Ponce de Leon High School last June and, prior to his graduation, had been very active in school affairs and in extra-curricular work. As president of the Student Council, he held one of the most important offices within the student body.

He was stricken early this week and removed to the hospital, where he remained in a comatose condition while physicians studied the case. Reports from the hospital indicate that he is definitely out of the "critical" stage.

Gene's personality and his active interest in the affairs of Coral Gables has placed him in a public spotlight almost rivaling that occupied by his father as City Manager.

Gableite Reports At Gunnery School

(Special to The Riviera)
PORT MYERS, Sept. 11.—Second Lieutenant Erwin F. Graw, son of Mr. Randolph Graw, Coral Gables, Fla., reported for duty at the Flexible Gunnery School, Fort Myers, Florida, today.

Lieutenant Graw, who received his degree in physical education at the University of Miami, also attended Pennsylvania State, University of Kentucky and the American College of Physical Education, will assist in the physical training of students at the gunnery school.

He was physical education director of the Dade School System, Dade City, Florida, prior to his entering the service August 8, 1942.

Hurricanes Gird for Jax Tilt on Oct. 3

Harding Faces Big Losses on Current Squad

Fall football practice started Labor Day at the University of Miami, at which time Coach Harding threw himself into the job of rebuilding a team which lost five first and second stringers by graduation and 11 more to the Armed Forces. The Army and Navy also cut heavily into the freshman squad so Miami will start the 1942 campaign with two seniors, 15 juniors and 11 sophomores.

The line will have veterans at the tackles, guards and one end, but needs replacements to all positions. Two experienced backfields are available, however, to make the offensive outlook bright.

Howard Plasman, sensational sophomore of 1941, is in the Navy, so the Hurricanes must look for someone to replace his 42-yard punting average as well as his brilliant running—he topped the backfield in gaining ground from his fullback position.

Three halfbacks will vie for the ground-gaining leadership this fall. Co-captain Russell Coates, all-state in 1941, reports in the best physical shape of his career this fall and may be the first Miami halfback to gain as many as 500 yards in a season since the days of Eddie Dunn. Bob Douglas and Al Kasulin, juniors, who came through brilliantly in the closing phases of the 1941 campaign, look ready for excellent seasons and may press Coates for individual honors.

Development of reserves at almost every position is the big job for Coach Jack Harding. Miami will start a team of nine letter men, one experienced squadman from 1941 and one rookie. A complete letter man backfield is in reserve, but the only experienced reserves on the line are at the guard positions.

After years of playing Friday night games, dimout regulations force the Hurricanes to play Saturday afternoon football this year. The first two home games, with Jacksonville Naval Air Station October 3 and Tampa a week later, will be twilight affairs beginning at 4:30 P. M.

No Extension For Licenses, Drivers Warned

With the sale of driver's licenses still lagging, warning was given again this week that no extension will be granted after the October 1 deadline.

After that date applicants will be required to take a driving test given by state road patrol officers.

Although more than 20 per cent of the time for obtaining such license has elapsed, very few persons in this area have bought their licenses, it is announced at Legion Tag Agency on South Krome Avenue.

Driver's licenses for 1943 are issued direct to applicants with 1942 Florida operator's or chauffeur's licenses—those holding licenses from other states will be required to wait until their new licenses clear through Miami.

Chauffeur's licenses cost $1.75 and operator's licenses $1.25. New 1943 licenses obtained now will be honored from the date they are issued and it will not be necessary for newcomers to the state to obtain 1942 permits now and turn them in for next year's cards.

Licenses will have a blank space for numbering, and applicants must produce either the original or a duplicate from which this number can be obtained.

THIS MONTH'S CALL WILL EXHAUST 1-A

Geronimo Reports Next Army Draft Well Be Made on Dependency Basis

The September draft quota for this district will exhaust the local supply of 1-A men, according to Chairman William J. Geronimo of Draft Board 7. The local draft board this week was instructed that all boards will so apportion their selective service calls that no men will be inducted until other boards have exhausted their supplies of available men without dependents.

This will prevent married men from being drafted in some localities, while in others single men are still being called. The general idea is to "place the heaviest load right now on boards having the most single men or men with collateral dependents only."

The board was also ordered to classify every man between 20 and 45 by October 15, which speedup is necessitated by the serious military situation requiring the selective service system to be prepared to fill calls in 1943 which are expected to equal or to exceed the monthly calls made in August, September and October of this year.

The board was also instructed to begin prompt reconsideration of registrants in classes 3-A and 3-B who have collateral dependents.

It is the local opinion that no great number of single men under 21 will be available here for the draft call, because of heavy enlistments among men of that age.

Local registrants having wives and children, or children alone, with whom a bona fide home is maintained and who were married before December 8, 1941 (at a time when selection for service was not imminent) will not be placed in class 1-A available for immediate induction, say draft officials.

However, as needs for occupational deferments expire, single men and others conforming to the type currently being inducted will be called.

"Collateral dependents" included wives or children with whom the registrant does not maintain a family relationship, and other persons supported by him.

According to officials of the draft board, of registrants between 18 and 20 years, only those who have actually reached their 20th birthday are subject to call until such time as Congress may modify the law.

Sneak Thieves Get $58 in Two Alleys

Thefts totaling $58 at two Gables bowling alleys were revealed by police this week. Early this week police arrested Lawrence Lott, 18, on a charge of looting the trouser pockets of pinboys at the Playdium, on Tamiami Trail, of $12 in cash. Lott pleaded guilty on arraignment before Justice of the Peace O. B. Sutton, who bound him over for sentence by the criminal court.

Yesterday the Coral Gables Bowling Alley reported theft of cash, Defense Stamps and a radio, of a total value of $46. Police are on the trail of a suspect in the latter theft and expect an early arrest.

Schools Ready for Jubilant (?) Return of Pupils

Coral Gables elementary and high schools opened its collective doors to hundreds of children yesterday for enrollment, which will continue through today. Monday all departments will function. The new hours are from 9 A. M. to 3:30 P. M. Enrollment at St. Theresa's

Passing Landmark

This deserted gasoline station is a familiar, if slightly unpleasant, sight to Gableites passing Coral Way and Douglas Road. This is by way of showing a "Before" picture. Later the City of Coral Gables will attempt to make this site fit into the beautiful contour of our fair city and enable the "After" part of the picture to be printed. This is all a part of the cleanup drive of the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce.

'U' Readies Students For Life in the Army

Special courses designed for college students who are faced with the prospect of leaving school to enter a world at war have been announced at the University of Miami by Deans J. Riis Owre and Ernest McCracken of the college of liberal arts and the school of business administration.

Supplementing the technical courses in mathematics and science which prepare students for work in the armed forces or in war industries as physicists, chemists, biologists, engineers and mathematicians, these special classes attempt to train college men and women in understanding the society in which they will soon find themselves.

One such course which the University expects to attract large enrollments is military law, offered by the school of law to all university students as an elective subject.

In the school of business administration, a new class in war economy will be organized during the first semester. During the second term a follow-up course in war industries management is scheduled.

Three economy geography classes dealing with Latin America, Asia and Europe will treat some of the economic causes and consequences of the war. Business administration students will also enroll for classes in foreign trade and international economic relations.

The department of government interprets news occurrences in classes in current political events and in world politics.

The college of liberal arts has added a class in commercial Spanish and will continue its courses in first aid and civilian defense, marine, air and advanced navigation and civilian pilot training.

Brazilian Joins University Staff

A native of the country which has become the United Nations' newest ally in the war against the Axis will join the University of Miami teaching staff this month. He will teach classes in Portuguese, national language of Brazil.

The new instructor is Henrique de Faro Franco, holder of the degree of bacharel em ciencias juridicas e sociais (bachelor of laws) from the Faculdade de Direito de Bahia, Sao Salvador, Brazil.

Mr. Franco's courses will be a continuation of classes in Portuguese which have been offered at the University of Miami for some years.

Gables Police Cars Ready for Blackout

All cars of the Coral Gables Police Department were equipped with the newest style blackout lights, according to an announcement yesterday. The new lights are shaded, made of dull black metal containing a slot which permits enough light to illuminate the road immediately in front of the car.

MRS. YATES DIES IN ALABAMA

Mrs. Joseph A. Yates, mother of Joe Yates, former City Commissioner of Coral Gables, died Wednesday at her home in Birmingham, Ala., after a short illness. She was 69.

Funeral services and burial will take place today in Birmingham.

PERTAIN NAMED USO HEAD HERE; OPENING SLATED

Clark Pertain, a captain in the Salvation Army, was appointed this week to the post of director of the Coral Gables USO quarters, according to an announcement by Judge C. S. Robertson, chairman of the local committee.

Coincident with Judge Robertson's announcement, Captain Pertain said that he was making every effort to open the USO quarters at 1810 Ponce de Leon Boulevard this weekend. "We will have to get along without furnishings for a few days, but, with some temporary arrangements, we are trying to open this week-end," Captain Pertain said.

Chief Asks For Firemen Manpower Needed For Auxiliary Force in Raid

An appeal for men not in the military service or subject to Army call to service as auxiliary firemen was issued today by Charles E. Lloyd, chief of fire protection for the 9th Division of Civilian Protection, which includes all of Coral Gables.

