CORAL GABLES RIVIERA

CROSSROADS!

Coral Gables is at the crossroads! We must decide whether we shall continue the founders' plan or bow to the modern trend. Watch for The Riviera poll next week. Your comment is invited!

VOL. 20—No. 16

CORAL GABLES, FLA., FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1946

TEN CENTS

RIGHT THIS WRONG!

(An Editorial)

During the past few weeks The Riviera has been besieged by the supporters of the various candidates, who are presenting themselves in Tuesday's elections, to editorially support them on the eve of the balloting.

It is the belief of this newspaper that the voters of this community have sufficient intelligence to decide for themselves which candidates they believe will serve them best in the offices they are so diligently seeking.

There is one contest, however, that because of previous circumstances, elevates itself above the category of "politics" and reaches directly into the home of almost every resident. We refer to the selection of a man to represent District Three on the Dade County Board of Public Instruction.

To put it bluntly, Coral Gables is receiving, and has been receiving, the rawest kind of a deal from the majority of the members of the School Board. The man who has slapped this community the hardest is none other than our own representative, Charles Turner of Homestead!

On Tuesday, therefore, we have an opportunity for which we have been waiting a long time. We have the chance to oust Mr. Turner from office and to replace him with James A. Henderson of Coral Gables!

Jimmie Henderson did not seek this office voluntarily. He agreed to run because a group of public spirited citizens prevailed upon him to do so. He announced his candidacy because he realized the deplorable situation that existed in our school system.

Jimmie Henderson is thoroughly cognizant of the situation. He has watched it develop during the 30 years he has lived among us. He has seen Coral Gables gerrymandered into a split district, its pleas ignored, its suggestions scorned. He has pledged himself to right these wrongs.

The incumbent has never been able to adequately answer these charges. As the campaign nears a close he has, instead, chosen the low subterfuge of spreading the misinformation that Jimmie Henderson is a newcomer to this area. Yet as president of the student body of Miami High School, Henderson laid the cornerstone of that building and has absented himself only during two years of war.

The cheap political tricks of the opposition are not pulling the wool over the eyes of the people of Coral Gables. Every Gables parent realizes that if Turner gets back on the school board, Coral Gables will continue to get short shrift as far as its schools are concerned.

That's why any Gables resident in District Three, who holds the welfare of his community close to his heart, will go to the polls Tuesday and elect James A. "Jimmie" Henderson to the Board of Public Instruction.

'Miss Coral Gables' Sought By Local Youth Center

Will Miss Coral Gables be Miss America? That's the question they are asking today at the Coral Gables Youth Center, where plans to stage a contest to select a Miss Coral Gables have been announced for May 11.

The winner of the local contest will be entitled to a week's free vacation at the Cadillac Hotel on Miami Beach, where she will take part in the Miss Florida contest slated to be held there on May 25. Miss Florida will be flown to Atlantic City to compete in the Miss America contest.

Entrants must be between 18 and 25 years old and must either live in Coral Gables or attend school here. Entries are being taken by Betty Ward, recreation director at the Center.

Appearance in a bathing suit, evening dress and talent will be among the factors deciding the winner.

Army-Navy Club Meets Here Monday

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Mackenzie

Funeral and crematory services were held Saturday at Franklin Coe Chapel for Mrs. Helen Mackenzie who passed away Friday after a long illness. Dr. Nevin Schaff, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of which Mrs. Mackenzie was a member, conducted the services.

Survived by her husband, Stuart Mackenzie, Miami attorney, she also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Luck Price, wife of Army Col. John H. Price of Washington, D. C., who was with her mother at the time of her death. Mrs. Mackenzie was active during the war and was associated with the Red Cross Canteen. She was a member of the Coral Gables Business and Professional Women's Club and a Coral Gables resident for the past 20 years.

Traffic Light Removal Draws Protest Here

Despite the presentation of a petition, signed by 15 citizens, the city commission Tuesday declined to replace the traffic light at Alhambra Circle and Lefevre Road during the summer months.

The light was removed two weeks ago because it was considered more of a hazard than a safety measure. The commission deferred action on the petition until fall.

Autos Collide When Left Turn Is Attempted

The corner of Coral Way and Douglas Road was the scene of an accident Friday afternoon, when Arthur Roy Aiken, 42, of 4427 N. W. 23rd Street, struck an oncoming car while making a left hand turn.

The second car, owned by Jos. Damico of 3059 S. W. 18th St., was undrivable after the impact which broke the front axle of the vehicle. Both cars were coming through a green light when the accident occurred. No arrests were made.

Architectural Debate Grows Heated

Ask to Learn Miami Fees For Sewage

Disposal Rate Based on Water Said Too High

An immediate investigation into the costs of the handling of Coral Gables' sewage by the proposed Miami sewage disposal plant was ordered Tuesday by the city commission.

The action was taken after hearing Milton B. Garris, consulting engineer, state that the need for a sewage disposal system in the business district was very serious.

Garris also said that the city should investigate the possibility of pumping direct to the Miami disposal plant instead of trying in at Douglas Road. He said it might prove a cheaper means of disposal.

Garris, who prepared the city's preliminary plans for the sewer lines, advised the city to concentrate on the business section and then gradually expand.

City Commissioner Paul Brinson suggested that it might also be feasible to investigate the cost of constructing a disposal plant for Coral Gables, should the rate of using the Miami system prove too high.

Garris said that a suggested rate of two-thirds of the total water rate would be too high for Coral Gables because of the amount of water used for lawn tending in this community.

Word was received from Washington last week that the Federal Works Agency will advance $12,856 for necessary plans and engineering surveys for a disposal system.

City Mourns Dud Atkinson, Granada Pro

Gables golfers joined with city employees today in mourning the death, early Monday, of Douglas "Dud" Atkinson, managing professional of the Granada Golf Course since 1928.

The 55-year-old pro, under whose tutelage many a Gableite learned links prowess, was buried Wednesday in the Graceland Mausoleum.

Dud spent his last day doing what he loved best, playing golf. Suffering from a heart ailment, he had only recently returned to the game and had told friends recently that he felt well enough to begin active teaching again.

He was born in Leeds, England and came to America as a youth. He came here 22 years ago from Norfolk, Va.

Surviving are his wife, Ruth; three daughters, Mrs. J. M. Heck and Mrs. J. R. Hasencamp, both of Miami and Mrs. Andrew Lester, Hobe Sound, and seven grandchildren.

Local Women Hear Henderson Attack Board

The deplorable situation now existing in Dade County's schools was related to an enthusiastic audience of over 100 women yesterday morning by James A. "Jimmie" Henderson, who addressed the gathering at the Coral Gables Woman's Club.

Henderson stated that nearly every building is run down and in need of repairs, and cited the need for a man who understands the building problems.

Henderson also refuted state ments made in a whispering campaign that he was a newcomer to the area, and told the women that he had lived here for 30 years and had attended the Dade County Schools. He explained that one of his opponents was taking advantage of the fact that he spent two years in Georgia, during the war building houses for war workers, to spread the inference that he had recently arrived in this area.

He also renewed his pledges to fight for adequate school buildings and facilities, adequate school maintenance and veterans' education.

LOCAL POLICE say that failure to observe two "stop" signs caused this accident. The victim is Mrs. Lou Althouse, 4630 S.W. Second Terrace, who was struck down while riding her bicycle, by a car driven by Mrs. A. M. Ewald, 540 Maderia Avenue. Mrs. Althouse was hospitalized and Mrs. Ewald arrested. The accident occurred last week at Salzedo Street and Majorca Avenue. —Police Photo.

Board's Stand On Principal Is Questioned

The contention of members of the Dade County Board of Public Instruction that they are powerless to reject school principal nominations made by trustees was questioned today by a spokesman for a group of local parents.

The group took issue with a statement of Charles Turner, in which he told a gathering of Gables parents that the board could not reject a nomination made by the trustees for the principalship of the Elementary School unless they could show "cause."

