No persons appeared in person to question the modern type of buildings which will be erected on the new campus.

PORK AND POLIO!

If you are interested ask your butcher the life of any pork or its by-product, in his ice-box. Ask him how long he can keep the stuff even under refrigeration.

PORK IS THE ANSWER

When they need meat they kill off some of their free-ranging swine, in dirty slaughter sheds, out of season, and they have plenty of pork for themselves and neighbors.

According to the U. S. Health Service, polio is rising rapidly throughout the country. The total for this year as of June 29th, was 1856, compared to the same period last year of 1271, and the five year average is 935.

According to Health authorities, only two types of monkeys are susceptible to the virus of Polio. All monkeys look alike to me. So do people. Perhaps some people are susceptible to the disease of Polio.

Thanks for reading these advertisements for your kids. It is my hope that some day you may read of this theory. I also want to thank Jim Moore and Al Harum for their assistance.

EVERYTHING FOR THE MOTOR CAR

BILL — HOWARD — LESLIE

BILL PARRY — HOWARD ROGERS

ALL UNDER ONE ROOF

As Jimmie Durante so aptly puts it, Charlie, "Everybody wants to get into the act"! We thought of taking a group picture, but the office cat was having kittens (nobody loafs at Parks!) So we decided that as long as we had developed the habit of "blowing our horn", we might as well blow it loud enough to penetrate even the fog of your after-dinner lethargy! Like Barnum and Bailey, we've given you a "parade" of our individual performers — now we're taking you inside the "Big Top" and giving you a ringside view of the most complete and efficient automotive repair and service shop in South Florida. ALL UNDER ONE ROOF we're offering you car service by men whose skill and teamwork will leave you gasping.

The most important thing in life to the tight-rope walker is BALANCE—and although you're not a member of that select group who perform daredevil feats high above the ground, Charlie, BALANCE plays a mighty important part in your life too. When you drive a car with unbalanced wheels, you're taking just as much chance as a tight-rope walker who is slightly "tight"! We take care of that safety hazard here at Parks with special wheel balancing equipment. Why not come in and get acquainted with it—you will probably find out something about your car that you didn't know before!

If you ask the lion tamer why he doesn't lose an arm or leg when he walks into the cage, he'll tell you it's because he keeps the big cat so well-fed he's not interested in varying his diet. There's a moral in that one, Charlie! You may not lose an arm or leg, but you'll surely howl just as loudly over the repair bills you get if you neglect to "feed" your car the best in gas and oil. Cultivating the habit of pulling in at Parks for your gas, oil and check-up service will save you many a howl! "Props" play a top role in guaranteeing smooth performance—that's why at Parks Motors we maintain a parts and accessories department carrying only genuine approved factory parts. Many a serious accident is a direct result of faulty or "gyp" parts—but when you bring your car to Parks for motor overhauling and repairs, you can be assured of a job done by the finest skilled mechanics, using the BEST MATERIAL AVAILABLE. It's a wise man who knows the value of keeping his car in tip-top shape—and we hope you fit into that category, Charlie! We also know that car neglect is an easy habit to get into. That's why we maintain a complete paint and metal work shop, staffed by experts—like the "Emergency Tent" on the circus grounds, we're prepared for those accidents that WILL happen. We're ready for everything, from a slight bump on the fender to completely re-building a "wreck". And we don't turn out any patched up jobs! When we're finished with the car it has an "assembly-line" performance and polish.

As you've no doubt gathered by this time, we're mighty proud of the performance we give here under the "Big Top" at PARKS MOTORS—but when you get right down to brass tacks, it's the PERFORMERS who deserve the praise. So let's have a big hand, Charlie, for the boys who DO THE JOB! From Milo right on down the line it's an "all-star" billing that can't be beat!

Remember Milo, Charlie? He's our "rear vacuum kid"—the ringmaster of our team. Sure, we know this is the THIRD time we've used his picture, but we want to make sure you don't forget him. Milo KNOWS his business—which means knowing YOUR car—so if you're smart (and we THINK you are) you'll stop by after the show and take out a little "Milo Insurance" against hazardous driving through car neglect.

Channel Markers

The city's request to the Coast Guard that the channel markers, leading from the bay to the Coral Gables waterway, be lighted is one that merits serious consideration from that governmental agency.

Many times the coast guard has launched a search for a boat reported overdue, only to find it hard ground near the approaches to the channel. To say the least, the present unlighted spar markers are far from adequate.

They Didn't Say It

Many people today go right on attributing well-known sayings and phrases to the wrong persons. Here are 10 examples of this ingrained custom:

Go West Young Man—Attributed to Horace Greeley. The famous editor used this admonition in a New York Tribune editorial after reading it in The Terre Haute (Ind.) Express in 1851.

Everybody Talks About The Weather But Nobody Does Anything About It—Attributed to Mark Twain. Charles Dudley Warner, editor of The Hartford Courant, is now believed to have coined this epigram.

Great Power—Up till now we have relied on the great powers to make peace—or their power of persuasion—on their economic power—on the power of their arms.

There is a greater power at work in the world. A power which produced the world itself. A power which produced the life that goes on in the world. A power which can CHANGE THE PEOPLE.

OUR TOWN Welcome Home

By Jim Moore

I heard a little story the other day that was meant to be a humorous vein. It was about a typical little American town and its reaction to the boys who had gone off to war coming home again.

When the first batch arrived, the news of VJ Day was still electrifying the nation. The hand turned out and the people cheered, "Hail the conquering heroes!!!"

When I heard the story, I smiled and thought to myself that the glamor of the returning hero had worn off a little bit, but that things certainly weren't as callous as that. I guess that's what most of us thought.

Remember when that news hit the front pages of the nation? Those boys were really heroes that day.

My service overseas seems almost like a dream now; something that happened a long, long time ago. The picture has already lost its sharp, crisp outline and has grown fuzzy.

There are still quite a few of the boys from Coral Gables who haven't returned yet. Every day, there are boys arriving at the Biltmore Hospital fresh from overseas.