"The city has been divided into 12 sections, each of which is to be manned by one captain and four firemen," Chief Lloyd said. "That means that we need 60 men. There are now only 28 auxiliary firemen. I would like to make it clear that anyone who signs up for this work can get their training at any time of the day or night at their convenience and can take the training in small or large doses as the requirements of their own business affairs necessitate."

Chief Lloyd said he expected that equipment for use during an air raid would be assigned to the 12 sections at a later date and that it was imperative that the auxiliary firemen's corps be filled before that time.

"We plan to place this equipment near the home of the auxiliary fireman designated as the captain for use in putting out small fires in that section in the event of an air raid, Chief Lloyd said. "In case of a raid the regular fire department equipment would be inadequate to cope with small fires and be ready to cover large conflagrations. The auxiliary firemen would also assist and relieve the regular firemen in the event that is necessary."

DR. GORDON GETS COMMISSION

Dr. S. Hill Gordon, dentist, of 1138 Alhambra Circle, was commissioned a lieutenant in the United States Army Air Corps and will leave September 23 for his detail post at Goldsborough, N. C.

Mrs. Hill, popular member of the Coral Gables Junior Woman's Club, will accompany the lieutenant to his new post. The Hills live at 44 Avenue Santalane.

LIONS AUXILIARY TO MEET MONDAY

The Lions Auxiliary of the Coral Gables Lions Club will meet at 12 noon Monday at the home of Mrs. A. L. Lancaster, 239 Avenue Camillo, for a covered dish luncheon.

Webster Named To Club Board

(Special to The Riviera)
BLOWING ROCK, N. C., Sept. 11.—F. Wingfield Webster, formerly of 2710 Columbus Boulevard, was named a member of the board of governors of the Blowing Rock Country Club at the annual meeting of the directors here recently. David Owens was elected president, succeeding J. Lather Snyder. Besides Webster other members of the governing board include V. G. Beck, Frank C. Brown, M. L. Cannon, Norman Bisanar, F. Gwyn Harper, C. V. Henkel, Jr., Fred H. Kent, Cameron Morrison, David Owens, J. A. Panuch, Bishop H. D. Phillips, Julian Price, R. Grady Rankin and Snyder.

4 New Buses Effect Rerouting

With the addition of the four new buses to the municipal transportation system, several changes in routes and schedules will become effective September 12, tomorrow.

The Bird Road-Salzedo bus will be discontinued by name. That line will be changed to the University line and will be routed to go south on Ponce de Leon Boulevard to University Drive and past the University to Escobar Avenue; west to Toledo Street; south to Bird Road; east to Palmario; south to San Lorenzo; east to Riviera Drive; north to Bird Road; east to Salzedo Street, and return trip.

The present University-Biltmore bus will be marked Biltmore and will be routed west on Coral Way and Biltmore Way to Segovia Street; south to Riviera Drive; west to Anastasia Avenue and Granada Boulevard; north to Malaga Avenue; west to DeSoto Boulevard; southwest to Anastasia (at the Biltmore Hotel); northwest to Sevilla; west to Red Road; south to Bird Road; east to University Drive; northeast to LeJeune Road (by the University); north on LeJeune Road and return.

The addition of service to the Riviera section, Coco Plum and Sunset Road and Matheson Hammock was announced last week.

Police Recover 2 Stolen Bicycles

At least one bicycle a day has been stolen in Coral Gables, police revealed yesterday, following the return of two vehicles to owners who had reported them stolen. The bicycles, belonging to Lieutenant Commander Robert S. Woodbury of 3018 Granada Boulevard, and to J. A. Wright of 1221 Sorolla, had been taken from in front of the Venetian Pools.

Armed Forces Find Recreation At Metropolis

All American Metropolis is created on the old Flagler Speedway Park by the owners, Prince and Princess Vladimir Eristavi Tchitcherine, who had in mind to create a recreation center for the people of moderate means and especially our armed forces.

This institution is made on luxury lines with a perfect set-up for stage presentations, dancing under the stars, on 10,000 square feet of dance floor of modern terrazzo. It has all the facilities that a modern amusement park should have, including motion picture machines, and a first-class loud speaking system. Indoor accommodations in case of rain include all necessary installations for stage presentations and dancing.

Three bars dispense liquor at popular prices. Saturday dancing to the tune of Dave Lester's violin and his ten-piece orchestra includes an elaborate stage show.

The entrance fee is 55 cents and 30 cents for service men

Miss Beamon Home

Miss Olive Beamon has returned to her home from a month's vacation in Atlanta and the mountains of North Carolina. She will reopen her studio of piano study at 129 Alhambra Circle on the 14th of September.

To See Son Graduate

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grinham left yesterday for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will be present to see their son, Lieutenant Fred D. (Duke) Grinham, U. S. A. Air Corps, receive his wings from the Colorado Air Base School.

MRS. RATTERMAN BACK FROM GREENVILLE

Mrs. William H. Ratterman has returned to her home, 913 Avenue Roderigo, from Greenville, S. C., where she was called because of the passing of her nephew, Cecil Hollands.

While away, Mrs. Ratterman also visited in Nashville, Tenn., with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ratterman of that city.

in uniform. The military curfew proclaimed by Admiral Kaufman is observed. The students of the University of Miami are especially invited.

To New York

Mrs. Mary Sadler left this week for New York. She will visit Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wagnon at Kew Gardens and later visit the clothes marts to buy new styles for her shop, the Valencia, in the Gables. She will return the last of September.

daughter, Mrs. Adrian Wilcox and children, Freddie, Lu, Ernest and Daisy, have returned from a two-months' vacation at Asheville, N. C.

Fifteen more men were enlisted in the Navy here yesterday, it was announced by Lieutenant M. C. Rhodes, Jr., officer in charge of Navy recruiting for South Florida. Included among them was William F. Kelley of 235 Avenue Majoreca.

Broadcasts Bring Requests For Citrus Recipes at Exhibit

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11—A series of broadcasts on citrus put on by the Florida State Exhibits at Atlantic City has resulted in an unprecedented demand for citrus recipes issued by the Florida Citrus Commission and distributed at the Exhibit Information Bureaus, according to Earl W. Brown, exhibit manager.

"The war has made people more conscious of the importance of eating food with the proper nourishment value," explained the exhibit head, who has spent the past ten years promoting citrus at international exhibitions. "Most people know now that citrus contains Vitamin C, so necessary for health."

"Several broadcasts telling how every part of an orange or grapefruit is utilized—the skin for candied citrus, the pulp for citrus meal, the juice, the sections, and so on—have introduced the radio audience to the various citrus by-products. "Time on the air for these daily broadcasts is donated by Radio Station WFPG, Atlantic City, as a friendly gesture to the Florida State Exhibit located here."

Riddle Men Publish Flying Textbook

ARCADIA (FNS). — Jack Hunt and Ray Farringer of the Riddle Aeronautical School at Carlstrom Field have recently published a book on cadet training and flying. It is the first textbook on this subject and is being used by cadets at the local field.

The book deals strictly with the conditions in the air, explaining to cadets how and why certain things happen, why and how certain errors are made and just how to correct and avoid such errors.

The authors point out that while the U. S. Army Air Corps has issued some excellent books on ground school practice, this is the first textbook dealing with the problems the cadet encounters in the air. The book has been submitted to the Army Air Corps for use in training aviation cadets, Hunt said.

Gablesgrams by HELEN REYNOLDS

Happy family group (in these war times) could be the caption of the accompanying picture (Pilkington Photo), made in the Linder garden, 440 Giralda Avenue, for it contains three of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Linder's fine family of children. Scotty Linder, who will return next week to the University of Florida for his senior year; Mrs. Robert Gardner (Peggy Linder, who, with her husband and small son, moved back to Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Helen Linder, who has just completed a secretarial course here.

Mrs. Linder will return soon from Wisconsin, where she has been visiting friends at Lake Beulah, a summer resort and former summer home of the Linders. Closely associated with the Linders is daughter, Mrs. O. B. Sutton (Ruth Linder). The Suttons oldest child, Betty, has reached the ripe age of five and will this week start on a great adventure—to kindergarten. The Suttons, who live at 513 San Esteban, have one of the prettiest gardens hereabouts. Bearing fruit trees and flowers are evidences of real work on the part of the family, and this year, from a ten-cent package of "okra," they raised enough to furnish their own table and half of the neighborhood with the fresh, green vegetable every day.

Back to Coral Gables after a year's residence in Key West are Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Mackle and baby son, Elliott, Jr., of 3519 Alhambra Circle. Mr. Mackle is with the Mackle Construction Company working on government contracts in Key West. . . . Completely recovered is Thomas P. Caldwell of 922 Avenue Castile, who this week returned to his home from University Hospital, where he underwent an appendectomy some three weeks ago.

It's still a "military secret," but a certain pretty blond young lady, a Kappa Kappa Gamma, will be announcing her wedding plans to a lieutenant in Uncle Sam's air force, very soon. Suffice to say she is wearing "his" diamond, and it has a pretty family history. The square-cut stone belonged to "his" grandmother with the understanding that when "he" became engaged it was to go to "his" fiancée.

Returning to their Coral Gables home this week are Mrs. W. S. Sharples and three children, Winston, Jr., Daisy and Michael, of 1234 Capri Street. They have been visiting in Agawam, Mass. . . . Colquhoun W. G. Davis, U. S. A., of Camp Davis, N. C., is spending ten days with his wife and son at their new home, 402 Avenue Alcazar. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. E. B. Wharton of 533 Avenue Majorca are sisters.