Sections of Chapter 22087, General Laws of Florida, 1943, were cited as authority. It is (Please Turn to Page Four)

GABLES REPRESENTED ON GROUP PROBING VET HOUSING PLAN

Coral Gables has a representative on the County Zoning Board's "secret committee" to investigate the Riviera Gardens Veteran's Housing project, The Riviera learned today.

While names of the committee are being withheld, to prevent them from being subjected to "pressure," it was learned that the Gables and other nearby communities are represented.

The committee was named after a request to lower county zoning restrictions on the tract, located on the west side of Red Road between Blue and Sunset Roads, was made by the American Legion, sponsors of the housing project.

The idea of lowering the restrictions to permit the building of smaller homes for veterans drew fire at the zoning board's hearing and brought about the appointment of the committee.

The Gables zoning board has gone on record as being opposed to any lowering of restrictions on Red Road itself, but as being amenable to allowing smaller homes west of the thoroughfare.

The fact finding committee will meet on May 13 to prepare its recommendations.

VETERAN PLANS NEW CLEANING PLANT HERE

E. J. Tilton, Jr., of Savannah, Ga., is completing details for the immediate construction of this dry cleaning plant at the corner of Salzedo Street and Almeria Avenue.

Tilton, who served as an Army pilot in the European theater during the war, will continue his studies at the University of Miami this fall in addition to operating the plant.

The corner location in the fast developing Crafts section makes possible drive-in service from both the street and the avenue. The building and equipment will feature the last word in service and convenience to customers. Synthetic cleaning fluids and new processing will make possible superior quality work with "while you wait" service, Tilton announced. The hazards of fire and explosion will be eliminated by the new processes and materials.

A refrigerated fireproof fur-storage vault will be installed in the building.

R. H. Shaddick handled the realty transaction and Gordon Severud designed the building. Engineering service is being furnished by Baxter and Gorman.

Scrap Paper Collection Ends Here

Special Calls Will Be Made To Clean Up

No more collections of scrap paper will be made during the summer months in Coral Gables, it was announced today by Mrs. Herberta Leonardi, sponsor of the Wheel Club of Ponce de Leon High School.

The club, which has been conducting monthly paper drives, made its last collection last Sunday. The work will be resumed when school opens in the fall.

Mrs. Leonardi stated, however, that persons who have an accumulation of paper that was not picked up Sunday may have it called for by telephoning her today at Ponce de Leon High School. The phone number is 4-3745.

Auto Testing Slated for Wednesday Only

After Wednesday, May 1, and starting on that day, the brake testing machine at the police station will be open Wednesdays only from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., the Police Department announced today.

There are still several hundred cars that have not been inspected and the Police Department has been issued orders to arrest all drivers who do not have inspection certificates. These orders will go into effect shortly.

Zoning Board Member Meets With Commission

A new method of cooperation between the zoning board and the city commission, whereby a member of one body sits in on the meetings of the other group, was inaugurated this week.

Henry Clay Anderson, chairman of the Zoning Board, attended the meeting of the city commission on Tuesday evening and advised the commission of the board's stand on zoning matters. City Commissioner Paul Brinson will represent the commission at the next meeting of the Zoning Board. It is planned to rotate the job of "sitting in" among commissioners and zoning board members.

Apartment For Vets Is Approved

12-Unit Building Is Planned for Galiano Street

Plans for the construction of a 12-unit apartment house to provide living quarters for veterans and their families were revealed at the meeting of the city commission on Tuesday.

R. K. Cooper, who plans to build two buildings, housing six units each, appeared before the commission to obtain an exception to the zoning ordinance, to allow the apartments to face on Galiano Street. The two buildings, colonial in style, are to occupy the entire block on Galiano between Antilla and Sjonnia Avenues. Cost is estimated from $80,000 to $100,000. Rents will be within the reach of veterans, Cooper said.

Failure to See Driver's Signal Causes Accident

Failure to see a hand stop signal resulted in an accident Saturday at Grand Avenue and Jefferson in Coconut Grove, according to Wilbur Gardner, negro chauffeur of 3928 Charles Avenue, Coconut Grove, who was making a left hand turn when the car in front of him stopped suddenly.

Driver of the second car, Jas. E. Branker of 139 Frow Avenue, Coconut Grove, declared that he had put out his hand signifying a stop and that Gardner didn't see it. Damage to both cars was slight and no arrests were made.

No Left Turn Rule Rescinded During Summer

The controversial "no left turn" ruling at Ponce de Leon Boulevard and Coral Way will be suspended for the summer months at 12:01 a.m. May 19, it was announced today.

The rule, which has been both praised and criticized since it was inaugurated, has not been definitely cancelled, it was pointed out. In all probability it will be placed in effect again next winter.

Organization of Merchants Is Planned by Chamber

Plans to re-activate the Merchants Bureau of the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce were announced this week. Following the installation of the chamber's new board of directors and election of officers next Wednesday evening, a meeting of all merchant-members will be called for an early date.

Two items of importance to be decided will be the selection of a chairman of merchants and voting on the Wednesday half-holiday. "Coral Gables merchants always have followed the Miami practice of closing each Wednesday at 12:30 p.m., beginning the last Wednesday in May and ending the last Wednesday in August," said Mary T. Moore, executive secretary. "This year, that will mean observing the half-holiday on 14 Wednesdays beginning May 29."

Mrs. Moore said a few merchants have called the chamber to ask about the half-holiday and that notice will be given as soon as a corrected, up-to-date list of merchant-members can be compiled following the recent Chamber of Commerce campaign.

Mass Meet Is Set for May 14th

'City Facing Important Decision; Mayor States

Advocates of the modern architecture and adherents to the original Gables' idea of a Mediterranean type city were mobilizing forces today in preparation for a mass meeting to decide the city's future plans. The meeting, originally scheduled for May 7, has been postponed until Tuesday, May 14, at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Characterized by Mayor Thomas C. Mayes as one of the most important decisions confronting the city, the issue has been the topic of violent pro and con discussions since it was brought to a head by Walter DeGarmo, one of the original Coral Gables architects.

Already many citizens have indicated that they will attend the session on May 14, and Mrs. William T. Hilles, president of the Coral Gables Woman's Club, has indicated that her organization will attend in a body. In addition to the city commission, members of the board of supervising architects, the zoning board and the planning board will be assembled to hear the discussion.

DeGarmo brought the matter to the commission's attention last Tuesday when he appeared in person to protest the action of the board of architects in refusing to approve plans he had drawn for a Mediterranean type of store and apartment building.

DeGarmo stated that the trend toward the modern "is threatening the character and future growth of Coral Gables."

He charged the board of architects, composed of Marian Manley, Upton G. Ewing and Edward Rempe, as acting as absolute dictator and of violating the building code.

"I am not blasting modernistic building trends," he said, "I am not arguing in favor of any style or against any style of architecture. All have their proper use under appropriate conditions. I do contend that the Board has no right to ignore the law and impose their own ideas—no (Please Turn to Page 12)

Local Man Promoted First Fight Of 'Brown Bomber' Joe Louis

By BETTY WEAVER

Promotion of Joe Louis' first fight before an audience, making Robert Ripley's Believe It Or Not column, and promoting wrestling and boxing matches throughout the Midwest were among the highlights of ex-Sports Promoter Carl A. Singleton, who now owns and operates Carl's Liquor Stores at 321 Al Azar Avenue and 238 South Dixie Highway.

Joe Louis' first boxing bout took place in Detroit, Mich., back in 1932. It was under the sponsorship of the Detroit Free Press Golden Gloves Tournament which Singleton had a hand in promoting. He also gained recognition when Robert Ripley featured him in his column for promoting two wrestling matches where one man fought in two different fights in two different countries on the same night — it happened up around the Canadian border.

Was in Show Business

Mr. Singleton became interested in wrestling through his work in show business. It was the custom of the Gayety Theatre in Louisville, Ky., to present a wrestling match with the show on Friday nights. As treasurer of the theatre he naturally became treasurer of the wrestling matches. Every four weeks he promoted a match in the Louisville Armory, and through his association with wrestlers and different persons connected with wrestling he seriously took up the idea of fight promotion when the inauguration of talking pictures killed show business and meant the end of big stage productions.