LEGION CALLS FOR AUGUST 14 CELEBRATION OF VICTORY DAY

With its 14,876 posts, including Coral Gables Post 98, taking the lead, The American Legion has thrown its full strength behind the movement to celebrate Wednesday, August 14, as the anniversary of Victory Day of World War II.

The American Legion's aim is to make Victory Day mean to World War II veterans what Armistice Day means to the fighting men of World War I, said National Commander John Stelle.

Stelle has called on all posts to sponsor appropriate patriotic demonstrations hailing the epochal anniversary in their communities. Posts were urged to organize parades, special memorial services, speaking programs and other appropriate ceremonies.

In Michigan, at the request of The American Legion, Governor Harry F. Kelly already has promised to issue a proclamation designating August 14 as a public holiday throughout the state.

Commander Stelle issued the following statement: "The American Legion is taking the lead in calling on all citizens to join in observing August 14th this year as 'Victory Day' of World War II.

According to Nelson Marshall, fisheries biologist at the Marine Laboratory, over 1,000 crawfish have been tagged during the closed season, and it is hoped that a goal of 2,000 can be reached.

University of Miami Uses Darts to Trace Meanderings of the Florida Spiny Lobster

If his next Florida crawfish you catch has a small celluloid dart imbedded in one of his tail segments, don't think you've discovered a new type of under-sea weapon.

Marshall said that they are very anxious to have all tags reported, even if some of the information may have been lost.

Marshall has asked all fishermen to return tags to the Marine Laboratory when they are discovered.

Tags returned to the laboratory with information as to when and where the crawfish were caught will help to discover where and to what extent these animals migrate," he said.

Instead of simply reading about such Florida attractions and industries in text books the youngsters, properly chaperoned and accompanied by competent instructors, would spend a sufficient amount of time acquainting themselves first-hand through this modern, practical on-the-spot visual education program.

One group starting from Jacksonville for example could stop in St. Augustine where they would learn more Florida history in a few hours than they would gain from books in months.

They would receive by bus on some of them to state parks where accommodations and meals would be provided at an approximate cost of $2 a day.

They receive so many varied requests at the Chamber of Commerce that they've grown pretty used to them by this time. This week, however, they did get one that caused eyebrows to be raised a bit.

Back to the housing problem, someone's running an ad in the paper this week offering a $25 reward for information leading to the rental of an apartment.

Coral Gables Airman Aids In Rich Trade Battle

Striking a major blow for the United States in a battle for more than $5,000,000,000 a year in Latin American trade, a veteran Coral Gables airman has helped inaugurate service over Pan American World Airways' new bee-line route between New York City and Buenos Aires, which promises to give North American businessmen a marked advantage over European competitors.

He's Captain William C. Carlton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Carlton of Stamps, Ark., who piloted the big four-engined, 55-passenger Inaugural Clipper over the first 2,225-mile leg of the route from New York to Port of Spain, Trinidad.

With his wife, the former Jean Steph, a graduate of Miami High School and of the Jackson Memorial Hospital Nurses School in Miami, Captain Carlton lives at 718 Avenue Valencia.

An alumnus of Springhill (La.) High School, Captain Carlton played three years of varsity football at Louisiana State Normal College, from which he was graduated in 1935.

Leaving to fly as an Army cadet at Kelly Field, Tex., in 1938, Carlton has logged 5,600 hours of flying time, including 4,700 hours of command time. Joining Pan American six years ago and serving by turn in each of Pan American's globe-zircling divisions, he flew vital supplies across both the Atlantic and Pacific during the war and has made more than 50 ocean crossings.

The new service which he helped inaugurate brings Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires within 28 and 98 hours, respectively, of New York and is part of PAA's plan for a transportation system that will give the United States a decided advantage in the race with Europeans for the rich Latin American trade.

Fast transportation is the spearhead in the battle already shaping up. The Pan American plan will create a system over which 2,000,000 passengers and 30,000,000 pounds of freight can be carried annually between the northern and southern halves of the western hemisphere, providing the base on which the great trade volume will be built.

At present the United States Department of Commerce estimates Latin America has better than seven billions of dollars to spend. Export-Import Bank figures show that Latin America has $5,000,000,000 in gold and assets in the United States alone. In 1945 exports to Latin America had risen to $1,170,000,000. U. S. imports from Latin America have always equalled or surpassed exports. Consequently, it is estimated that this year U. S. trade with Latin America will exceed $3,000,000,000, provided none of it is lured away by European competitors and provided the nation is able to transport the large volume of merchandise and businessmen. By 1948 the annual trade volume is expected to reach the $5,000,000,000 mark.

In the race for this rich business, Pan American pilots like Captain Carlton are doing much to safeguard the interests of the United States. They are flying larger, speedier ships to give the United States the advantage of faster, cheaper transportation.

Use Caution In Preparing Summer Foods

A warning for Gableites to use caution in preparing and eating the better known "summer" foods such as salads, cream-filled pastries, ham and fowl was sounded today by the State Board of Health's Bureau of Sanitary Engineering.

Lack of precaution in eating these favorite foods causes 75 per cent of all food upsets.

It isn't that these foods are dangerous, it's just that most people don't stop to think that lurking in a plate of potato salad, chicken salad or sliced ham that has been improperly refrigerated for hours, may have multiplied the bacteria that will produce what is known as food poisoning. If the same precaution and "respect" were shown these foods as is given to seafoods for instance, less eating upsets would be reported.

There are two important ways to keep bacteria from multiplying these summer standbys. One is to prepare the food just before consumption. A second and most important one is to properly refrigerate such foods if not planning to eat them immediately. People using and preparing "summer" foods for picnics, household consumption

Hollingsworth Leads In Insurance Sales

Tracy Hollingsworth, Coral Gables and Miami agent for the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, led the State in paid business for the month of June among the fifteen agents of the company, according to LeRoy Johnson, Jacksonville Branch Manager in the current issue of "Florida Sunbeam," monthly publication of the company.