Miss Lulu Cadle, principal of Kinlock Park Elementary School, has returned to her apartment in the Mirasol, 706 Coral Way, after an extended summer visit in the North. She visited in Atlanta, Washington, D. C., and Pennsylvania. En route she spent a month at San Lando Springs, near Orlando, and visited Mrs. H. R. Cromwell, a former principal of Shenandoah Elementary School in Orlando.

Mrs. Sam H. Bailey of 1134 Avenue Milan, left this week for Clayton, Ga., and a two-weeks' stay in the mountains. En route home she will visit her son and daughter-in-law, the recently wed Lieutenant and Mrs. Sam H. Bailey, Jr., at Fort Benning, Ga. . . . Mrs. Claire Ulrich Flanagan and daughter, Claire, have returned from a summer spent in Atlanta and at Vincent's Ranch, N. C. They are living at 131 Avenue Zamora, Mrs. Flanagan having leased her Segovia Street home last spring. Claire will return to Merrick Demonstration School and Mrs. Flanagan is already deep in war volunteer work.

Second in Series Honoring Officers In Armed Forces

Books of Defense Stamps will be door prizes de luxe at the next Navy Ladies Dance, to be given from 9 until 12 midnight Wednesday at the Country Club of Coral Gables.

The prizeworthy door prizes have been donated by Mrs. F. W. Dana and Mrs. A. H. Dunwoody.

Plans for the dance, the second in a series, were completed Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. G. D. Hatfield, of the Coral Gables Navy Ladies Club.

All officers in the armed forces, their wives and guests are invited. Formal dress is optional for the feminine guests; the men will be in service "white."

There will be a Paul Jones, Army, Navy and Marine songs and a ladies' break dance featured for the party. Proceeds from the sale of tickets, which for this dance will be at the door of the club only, will go to Navy relief.

Hostesses include Mrs. Hatfield, Mrs. Dana, Mrs. C. M. Speight, Mrs. P. T. Johnson, Mrs. James Hunt, Mrs. L. E. Dowlen, Mrs. H. A. Dunwoody, Mrs. Elliot Dunwoody, Mrs. George J. Coleman, Mrs. R. C. Gillander, Mrs. T. G. Hall and Miss Barbara Bowser.

RICHARD CASSIDY WINS CAMPER AWARD

Richard Cassidy, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Cassidy, was awarded the honor of being the outstanding camper at Camp Greenville, Cedar Mountain, N. C., according to word received by the family here.

Richard was one of 185 boys at the camp this summer. This is the first time a South Florida boy has received the award, although it has been won four times in succession by a Florida boy.

Surgical Dressing Unit in New Location

The Coral Gables Red Cross Surgical Dressing Unit opened this week in their new location, the Douglas Entrance, according to Mrs. Carl Lambert, acting housing chairman for Dade County.

The new rooms are on the first floor in the northeast corner of the huge sprawling building facing the Trail. Efforts to locate a place for the workshop almost became a "head-ache" for Mrs. Lambert after the unit was forced to move from the Giralda Street location. Through the efforts of City Manager George N. Shaw the new location was secured.

A second unit for making surgical dressings in the Gables is only a question of time, however, Mrs. Lambert adds, and the time, place and personnel will be announced soon.

Mrs. John V. Campbell, chairman, will supervise the Douglas Entrance Unit and announces the unit will be open as usual five days a week from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Mrs. E. J. Beckman of 3437 Main Highway, Coconut Grove, will be hostess to the members of Group 6 of the Presbyterian Church at 11 A. M. today.

Gables Couple Wed in Beautiful Church Rite; Reception in Garden

In a setting of unusual beauty, Miss Wayne Drane became the bride of William Edward Reynolds, U. S. N. R., Saturday afternoon at the Congregational Church. The Rev. Carl Stackman read the vows and Clark Fiers presided at the organ. The chancel of the church was profusely decorated with palms, fern and white blossoms. Myriad lighted tapers cast a soft glow over the whole scene.

Given in marriage by her father, Philip Donnell Drane, the petite bride wore period white point d'esprit with matching lace mittens. The tight bodice of the dress was edged with valenciennes lace at the sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. The lace also edged the voluminous floor-length skirt. Her full, long veil and shorter face veil of illusion was held in place with lilies of the valley. Her Colonial bouquet was white orchids and stephanotis. Around her throat she wore an heirloom blue enamel locket engraved with the family crest.

Miss Lois Drane, her sister and maid of honor; Miss Jean Drane, another sister, and Mrs. Orville Haller (Rosemary Reynolds) were bridesmaids. They wore madonna blue French mar-quisette, large transparent hats with long streamers of ribbon in matching blue, carried American beauty roses tied with wide satin American beauty ribbon.

Robert Bartholomew, U. S. N. R., was best man; Lorrenz Dimmig, Kenneth Bayless, Sydney Dimmig and Bernard Mon-salvage were ushers.

The bride's mother wore French blue crepe, matching hat of French blue trimmed in orchid and blue ostrich tips, blue veiling and orchids; the bridegroom's mother, blue chiffon and lace, matching hat and orchids.

The reception, held at the Drane home, 1302 Asturia, followed the wedding. The house was decorated with quantities of gladioli and in the garden and patio punch was served underneath colorful umbrellas. Assisting the bride's parents were Mrs. Kenneth Bayless, Miss Amy Schneider, Miss Phyllis Holland, Miss Jane Arthur and Miss Margaret Reynolds.

The bride attended Exmoor School, Sullins College and was graduated from Brenau; is a member of Alpha Delta Pi and Sigma Pi Alpha. He attended the University of Miami and is now stationed at the Miami Naval Air Station.

Garden Forms Setting for Wedding Reception of the Thomas H. Wakefields

The pretty gardens of the Paul D. McGarry home at 3830 Alhambra Court was the scene of the wedding reception Saturday night of Lieutenant Thomas Havens Wakefield, U. S. A., and his bride, the former Miss Margaret Ann McGarry, eldest daughter of the former Mayor of Coral Gables, and Mrs. McGarry.

The marriage took place at 8 P. M. at the rectory of the Church of the Little Flower, with the Rev. Thomas Comber reading the service.

White silk jersey made with a draped bodice and skirt fashioned the bride's gown. She wore a strand of pearls and a shoulder-length veil falling from a Juliette cap of jersey and orange blossoms. Her flowers were stephanotis, taberna montana and gardenias.

Miss Frances McGarry, the bride's sister and only attendant, wore dusty pink princess style faille taffeta with full skirt. Her flowers were pink roses. Mr. Wakefield served his son as best man.

The bride's mother chose yellow marquisette and lace with orchids. Mrs. Wakefield, white lace and orchids.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. N. T. Joost, Jacksonville, aunt of the bride, and Miss Beth Richards, cousin of the bridegroom.

For traveling to Columbia, S. C., where they will reside, the bride wore a navy blue and red suit, blue accessories and gardenias. She was graduated from St. Theresa's High School and Florida State College, where she was a Pi Beta Phi. Lieutenant Wakefield was graduated from Miami High and the University of Florida, where he was a member of Sigma Nu and Pi Kappa Phi fraternities. He is stationed at Fort Jackson.

Captain Pertain To Talk Before Woman's Club

Captain Clark Pertain, the new director of the USO, will be the guest speaker at the Coral Gables Woman's Club Monday.

The club members will gather at 1 P. M. for luncheon. Mrs. Evan D. Roser will preside at the meeting and will hear reports from the committees, including one from the scholarship committee chairman, Mrs. William Robinson.

Plans will be made for the series of weekly dances being sponsored by the club and the USO. These dances will be given every Wednesday night at the clubhouse for all soldiers billeted in Coral Gables.

To Military College

Hennon Blanton, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Hennon J. Blanton, 525 Coral Way, will attend Georgia Military College at Milledgeville, Ga., this year. Accompanied by his mother, he left Tuesday for the Georgia institution. Hennon is a graduate of Shenandoah Junior High School and attended Ponce de Leon High School last semester.

Bridge Claims Many Players At Country Club

Bridge enthusiasts filled five tables at the Country Club of Coral Gables Tuesday for the regular weekly tournament play.

Mrs. Charles Oehler, Jr., won top stakes in the games. Mrs. Graham Place was second and Mrs. T. Ralph Coard was third.

Several members had guests. Among them, Mrs. Arthur Higgins was hostess to Mrs. Edward Peter. Mrs. James O'Neal's guest was Mrs. John M. Cleveland, a newcomer to Coral Gables.

With Mrs. Frank Lott was Mrs. C. Boykin Reese of Miami Beach. Mrs. Graham Place's guest was Mrs. Neil Nessa.

MRS. KECK HOSTESS FOR CHURCH GROUP

Mrs. J. Wylly Keck will be hostess for Group 3 of the Woman's Association of the First Presbyterian Church at 11 A. M. today at her home, 2520 San Domingo Street.

MRS. MCCREEDY AGAIN TO BE CHURCH SOLOIST

Mrs. Marion McCreedy will again be soloist at the Congregational Church for the winter season and will sing for the first time at the 11 A. M. service Sunday with the choir. Mrs. Frances Hovey Bergh will direct. The pastor, the Rev. Carl Stackman, will speak on "Poeticism of the Soul."