After staying in Louisville for three years, Mr. Singleton went back to Indiana, where he was born, and began promoting sports. His first promotion took place in a reconverted church which held over 10,000 people. Mr. Singleton promoted matches and weekly shows in 26 Indiana towns. After getting these towns started he moved to the Michigan area and opened towns throughout Michigan, Canada and all the major Ohio cities. He handled over five million dollars worth of gate receipts in these areas.

Best Wrestlers

Among the best wrestlers Mr. Singleton handled were Jim Londos, one of the all-time greats; Jack Reynolds, former welterweight champion of the world; Billy Thom, now coach at the University of Indiana; Joe Savoldi, all-American football player from Norte Dame, Bronco Negurski, fullback from Illinois, and Jim McMillen.

"The difference between wrestlers and boxers," explained Mr. Singleton, "is that wrestlers are educated and fighters are not. Every major college has a wrestling team and top coaches who have wrestled themselves. Colleges usually turn out about 125 wrestlers a year and some of them take it up as a profession. We get a lot of stars that way."

War Took Talent

When the war started and took all the good talent leaving only old men in the wrestling game, Mr. Singleton and his wife decided to come back to Miami, where they had been once before on their honeymoon. He took a job with a local liquor store in order to learn the business and soon opened his two liquor stores in the Gables.

"Wrestling and show business down here is strictly junk," says Mr. Singleton. "Miami is so far away from other major cities that it is not worth the while of top talent to come down."

Backers Cite Cannon's Aid To Gables

Coral Gables supporters of Congressman Pat Cannon pointed to the assurance that Coral Gables will have a new federal building as soon as the government construction program is started as evidence that the congressman is looking out for local interests in Washington.

"Pat worked untiringly in Washington and with officials of the local Chamber of Commerce to secure the promise of this new federal building," O. B. Sutton, local spokesman for Cannon stated.

Cannon also promised the Gables residents that he would not let up in his efforts for this building until it "stands completed and in use."

Cannon supporters expressed the opinion that he would carry Coral Gables by a comfortable margin. They accused his opponent, George Smathers, of twisting words in his attempt to label Cannon an "errand boy" for special interests.

"The people of Coral Gables realize that Pat is working all the time for the good of the people in his district. There are many times when he is doing more good for the people by not sitting in the house, but by contacting government agencies to assure the fact that his district gets the representation it deserves," they stated.

Florida Has Only Polio Cases, Weiland Tells Kiwanis Club

South Florida is the only place in the United States where infantile paralysis can be found today, Dr. Arthur H. Weiland told members of the Coral Gables Kiwanis Club, Tuesday, at the Country Club of Coral Gables.

Weiland stated that a survey completed on April 22 revealed that 52 cases had been reported in Florida, 23 of which were in Dade County. He said that since that time the number of cases have probably risen to 75.

No respecter of age, he stated that polio had struck children from 7 months to young men of 27.

Asked if the present number of cases existing constituted an epidemic, Weiland answered with an emphatic "no" and expressed the opinion that the cases were lessening in number.

He said that the cases had started this year, and that the usual peak for Florida was in May and June. This year the disease made its appearance in February and March. In the North polio is extremely rare in the cold months, and the peak is usually hit in July and August.

Weiland also said that for every case not diagnosed that there are probably from 10 to 20 that have never been diagnosed. He stated that tests made of members of a family in which an acute polio case had developed revealed that all of the members of the family had the polio virus present in throat cultures but never developed the acute stage. These people are potential carriers, he said.

The doctor said that the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is one of the finest polio units in America. He pointed out that of

"Everything For The Motor Car"

IT'S NOT Let George Do It AT PARKS

It's let SLIM do it. That's a fact, day after day, hour after hour, that's the word we get: "I don't know what's wrong with the thing—let Slim fix it." And fix it he does. For in addition to excellent training in all phases of automotive repair, Slim has that one quality for which there is no substitute—experience. You can't produce a problem, or a situation, which Slim hasn't run into before. That's worth something. It does away with the necessity for wrong guessing and doing the right thing by the process of elimination. Slim knows what to do, and does the right thing first.

SLIM—Born R. A. McLeod 45 years ago in Hallock, Minnesota. Has been with Parks Motor Service since 1936, and in the automobile business since 1916. Broke into the business when he was recommended by his school principal to a large motor manufacturer who was looking for a smart youngster to learn the business. Has been learning it ever since. Has worked in the Hudson, Studebaker and Continental Motors factories, and at Kelley Field Aviation School in Texas where he set up and conditioned Liberty and Hispano-Suiza motors. SLIM is married and father of three children.

That's the story. Slim isn't the most popular mechanic in the Gables because of his pleasing personality (and Lord knows he has one) but because he knows his stuff.

A Name for It

The Latin has a name for it. You'll see it on every penny—E. PLURIBUS UNUM or "Out of many, one."

Humankind, of course, is a lot of people. It makes you tired before you start—just to think about the task of trying to unite them all.

In that case the Latin E PLURIBUS would be translated into "me, the wife and kids, grandpa and the neighbors."

We can get together in our homes under the motto—"God is boss in this house."

A penny may be small change but, if we do what it says, it is going to mean a big change to America and to the world.

The atomic age is here to stay, but are we?

There is seldom any change through chance. We face today change by choice or change by force.

Only those who find no power in religion make a religion of power.

OUR TOWN It's Up to You!

By Jim Moore

If you have any feeling at all for this town we call Coral Gables, you'll be sitting in the commission chamber at 8 p.m. Tuesday evening, May 14th.

For at that time you and I will be called upon to give our opinions on "one of the most important decisions we have ever been called upon to make."

On that evening we are going to decide whether this town is going to be the kind of a community its founders planned it to be or if we are going to deviate from that path and be swept along with the tide toward the functional and the modern.

This crisis has been brewing for the past six or seven years. The decision has been continually side-stepped, as one modern building after another got the official okay.

Perhaps those (and I am one of them), who have shuddered as the streamline replaced the graceful Latin curve, are totally wrong. Perhaps this community should discard its ideas of being a bit of old Spain and the Riviera transplanted on the shores of Florida.

But that is not for me to decide. Neither is it for you, as an individual, to decide. The fact that I feel that such a step will rob this community of its individuality and make it just another town is beside the point.

I believe that Walter DeGarmo is absolutely right when he says, "The function of the Board of Architects is not to alter the character of the city. That is the privilege of the whole community if they wish to do so."

This is why it is so important that you be there the night when this very important step is taken up. That is why it is so important that we give deep thought to what we are about to decide.

That is why, as we stand on the threshold of a $200,000,000 building program, we must think long and seriously before we proceed.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

Mack and Jack, for whom golf has a deep attraction, Reviewed last year's game with little satisfaction, And after going over it in retrospection, Agreed certain playing faults required correction.

For one thing, this pair of ancient golfers said, One must complete a shot before one raise his head.

And when the club head meets the ball, the thing to do Is not to check the swing, but let it follow through!

One should not impede following players, but He should take time to properly line up a putt. With these important details kept well in mind, A vast improvement in their game they'd surely find.

And so, each pulling a smooth-running caddy cart, On a nine-hole experimental test they start, Firm in the conviction that observance of those kinks Would insure them greater prestige on the links.

Well, brother, you know how it is—those heads arose Before the consummation of their lusty blows. Ball were topped, sliced, driven into deepest trough; Putts ran past the cups or didn't go far enough.

And so, long before nine holes had been completed, These two old dubs limped on, weary and defeated. But, brother, if you think they'll never try again, And wager on it, you just don't know these two old men.

Extra Hour of Daylight Finds Welcome Among Business People in Coral Gables

By MARY JANE STODDART

"Let there be light," a philosopher once said, and with the advent of the new daylight saving time which went into effect this week, Coral Gables residents seem to be in strict accord with his statement.

Especially happy to have the extra hour of daylight are the Coral Gables business men and women who have been for so long accustomed to returning home when the moon was coming up and never having any time to spend sitting on their lawns or working in the garden.