The Miami office of which W. Keith Phillips is district manager, went far ahead of Jacksonville and other offices in the state, according to the report.

Hollingsworth was formerly connected with both the Miami and Coral Gables chambers of commerce, as publicity director.

or in commercial eating places are urged to keep refrigerated at 60 degrees or lower.

Potato salad is one of the foods to which people give the least thought. Too often, if it is to be eaten at a picnic it is prepared the day before, thus giving the bacteria plenty of time to multiply. If it is necessary to prepare the potatoes for the salad or prepare other foods some time before eating, don't mix the ingredients until ready for use.

Eat "summer" foods either piping hot or ice cold!

Lumber Dealers Plan Program For Veterans

Washington, D. C. — "Veterans desiring to enter the lumber dealer field will be provided this fall with a 30-day approved course at a number of universities throughout the country," stated Secretary H. R. Northup, National Retail Lumber Dealers Association today.

"The three 30-day experimental courses held at the University of Washington in Seattle and the one course held at the University of Denver in Denver, have provided experience upon which we will base the extension of courses to other interested universities and colleges," Northup explained. "The Universities of Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Syracuse, Louisiana and Massachusetts State have already shown an interest in offering the course."

"Enrollment in these courses is open to any veteran with a certificate of eligibility from his local Veterans Administration Bureau and also to lumber yard employees," Northup stated. "A veteran can apply for enrollment at any university where the course is given through the State or Regional Lumber Dealers Association Secretary in his area. Any lumber dealer can provide the veteran with the name and address of the local Association."

"The National Retail Lumber Dealers Association educational program will not stop with the actual university curriculum itself," Northup pointed out. "From the courses offered lecture and lesson material approved by State Boards of Education will be made available to lumber yards operating under the Government's "on-the-job" training program for veterans. Application for "on-the-job" training in the lumber dealer field can also be made through the State and Regional Secretaries."

"Whether veterans elect to attend a 30-day course at a university offering the lumber dealer training or whether they elect "on-the-job" training with a lumber dealer concern offering on-the-job training, the same amount of assistance pay can be obtained from the Government through the Veterans Administration," Northup said.

"Married veterans can claim $90 per month and unmarried veterans $65 per month with tuition, books and incidentals paid for by the government in either case."

In this way lumber dealers can obtain untrained but potentially valuable men and train them for the jobs, while paying them a reduced salary. The veteran through the subsistence allowance provided by the Veterans Administration plus the income received from the lumber dealer firm obtains an adequate living wage while learning a good business.

"All graduates of the first 30-day courses held last spring immediately secured good jobs in lumber yards," Northup asserted. "One of the women students who took the course is now a manager of a lumber yard. Former lumber yard employees state that the course was worth two years experience in a yard."

The 25 subjects in the lumber dealer course cover all phases of lumber yard operation from bookkeeping and lumber estimating to marketing and purchasing.

Martin Chamberlain, former Commander, U. S. Navy, an actual graduate of the first 30-day course at the University of Washington is the Director of Education for the entire National Retail Lumber Dealers Association educational program for veterans and lumber yard employees.

History of Chaplain Corps Is Outlined by Army

ATLANTA, Ga.,—July 29 is the 171st anniversary of the first recognized work of chaplains with the Army and, as plans were made for the observance of the date by the armed forces Chaplain (Colonel) Ralph W. Rogers, chaplain of the Seventh Army, gave a brief resume of the history of the Chaplain Corps and outlined some of its activities.

Churches in Atlanta and in cities of the Third Army Area will cooperate in the observance of the anniversary, and Army chaplains will appear in many of the religious edifices on that date. Services will be held in Seventh Army Headquarters Victory Chapel.

Referring to records outlining the history of the Chaplain Corps, Chaplain Rogers pointed out that on July 29, 1775, the Continental Congress granted the first formal recognition of a legal status to chaplains in the armed forces including a chaplain on the payroll of the Army. Rev. John J. Hurt, of Virginia, is usually considered as the first Army chaplain. He was among the ministers who went to the camps of the Continental Army to conduct services and administer to the men. When peace came after the Revolutionary War he served the one brigade which constituted the Army at that time.

Chaplains were appointed to the regiments raised for the War 1812 but for 20 years afterward the only chaplain in the Army seems to have been the one at West Point where he was also professor of Geography, History and Ethics. Two Catholic chaplains went with General Taylor's Army to Mexico and one was killed by Mexican guerrillas. In 1861, regimental chaplains were authorized and Jewish rabbis became eligible, thus paving the way for the policy of today when Protestants, Catholics, and Jews serve the soldiers of these faiths as chaplains on posts during their training in the field and accompany troops into actual combat areas.

During World War I, 2,363 were commissioned as chaplains in the Army, of whom 57 were negroes. Of the total number, 23 died in the service, 27 were wounded and 59 received decorations from the United States or Allied governments.

Following a precedent set in 1899, endorsement by the churches to which the chaplains belong is required for appointment. Following this endorsement and acceptance of the applicant, he is sent to the Chaplain's School at Fort

Gulfstream Prepares for Coming Season

When the Florida State Racing Commission meets to allot racing dates for the Winter racing season of 1946-47, they must consider the claims of the three major turf courses in this area, Gulfstream Park, Hialeah Park and Tropical Park. No matter what the assignment of dates to Gulfstream Park, early, middle or late, the Hialeah course will be an eye-arresting picture when it again plays host to the winter thoroughbreds.

Under the agile hand of President Jimmy Donn, nationally known landscaper, Gulfstream Park is blooming in anticipation of the winter racing season. With the help of Mother Nature, Donn has done wonders since the close of the track to all training activities in April. Entrances and exits formerly bare of foliage now are lined with stately royal palms and flowering shrubbery. A new traffic lane has been completed to the north gate, providing an outlet to Miami Beach, completely lined by palms. The infield lake has been dredged and one of the two islands removed, the soil used for banking the two turns. The remaining island has been landscaped with coconut palms and shrubbery, and the entire infield area will be brilliant with beds of scalphas, crotons, ixoras and hibiscus by the time the race course is open.