The church school meets at 10 A. M. and the junior high school group at 7 P. M.

A Tropical Visitor Hews Keen Edge On Mrs. Cullen Cain's Fortitude

Cullen Cain, journalist, who is now living in Coral Gables and who continues to conduct his column, "As Man to Man," in the St. Louis County Leader, recently devoted his column to two well-known Gableites.

The first story is about Mrs. Cain and is entitled "The Fifth Decisive Battle." The second story, under the caption "Two Extremes," refers to his neighbor, Thomas Procter.

The column: The Fifth Decisive Battle During the 166 years of our national history there have been four decisive battles fought on our soil that had much to do with the fate of the nation.

The first of these, of course, was the defeat of General Burgoyne at Saratoga. The destruction of that British Army saved the Colonies from being cut in two and turned the tide of the Revolution definitely in our favor. The second battle was Andrew Jackson's victory at New Orleans, where he ended forever any hope of the mother country to regain her lost colonies. The third battle was at Gettysburg, where it was decided that this country should remain undivided and free. The second battle of New Orleans, where Jim Corbett knocked out that grand old champion John L. Sullivan, was the fourth decisive battle in our history.

The fifth battle took place in Coral Gables the other night. The Madam awakened me about two o'clock and asked me if I did not hear something crawling on the floor. I listened for a moment and replied that I did. She asked me what I thought it might be and I answered it sounded to me like it might be an alligator.

The partner of my joys and sorrows told me not to be foolish as this was a serious matter. We listened for a moment and heard what sounded like her slipper being pushed along on the bare floor. That settled it. The Madam jumped out of bed and snapped on the light. I considered that to be as brave a venture as the recent allied raid on Dieppe. Then followed a sound like the report of a small cannon. Another and another concussion shook the room. Again I bethought me of the Dieppe raid. "I got him," cried the Madam.

"Got who?" I queried, thinking it might be a German or a Jap, or maybe just a Fifth Columnist. "A scorpion," announced the Madam. When we went over the battlefield at daylight we found the remains of the granddaddy of all scorpions since Noah built the Ark. And we also found that the heel of one of the Madam's slippers had been knocked lopsided in the bitter struggle. The Madam was modest under my rain of compliments over her exploit but very much worried about what some native had told her of every scorpion having a mate.

Two Extremes

Across the street from me lives a man, who, after having made a fortune up North, retired and came down here to end his days in this semi-tropic land. He has spent the past twelve or fourteen years changing his yard from a barren and desolate spot into one of the most beautiful and outstanding places in all this Miami sector.

His shrubs and plants and flowers are the envy and despair of even the most noted florists in this area. And the strange things about this hobby of this remarkable man is that he made his fortune building dykes and breakwaters and bridges along the New Jersey shore. Thus he had suddenly shifted from the erection of stone walls and iron girders against the break of stormy waves along the shore to the growth and care of flowers.

Fancy this man who, all of his active life, had dealt with the hardest of metal and mixed concrete and chiseled stone, turning to the softness and beauty of the most fragile things on earth. From stern, strong stone to the delicate petals of the rose. From building a granite wall that was to last a century to planting a flower that must bloom and die in a few months.

He loved his work up North, and still has much pride in what he accomplished up there. He loves his plants and flowers and has much pride in their beauty and some of the unique combinations he has conjured up among that strange tropic family known at the Crotons.

Strawberry pink, black and white makes a striking spring two-piece dress ensemble with a three-piece look, worn by pretty CBS actress Peggy Knudsen of the "Crime Doctor" series. The black shantung skirt with peg top styling is attached to a black and white polka dotted blouse, and may be worn separate from the bright pink linen figure-fitting jacket.

DE GARMO UNIT TO MEET TUESDAY

Lindley De Garmo Unit No. 70, American Legion Auxiliary, will meet at 8 P. M. Tuesday at Legion Hall.

Katherine Clelland Davis, daughter of Commander and Mrs. Clelland Davis of 925 Avenue Castile, has qualified here through the naval procurement office for a commission in the WVS of the United States Navy and is awaiting orders from Washington. Miss Davis is vice-president of the Women Flyers (Miami Branch) of America, and a member of the board of directors of the Pan American League. She was a former technical director for the "Shuberts" Theatre managers in New York. Cheers are also in order for Mrs. L. C. Olson of 1000 Cortez Street, who has been chosen one of 18 women in the Greater Miami area to be in the Red Cross home service corps. This band of 18 will begin special advanced training immediately. Mrs. Olson is secretary of the Coral Gables Woman's Club.

And speaking of the Red Cross, Coral Gables again becomes the choice of homes for the new and first woman director of the American Red Cross Chapter in Dade County, Mrs. Marvin Vines who, with her husband and young daughter, Sylvia, has leased the home at 1319 El Rado Street. It will be only a temporary home for the Vines, for they want to buy in the Gables. Mr. Vines will be assistant coach at Miami Senior High School. Sylvia, ten, will attend the Coral Gables Elementary School.

Alaska sealskin is a favorite fur for both daytime and evening wear. Madeleine Dunne of the CBS "Tillie the Toiler" series wears a DeLeo designed coolie coat of lustrous seal, which is roomy enough to wear over a suit and important enough to grace a dinner gown. Her Howard Hodge triangular beret is fastened with large jet hatpins.

Polka dots rate popularity plus in prints this year. Betty Worth of Columbia network's "We Love and Learn" models here a two-piece shantung black and white polka-dotted frock that may be worn now and right on through the summer. Notice how the crisp white eyelet embroidery edging on the pockets and sleeves really "makes" the dress. It has taken over 400,000 pounds of jams, jellies and marmalades and 156,000 gallons of syrup to satisfy the sweet tooth of Camp Blanding soldiers since the first of the year.

Four in Gables Win 'U' Degrees

A final list of fourteen graduates who completed required work for their degrees in the second session of the University of Miami twelfth summer school, which ended September 4, was announced Wednesday by Harry H. Provin, registrar.

This latest group of graduates brings to 185 the number who have received University of Miami diplomas in 1942. Ten finished their college work at the end of the first term of the summer school July 24, and 161 others won their degrees in the February and May graduations.

Gableites who were graduated September 4: Bachelor of arts—Vadah M. Walker, 2006 1/2 Ponce de Leon Boulevard.

Bachelor of business administration—George Hollahan, 723 Avenue Escoibar.

Bachelor of laws—Melvin Englander, 707 Avenue Escoibar.

Bachelor of music—Thomas Powell Smith, 400 Avenue Viscaya.

MISS DORA THOMAS FETED ON BIRTHDAY

Miss Dora Thomas, popular secretary at the Country Club of Coral Gables, was the honor guest at a number of parties given for her over the weekend, due to her birthday anniversary.

On Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parry entertained with a steak fry in the gardens of their home, 1347 Cantoria Avenue. Labor Day week-end was spent in Melbourne by Miss Thomas as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Symington, former Miamians, who gave a buffet supper Sunday night. She was also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ditchendorf while in Melbourne.

The colorful and talkative macaws, parrots and cockatoos of the Florida National Exhibits, who have been wintering in DeLand, are ready for their summer's sojourn at Atlantic City, where they enjoy the thousands of visitors they entertain as much as the visitors enjoy them. All the birds can say, "Come to Florida," and Chalky, white cockatoo, has acquired a military dance to the tune of "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Camp Blanding soldiers have eaten 1,800,000 pounds of beef since January. The camp quartermaster also has issued the following items to troops in the last five months: 22,000 cases of eggs—enough to load a freight train 55 cars long—446,000 pounds of butter, 560,000 pounds of chicken and 172,000 pounds of turkey.

The Army's new emergency field ration "K," furnishing a day's meals and weighing only two pounds, contains 3,276 calories and will endure changes in temperature between 20 degrees below zero and 135 degrees above zero.

Insurance Men Open 'KeepWell' Drive in State

Life insurance agents of Florida are forming many local "keep well crusade" committees designed to put into effect in their communities the health program sponsored nationally by the Institute of Life Insurance, according to H. Laurence Cooper of Jacksonville, president of the Florida Association of Life Underwriters.

The local committees, according to Mr. Cooper, are undertaking educational campaigns to impress upon the public the wartime necessity of safeguarding health because so large a proportion of Florida doctors and nurses have been called to duty with the armed services. Stress is being laid on disease prevention as well as on positive measures which will build up stamina and thus give effective support to the war production effort. Simplified health rules advise (1) eat right; (2) get your rest; (3) see your doctor once a year; (4) keep clean; (5) "play" some each day.

Cities in which committees are now functioning include Jacksonville, Hollywood, Ocala and St. Petersburg.

"As Commissioner of Health and Sanitation for the city of Jacksonville," declared P. M. Ulsch, chairman of the city commission, "I am, of course, interested in bringing to our citizens such messages as your program contains. You have greatly aided our own campaign here for a healthier city. The simple health rules if followed by everyone, have a decided influence in bettering the health of our nation. You have made a most patriotic contribution to our country's welfare."

Other Florida endorsers include Insurance Commissioner J. Edwin Larson; Vivian Collins, Florida Director for Selective Service; Sister Miriam, director of school of nursing, St. Vincent's Hospital, Jacksonville; Mrs. Florence Davis Watson, Pensacola Community Chest, and R. T. McGrath, Florida Power Corporation.