Says Mrs. William A. Bray of 124 Mendoza: "I am going to go swimming as often and for as long as I can. I think it is wonderful to have the extra hour."

Declares Mrs. James Petrecca of 8700 Bird Road and the Coral Way Flower Shop: "I will have an extra hour in which to invent new corsage arrangements for the women of Coral Gables, and to keep on with the working angle."

"I am going to sit back and enjoy that extra hour," declares Mr. Frank L. Carter, of 2185 S. W. 14th Terrace, "and I wish we could have daylight saving time year-round."

Harry Letaw of 219 Coral Way states: "I am really going to get to work in my lime grove now." While Ensign J. B. Mann of Mulberry, Florida, wishes it would be incorporated all over the state of Florida and that the trains and busses would coordinate with it.

Mr. Lindal Norris of 549 San Estaban, says: "It will be a good opportunity to work

Board's Stand On Principal Is Questioned

(Continued from Page One) claimed that this law places Dade County in a different category from smaller counties where a supreme court decision requiring that "cause" be shown for rejection of nominations is applicable.

The sections cited require that the nominations for school principal be made by the trustees, but gives the board power to reject any nominations. Nothing is said about "cause." This particular law has never been interpreted by the supreme court in a test case.

Members of the group's committee, which had presented a list of qualified residents as its nominations for the school principalship, received letters this week from Dr. James T. Wilson, superintendent of public instruction, citing reasons why he believed Mrs. Bertha Webb should

Townsend Group Endorses Cannon

The candidacy of Congressman Pat Cannon received the endorsement of the Townsend District Council today in a statement which said that the Townsendites' committee in Washington "is still trying to educate the new congressmen and know what a well experienced congressman is worth."

The council is planning a rally in Bayfront Park at 3 p.m. Sunday, at which time James P. Jackson will be guest speaker.

Mrs. Harry Bell of 282 1/2 Alhambra Circle welcomes the extra hour because "I will now have more time to work with my gardenias and also to enjoy an extra playtime with two of my neighbor's little children."

Mrs. Ann Swanson of 621 Navarre Avenue doesn't like the extra hour too well for "I work all day, teach school two nights a week and visit my husband at the Nautilus Hospital the other nights. I'm afraid I'd rather it be lighter in the morning to keep me from sleeping late."

College Student Miss Marian Dott of 5878 S. W. 29th Street admits "With the extra hour I'll have more time to spend in the University Slop Shop."

"I'll get to see my house when it is light," says Mrs. E. C. Segert of Sidonia Avenue, "and have more time to work around the house when I get home from work." Adds her husband, Mr. Segert: "I like it because I won't have the sun shining on me early in the morning."

Assistant Manager of the Gables Theatre, Mr. Bert Greenwood of 1818 S. W. 17th Street, declares: "Although the hour does not effect those in the theatre business particularly, we certainly will have more children attending the movies."

While Mr. John B. Madge of 3440 S. W. 12th Street concludes the different opinions by stating: "The extra hour will be one in which we can do as we please while it is still daylight. Daylight saving should be year-round so that even business people can work on their hobbies or in their yards. I would much rather rise in the dark or semi-darkness and get home while it is still light."

No Political Promises Can Outweigh These Practical Performances

What do you look for in your Congressman?

A man who will seek personal publicity and fame for himself?

Or a man who seeks benefit for YOU!

Congressman Pat Cannon is the second man—the man who works for you. For he knows as you do that no man can serve two masters. He serves his district. He reflects YOUR wishes on legislative matters, national and international. He insures your district its rightful share of federal works and expenditures.

This is not mere theory, nor even a promise of what WILL be done. It is cold fact. Congressman Pat Cannon brought $125,814,592 to your district in federal works. (Itemized in center column).

Congressman Pat Cannon's experience and know-how are recognized in the national Congress. He is the first Florida man ever to be named to the vitally important Agricultural Committee of the House of Representatives. His service on that committee has speeded Florida's agricultural progress into national prominence. He not only saved the farmers of South Florida from ruin by timely federal assistance in labor and housing but he also made Florida an important factor in feeding not only the nation but the world.

Congressman Cannon's fighting integrity is recognized in the national Congress. His fight against drafting 18-year-olds for military service won sweeping public approval!

Why is experience vital?

Experience can be another word for knowledge.

Congressman Pat Cannon's knowledge of world affairs led him to advocate and vote for the fortification of Guam BEFORE Pearl Harbor.

Congressman Pat Cannon's knowledge of world affairs led him TWO YEARS AGO to demand a firm standing in dealing with Stalin in Russia. That prophetic demand has been more than justified by current events.

Now out of his knowledge of world affairs, Congressman Pat Cannon says bluntly, "The atom bomb is ours. Let us keep it to INSURE world peace."

Congressman Pat Cannon believes that democratic ways must prevail in a democracy. For that reason he has authored the bill now in Congress giving enlisted personnel of the armed forces the same terminal leave pay rights that officers now enjoy.

And it was this knowledge of human affairs that spurred him to work for and vote for every piece of national legislation benefitting men and women of the armed forces and their families and veterans and their families.

It was his knowledge of world affairs that spurred Congressman Pat Cannon as a member of the House Naval Affairs Committee to help put through the naval program which gave us our two-ocean navy.

The experience that means knowledge was important in the wartime Congress. It is DOUBLY important in your post war Congress!

Holland Ends Campaign with Miami Rally

Spessard L. Holland, candidate for the United States Senate, will make his final pre-primary appearance in Miami on Monday, May 6, in Bayfront Park.

The former governor's Dade county committee reserved the use of the park for Holland early in the campaign, attaching great significance for this area's future, to Holland's decision to make his final public platform speech in Miami.

While Bayfront Park has been reserved for him he will share it with all candidates for the other offices, not merely for an introduction of them but allotting five and ten-minute periods for the other candidates to state their cases before the audience.

The biggest single development in Holland's Dade County campaign has been the spontaneous movement among the young men of the area to come out for him and actively support him. This movement started among the World War II veterans but was expanded to include all of the younger men who manifested a keen interest in supporting the former governor. A special division of this group was formed by the students at Miami University.

The Bayfront Park rally is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. in order to give time for all of the other candidates to get in their final appeals to the voters.

Bill Lantaff Cites Planks In Platform

Bill Lantaff, World War II veteran, wound up a county-wide stumping tour this week restating his 10-point platform which he hopes the voters will recognize as "a square deal for Dade County and a progressive government for Florida" and select him as their representative on the state legislature from Group 3.

The 32-year-old Miami attorney outlined his program of legislation if elected, as:

1. Modernization of the state government to "remove it from the horse and buggy days," by remodeling the Florida constitution.

2. Economy in the state government through reorganization so that taxes can be lowered. One of the ways this can be accomplished, he said, is to provide a central purchasing agent for Florida who will be required to buy his supplies in the county in which they will be used. Lantaff declared that Dade county furnishes the major portion of the state's revenue and if it insisted on reorganization and economy in Florida, the state could still accomplish many needed improvements, he listed, at lower cost to the taxpayer.

3. The right of labor to collective bargaining. Amendment of the workmen's compensation act to provide protection from occupational diseases and from long-involved court proceedings on meritorious claims. Also immediate amendment of the same act to raise compensation payments without a corresponding raise in collections from the working man.

4. For the veteran—a strong, state-supported program of on-the-job training. Waiving of occupational licenses and fees. Exemption from paying installments on pension plans for the time the veteran spent in service. "This would help the ex-serviceman to get a job and re-establish himself in his home community," Lantaff explained. "He doesn't want a dole."

5. An amended school district consolidation bill for Dade County to provide for one trustee from each of the county commissioners' districts so that all sections of the county are represented on the school board of trustees, and all children have the same educational opportunities.

6. Submission of all controversial legislation affecting Dade county to a referendum in the belief that "the people of Dade county are able to decide what is best for them on controversial issues."

7. "House cleaning of our

Voting Hours Eight to Eight 'Daylight Time'

Voting hours in the Dade County primary and county improvement balloting for May 7 have been fixed from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. it is announced by Charles H. Crandon, chairman of the Dade County Board of Commissioners.