Geese and swans are also to be procured to dress up the calm beauty of the infield lake, while the entire area will have a backdrop of palm trees to make it one of the most beautiful race tracks in the land.

There will be no change this season in the clubhouse, according to President Donn. He has determined to leave the present clubhouse in its present condition until he can build a club unique to the turf.

"The strange thing is that most of our patrons prefer the homeliness of the present structure," said Donn. "It permits them to be out in the open and provides more freedom of movement. We are merely giving them one of the most beautiful courses in America, and when we are completed it

Road Prospects Brighter for '46,

Washington, D.C.—Despite shortages of material, labor, equipment, steel and engineers, post-war highway construction to repair the nation's war deteriorated roads and build new ones now totals $400 million, Charles M. Upham, engineer-director of the American Road Builders' Association, said in a statement issued here to-day.

Estimated state and federal-aid programs to be placed under construction this year will bring the total to $715 million, Mr. Upham said. This will top the government's estimate of $500 million for road building in 1946 and, with some of the better roads removed in coming months, a marked increase in highway construction can be safely predicted for 1947, the association's executive pointed out.

Mr. Upham's figures are based on returns from thirty-three states and the District of Columbia in a nation-wide survey of highway conditions the American Road Builders' Association is making. "It is a heartening view of a transportation condition which the war unavoidably made extremely difficult," said Mr. Upham.

Pennsylvania leads with a road program of $39 million underway, according to the ARBA survey. Of this $35 million will be completed. "Only 49 per cent of the nation's 1,928,000 miles of county and local roads have all-weather surfaces. Only 73 per cent of the 304,900 miles of municipal streets and alleys have surfaces of concrete, asphalt, tar coating, gravel or stabilized earth. Even in the better cared for state controlled highways, 17 per cent of the 563,329 miles still lack such surfacing.

"The tremendous need of an adequate program for repairing war-casualty roads and for building necessary new ones of modern design stands out in figures of traffic accidents," Mr. Upham said. "Our economic loss from traffic in 1946, California comes next with $32 million actually being spent and an estimated total of $75 million for the year. California's program, one of the most ambitious ever attempted called for an award rate of $2 million a week. While this schedule has not been met, a large amount of work is going on. New York is third on the list of states reporting with $30 million under construction. Texas is close up with $28 million under way and an estimated $65 million for the year.

"We believe these partial returns indicate that while the construction program is not yet in high gear, it is ready to go forward rapidly once economic difficulties abate," Mr. Upham said. "On the other hand," Mr. Upham warned, "either one year or several years of road building will solve this country's road needs. Our highway construction sights must be raised. Year after year of sustained road building is an absolute necessity.

"Only 49 per cent of the nation's 1,928,000 miles of county and local roads have all-weather surfaces. Only 73 per cent of the 304,900 miles of municipal streets and alleys have surfaces of concrete, asphalt, tar coating, gravel or stabilized earth. Airfields Placed on Surplus List

War Assets Administration announced today that 22 more government owned airfields in the United States had been declared surplus and that interim permits to operate them municipally had been issued. Five of the fields are in Florida and include: Herlong Naval Air Station, Jacksonville; Fort Pierce Naval Auxiliary Airfield, Fort Pierce; Perry Army Airfield, Perry; Montbrook Army accidents totals three times the cost of our road building program. Yet it has been expertly estimated on the basis of careful surveys that the safety factor of modern road design could reduce traffic accidents by nearly 80 per cent in a modernized system of national highways."

Airfield, Williston; and William Airfield, Martin County.

These communities will be able to maintain the airports under CAA regulations, and will have the opportunity to study the problems of airport operation during the interval between the issuance of the interim permit and final disposition.

Air service for these localities can be enhanced as a result of WAA's declaration of these fields as government surplus. Municipalities' interest in wanting these various airfields throughout the United States has been a factor in the declaration of the large amount of surplus fields.

Some people feel that if they lost their dignity they wouldn't have much of anything left—and they wouldn't.

If you can't meet the needs of your neighbor you can't meet the needs of the nation.

Lime Ice
Mix 1/2 cup of fresh lime juice with 2 cups of sugar, four cups of cold sweet milk. Freeze in electric freezer tray until mushy. Return to bowl and beat with dower egg beater or mix master until thick and creamy. The addition of a few drops of green food coloring at this stage gives the ice a pretty appetizing color. Serve with un-frosted angel food and you have a dessert fit for invited or uninvited guests who just happen in.

Medical Supplies By Air

Figures gathered from files of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Red Cross and other organizations by the Air Transport Association of America, show that a total of 386,000 pints of highly perishable blood was flown overseas for use by American fighting men. Medical stores shipped via air by the Navy alone, between the fall of 1942 and June 30, 1945, amounted to 1,287,656 pounds. The Army moved 6,000,000 pounds of medical supplies from England to the continent via air between August 1 and December 25, 1944.

"Can't," was the answer. "It's too late now. We've used her four days!"

How to keep your Pants from burning!

Most people want to save.

But once money gets into their pockets, it burns a way out before they ever get to the bank.

And the years go by without any great increase in the rainy-day fund.

During the war a lot of citizens found the Payroll Savings Plan was a "dream scheme." Through it somebody else did all the work. And they saved money without having it run the dangerous hazard of being in their pockets from payday to banking day. They never handled the cash, so they didn't miss it.

Today, there are a lot of billions of dollars in war bonds earning fat interest for folks who never would have saved on their own.

Your Uncle Samuel and you, yourself, know what thrift can do. That's why the Payroll Savings Plan is being continued—this time on U. S. Savings Bonds. Which also pay 4 dollars for 3 after 10 years.

Thrift is certainly to your benefit. So don't stop your payroll savings.

Just continue buying bonds and gold-plating your future.

You don't have a bit of work, worry, or temptation—it's strictly a real deal for every working man and woman. Keep on buying Savings Bonds through your company's Payroll Savings Plan.

JUNIOR CLUB LEADERS

There is an old saying "Good things come in small packages."