Paul V. McNutt, administrator of the Federal Security

Week in the War

President Roosevelt asked Congress to enact by October 1 legislation under which he would be "specifically authorized to stabilize the cost of living, including the price on all farm commodities." In a special message to the legislators the President said "inaction on your part by that date will leave me with an inescapable responsibility to the people of this country to see to it that the war effort is no longer imperiled by threat of economic chaos. In the event that the Congress should fail to act, and act adequately, I shall accept the responsibility, and I will act."

Mr. Roosevelt said the purpose of the legislation "should be to hold farm prices at parity, or at levels of a recent date, whichever is higher." He said "at the same time that farm prices are stabilized, wages can and will be stabilized also. This I will do."

The President recalled that two points of his original seven-point anti-inflation program required legislation. . . . "an adequate tax program and a law permitting the fixing of price ceilings on farm products at parity prices." He said delay in enacting this legislation "has now reached the point of danger to our whole economy. . . . We cannot hold the actual cost of food and clothing down to approximately the present level beyond October 1. But no one can give any assurances that the cost of living can be held down after that date. . . ." He renewed his request of last April for an individual, net income limitation of $25,000.

THE WAR FRONT—After ten straight raids without a loss, two U. S. flying fortress bombers were reported missing September 7, following the greatest American aerial attack of the war on Nazi-occupied France. Three squadrons of the big bombers attacked the Airframe factory at Meaulte, near Albert, for the second time, while a fourth squadron bombed the St. Omer Airfield. In the raids the fortresses destroyed five enemy fighters and probably destroyed 13 more, and damaged another 25. The bombers were escorted by 400 allied fighters, three of which were shot down.

General MacArthur's Australian headquarters reported September 7 that heavy allied bombing planes attacked a Japanese cargo ship southeast of New Guinea, which was believed to have been attempting to supply the trapped enemy forces in the Milne Bay area. Australians were mopping up the remnants of Japanese forces in this area. U. S. Army Air Forces in China, continuing their offensive, scored a direct hit on Japanese military headquarters in Nanchang, sank at least seven steamers, blasted a railway station and warehouse and strafed a troop train.

Two Navy vessels, the destroyer Blue and the auxiliary transport Colburn, have been lost in action in the South Pacific in the past two weeks, the Navy announced. There were few casualties. The Navy also announced the sinking of nine more United Nations merchant vessels by enemy submarines in the Atlantic.

WAR AIMS AND FOREIGN RELATIONS—President Roosevelt, in an address broadcast to an international student assembly in Washington and short-waved to other parts of the world, stated the war is "going to be long and hard and bitter (but) this time we shall know how to make full use of Victory" to build a better world.

He said the Government will see to it that men returning from the fronts can resume their interrupted careers and education and that work is provided for those willing and able to work.

Reciprocal lend-lease aid to the U. S. already covers a range as wide as the requirements and geography of a global war, and is being provided to this country on the same basis as we are providing lend-lease help to other countries, the Office of War Information reported. Such aid is being provided without dollar payment under the terms of master agreements with countries receiving U. S. lend-lease help. Reciprocal lend-lease aid "for American forces abroad . . . ranges from squadrons of spitfires to new fan belts for army trucks—from building air-dromes and naval bases to "D" ration chocolate bars and bananas at the soldiers' mess—from convoy protection for U. S. troopships arriving in British waters to filling the gas tanks of U. S. ferry planes at airports newly laid out in jungles or deserts," the OWI said. The President announced a special U. S. technical mission will leave for Brazil soon to assist the Brazilian Government in expansion of its war machine.

ARMY AND SELECTIVE SERVICE—Assistant Secretary of War McCoy said that between February 1 and August 30 U. S. Army planes destroyed 234 Japanese planes in the air, compared with American losses of 109. This record, together with the "Flying Tigers" record of 218 Japanese planes destroyed, as against losses of 84, is due mainly to the performance of the P-40 fighters, he said. The Army said it has developed a system of technical inspection and maintenance supervision of aircraft that is undoubtedly the finest in the world.

The War Department sent 36,000 dependents allowance checks totaling $4,500,000 to relatives and dependents of enlisted men in the four lower grades of the service. Selective Service Headquarters instructed State SS boards to place their calls so that most men right now will come from local boards with the most single men or men with dependents other than wives and children.

NAVY AND SHIPBUILDING—Navy Secretary Knox said the submarine menace "is not by any means solved," but there has been a "steady diminution of ships sunk off our own shores." A shipbuilding compilation for Labor Day showed 174 launchings and 49 keel layings during the day for many kinds and sizes of combat and cargo ships. The Maritime Commission reported 68 vessels were put into service in August and there is "every indication" the goal of three completed ships a day will be reached in September.

RATIONING—The War Production Board released 50,000 of the refrigerators which have been frozen in the hands of dealers and distributors since February 14 for sale to the general public after finding that they were not needed for "essential" purposes. Another 50,000 will be released by authorization of WPB for delivery to dealers and transfer to ultimate consumers. The WPB food requirements committee recommended to the board the following meat conservation program: (1) Equalization of the amounts of meat packers may sell to the civilian trade so that each civilian will be able to buy 2½ pounds a week; (2) direct consumer rationing to be started as soon as possible—in about four months; (3) an interim voluntary conservation program.

TAXATION AND PROFITS—The Treasury Department recommended to Congress a reduction in individual income tax exemptions to $500 for each dependent. The Treasury also proposed a 10 per cent tax on consumer spending and high penalty rates for luxury spending. At the request of Congress, the Treasury outlined a sales tax levied against the retailer who would pass it on to the consumer. War expenditures in August were $4,900 million, more than three times greater than the amount spent for National Defense a year ago. Income payments to individuals in July were 21 per cent more than July, 1941, and were at the record annual rate of $114 billion a year, the Commerce Department said.

Business Women Pledge to Work for Defense

Coral Gables Business and Professional Women's Club (National Federated member) met at the home of Mrs. Stanleyette Moyer, 803 Alhambra Circle, Tuesday.

Plans for immediate work in volunteer defense were discussed and Miss Frances Roozen was appointed chairman of the defense committee.

Reports from the scholarship department were heard. The club sponsors a worthy Ponce de Leon High School girl each school year through the Walsh School of Business Science. The award of the scholarship is made at graduation. Gladys Becker, president, presided.

A social hour was enjoyed. There were 25 members present.

Visits Brother

Mrs. Mary Sadler of the Valencia Shop will combine business and pleasure on her trip to New York this week. In between trips to wholesale houses, where she will purchase new fall and winter clothes for her dress shop, she will have an opportunity to visit her brother, John Wagon, famous in racing circles, who makes his home in Kew Gardens, L. I.

To Pennsylvania

Miss Jane Handy of Coral Gables will leave Tuesday for Philadelphia and New Jersey points for a four-weeks' visit with her grandmother and aunts.

Camp Blanding's District Motor Transport shops keep 15,000 vehicles in running order at all times. These vehicles traveled 40,500,000 miles during the first six months of the shop's operation.

Armor Resists Hail of Bullets

HOMESTEAD (FNS)—Speaking recently before the Redland District Lions Club, Dr. Guy Otis Brewster gave details of his invention of a bullet-proof armor which has withstood severe Navy tests and in all probability will be employed in certain types of fighting.

His device works as a shock absorber and is a suit of streamlined lightweight armor which gives the wearer complete head-to-foot protection. It is made of steel alloy and weighs from 6 to 36 pounds.

Dr. Brewster, wearing his armor, has exposed himself to a hail of Lewis machine gun bullets point blank at 150 yards and advanced unharmed. He has been the "guinea pig" in 52 different tests, all of which proved successful, as his good health testifies.

Military men contend the device is still too heavy for some types of military action, but see in it an excellent protective measure for anti-aircraft gun crews and similar positions.

Dr. Brewster has been working on his invention for 30 years and believes its adoption would save thousands of lives, even if employed for the protection of stationary gunners or guards exposed to snipers.

Landahl Joins U. S. Coast Guard

Former police officer Bror F. Landahl of the Coral Gables police force, is now a machinist mate, second class, in the United States Coast Guard. He is stationed in Miami.

Landahl served in World War No. 1 and is a member of Coral Gables Post No. 98, American Legion. He is married, the father of two children in the elementary school and a grown daughter, Janet Patricia, secretary of the American Legion Auxiliary. He lives with his family at 1124 Ferdinand Street.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH TO HONOR COLLEGIANS

In honor of the collegians of the congregation of the Coral Gables Christian Church entering college this fall, the Rev. Frank Harlow will use in his sermon topic at the 11 o'clock service Sunday "God in Education."

The Youth Fellowship meeting at 8 P. M. will be in charge of Theodore Perkins.

GROUP TO MEET AT HOUSTON HOME

Mrs. O. K. Houston of 520 Avenue Minorca will entertain Group 4 of the First Presbyterian Church Woman's Association at 11 A. M. today. Luncheon and sewing will follow the meeting.

MRS. CLARKE TO HAVE GROUP TODAY

Mrs. Walter H. Clarke of 2716 DeSota Plaza, will entertain Group 5 of the First Presbyterian Church at 2 P. M. today. Sewing for the Red Cross will be the order.

GROUP SEVEN TO MEET MONDAY

Mrs. W. H. Linnemier of 1206 Pizzaro Street will be hostess to Group 7 of the Presbyterian Church Woman's Association at 8 P. M. Monday.