The change from the previous hours of 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. was required by the attorneys for the financial institutions that will purchase the proposed bonds, if approved.

The change was requested because of the change from standard time to daylight time, and state law specifies the polls shall be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. standard time.

By opening at 8 daylight time, which is 7 standard time, the voting will comply with the law.

state institutions" for the insane, the feeble-minded, and the corrective institutions for boys and girls. "They now stand as a shameful monument to the neglect accorded them by past sessions of the legislature," Lantaff declared.

8. "Harmony" among future Dade County delegations to the state legislature because the "leading county of the state must present a united front for progress in Florida."

9. A minimum teachers' salary of $3,000 a year, and amendment of the Teachers' Retirement Plan to retire them at the highest rate of pay earned during their career.

10. A "positive state conservation program" which, in addition to preserving the natural resources and wildlife of Florida, will speedily promote the development of the Everglades National Park and establish a recreation ground in the Florida Keys "for the thousands of Dade County bridge fishermen and their families."

As qualifications for office, Lantaff listed his experience as an outstanding student leader at the University of Florida; two years as a city judge for Miami Beach; five years in the Army, where he rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the War Department intelligence division in the West Indies and in Washington, and as a leader among civic organizations in Miami Beach and Miami Springs, where he now lives.

Unique Sandwiches Are Featured by New Store Here

No. 50 Avenue Aragon is fast becoming as famous an address and place to eat as "Lindy's" and "Rubin's" in New York, famous for their sandwiches and chop plates. Seven More Local Women Give Food Saving Tips

Seven more Gables housewives gave their ideas on how to cooperate with President Truman's food conservation plea in statements to The Riviera this week.

Declares Mrs. Joseph J. Schlegel of 500 Sevilla Avenue: "I believe that conserving our meat and wheat is an excellent idea, and I plan my menus accordingly. We always have one meatless day a week and I believe I am fortunate that all of my family like fish."

"I am planning meatless days," says Mrs. John J. Curran of 530 Almeria Avenue, "and I think it is a wise idea for everyone to do so to help those starving people. I have always tried not to waste food, however."

Adds Mrs. Frank J. Andre of 917 Majorea Avenue, "We don't use much bread in my family and we have one meatless dinner a week even if we have meat in the house."

Two meatless days a week is on the schedule of Mrs. Richard I. Dugan, who also adds: "I think the program is an excellent one, and I have tried to conserve food and lessen waste of food ever since the war."

Although she hasn't planned her meatless menus yet, Mrs. George E. Henry of 331 Navarre Avenue, says: "I believe that sooner or later we will all have to have meatless days and that we should cooperate with the program as much as possible."

"With only two in my family the conservation program hasn't affected me much," declares Mrs. Clark Young, of 1725 Country Club Prado, "and I don't have to worry too much about it."

Concluding the opinion of these Coral Gables housewives is Mrs. Arthur G. Stohn of 1111 Milan Avenue, who states: "The program is a very nice idea. I am planning on having a meatless day once a week if that will really help."

Red Wallace Cites Platform For Voters

Webster G. "Red" Wallace, the 43-year-old GI veteran legislative candidate, entered the last week of the campaign with a complete explanation of his platform for "Economy in government and good legislation beneficial to all the residents of Dade county."

He declared that Florida must be kept "100 per cent in the fight for lower freight rates" in order that "the great amount of agricultural products and citrus fruits grown in Dade county may be produced and shipped to Eastern markets under fair competition with western growers."

"Dade county growers, canners and shippers are penalized because of the unequal freight rates," Wallace asserted. "This matter is a serious one for it hits the pocketbook of practically every resident here."

The veteran, a Dade county taxpayer and resident here for 15 years and who is a University of Miami alumni, next detailed his platform under separate headings. He again voiced his stand against any new taxes and made a plea for economy in government under the bill which he will introduce providing that all state revenues be placed in a general fund. This bill provides that all expenditures be made by a central disbursing office with all accounts subject to audit. This, too, he said, would give the governor and legislature control over appropriations.

His platform, Wallace pointed out, includes many subjects. Among them are: 1. Reduced taxes. 2. Adequate housing and jobs for veterans. 3. Increased pay and adequate pensions for school teachers. 4. Conservation of Florida's resources and strict game and fish laws. 5. Increased old age assistance. 6. Reduce the voting age from 21 to 18 years. 7. Equal rights for women under their suffrage. 8. Rehabilitation of the state institutions. 9. Referendum on all measures effecting changes in political sub-

Free Juice For Kiddies Is Advocated

Free orange juice and milk for school children and an organized recreational program as part of the public school system would do much to eliminate the problem of juvenile delinquency, Mrs. Frances O. Warriner, candidate for the State Legislature in Group 2, said Tuesday night.

In a radio address, Mrs. Warriner reminded her listeners that she had sponsored a bill at the last session of the legislature to provide four ounces of orange juice and half a pint of milk for elementary grade pupils.

"Surveys show," she said, "that children who are slow—or even delinquent—become improved in health and studies when they are given a breakfast that includes milk and orange juice. They change into cheerful, happy, well-behaved children."

Proposing that recreational facilities should be made available after school hours as part of the school system, Mrs. Warriner said the program should include a workshop for teen age boys and a hobby or craft workshop for young girls.

"Certainly it is far better to provide these things for our children now," Mrs. Warriner said, "than to wait until they become delinquent and to provide a home of correction or a cell in a penitentiary."

Here's the Program

So, you want to know what the county improvement program is? It is: A children's home and juvenile court, a tuberculosis sanitarium, revision of Jackson Memorial Hospital, expanded quarters for the old folks, a park for South Dade County, a warehouse for county equipment, an auditorium and an aquarium. WHERE TO VOTE:
Your own home precinct. Address of polling places are published in this issue. If you are not sure where to vote phone 9-1809.

WHEN TO VOTE:
Between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. If possible working people should vote before going to work, to avoid last-minute congestion at the polls. Housewives should vote before 4 in the afternoon. Wives who cannot accompany their husbands to the polls in the morning should not wait until hubby comes home after work but should vote separately in the early afternoon. Free transportation will be available in all neighborhoods.

IF YOU'RE GOING AWAY:
Absentee ballots can be cast through May 4 by appearing at the office of County Judge Blanton.

WHO CAN VOTE:
All property owners who registered on the Dade County books before April 6. City of Miami registration alone IS NOT SUFFICIENT.

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE:
Dade County's rapid growth requires that all citizens join for improvement of our home area. The law requires that 50 per cent and one of the registered freeholders vote to make a bond election legal. Whether you vote YES OR NO, get out and vote. Your own ballot may be that vital "one" more than 50 per cent that is required.

on the same platform. As the race entered the home stretch, Richard G. Danner, former head of the Miami FBI and manager of the Smathers campaign, felt certain he said, that his war veteran candidate "will win by a large majority."

"Monroe county appears to be in the Smathers caravan by almost two to one," Danner said. "Miami Beach is overwhelmingly for Smathers. Most Dade County precincts appear preponderantly in the Smathers column. Most of Collier county seems safely for Smathers and all factors appear to give Smathers a clean-cut victory in all three counties of the district."

With world peace and proper treatment of war veterans as the chief problems of the future, Smathers said in a Miami Beach speech that "Pat Cannon is admittedly an errand boy in Westinghouse for a privileged few."

Charging that Cannon "either does not read the newspapers or wilfully ignores the facts in a deceitful, red-herring campaign designed to confuse the issues and focus attention on false issues and to detract attention from his glaring dereliction to duty," Smathers told Cannon to his face in a surprise meeting on the platform last Saturday night, that the public rightfully "expects from you honest and forthright answers to the questions I have repeatedly asked you."

"In the presence of the 350 people here tonight," Smathers added, "I tell you for the third time, in response to your questions, that I advocate a straight-forward, firm, non-appealing policy toward Russia and retention by the United States of all atomic bomb secrets, until such time as the United Nations organization proves, beyond a doubt, that it is an effective instrument for world peace; that I am opposed to the north Florida cross-state canal."