We can say that about Mrs. George Gilman Wheeler, Jr., this week's Junior Woman's Club leader subject, for we never saw so much energy, laughter and bubbling enthusiasm packed in so small a body.

Mrs. Wheeler is a native-born daughter, former Eugenia Bryan, and known to everyone as Gene. She first saw the light of day in Kissimmee. Now the name Bryan is probably one of the best known names in Kissimmee. Generations of this family have lived here and Mrs. Wheeler's maternal great grandfather, J. F. O'Berry, was one of the first cattle ranchers in Central Florida. Her great aunt, Miss Mary Bryan, taught school for 50 years in Kissimmee and taught all the children, including ten of her own kinsfolk.

Gene was graduated from Florida State College for Women; was a member of the Sophomore Council, F. Club (won her letter playing badminton and field hockey), Spirogrira, Kappa Delta Pi (National Education, honorary), Senior Hall, Mortar Board and was listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities. She was presented to society at the Apollo Ball in 1929 in Orlando.

She has been recreation director at a North Carolina girls' camp, taught school and was secretary for two years. In 1944 Gene was married to George Gilman Wheeler, Jr., and they have one son, George Wheeler, III, who was a year old in June. "Gil" is a fourth generation native-born Floridian. His mother and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Elberta Bryan and he all reside in Coral Gables. His great grandmother, Mrs. J. F. O'Berry, lives in Miami.

Extremely interested in children, Mrs. Wheeler was made chairman

By HELEN REYNOLDS, SOCIETY EDITOR

While many Coral Gables folk are enjoying the mountains or the crowded thoroughfares of the big cities, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Toomey are exploring their brand new South Miami farm and learning just what makes it tick; deserting their large and attractive Alhambra Circle home early this summer in favor of the down-to-the-farm place. Busy with pick and shovel and hoe and paint, plus the addition of two or three separate houses for family and guests, we'll wager that before they are finished the ranch will be one of the most comfortable designs for living hereabouts. The Toomey family is large and the name on the gate post, "Med-Cajecs," is a combination of all of the initials of their first names—eight in all. Mrs. Toomey tells us they have the biggest, bright green mail box in the whole area. Cameron, Mrs. Toomey's son, will attend the University of Miami this fall, having graduated in June from Baylor Military Academy. Jean will be in her senior year at Ponce, while Ellen, the oldest of the three younger girls, will attend South Miami Elementary. The Toomeys are already harvesting Persian limes and they'll raise potatoes and horses and we hear their new station wagon has the appearance of being a block long.

A round of farewell parties feted Dr. and Mrs. J. Louis Manley prior to their departure yesterday for New Orleans, where they will reside temporarily. Among those entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Zinsmaster, who gave a

MISS MARY WHITMYER L. W. ROBINSON JR. PLAN AUGUST MARRIAGE

Of interest to a large group of friends in Coral Gables as well as in Logansport, Ind., is the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Whitmyer of Logansport, and Lewis W. Robinson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Robinson of 233 Avenue Romano.

The wedding will take place at 4 p. m. August 14th at the First Presbyterian church with Dr. Nevin Schaaf officiating.

MISS NELL CHAMPION, who is leaving this week to visit relatives in North Florida and Georgia, will enter the University of Miami this fall. She will take a technical course and will finish at Grady Memorial Hospital, Atlanta, Ga., as a laboratory technician.

Miss Whitmyer is a graduate of the Logansport High school. She is a member of Sigma Phi Gamma sorority and the Order of the Eastern Star. Her fiancé, "Jimmy" Robinson, is superintendent of public works for the City of Coral Gables. During the war he served the United States Engineers Division at Trinidad. He is a graduate of the University of Florida, a member of Chi Phi fraternity, a Shriner and a member of the Lions Club.

Mrs. Lucretia Whitmyer, mother of the bride-elect, arrived with her daughter this week to attend the nuptials. They are guests in the apartment at 40 Avenue Calabria, where Mr. Robinson and his bride will reside after their marriage.

Crandalls Entertained

Widely entertained during their weeks' stay in Coral Gables, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Crandall have returned to their home in Orlando. They were the inspiration for several couples getting together for dancing Saturday night at the Country Club when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterson acted as hosts. Mr. and Mrs. Hem Olson also entertained at dinner for the visitors who are former Gables residents.

MARY FRANCES WILKERSON TO ATTEND VASSAR COLLEGE

Miss Mary Frances Wilkerson, beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wilkerson, 817 Avenue Almeria, will enter Vassar College this fall. She will probably major in journalism, although her heart is set on someday becoming a "fashion editor" of a national magazine.

However studying toward her goal will not be hard for Mary Frances. Honor graduate of Ponce de Leon High school in last June's class, she was 28th in her class of 144 graduates; she also was popular in extra curricular activities and won seven essay contests, one of which netted her a goodly cash sum and was participated in by thousands of high school student competitors. She also was named "Miss Florida's Annual Swim-for-Health-Girl For 1946" in competition with many others at Miami Beach.

A statuesque blonde with peaches and cream skin, soft-spoken voice and pleasing personality, Mary Frances has earned many a dollar as a model; modeling for the Gibson Agency during her free time and vacations. Her picture poses for clothes and cosmetics are now well-known to

Green Lantern Patio To Be Scene Of Informal Dinner And Exercises

Three girls and one boy compose the mid-summer graduating class of Ponce de Leon High School, the smallest in the school's history. The exercises will take place at 6:30 p. m., August 8th, with a dinner at the Green Lantern Patio dining room.

Mrs. Juanita Jarman, principal of the summer school, will preside. Mrs. Chris Steers, faculty advisor to the students, will assist. There will be no address but each of the four graduates will give a toast. R. P. Terry, member of the school board, will present the diplomas. Paul Gramachi, music director at Ponce will present violin numbers with Mrs. Steers at the piano. Members of the summer faculty, their wives and husbands, also the winter faculty members, who are in town and parents of the graduates are specially invited guests. About 35 are expected to attend the festivities.