Hail! A Gas Plan

We, in Coral Gables should add our voice to the tumultuous ovation which undoubtedly will greet the suggestion of the American Automobile Association that those Northerners who will forego fuel for their oil-burning furnaces should receive gas coupons to take them to our climate.

We hope that the OPA will weigh the suggestion carefully, taking into consideration the possible plight of South Florida in the event the so-called "season" doesn't develop at all.

The AAA argues that such a program would not be inconsistent with gasoline rationing regulations which now allow extra fuel for a trip involving a bona fide change in residence.

Sacrifice

A picture of Democracy at Work is contained in the letter from a taxpayer to his Congressman which is printed herewith. It is a foregone conclusion that those in Washington do not know how much the American people will sacrifice to keep their Democracy. This letter gives a remote idea: This letter is democracy at work. This letter represents what we are fighting for. This letter is the first I have ever written to you or to any government official.

For years I have sat back and watched selfish little individuals and pressure groups write, telegram or travel to Washington to ask for favors.

For years I have wanted to write or to ask you for just one favor—good, honest government for me and for all the people.

But I wondered what my one lone letter—just like my one lone vote—could do. So I didn't write. I didn't ask.

Now at long last I am stirred up—the cause is so vital that I am writing my first letter—asking my first favor. It is this:

You don't realize how much more willing I am to make sacrifices to win this war than you think I am, and that goes for the millions of Americans like me who have yet to write their first letter. You underestimate us.

So get this straight.

Vote that $6,000,000,000 tax bill that doubles my income tax.

Withhold 5 per cent—10 per cent—of my savings next year.

Make War Savings Bonds compulsory. (I am already investing 11 per cent of my salary.)

Put a ceiling on wages and all prices. Ration my gas—take my spare tire—take my car if you need it.

Ration my food—my clothes—my fuel. My great-grandfather got along on what I waste.

Help Leon Henderson—he's got hold of a tiger by the tail. Help him hold it or it will eat us all.

For once in your life forget the folks back home. Vote a clear, firm "Yes" if it will win the war. Let that be your only test.

Do this and you won't have to worry about re-election for the duration.

This letter is democracy at work—a private citizen with no axe to grind—telling you not how to vote, but telling you how he feels so that you may know better how to represent him.

This letter is from a plain citizen with two children, a mother, a job and a home, and a long-neglected right to express the way he'd like to be governed.

There are 10,000,000 like me in the United States. We will decide the election this fall. Don't underestimate us. You vote as courageously as we are willing to sacrifice and nothing in this world can stop us.

With utter sincerity,

WILLARD V. MERRIHUE,
Scotia, N. Y.

Welcome

We would like to join Homestead in extending a hand of welcome to Vernon Van Ness, who last week took over the reins of the Redland District News. An accomplished and experienced newspaperman, Mr. Van Ness has a fine creed in the objectives he has set down for his operation of the Homestead newspaper.

WALTER LIPPMANN

In arguing about where to assign munitions, where to put our forces, in which of the many theatres of the war we should stand defensively and in which we should take the offensive, let us remember that not until 1942 did the grand alliance of the United Nations exist. These are real problems, and many of them are extremely difficult to decide. But the reason we have to decide them is that we have great allies. If we did not have great allies, if we were fighting alone in the Pacific against a Japan that did not have to worry about China and Russia, and in the Atlantic against a Germany that did not have to worry about Russia and Britain, the problems we now discuss would be trifles as compared with the problems which he should then have to meet.

It is necessary to fix this in mind if we are reasonably and efficiently with the inherent and inevitable difficulties of a war fought by allies. For only by realizing the true perspective of things can men estimate the true size of anything. A cinder in a man's eye can feel as big as a house, and almost every special pleader is likely to have a cinder in his eye.

The military phase of this war for the future of the world began eleven years ago with the Japanese seizure of Manchuria. In those eleven years our enemies have formed their own alliance. They did this around the year 1935, and ever since that time Germany, Japan and Italy have been partners. By 1940 they succeeded in smashing all the combinations which were brought together to resist them. In 1932 the Japanese smashed the League of Nations in the Far East. In 1935-1936 Italy, with the help of Germany and Japan and a Laval government in France, smashed the League of Nations in Europe. In 1938 at the Munich Hitler smashed the Franco-British-Russian alliance. In 1940 Hitler smashed the Franco-British alliance.

In the summer of 1940 our enemies were at the peak of their power. That was the lowest and darkest moment in the fortunes of free men. For in the summer of 1940 our enemies were united and all the other nations were separated and isolated. Britain stood alone in Europe. China stood alone in Asia.

It was from that lowest point in the condition of the struggle that, thanks to the time won for mankind by the British and the Chinese, the grand alliance of the United Nations began to form. For it was the British resistance which made it impossible for Germany to finish the European war before attacking Russia and then Africa and the Western Hemisphere.

It was the Chinese resistance which made it impossible for Japan to concentrate all her force in the South Pacific and then against the United States.

The British and Chinese resistance in 1940 meant that Russia had allies when Hitler struck in June, 1941. It meant that we had allies when Japan struck less than six months later. Thus by 1942 there had come into being a greater alliance than that of any of the other alliances which our enemies in the days of their unimpeded advance had been able to destroy. In the eleventh year of the world conflict and at the end of the third year of open warfare in Europe, the hammer blows of our enemies upon the anvil of our friends have forged the great ultimate alliance which will decide the war.

It was before this alliance was formed that the enemy won his most spectacular success: Hitler knocked out France and seduced France overseas. It has been while this alliance was mobilizing that Japan overran the badly defended empires of the Far East and that Hitler has been striking so deeply into Russia and the Middle East. This summer we are paying the price we must pay because the alliance which now exists did not exist two years ago. Only now, as we are coming to the autumn, is the impact of the new alliance beginning to be felt tentatively on the field of battle.

Therefore, it is true that what is at stake in 1942 is the ability of the United Nations to withstand the blows which are designed to separate them and then to paralyze them separately. The ultimate objective of our enemies is nothing less than the rupture of the grand alliance, and they will have lost the campaign of 1942 if the alliance survives.

The alliance will survive the campaign of 1942 because on the one hand the enemy has dealt so savagely with the conquered that to submit is infinitely worse than to die, because on the other hand he cannot in 1942 strike finally and decisively into the fastness of Russia, against the citadel of Britain and into the continental base of North America. The enemy cannot get at the heart of our alliance. Because he cannot, there will burn in the souls of all his countless victims the flame of hope fed by the fuels of hate.

The heart of our enemy is vulnerable. We stand now within striking distance of the enemy in Europe, and in Asia his heart is weak though his hands and his long fingers are strong. The ground on which he stands is big. But it is rotten under his feet, rotten with the inexplicable hatreds he has aroused, rotten with his own dread of the consequences, rotten with the guilt that compels him to commit more crimes in order to cover the crimes he has already committed.

Thus in 1942 his conquests are wider than in 1940 but his prospects are worse. For in those two years, which are the turning point in the history of the modern world, there has come into being the grand and implacable alliance to which we belong. Henceforth, this alliance will conduct the war, and in the end it will win the right to shape the future.

Do You Know - - -

Jack Harding starts his fifth year as football coach at the University of Miami this fall, longest tenure of any Hurricane grid coach. His teams have won 28 and lost 20 games.

Not since they played Bucknell 6-6 in 1937 has the University of Miami football team played a tie game.

Biggest opening day crowd in University of Miami football history was in 1939, when 20,100 saw Wake Forest draw the Hurricanes. If gas rationing doesn't work too much havoc, that total may be threatened October 3, when Miami plays the Jacksonville Naval Air Base.

It's an Old, Old Story, Mates

Mark Sullivan

There is a bill in Congress. It is before me. At its present stage it is in two versions printed in one document—one version as passed by the House, the other by the Senate. In both versions the opening line contains these words:

"Notwithstanding any provision of state law."

Does any one need to read more? Is there any possible doubt that this is an attempt to pass a Federal law overriding and nullifying state laws?

And state laws about what? It is state laws about the very foundation of government, about elections. The House version of the bill continues: "Notwithstanding any provision of state law relating to elections."

Can any one look upon a bill having that character and purpose without apprehension that something deeply serious is under way? Here is a bill which announces that Congress is about to change the election laws of the states. True, the change is to be only "in time of war." But if war calls for change of election laws, it is for the states to change them—not Congress.

True, also, the proposed change is only about some elections, those for Federal offices—Congress, President and Vice-President. But the Constitution says these elections shall be controlled by the states: "The electors (voters) in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature."

Can any one escape apprehension that, if Congress goes part way in changing the election laws of the states, it can go all the way? Can any one fail to apprehend that loss by the states of their power to control their elections would mean ultimately the ending of the states as governmental units? That ultimately the United States would cease to be a federal government of forty-eight states, and become a consolidated single government—would ultimately become, as respects its fundamental basis, a totalitarian government?

These apprehensions exist. They are justified by the pending bill as it now stands. It is conceivable we are going to take the step this bill implies without complete understanding by all the people—complete discussion in the press, over the radio, through all the agencies of public opinion?

The original purpose of the measure was simple, limited and wholly proper. It was merely to facilitate absentee voting by soldiers and sailors. It did not intrude at all upon the rights of the states to control their elections, and the qualifications of voters. Carefully the bill specified, "eligible to vote . . . under the law of the state of his residence." All that the Federal Government was to do was merely to set up a mechanism by which soldiers and sailors distant from their states would be enabled to get ballots from their state governments, vote them, and send them back.