Provide For Aged
Proper provision must be made for our old folks. IT WILL BE DONE IF YOU GET OUT AND VOTE ON MAY 7, because the county improvement program takes care of that.

CONSOLIDATION!
I approve the principle of consolidating duplicating governmental functions, but am opposed specifically to the so-called Thomson plan. This plan would do away with Dade County's 18 municipalities, merging them into a single county unit, without allowing the people in each municipality to vote on the question.

The people of a municipality are entitled to the right to vote on whether their city, town or village is to be abolished.

Mincer Points To Record In Office

"The best way to judge a candidate running for public office is by the things he has accomplished rather than the promises he makes," says Glenn Mincer, in furtherance of his candidacy for the office of State Attorney.

"After having served an apprenticeship of more than thirteen years as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, the Governor of Florida last July, 1945, appointed me to the office of State Attorney, which I have occupied since that time. During this period of ten months I have handled approximately one hundred and seventy-four court proceedings of different kinds, including fifteen capital cases, ten of which were convicted, three were acquitted, one was a mistrial and one was a directed verdict. Two of these cases which ended unfavorably to the State were 'left-overs' from the prior administration. It is noteworthy that my opposition has not seen fit to find fault or criticize a single one of these one hundred and seventy-four cases. No State Attorney has a better record than this for a comparable period of time.

"The operation of the State Attorney's Office is a business. It is our constant effort to keep abreast of the times, improve our methods and get better results.

"At the suggestion of I. Ray Mills, resident and former police officer of Coral Gables, and present Special Investigator for the State Attorney's Office, a county-wide Homicide Bureau has been formed, consisting of approximately twenty of the best police officers in Dade and Monroe Counties.

"William Kimbrough, former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent and present director of Public Safety at Coral Gables, and other outstanding officers of the Greater Miami area were appointed as a special committee to prepare a homicide manual, setting out the newest and most scientific methods of obtaining, marking and preserving evidence in homicide and rape cases in order to meet the technical rules of evidence. This manual, the first of its kind in the State of Florida, is now in the hands of all the police, sheriffs and constables of Dade and Monroe Counties, and is being used by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the training of their Florida Agents. Our next step is to organize a school this summer for the purpose of teaching and training police officers as to the best and most scientific methods of acquiring and preserving evidence in solving homicide and other capital cases. The best instructors available will be brought here and we expect police officers from all parts of Florida to take advantage of this special training.

Purchasing Agent
OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM, expending approximately $5,550,000 each year has no Purchasing Agent. Our county and our cities have found purchasing agents essential to economical operation. Why not so in the School System?

Inventory
OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM with approximately $3,000,000 in movable equipment has no inventory of this equipment. $25,000 was spent in making such an inventory about 1940 but it has not been kept up to date and is worthless now. Do you know of any efficient organization without an inventory of its property?

Repairs
OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM has never made provision for prompt repair of school buildings. Visit your schools and you will find evidence of decay, neglect and carelessness in almost any building you visit. The same is true of grounds and equipment. Let's have a full-time, closely supervised maintenance crew of sufficient size to do a decent job in our schools.

Building
OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM has in prospect an extensive building program and has on hand about $2,500,000 for new plants and improvements. The School Officials say that they cannot build until material is cheaper and labor more plentiful. BUT they CAN build now and catch up with their needs. Priorities CAN be gotten. They lack the "know how" and need an injection of new blood.

Who Is Henderson?

His Qualifications?

What Can He Do For Our Schools?

What Can Be Done To Improve Our School Administration

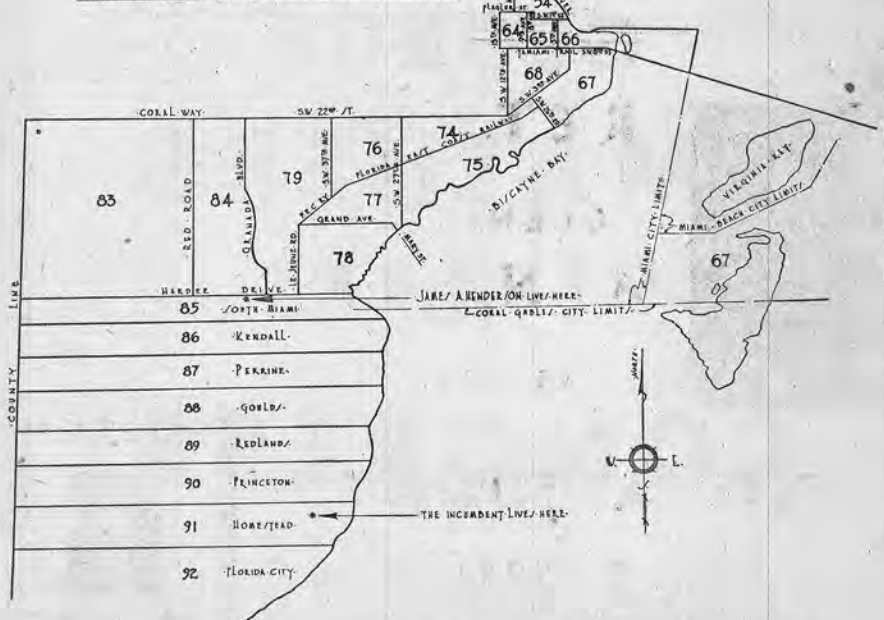

Records Index
OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM records its authority for every act, for the expenditure of every dollar, for the erection of every building, for the employment of every teacher, in the school Board Minute Book, to which there is no up-to-date index; although there was an index up to April, 1941, which cost over $25,000, and was abandoned and is practically worthless. To find authority for a transaction it is generally necessary to examine many pages of minutes; this could be avoided by maintaining a current index, a very much needed time-saving aid.

Salaries
OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM has steadily increased its salary schedule, usually granting increases about election time but the scale of pay is still too low and the schedule is a slipshod hodge-podge, showing no evidence of painstaking care in its preparation. We get what we pay for. We should be willing to pay for the best in teachers for our children.

Single District
OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM must be reduced from TEN districts to ONE. Economy, common sense, convenience, efficiency, every worthwhile factor demands this at the earliest possible moment. Why did the School Board allow an invalid law to be passed in the Legislature only to be stricken down by the court, at a cost of $25,000 wasted and thrown away?

Politics
OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM reeks of politics. In some cases it appears that promotions come as a reward for failure. Of course the person who failed was promoted because he "belonged." James A. Henderson will fight unceasingly to eliminate the "Spoils System" from our schools. We shall, we must, and we will operate our schools on the basis of reward for merit rather than for political gain.

LET'S OUST EVASION!A BLOT ON OUR RECORD*CANNON'S ABSENTEEISM PUTS HIM ON THE SPOT AGAIN

Congressman Pat Cannon has launched a series of vicious attacks on the background, ability and military record of George Smathers. He seeks, by this smoke screen, to hide his record of absenteeism and irresponsibility during eight years in Congress. The voters want the facts, not "smear". They want honest, forthright answers from Cannon to these questions:

1. Why was Cannon absent and not voting when Congress voted to declare war on Germany? Cannon told 250 witnesses at a Saturday night rally (April 27) that he was ill on that day in the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. The Personnel Director of the Mayo Clinic officially reports that Cannon was NOT there!

2. Why was Cannon absent and not voting when the House passed the Patman bill to provide housing for war veterans?

3. Why was Cannon absent and not voting on 47 of 90 major bills in 1943, absent and not voting on 61 of 99 major bills in 1945, absent and not voting on 22 of 31 major bills through March of 1946?

4. Why did Dade county receive only $5,000—and Monroe and Collier counties NOTHING—while other Florida districts received more than $7,000,000 in the rivers and harbors appropriation bill, passed on April 18, 1946—with Cannon absent and not voting?

5. How does Cannon reconcile the fact that he told the Miami Beach Tenants' League that he favors OPA with his statement to the Greater Miami Apartment Association that 'I fought OPA then and I will fight it now'? Cannon states in advertisements and speeches that he "never voted AGAINST OPA," but he has NOT told the voters that he was ABSENT AND NOT VOTING when the bill creating OPA was passed!

