

Crash Looms Unless Congress Acts, Truman Says

MARKET DIPS 2D DAY AS PRESIDENT LAMBASTS LEGISLATORS FOR INACTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (UP)—President Truman said today this country still faces the dangerous prospect of an economic crash unless Congress acts to stop rising prices.

His statement came as prices were dropping for the second day on the commodity and securities markets. The president declined to comment on these price drops. Government officials were wondering whether it was just a temporary dip or whether postwar inflation may have reached its peak and started down.

In the strongest words, Mr. Truman reiterated to a news conference his desire for legislation to curb inflation. The logical conclusion of inflation, the president said, is a crash and it is up to Congress to do something to stop it.

There was little indication that Congress intends to do anything along the lines that Mr. Truman recommends. A Senate subcommittee two days ago virtually shelved legislation that would have granted the administration authority to get ready for meat rationing.

There is little prospect that any of Mr. Truman's anti-inflation proposals except some kind of rent control extension will be enacted.

Wheeler Refuses AFL Post; Opposing Block Takes Credit

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 5. (UP)—Former senator Burton K. Wheeler today declined an American Federation of Labor offer to lead its fight against the Taft-Hartley law.

Pressing pressure of his law business, Wheeler said he could not accept the post of director of the AFL's Labor League for Political Education, offered to him Sunday night in a confused telephone conversation which led AFL President William Green to believe Wheeler had accepted the post.

According to a powerful group of AFL leaders who led a revolt against the Wheeler "appointment", the Montana Democrat talked himself out of the $200,000 a year job Tuesday night when he said he did not believe that all congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley act should be opposed at the polls next November.

Search for Plane Given Up; 'SOS' Calls Believed False

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (UP)—The U. S. air force and coast guard gave up their search for the missing British airliner, the Star Tiger, today, pending some new indication that some of the 32 persons aboard may have survived an ocean landing a week ago today in the vicinity of Bermuda.

The air force abandoned its search after a final flight from Bermuda last night by two amphibious planes, which reported they sighted no sign of life or wreckage.

The coast guard and CAA said they had received no new reports of the mysterious radio SOS calls signed "Star Tiger" since portable detector finders were dispatched to fix location of the sender. Officials believed the calls were sent by a prankster.

Russo-Romanian Pact Binds Both to Fight Aggressors

LONDON, Feb. 5. (UP)—Radio Moscow announced today that Russia has signed a mutual-aid military pact with Romania binding both countries to fight against any aggressive threat from Germany "or any other state."

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, in a statement on the treaty, said it was directed against "fomenters of a new war from the imperialist camp."

The treaty runs for 20 years. It will be renewed automatically every five years unless it is renounced a year before the end of the five-year term.

In event of aggression against either country, the treaty provides specifically that "the other contracting party will immediately render military and other assistance by all the means at its disposal."

Cold Weather Due to Follow Snow in Middle West and East

Heavy snows which covered the Midwest and East were followed today by still colder weather.

Meanwhile, California's worst winter drought was broken by heavy rains which fell last night on the parched southern valleys which produce much of the nation's citrus fruit.

The U. S. weather bureau at Chicago reported that sub-normal temperatures prevailed over most of the nation.

Forecasters said the heaviest snowfall was in eastern Pennsylvania, where an eight-inch fall slowed transportation. They said the snowfall would end today in eastern states, and that colder weather would set in tonight.

Reds Ban All But Urgent Building in New Budget

MOSCOW, Feb. 5. (UP)—The Soviet Union today went on a strict economy budget under which only the "most urgent and important" construction projects will be undertaken.

The new Soviet budget, approved by the Supreme Soviet at its closing session, calls for income of 429,000,000,000 rubles and expenses of 388,000,000,000, with a surplus of 41,000,000,000.

Requests by several deputies for increased appropriations for major capital construction projects in their districts were refused with the warning that "only the most urgent and important construction projects" could be undertaken in 1948.

Dragnet Snares 800 More As Police Sift Gandhi Plot

NEW DELHI, Feb. 5. (UP)—Police announced today that another 800 Hindu extremists have been arrested throughout India, bringing to 1,100 the number taken into custody since the assassination of Mahandas K. Gandhi.

More than 700 were rounded up in Bombay province for questioning concerning the reported conspiracy against Hindu leaders that brought about Gandhi's death.

Police raids swept through all big cities in India in addition to Bombay province, including New Delhi, Calcutta, Benares, Madras and Bagalore.

NEW BUILDING BOOM SEEN FOR GABLES

City Answers Most-Asked Questions

In expectation of the upsurge in Coral Gables building this spring, the department of public works today released a compilation of instructions to home-builders here.

Superintendent of Public Works L. W. Robinson, Jr., and Building Inspector Gilbert Campbell listed the points which they are most often queried about by builders and architects.

The Board of Supervising Architects is preparing a similar sheet to instruct architects on Gables laws and regulations and their instructions should be released next week.

The department of public works instructions follow:

(1) Be sure you have a clear deed to your lot. A building cash bond must be on deposit before a lot can be cleared, construction shed erected or material placed thereon.

(2) Have your property surveyed and staked by a Florida registered surveyor and request a certified drawing of the property showing any possible encroachments.

Apply For Utilities

Make application for electric service at the Florida Power & Light Co. (126 Avenue Giralda); water service at the Consumers Water Co. (119 Avenue Giralda). Under present building conditions Ordinance No. 2 requires that city water be available to building before its completion. (Please Turn to Page Eight)

Trio Arrested At Hollywood in Theft Series Here

Arrest of three men in Hollywood early today started Miami police on an investigation of a series of recent robberies in Coconut Grove and Miami's Southwest section.