But only about forty of the states have provisions for absentee registration and voting. It occurred to Congress that soldiers and sailors from other states ought also to have the right. Trying to do this, Congress clearly trespassed upon the election laws of some states. The attempt was within the spirit of the bill, and was without partisan political purpose—but was clearly an invasion of the state's control of their elections.

Presently amendments were added which were political and partisan. One was that the bill should apply not only to elections, but to primaries. This was meant to reach southern Democratic states in which the result of the primary in effect determines the election.

Another amendment said that "no person in military service in time of war shall be required, as a condition of voting . . . to pay any poll tax. . . ." The poll tax is a small tax or fee, a dollar or so, required to be paid in eight Southern states by the voter at the time he registers. Formerly, some other states had it. It is gradually being abolished by local state action. Arkansas abolished it recently and it is

OUR TOWN

By Al Harum

You've probably met Jack Mendelson. You've probably bought a newspaper or magazine from him at the stand in front of the Dade Pharmacy. They say everyone has a story to tell—an experience which has thrilled the narrator and will thrill the listener. Jack has both the story and the ability to tell it. Most of his life he's spent with those strangest of all people—newspapermen. And the time he's spent with them has been in their most strange and frantic moments—when they are trying to get their story on the wires. Jack has covered many a big story, not in the way that reporters cover them but in a manner which has made it possible for the reporters to get the facts to their city desks.

President Woodrow Wilson never knew, for example, that it wasn't a "hot-box" that held up his campaign-touring train in Hutchinson, Kan., for three hours. Well, it wasn't. It was Jack Mendelson who bribed, bulldozed and cowed the staff of the whole train into the delay so that he could round up enough Morse operators to get a big story on the wires.

During the Mexican Peace Conference, Jack sent thousands of words of conjecture on the part of newspaper correspondents—while holding inviolate the confidential White House reports he had placed on the wires a few hours earlier. This was one of the many cases where the telegraph operator knew more than the newspaperman he served—but couldn't tell.

One of the most exciting events in Jack's career had nothing to do with the Fourth Estate. He was a passenger on a train which was returning loaded from a convention in Lake Placid, N. Y. At Lake Champlain the train was wrecked. Hundreds of the passengers, many of them injured, were taken to a near-by farmhouse where a nine-party phone was the only link with the outside world. The passengers put in calls to their various home towns—but the phone traffic was so heavy it looked like it would take three days to get them all through.

Jack leaped into the breach. He calls the operator, cancelled all the long-distance calls, called the Western Union office at Saratoga. "I got our office and told them I wanted this message sent collect to every name and address I gave him: 'Don't worry. Safe. Coming home next train.' Then I lined up the passengers—the line seemed blocks long—and as each reached the telephone I repeated his name and the address of the person to whom the wire was to be sent. We sent 1,100 telegrams."

Jack has been at the scene of many big news breaks of the past. He was at the scene of the 20th Century wreck with a dozen other operators 30 years ago, helped rig wires from overhead lines to the rail bed and sent the wreck stories while sitting on the track. He was in charge of the Morro Castle emergency wire set-up; was present at the Harry K. Thaw trial; worked on the Hauptmann story.

Jack has been closely associated with three presidents: Woodrow Wilson, Taft, and the great "T. R." He says Wilson was "reserved and difficult to approach," Taft was "easy-going and jolly," and "T. R." was "one of the boys." Say hello to this friend of the great next time you buy a newspaper.

ADVERTISING—S. Duffield Hopkins has become well known in Coral Gables for his intense interest in things civic—and for his Packard car of almost ancient lines. When Duff and his wife, Nina, returned recently from a cross-country tour, Duff wondered how long it would take to let his many friends and acquaintances know of his return.

While Duff was pondering this, Nina's eyes lighted up with the birth of an idea.

"Why don't you get into the Packard and ride around Coral Gables for an hour or so," she suggested. "I won't be long before everyone in town will be saying: 'Duff Hopkins is back.'"

MODERN HENRY FORD—We've been watching with keen interest the activities of Joe, a Gables automobile mechanic, who has been experimenting on a motor-driven bicycle. The bike is made up of a regular two-wheeler with a tandem arm and an additional wheel. On the tandem arm lies the one-cylinder gasoline motor, geared to the bike chain, which, of course, is geared to the rear wheel. Joe's research has been going on for almost a week and on Tuesday the bike set out on its trial spin. Amidst great cheering from youngsters enjoying their last week of summer freedom, the put-put moved along Salzedo Street. Now, every time we hear the put-put, we lean out the window to see what new device Joe has installed on his "gas ration bike."

SPEECHLESS SPEAKER—Captain Clark Pertain, new USO director here, likes to tell this story on one of the very talkative soldiers who visited the USO quarters in Savannah. Seems that each week a birthday cake is made for the boys whose birthdays fall during the past week. Came one week when it was talkative soldier Paul's birthday. When the cakes were lighted and brought in, about 50 boys yelled "Speech!" at Paul. Paul got up, swallowed a few times, and, for once in his life, couldn't talk.

to be abolished by Tennessee in the next session of the Legislature.

To attempt to abolish the poll tax by act of Congress would be plainly a step toward the ending of the right of states to control their elections, toward reducing the stature of state governments, toward centralizing all government in Washington.

While the pending bill is in an advanced stage of the legislative process, final enactment of it will require further action by both House and Senate. There is still time for public discussion and understanding.

Light blue twill suit with high lapels and roomy patch pockets is the spring choice of pretty CBS actress Sharon Douglas. Here she wears it with a jaunty red and white striped blouse, wide brimmed straw hat, and navy oversize bag, shoes and gloves.

Zippered closing gives this gray and white striped suit, worn by CBS songstress Ginny Simms a poured-into look. The same streamlined effect of the jacket is carried out in the slim skirt with flat front pleats. Ginny wears it with a lacy jabot and brilliant clip and huge milan broton.

Patriotic red, white and blue color scheme is combined in this unusual Sally Victor spring bonnet worn by CBS actress Ann ("Aunt Jenny's Stories") Eden. The seductive navy jersey drape is topped by a white straw brim spilling a cascade of luscious red cherries. It is an effective topper for the trim navy suit and white waistcoat.

Seaboard to Pay $850,000 Back Taxes
TALLAHASSEE (FNS).—At a recent conference between officials of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, Governor Holland and Comptroller J. M. Lee, an agreement was reached through which the Seaboard will pay approximately $850,000 of back taxes and dismiss its suit in contest of this year's assessment. Payments of withheld taxes going back to 1935 will be made within 60 days, or as quickly as the State Auditing Department can complete its figure. Forty-one counties will share in the fund.

A. B. Mack, operator of the Flamingo Tire Company at Ponce de Leon Boulevard and Avenue Minorca, began business at that corner in 1933, after a long career as a traction expert. Mr. Mack, who, in addition to the sale of gasoline and oil—and tires and tubes to those okayed by the ration board—maintains a high-class lubrication and car-washing service, in addition to the hundred and one things the motorist expects his local gas station to care for.
"In all the years operating this business we have learned that service should and must be the keyword for successful operation," Mr Mack says.
"In these days of rationing it is important that car owners give their car the care it deserves, keep the tires properly inflated, keep the body and engine lubricated. It is toward this end that the service station works, ever reminding the customers that there are other things to think about than gasoline and tires."

Keep Your Chin Up for Beauty
NEW YORK—Many women who have come into my salon recently have asked me frankly what I think is the first beauty problem which betrays their years over 30. I have been quick to answer that an uneven neckline, the areat of the chin and throat, is most sensitive to age and for that reason requires special attention for those women who are sager to keep their necklines graceful and

YOUR Forgiven Horses!
Somewhere in a dark hot corner of your establishment there may be some forgotten horses... starved for lack of care, but still working faithfully for you.
They are mighty precious these days—those electric "horse power" motors of yours—not only do they represent a big investment but they now must last for the duration.
HERE ARE A FEW SUGGESTIONS THAT MAY AID YOU IN THE CARE OF YOUR MOTOR:
AVOID over-loading it.
BE SURE that it is equipped with the right kind of starter and protective devices.
SEE that it is properly installed, and located in a well ventilated place that is free as possible from dust.
SELECT, at once, a responsible employe of your own organization or an outside service man for regular inspection service of the vital parts of your motors such as bearings, lubrication, windings, drives and protective devices.
IF any part needs to be replaced, see that it is done promptly, while replacement parts are still available and before a larger repair job is necessary.
KEEP a written, detailed inspection record of each motor.

OLDTIMERS SAW SIGHTS IN THE GABLES BY TROLLEY CAR, VETERAN REMINISCES

By HELEN REYNOLDS

"The way to see Coral Gables is by trolley," said Tracey Hollingsworth, back in 1926, when, with his wife, he came down from Jacksonville on a first visit.

"We landed out here visited a real estate office and they also said if you really want to see the way the place is laid out take the trolleys," he continued.