During his eight years in Congress, for which he has drawn $80,000 in salary, Cannon introduced and secured passage of three public bills—one to erect a monument in memory of General Worth at Lake Worth, vetoed by the late President Roosevelt; one to extend the life of the municipal bankruptcy act, introduced and passed originally by Mark Wilcox, his predecessor in Congress, and one authorizing the U. S. Maritime Commission to inspect the hulls and boilers of ships that went aground off the coast of Florida.

Cannon explains his deplorable record of absenteeism and indifference to duty by saying he was "busy doing favors for friends." What and for whom, Pat? What were these "favors?" Who were the few who received special services from you, while the vast majority of the voters were taxed to pay your salary—and received no service, no favors, no representations?

Is this the "GUARANTEED PERFORMANCE" promised you by Pat Cannon?

Against Cannon's record of deficiency, smoke screens and red herrings, George Smathers gave the Fourth District hard-hitting, efficient service as Assistant U. S. He deserves the support of all voters who are opposed to being taxed without being represented!

matter how sincere they may be, upon the citizens of the Gables, when they are in conflict with the style that has made the Gables known as an exceptionally beautiful and exotic city, planned and builded upon certain consistent lines. The function of the Board of Architects is not to alter the character of the city. That is the privilege of the whole community if they wish to do so. The duty of the Board is first, to see that designs submitted shall comply with the law, and be in harmony with the large plan of the city, and second, that they shall be of a proper standard of excellence and to be suitable to the use for which they are intended. A glance at some of the buildings that have gone up recently shows all too clearly how far we have strayed from the policy of the City Founders, and I leave it to your judgment as to the results."

George Baker Joins Brown Ad Agency

George Baker, general art director of the Florida Power & Light Co. since 1934, has resigned to become a member of the firm of the Arnold D. Brown Advertising Agency, Brown announced Saturday.

Baker will be in charge of all of the agency's creative work, layout, art and production work, with headquarters at the agency's offices at 755 West Flagler St., Miami.

The noted art creator is a graduate of Carnegie Tech and first began his career as an artist and cartoonist for national newspaper syndicates, later developing the Katzenjammer comic series.

He served as art director of a number of national advertising agencies in New York, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, winning a number of advertising awards.

For the past 12 years, he has directed the art work of the extensive advertising program of the Florida Power & Light, which has served as models of utility advertising throughout the country.

"We feel that our steadily growing advertising firm is very fortunate to have Mr. Baker as a member of the firm," Brown said, "and feel that our service facilities to Miami and Florida have been tremendously increased."

Baker, a native of Johnstown, Penna., and Mrs. Baker live at 322 S. W. 31st Road.

April Marks Both Coral Gables' Birthday And F.E.C. Railroad's Entry Into Miami

Not only did April mark the 21st birthday of Coral Gables but it was also the 50th anniversary of the Florida East Coast Railway's entry into Miami, a vital contributing factor to the birth of this community.

Just a half century ago, on April 22, 1896, the first Florida East Coast Railway train bearing passengers chugged into what was then an unknown obscure little settlement on the banks of the Miami River, Florida, where only a few families were living at the time. Little did the crew of that first train, or the little group of pioneers who gathered to greet it, realize that they were participating in an event which was to virtually mark the beginning of a great Florida city.

The Florida East Coast Railway had just been extended down through the wilderness to this region. A townsite was being laid out, streets cleared through the tangled tropical growth and lots were being optimistically offered for sale.

Mrs. Tuttle Owned Land
Mrs. Julia D. Tuttle, of Cleveland, Ohio, had acquired a large tract of land on the north side of the Miami River in 1891 and moved there to live during the early 90's. The principal other residents of the section were the Brickells, who purchased land on the south side of the river in 1868, moved there four years later, and kept the post office and general store, to which picturesque Seminole Indians frequently came to trade. Small settlements of pioneers existed at Coconut Grove and Lemon City, now portions of Greater Miami.

Henry M. Flagler, who had begun the development of the East Coast of Florida in 1885 with the purchase of several small railroads in the vicinity of St. Augustine, and the construction of magnificent resort hotels at that point, had been gradually pushing his railroad south down the sparsely inhabited coast. By 1894, the railroad was extended to the shores of Lake Worth, where Flagler built the immense Royal Poinciana Hotel, transformed Palm Beach into a beautiful resort, and on the opposite shore of the Lake laid out the city of West Palm Beach.

Still farther south the Biscayne Bay region was still an inaccessible wilderness that could be reached only by boat. Up until 1893, the mail between Palm Beach and Miami was carried by a man on foot, who covered most of the sixty odd miles by walking the lonely ocean beaches as there were no inland trails. It took him a full week to make the round-trip.

Envisioned City
Mrs. Julia Tuttle, with true feminine intuition, had visions of a comfortable city rising on the shores of Biscayne Bay, but in order to make her dreams come true a railroad was needed to link this section with the outside world. But Henry M. Flagler at the time was preoccupied with his development work at Palm Beach where he was investing millions.

During the winter of 1894-95, Florida experienced one of its most destructive freezes. It killed orange groves in the northern part of the state, ruined vegetable crops, and nipped the coconut palms as far south as Palm Beach. James E. Ingraham, who had joined the Flagler forces in 1892 and had visited Miami on an exploring trip across the Everglades the same year, immediately set out to learn the extent of the damage. South of Fort Lauderdale he was surprised to find fruit trees and vegetables virtually untouched. He went on to Miami where he called on Mrs. Tuttle and the Brickells, who were anxious to have Flagler extend his railroad down to their properties.

Idealism Is U. S. Need, Says Williams

The United States must substitute idealism for the "isms" which gave rise to the European dictators, Dr. Russell A. Williams told members of the Coral Gables Breakfast Club, meeting at the Antilla Hotel yesterday.

"We cannot remove from the minds of the conquered peoples the thoughts which fostered the principles of Nazism unless we can provide a high degree of spiritual and idealistic thought to live in palmetto Thatched huts and tents until more substantial buildings could be erected.

Last Section Completed
Finally on April 15th, 1896, the last section of the new railroad extension was completed and a little freight train arrived with a load of building materials, followed on April 22nd by the first train bearing passengers and the establishment of regular service.

In July of 1896, Miami was incorporated with 502 voters and a population of possibly one thousand. The Royal Palm Hotel went up during the summer and opened for the season of 1897, attracting people of wealth to the new city. Flagler-financed water works, a sewerage system and electric light plant were soon completed.

At first the infant city grew slowly. By 1900 it had a population of 1,681 and the 1910 census showed 5,471. Then its growth became more rapid reaching 29,571 inhabitants in 1920, and 110,637 by 1930. Greater Miami, including Miami Beach and surrounding communities, is now estimated to have in excess of 300,000 residents, making it the most populous area in the state.

ary, 1945, was the only month since October, 1938 that monthly bank debit totals in Florida failed to exceed the corresponding month of the previous year. Even before 1938, this occurrence was rare.

"In the state's six financial centers (Jacksonville, Miami, Orlando, Pensacola, St. Petersburg and Tampa) decreases, February, 1945, were registered only in Jacksonville and Miami and accounted for the lowered state total that month. However, the state loss was only three percent and was counteracted by substantial gains during the year resulting in the nine percent annual increase over 1944. The comparable loss nationally was one percent.

"The January-February, 1946 Florida total shows a good 25 percent increase over the first two months, 1945, corresponding favorably with the national increase of eight percent."

To my friends in Coral Gables:

They Kept Their Word

George Okell and "Chubby" Oelkers promised the citizens of Coral Gables that they would work for a bill to put all of the special taxing districts of Dade County into one district. This has been done. It has been approved by referendum by the voters of Dade County. This law was declared unconstitutional. Both Mr. Okell and Mr. Oelkers promise they will have a bill passed in this coming legislature that will be in accordance with the wishes of the voters of Dade County and Coral Gables. I will personally appreciate your vote and support of these gentlemen.