Graduates include Charles Randolph Sanks, who will leave soon for the Naval Air Forces; Margaret Peggy Brown, Thelma Sherman and Nina Genevieve Thompson. Miss Sherman plans to attend the University of Miami.

buffet supper for about 20 guests Sunday night in their honor. Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Harum entertained at cocktails and buffet dinner for them. Dr. Manley is on leave of absence from the University of Miami, where he has the important professorship of government. Mrs. Manley will be missed by a large group of friends, and also on the bridal paths, where she is seen almost daily astride her thoroughbred, "Skyhigh."

Mr. and Mrs. Creed Carrico are sojourning at the Green Hotel, Clayton, Ga. Mrs. Carrico writes they left Coral Gables June 30th and will leave later for Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky. They will return about October 1st. In her letter Mrs. Carrico, always a Florida booster, enclosed the weekly bulletin issued by the Methodist Church in Clayton. We quote from the pastor's letter:

It does not look like Clayton in July. Always this little Gem high in the "Land of the Sky" has been teeming with our friends from the "Sunshine State." We really miss these people. I have counted all through the winter, on seeing many of them when the summer came again to the hills. There are many of them, I met last year, people whose names I do not recall. I am thinking this morning of Dr. Scott, from Lakeland. He has been coming here for thirty years, without missing one. I hope he does not have his train broken this time. It is my prayer, that the condition causing the present, so-called quarantine may soon be improved, so our Florida people can come to see us.

If the quarantine does any good, of course we are all for it. But it seems strange that it is alright to pass back and forth from Georgia to Florida on business, but not alright to pass back and forth for vacations. It seems strange that people on business will not spread polio, whereas people on vacation will.

LIONEL CORPORATION exhibited the first model electric train that purrs honest-to-goodness smoke at the Grand Central Terminal. It was designed by James J. Walker, Donald Anderson, the real life boy model for the March of Dimes posters, and Lawrence W. Cowan, President, Lionel Corp., and contribute their dimes on the first run of the "Smoking Loco." The toy train traveled in a miniature white house, where it dumped its load of donations.

AARON S. SAPHIER, President of the General Bronze Co., operates a model of the company's new product, the aluminum window. "Aluminum windows offer many advantages," Mr. Saphier said. "Among the most important being that the windows will not shrink, corrode or rust. In addition, upkeep costs are non-existent, and aluminum windows never have to be painted or replaced."

FULL EMPLOYMENT: If we're to have full employment in the United States business must risk its profits and the borrowed savings of the people to develop new frontiers, claims Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace, in Liberty magazine. To be effective this development must come just as fast as the increased purchasing power of the people can buy the growing output of American industry.

Navy Offers Jobs to Local Vets

"Veterans are needed to fill many excellent full-time jobs here at the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit," announced Capt. M. F. Leslie, USN, office-in-charge of the unit at NAS, Miami. He emphasized that only veterans are eligible to fill these well-paying jobs. Former service in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard is required.

Actually all the veteran has to do is to come out to the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, located at the Navy-Municipal Field on Le Jeune Road, Opa Locka, and sign up in the class V-6 Naval Reserve. This is all on a volunteer basis and guarantees permanent duty in Miami. He is then called a "stationkeeper," and cannot be transferred to any other Naval activity unless he so requests. He may also "quit" any time he desires, as soon as the war is officially terminated.

Many South Florida veterans have already signed up in the program. It is also pointed out by Capt. Leslie that with the new pay raise now in effect even in the lesser rating pay-grades, a married man has more take-home pay than most civilian jobs to say nothing of the many extra benefits and protection that he receives such as free medical care and hospitalization for himself, wife and children, shopping at the Navy commissary store, ship's service privileges, recreational activities, free clothing, and NO INCOME TAX deductions. Capt. Leslie explained that the higher rates are being filled more rapidly than the lesser ratings for the very good reason that higher pay is offered. Promotions will be in accordance with standard Navy procedure. He adds that those interested in obtaining more information about any of the jobs still open should contact Lieut. Comdr. L. L. Swope, USNR, phone 8-1611, at the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, Navy-Municipal Field on Le Jeune Road in Opa Locka. His office will be open daily, including Saturday and Sunday, for those who are interested.

Rotary Club Chowder Party Is Brilliant Social Event Claims Editor of Civic Group's Bulletin

Editor's Note: It was impossible for a Riviera reporter to reach the Rotary Club Chowder Party last Friday evening. We were at a loss as to how to bring our readers an account of this brilliant event until the Rotary Bulletin arrived in the mail yesterday. So well covered was the chowder party by the Riviera's own reporter that The Bulletin repeats it here, with due credit to "The Rotarian" and a by-line to its editor.

By LELAND SHEPARD

One of the outstanding social events of the summer took place last Friday evening in the spacious back yard of Rotarian George Anderson, 504 Navarre Avenue. Members of the Rotary Club of Coral Gables, composed of the neat elite of our city were met at the front door by the host and rushed through the drawing room into the back yard where they were greeted by Charlie Cone, kin of the ex-governor. They were escorted to the "snorter" tables where Lloyd Parks, of the "We Fix Your Car and Charge You Plenty" Parks, was pouring long ones and short ones, and matching all comers for a buck.

The piece de resistance was a superb fish chowder concocted by the host from a secret recipe which even George doesn't dare repeat. Lloyd Parks and Jimmy Petracca say they caught the fish at 3 a. m. by the light of the moon while on a yachting cruise near Everglades City. The chowder was made from choice fish, and it was merely accidental and unintentional that a sales slip from Joe's Fish Market dropped out of Parks' pocket.

Lloyd Parks was ably assisted in pouring by Lee Gebhart who was recently decorated with Four Roses by his Old Grandad after rescuing Old Taylor from Vat 69.

Chuck Hudson and Bob Keiser became each other's patient after the fourth bowl of chowder.