"I had great respect for trolleys in those days, for as editor and publisher of the South Jacksonville Herald, I had just taken part in a great election, which established a traction line from Jacksonville to South Jacksonville, across the bridge, and our paper was for that line. Our winning slogan was: 'You have to dig to place the rails for a trolley line, and they can change a bus route over night.' "So our first glimpse of Coral Gables was by trolley. The line went out Ponce de Leon Boulevard, thence out Bird Road to the new Coral Gables Seaboard station. It still stands out there rather a tattered looking building now, but bright and shining then. Back in the Gables we transferred to the line that took you to the Country Club section with the Miami Biltmore Hotel, then brand new, as the 'end of the line.' You could stand where the City Hall is now (it wasn't there in '26) and plainly see the Biltmore, for nothing was in the way."

The Hollingsworths did not come to live in Coral Gables until 1933. At that time, a friend from Jacksonville told Mr. Hollingsworth that Coral Gables was a pretty place to live, but would never be a business town, for it was too close to Miami. "Why, look," said the Jacksonville friend, "you could fire a gun down Ponce de Leon Boulevard and not hit a soul!"

But Mr. Hollingsworth had faith in the new town. In his long association with the Chamber of Commerce both in Miami and the Gables, he foresaw the great possibilities of the back country. He knew the value of the rich farming lands south of us in Allapattah Gardens section. It was he who urged such men as Francis Dolan and J. H. Estes, owners of vast acreages, to farm on a large scale. Those men were pioneers in the great potato-raising business, which now is such an industry in South Florida.

"The value of this industry is tremendous to Coral Gables.

During the season, which is four months long, more than 350 hands work in the fields and packing houses close to our city," said Mr. Hollingsworth.

Mr. Hollingsworth, who now represents a life insurance company, at one time was secretary to John T. Alsop, for seven years Mayor of Jacksonville. He has edited many booklets and pamphlets advertising this great area and is author of "Hollingsworth's History of Dade County."

"Coral Gables will always be home to me now, said Mr. Hollingsworth, but I'll never forget my first few days of residence here, when starting out to buy groceries in Coral Gables I usually wound up on University Concourse, for I was lost in the beauty of the winding avenues and drives of this beautifully laid out place."

Chest Agencies Map Move to Central Quarters

Dade County Community Chest agencies which are at present occupying downtown office space will be moved the middle of October into a central housing location, according to action of the board of trustees last week, upon recommendation of the budget committee of the Chest.

The plan has been considered for some time and a careful study made of all available space suitable for this consolidation of rentals, by a committee with Kenneth S. Keyes, chairman. The final decision was made Friday in favor of two floors in the building at 127 N. W. Second Street, which also houses the American Red Cross. With the Defense Council and Volunteer Bureau set up in the school building at N. W. Second Street and Third Avenue, a new welfare area is being established in proximity.

"The purpose for the move on the part of Community Chest agencies, explained Ralph Tracy, Chest executive, "is one of economy, but even more important is efficiency from closer affiliation of the different types of service, more convenient referrals of clients from one agency to another for their special needs. This will make it possible for the person needing help to be interviewed in the same building rather than to be sent to various locations seeking service. There will be a conservation of time for staff and board members attending necessary meetings and conferences."

"A better understanding between the agencies themselves and the Community Chest, Council of Social Agencies and Social Service Exchange will evolve. Increased space will give opportunity for expansion of program as the community grows and with it the social welfare problems. Further, we will be able to show the public

Last Call for Motor Inspection

In order to accommodate a great number of motorists who have not yet had their cars inspected for the regular semi-yearly inspection, the office of inspection (Fire Department) will be open from 8 to 5 P. M. Saturday and from 9 to 12 noon Sunday.

Expiration date for inspection is Tuesday, September 15.

Schneiders Lease Here

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Schneider, formerly of Washington, D. C., have leased the residence at 1031 Avenue Astoria. Mr. Schneider is supervisor of the Dade Pharmacies chain of soda fountains. Mrs. Schneider, who was active in Red Cross in the capital, expects to get into the work at once here.

New Yorkers Buy

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Acker have bought the home at 1230 Avenue Astoria. From New York, the Ackers have already become Gables lovers. Miss Gladys Keket, Mrs. Acker's daughter, will attend the University of Miami this fall. She formerly attended Brooklyn College.

that every effort is being made to conserve all Chest resources."

Agencies involved in the move to new quarters at this time include: Community Chest offices, Family Service Bureau, Catholic Welfare Bureau, Jewish Welfare Bureau, Children's Service Bureau, S. E. Branch Children's Home Society of Florida, Social Service Exchange, Council of Social Agencies. Later others will be added. These agencies have held frequent conferences on the plan and have secured the voluntary approval of the boards of directors as the move was not compulsory but by mutual consent of all concerned. The Chest board approved final plans Friday.

Eye Men Study Plan to Avert Bugs

ST. PETERSBURG (FNS).—The problem of troublesome bugs and insects on unscrubbed porches has commanded the attention of lighting research workers, according to the Florida Optometric Association.

If you use an orange-yellow light bulb on your unscrubbed porch at night you won't be bothered by insects as much as if the lamp is a white or bluish light.

Exhaustive tests prove that insects are most attracted to the brighter, clearer lights, especially bright blue, while orange or orange red were least attractive. Red will draw practically no insects, scientists state.

SCIENCE LESSON SERMON ANNOUNCED

"Substance" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, September 13.

The golden text is: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth forever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations" (Psalms 135:13).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. For by it the elders obtained a good report. Through faith we understand that the words were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do not disappear" (Heb. 11:1-3).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Which ought to be substance to us—the erring, changing, and dying, the mutable and mortal, or the unerring, immutable and immortal? A New Testament writer plainly describes faith a quality of mind as 'the substance of things hoped for'" (p. 278:32-5).

To Baltimore

Mr. and Mrs. Roderick McCullough Thomas, 1305 Avenue Obispo, will leave today for Baltimore. They will visit relatives and friends in South Maryland, Va., and spend some time at Richmond, returning in about a month.

"HOW LARGE ARE THEY?"

GENERAL ELECTRIC MAN CHOOSES GABLES

Miami representative for the General Electric Company, H. M. Killingsworth and Mrs. Killingsworth have leased the residence at 1200 Alhambra Circle for their home. Lila Palmer Lehman was the broker in the transaction.

Mr. and Mrs. Killingsworth and their young daughter came here from Atlanta and considered Coral Gables from the very first as their place of residence. Mr. Killingsworth replaces J. B. Hiers, Jr., who last week was inducted into the U. S. Navy as a lieutenant.

MRS. PAUL WARDE VISITS IN COUNTRY

Mrs. Paul Warde returned this week from a two-weeks' vacation at Granville, Ohio, on the farm and country place of Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Demming, winter residents.

Mrs. Warde reports a wonderful time, for it was her first glimpse of real life on a farm. She had the pleasure of picking fresh green corn, lima beans, etc., soy beans and alfalfa. The farm abounds in chickens, pigs, cows and horses. Mrs. Warde visited in Buffalo before returning.

NURSERY HEAD IN ARMED FORCES

Stanley Mott, nursery superintendent for the Riviera Gardens, South Miami (Christian Wittkow, owner), has joined the armed forces.

He received his commission as a second lieutenant in the artillery at Fort Sill, Okla., and will be transferred to a Mississippi detail soon.

Attends Camp Greystone

Miss Ann Topping, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Topping of 1225 Avenue Astoria, who has been attending Camp Greystone at Tuxedo, S. C., was joined by her parents, spending two weeks in East Tennessee and Hendersonville, N. C., for the return trip to Coral Gables.

Camp Blanding now has its own "navy." The Quartermaster Corps now operates a 28-foot launch and a 24-foot cabin cruiser. A flotilla of 18 row-boats will soon augment the "fleet."

Approximately 800 acres of grass is cultivated at Camp Blanding and civilian operators operate a fleet of 100 hand mowers and seven motorized grass cutters to keep it in trim.

Water Travels 130 Miles to Key West

KEY WEST (FNS).—Fresh water from the wells at Florida City came pouring into Key West this week through what engineers state was the longest waterline in the world, the Florida Keys Aqueduct, which follows the Overseas Highway and that section of the Florida East Coast Railway which is shortly to be converted into a highway.

The water is pumped for a distance of 130 miles through an 18-inch pipeline. At present water is only supplied for use of the military forces, but later connections will provide for the needs of civilians. Ernest Ramsey, manager of the Aqueduct Commission, advised.

Grid Notes

Russell Coates, star halfback and co-captain of the University of Miami football team, has scored two touchdowns in both his sophomore and junior campaigns—and each pair was against the University of Tampa.

The University of Miami, which ranked second in total football attendance in the South last year, hopes to retain that honor this year. The Hurricanes drew 165,206 fans in their home games, a figure topped only by Tulane.

Furman College returns to the University of Miami football schedule for the first time since 1927 this year, playing at Miami October 31. In 1927, first year of varsity football at Miami, Furman won 59 to 7.

First football victory for the University of Miami this fall will be No. 70 for the Hurricanes. Since they started playing back in 1927, Miami has won 69 games, lost 56 and tied 9. Only since 1932, however, have the Hurricanes lost more than they have won in any year.

METHODISTS ANNOUNCE SERVICES

"The Significance of Little Things" will be the topic of the sermon by the Rev. Carlock Hawk at the 11 A. M. service Sunday at the Methodist Church.

The choir, under the direction of the new director, Pauline Phyllis Crawford, contralto, will sing "Great Is Thy Love" by Waters Tiller, will sing, and Behm.