Thirteen Gables Anglers Place in Fishing Tourney

B. T. Burnham, 2414 DeSoto Boulevard, paced the rod and reel anglers of Coral Gables in the final standings of the 11th annual Metropolitan Miami Fishing tournament recently ended. Thirteen different Coral Gables anglers registered worthy entries.

Burnham, veteran participant in the world-famous event, annexed first place in the channel bass class of the fly-casting division with a 12 1/2-pounder. He also earned a citation with a 21-pound channel bass in the plug-casting division, a catch just six pounds less than the tournament record he established in 1942, and which still stands. Another entry he made was a nine-pound channel-bass in fly-casting.

L. E. Doty, 611 Mendoza Avenue, had the honor of entering the heaviest fish by a Coral Gables angler, a 100-pound white marlin which earned him a citation. The heaviest entry by a Coral Gables woman angler was a 58-pound sailfish caught by Mrs. Martha Bateman, 1020 Venetian Avenue, and which earned her a citation.

Top catch entered in the tourney by men from the Biltmore Hospital was a 53-pound white marlin caught by Col. Harold Peterson, A.C.

Other entries included a 12-pound, two-ounce bonito by Dr. Thomas L. Fitzgibbon, 2616 DeSoto Boulevard; a 33 1/2-pound wahoo by W. J. McGruder, 1715

Granada Boulevard; an 8-pound, three-ounce snook in plug-casting by William Richardson, 311 Mendoza Avenue; a 14 1/2-pound albacore by Jack Davis, 1252 Coral Way; a 55 1/2-pound sailfish by Herbert Brown, 1100 Alfonso Avenue; 3 16 1/2-pound and a 12-pound, seven-ounce barracuda in plug-casting by W. E. Chapman, Box 278; a 69 1/2-pound sailfish by Lee M. Stapp, 634 Alhambra Circle; a 6 1/2-pound bonefish by Ed Selden, 1021 Valencia Avenue, and a 7-pound, three-ounce trout in plug-casting by Richard Chatfield, 2414 Ponce de Leon Boulevard.

The 99-day tourney attracted more than 300,000 participants, including anglers from 31 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Canada and Costa Rica. Six new tournament records were set in weights while a host of records were set in participation and achievements.

Mr. Kerr is a designing engineer and Mrs. Kerr is secretary for the Caribbean Air Transport. Mrs. Edward Wright of Huntington, W. Va., mother of Mrs. Kerr, is their house guest.

Return to Gables

Lt. Col. Dugald Barr and Mrs. Barr have returned to their Coral Gables home, 434 Avenue Alcazar, after an absence of four years. Col. Barr has just been released from the service. Two years of his four years' service were spent overseas with the Army.

Missing Finer Things

This whole community is missing many of the finer things of life, such as operas, ballets, concerts and "big city" stage productions because it doesn't have an adequate auditorium. Vote on the Dade War Memorial Auditorium May 7.

"A NIGHT IN PARADISE," co-starring Merle Oberon and Turhan Bey is a tantalizing tale told in technicolor about Aesop, the fable boy, and the girl who made him forget his wisdom. It will be showing at the Grove Theatre Saturday at 9:30 p.m. and Sunday and Monday, May 4-6.

SHIFTED WORKERS TAKE HOUSING WITH THEM

Housing shortages hold no terrors for Bureau of Mines employees transferred from the closed-down helium plant at Cunningham, Kans., to the new oil-shale demonstration plant at Rifle, Colo., for they are taking their homes with them.

The entire helium plant housing development — 50 modern two and three-bedroom prefabricated units, together with a small office building and other auxiliary structures — is being dismantled, packed into box cars, and shipped more than 600 miles across the Continental Divide to Western Colorado. At the new site, dominated by sheer oil-shale cliffs and juniper-clad slopes, the initial units already have been reassembled.

Saving time, funds, and materials by moving these facilities

BOLIVIAN MINERS PRAY— BEFORE BEGINNING WORK.

Metal miners in Bolivia offer individual prayers in unique underground chapels before starting work, the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior reveals in a new educational motion picture, "Tin From Bolivia," now available for free showing to organized groups. Prayers are offered underground before the miners proceed to their working places.

instead of erecting new houses, the Bureau of Mines expects to complete reassembly of the remaining units in February and to have the new oil-shale demonstration plant — one of the major installations authorized by Congress in the synthetic liquid fuels act — in operation by late spring.

State Spurs Drive Against Mosquitoes

Forty-two crews comprising 150 highly trained men were on the line this week ready to begin the most concentrated drive against malaria-carrying mosquitoes ever known in Florida. The time-tested DDT insecticide spray will be the control measure used. However, only specific sections of the 23 chosen counties which a previous survey showed as harboring a density of the disease-carrying insects will receive the treatment.

John A. Mulrennan, director of the State Board of Health's Bureau of Malaria Control, said that 13 counties have been added to the original 10 which received the almost house-to-house spray job last year, bringing the total to 23 counties. Also, the solution to be used on the current control project will be twice as strong as that used in the first job.

A thorough survey of the 23 counties has been under way during the past six months in an effort to locate the sections where the anophelino mosquito density is highest. The work of the 42 crews will be guided by the findings of the survey.

Counties to receive the DDT protection are Jefferson, Jackson, Madison, Marion, Gadsden, Suwanee, Dixie, Leon, Columbia and Hamilton.

Citrus, Alachua, Levy, Holmes, Sumter, Wakulla, Gilchrist, Taylor, Calhoun, Washington, Walton, Hernando and Lafayette.

The 23 counties chosen for DDT spraying range in the national malaria death rate roster of 1933-37 from first to 176 place in the country. The first five highest in the state death rate form the disease are Jefferson, Madison, Dixie, Gilchrist and Citrus.

It was stressed that malaria in the civilian population is now the lowest ever recorded in the state. Last year only 22 deaths were reported as compared to 33 deaths in 1944. However, it was pointed out that in 1945, 1,210 cases of malaria, contracted outside the United States, were re-

Local Writers Sought By New Magazine

Writers of Florida will be represented in a special section of the coming issue of a new independent magazine "The Literary World."

The Literary World will contain short stories, poetry, movie scenarios in story form, humor sketches, essays and articles by Florida writers. The editors are now seeking manuscripts of merit and originality. There are no restrictions as to subject or treatment, thus allowing writers the widest latitude.

Work of both established and new writers will be welcomed. Material submitted should be typewritten on one side of the ported from army camps in Florida.

Mulrennan said there probably will be a good many malaria carriers among the returning troops which will greatly increase the possibility of malaria springing up in those sections of the state where the disease-carrying mosquitoes are prevalent. It is therefore felt that if the homes in those counties which in the past have had a high malaria death rate and which currently have a high density of malaria-carrying mosquitoes, can be given interior DDT spraying, that the possibility of malaria transmission will be materially lessened.

Another point was stressed, however, that the DDT program does not supersede the important need for proper window and door screening.

paper and should be submitted not later than June 1.

Manuscripts should be addressed to the Editors, "The Literary World," 1295 Madison Avenue, New York 28, N. Y., and must be accompanied by return postage. Material will be promptly and carefully considered.

Gale Edits Camp Sheet

Jack Gale, AMM 3-c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gale of 928 Avenue Algarino, has been made editor of the base paper in the Hawaiian Islands, where he is now stationed with the Navy. Jack experienced the recent tidal wave, but escaped injury. During his Ponce de Leon High School days Jack was editor of the Ponce Tribune.

The Pentlands and the Permenters, Deans parents, were one time neighbors in Jacksonville.

Navy Officers Given Highest Rank Attained

Officers in the Naval Reserve on inactive duty are entitled to the highest temporary rank held prior to June 30, 1946, the Navy has announced.

Under Public Law 305, recently enacted, reserve officers when released to inactive duty are entitled to the highest rank in which they are considered to have satisfactory service, as determined by the Secretary of the Navy. Should a reserve officer be recalled to active service later, he will return to duty in that rank.

Hitherto, reserve officers have reverted to their permanent commission rank upon return to inactive duty, and if called to active service later, have been recalled in their permanent rank.