Prexy Siplein Otto was the cynosure of all eyes when he appeared in a ravishing sports conglomeration consisting of chausseuse trousers in the latest bell-bottom style, red garters that he nonchalantly revealed whenever he sat down, and wrinkle-proof, orange argyle socks that were worn casually around the heels of real leather sandals. His shirt was as bright as a flash from the atomic bomb.

Cleve Allen and Ralph Smith, former citizens of Georgia, were observed ardently discussing the recent election in their old home state. Both appeared pleased that the affairs of Georgia were again safe in the hands of the Tobacco Road set.

This social gathering would not have been complete without the musical contributions of Catherine Johnson and Bob Turner of the University of Miami who sang "Rolling Down To Rio" and "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes." Their glorious voices soared above the polite din and raucous howling of the guests as the party progressed. Jess Rascoe, club pianist, accompanied the artists beautifully, and is to be commended for her performance because she not only could not see the keys of the piano because of the smoke, but several times had to maneuver a stray Rotarian away from the piano as he mistakenly recalled his hunting days in India and made a dive for the ivory.

When two Rotarians meet, one of them makes a speech. This occasion was no exception. While all were seated at the table waiting for Stubbs to finish his seventh bowl of chowder, and a smile of contentment was on each face, Bill Weaver rose to his feet and started a talk on taxes. Bill is manager of the Social Security board in this area and proceeded to deliver an interesting and informative discourse on Social Security Taxes and Old-Age Benefits.

Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Parks added the necessary feminine, gracious touch to this select gathering. They are now reported doing well at Jackson Memorial hospital where they went immediately after the party for a rest.

On the whole the chowder party proved to be the greatest success on this year's social agenda.

A welcome adornment on any beach is lovely Ann Sothern, star of CBS' Friday "Maisie" show.

Army to Recall 1,125 Officers For Duty

The War Department has announced the increase in quotas, for recall to active duty, of 1,000 National Guard and Reserve officers of all grades for service with the Civil Affairs Division, an additional 40 for service with the Intelligence Division, 35 for service with Foreign Liquidation Commission, and 50 additional for service with Finance Department.

This and previous authorizations make a total of 7,589 vacancies available to officers who have gone on inactive duty or furlough leave but who desire further active duty. War Department representatives indicated that this number may be increased in the near future.

Although the War Department is authorized to recall officers to active duty without their consent during the emergency, it is desired to fill these vacancies with volunteers. Accordingly, quotas have been established to meet the needs of each of the branches of service whose personnel problems have been made acute by the rapid demobilization of the Army.

Volunteers under this program may elect to serve for an unlimited length of time or for a 12, 18 or 24 month period. The War Department, recognizing that such volunteer officers should have some degree of assurance that their services will be utilized for the entire period for which they volunteer, plans for this policy to remain in effect until the Army obtains a permanent postwar status. At present, the War Department cannot force any circumstances which would cause separation of officers prior to the completion of their volunteer period.

Previously announced quotas are as follows: Corps of Engineers, Quartermaster Corps, Signal Corps, Transportation Corps, and Ordnance Department, 500 each; Chaplains Corps, Chemical Warfare Service, and Branch Hospital, 300 each; Medical Administrative Corps, 200; Adjutant General's Department, Counter Intelligence Corps, Medical Corps and Dental Corps, 100 each; Judge Advocate General's Department, Corps of Military Police, Hospital Dietitians of the Medical Department, and Sanitary Corps, 50 each; and Finance Department and Veterinary Corps, 25 each.

The Army Ground Forces has a quota of 2,000 officers of the combat arms in the grade of captain and lieutenant only, and the Army Air Forces has an allotment of 150 non-pilot technical specialists.

Officers desiring to volunteer for return to active duty must apply in writing to the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington 25, D. C., and must meet the physical standards for overseas service. Application forms may be obtained at any Army Installation, Army Recruiting Station, or Officers' Reserve Corps Headquarters. In the event an officer on inactive status, desiring active duty providing he has applied for a Reserve Commission. Qualified applicants may be recalled pending action on appointment in the Officers' Reserve Corps. However, non-acceptance within 10 days of the appointment in the Officers' Reserve Corps, when tendered, will be cause for relief from active duty.

Although officers returning to duty from an inactive status are eligible for overseas assignment, recall to active duty does not necessarily mean the officer will immediately be assigned overseas. Credit will be given for previous overseas service in the same manner as for officers who have remained on active duty. It is pointed out that dependents are authorized in many overseas stations and that choice of theatre is given due consideration.

Officers recalled to active duty will be recalled in grade not higher than that in which the officer served immediately prior to processing for relief from active duty. This is necessary in the interest of fairness to those officers who remained on active duty and have not received a promotion which certain officers received at the time of their separation. Officers recalled to active duty will be subject to any general demotion procedure in the same manner as all other officers on active duty, but in no case will they be reduced lower than the permanent grade held on December 7, 1941. At this time no reductions in grade are being made.

Check Writing Topp Three Billion Here

Withdrawals against checking accounts in Florida banks totaled more than three billion dollars through May this year, the research division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday in its weekly business review.

"This total marked a 24 per cent increase over the first five months of 1945 in Florida business as reflected in debits to individual accounts, and trebled the national rate for the same period," the researchers stated.

It was pointed out that specialized causes for greater activity in the state, other than general inflationary influences present in the nation today, were: more tourist spending, increased realty sales, a marked growth in industrial development and relatively better prices for agricultural products.

"Five-month-period gains, 1946 over 1945, were shown in each of the state's six financial centers. St. Petersburg and Miami virtually tied for first place with increases of 45 per cent and 44.8 per cent respectively. Orlando business was better by one-third and gains in Pensacola, Jacksonville and Tampa approximated 10 per cent.

Gains were registered each month this year over last year in each of the centers. The two highest monthly increases reported were 58 per cent for February in Miami and 51 per cent for April in St. Petersburg.

"Bank debits (or check transactions), as reported by the Federal Reserve Bank, include charges to private and government accounts, both demand and time. (Charges made to accounts of other banks and certified bank officers' checks are not represented in the debit totals). Because most business today is carried on by check, a series of debit tabulations accurately reflect trends of business activity. Debits may be best used for comparative purposes and interpreted in the light of local and seasonal variations. Total dollar amounts have a more limited field and should be 'adjusted' to extend coverage," the review concluded.

Learn to Swim Campaign Planned By Red Cross

The YMCA and the American Red Cross are putting on a "Learn to Swim" campaign at the "Y" pool beginning Monday the 22nd of July. Boys that have not already made application for swimming instruction at the "Y" or the ARC are to register at the YMCA or the ARC for these instructions. Those receiving notices will meet at 1:30 and boys registering now are to meet at 2:15. Instruction will be given on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons of each week until the individual passes the swimming test.

Drive Against Closed Shops Is Launched

TALLAHASSEE—(FNS)—Attorney General J. Tom Watson announced last week that he had launched a drive to close every labor union closed shop contract now operating in Florida industry.

It is the first action to be taken by the state's fiery attorney general in his campaign to enforce Florida's controversial "right-to-work" amendment which prohibits the closed shop.

"It's my purpose to proceed in a constructive and effective manner toward obtaining from employers in the state who have any form of closed shop contract, a prompt and complete cancellation," Watson declared.

The American Federation of Labor and the CIO recently contested the state constitutional amendment in federal court where three judges upheld the validity of the law. In an appeal, the federal Supreme Court refused to rule on the amendment because, they said, the federal court did not have jurisdiction. The labor organizations now have the case before the circuit court in Tampa.

On the Spot Education for Local Schools

Scoggin, director of the Florida Park Service, proposed that additional facilities be provided at state parks to take care of such traveling student groups. If this were done it would be possible to route students from one park to another and cover all sections of the state. Children from north and west Florida could visit central and south Florida and vice versa.

The State Department of Education is sympathetic to the plan and many leading civic clubs, chambers of commerce and other organizations have endorsed it for they realize that youngsters so educated would be better Floridians, and throughout their lifetime would be in possession of authentic knowledge about their state, its advantages, attractions and resources that could be gained in no other way.

All the legislature will be asked to do is appropriate a sufficient amount to permit the construction of additional facilities in state parks to take care of such tours and authorize the use of state funds to provide transportation for such on-the-spot visual education groups.

The program would not be costly and would pay for itself many times over in giving our boys and girls a true knowledge of their state. Seeing is not only believing, it is UNDERSTANDING. What is seen and understood is long remembered.

At Army hospitals in the Fourth Service Command 2,328-424 soldiers were treated for wounds or sickness from January, 1942 to July, 1945.

The Fourth Service Command is an agency of the Army Service Forces and handles all military matters pertaining to supply, housing and transportation of soldiers in the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Hospital Ship Is Used as 'VD' Clinic

The largest and busiest venereal disease treatment center in the country, the State Board of Health's hospital ship, The Ernest Hinda Treatment Center, lowered her gangplank in Jacksonville this week to receive her first load of patients.

Two weeks ago the ship, which was loaned to the state health agency by the Army through the U. S. Public Health Service, was officially turned over to the Board's Bureau of Preventable Disease.

A case load of 12,000 patients per year is expected to be carried by the Center, a bigger load than handled by the State Board's previous four centers at Pensacola, Ocala, Wakulla and Jacksonville. These centers have been closed and all syphilitic patients are channeled through the hospital ship.

Patients are treated and dismissed from the center in an average of nine days now as against 72 weeks it formerly required. Penicillin every two hours is the standard treatment.

Transportation is furnished by the State Health Board, by bus and station wagon for the patient to and from the clinic through which he was originally admitted. The boat is completely equipped with dining, examination, x-ray and operating rooms, lounges and laboratories.

Activities of the center are channeled through the Bureau of Preventable Disease directed by Dr. R. F. Sondag. Dr. Daniel C. Leavitt is medical officer in charge of the ship. He is aided by two doctors and 15 nurses. Howard E. Holtzman is business administrator and Leonard C. Adams is the ship's captain. Personnel numbers about 100.

Public Warned On Soliciting For Deaf

ST. PETERSBURG—(FNS)—Pointing out that the Florida Association for the deaf does not sanction or approve the sale of deaf-mute alphabet cards or the soliciting of alms, Henry S. Austin, secretary, urges public support in putting a stop to the practice.

Investigation reveals that in some instances such cards are being peddled by persons who are neither deaf or mute, who prey on a sympathetic public and at the same time bring reflection on all deaf people.

The Florida Association at a recent convention voted to request the next legislature to adopt a law similar to that of other states prohibiting the peddling of deaf-mute alphabet cards and soliciting alms since it is obnoxious to the deaf and is a nuisance and imposition as far as the public is concerned.

Those who sincerely wish to aid the deaf or mute can help those so afflicted in finding gainful employment, Mr. Austin said.

Freedom isn't freedom to loaf. No parasite is a free member of society. He isn't a member at all.

On the Farm

Dayton — Surplus airplane gasoline tanks released by the army are being put to many different uses by farmers. Among these are feed and water troughs for stock, irrigation tanks, brooder houses for baby chicks, pontoons to support pipe lines across water and home made showers. The tanks also make fishing boats, duck boats, duck blinds, home-made showers, storage containers and sand boxes for children.

Tourists Pay One Third of Luxury Taxes

TALLAHASSEE—(FNS)—State Beverage Director James T. Vocelle estimated last week that one-third of the $34,279,437 in liquor and cigaret taxes collected last year in Florida was paid by tourists.

In an eight-page fiscal year report to Governor Caldwell on beverage department activities, Vocelle said Florida residents and visitors consumed 253,752,334 packages of cigarets, 33,688,203 gallons of beer and 5,348,571 gallons of whisky last year.

Beverage tax collections were 139.69 per cent above the year before and cigaret tax receipts were up 89.81 per cent. The cigaret tax rate was increased one-third, beer levies were up more than three times and whisky taxes were boosted 60 per cent by the 1945 legislature.

Vocelle estimated that of the total $34,279,437 collected last year approximately $11,000,000 was contributed by visitors to our state.