Police Lt. C. W. Potterson said the three men would be charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of more than $850 in government bonds and clothing from Clyde E. Laughinghouse, 1431 S.W. Douglas Road and $15 in cash and clothing valued at $300 from Louis P. Falcina of the same address.

The loot was recovered with the arrest of the three men who gave their names as Michael S. Strozzi, 18, who resided with his stepbrother, Francis; Gus Tenerillo, 33, Senate hotel, Miami, and Joseph M. Stasio, 21, of the Hollywood Beach Hotel.

Pattern Shift Promised to End Air Noise

City Head Gets CAA's Letter On Low Flying

Over two years of battling the CAA, the Dade County Port Authority and the major airlines with letters and telegrams protesting low flying airplanes over Coral Gables finally promised results today, said City Manager W. T. McIlwain.

The city head was in receipt of a letter from CAA man R. C. Murray promising a change in the traffic pattern at the 36th Street airport which would send the planes of three airlines off to South America without crossing the Gables city limits.

"Traffic south and southeast both will make right turns as soon as possible to avoid the city of Coral Gables," wrote Senior Aircraft Carrier Operations Inspector Murray.

Charts are now being prepared for Pan-American, Eastern and National Airlines ships for the traffic pattern change, Murray said.

In addition, City Manager McIlwain said he expected to ask Dade County Port Authority Director A. B. Curry to request the CAA to assign an airplane to patrol the skies here.

While the CAA has eight such patrol craft assigned to Atlanta, there has never been one here, McIlwain added.

As the two-year battle by the Coral Gables city head finally showed a possibility of CAA action, McIlwain said "This will greatly benefit the citizens of Coral Gables who have complained of the noise of overhead aircraft."

Home Building Course Offered

Choosing a lot, planning a home, engaging a contractor, and securing loans are among the subjects which will be covered in eight lectures, each of which will be given by an expert on a major phase of home building, being offered by the Division of Adult Education of the University of Miami.

The lecture course is designed for prospective home builders, and registration for it and other courses in the Adult Education division's second semester beginning Monday can be made in the (Please turn to Page Three)

City's Growth Taxes FPL Facilities Here

Fuller Deplores Failure to Deliver New Generator

Until next April, Coral Gables residents had better keep a dozen or so candles on hand, W. D. Fuller, Coral Gables manager of the Florida Power and Light Company said in effect today.

The utility head said a repetition of Tuesday night's blackout, when Gableites about to sit down to dinner found themselves suddenly in the dark, can occur at almost any time.

Failure of manufacturers to keep promised delivery dates on a 44,000 kilowatt generator at the Miami plant and the breakdown of a 30,000 kilowatt power-producer at Ft. Lauderdale were blamed by the light company for the present "critical situation."

The absence of the generator at Miami affects the Gables area most, said Fuller. It was ordered two years ago, delivery was promised for last December and it now looks as if it won't be here until April at the earliest. And, said Fuller, until the generator is delivered, we'll be "skating on thin ice."

Cites Growth of City

"If we had been able to get this generator as promised, such interruptions as took place last Tuesday would not have happened," Fuller said.

Meanwhile, repairs are being rushed to the smaller generator at Ft. Lauderdale. A General Electric specialist arrived here by (Please Turn to Page Three)

U. S. Troops In Palestine Seen By Year's End

Coral Gables Lions yesterday heard a prediction that U.S. troops will be in Palestine by the end of this year.

Phil Bari, who was born at the U.S. Embassy in Turkey and was in Palestine throughout 1945 with a U.S. Army intelligence unit, told the Lions luncheon at the Country Club of Coral Gables that the present fighting between Jewish and Arab forces is taking on the aspects of a Mohammedan "Holy War."

Bari quoted the Koran, Mohammedan bible, as urging Arabs to "slaughter" all infidels, meaning Christians and Jews.

The Arab chieftains who lead the million Arabs in Palestine are extremely jealous of one another, Bari said, and could be joined only in a so-called Holy War.

GROVE MAN HELD IN PROBE OF FALSE ALARMS

Miami City Judge Cecil C. Curry today postponed until Wednesday trial of Oscar L. Peacan, 33, of 3368 Mary Street, Coconut Grove, who is charged with turning in false fire alarms.

Peacan was arrested in Coconut Grove early today by Miami firemen after he allegedly sent in false alarms from West Flagler Street and 17th Avenue, and W. Flagler St. and 27th Avenue.

At the latter address, the firemen were told that the man who sent in the alarm had boarded a Coconut Grove bus. They followed the bus and arrested Peacan when he alighted at Dixie Highway and S.W. 27th Avenue.

Law's for All—But Amputee Gets 'Break' on Speeding Fine

An amputee veteran must obey the Coral Gables traffic ordinances just like anyone else, Municipal Judge C. S. Robertson ruled yesterday, but the vet is entitled to a break when it comes to paying a fine.

Merger Fights Verbal Odds In Debate at Legion Hall

The Dade county consolidation proposal ran into stiff opposition last night when it was debated before members of Coral Gables Post 98, American Legion.

Although no vote was taken, prolonged applause which punctuated the remarks of William J. Pruitt, speaking for the negative side, showed the sentiment of the veterans' group.

Moderator Paul M. Brinson, in opening the program, pointed out that membership in the post is almost evenly divided between Gableites and residents of Miami and unincorporated county areas. For that reason, Brinson added, the reaction of the audience would not be strictly that of Gableites alone.

PROMOTE HOME RULE

Emmett C. Choate, Miami attorney, who favored the merger, led off the debate. Citing the success of consolidation in other municipalities, Choate said that New York, Baltimore and Denver had tried the experiment and all three had retained it.

Choate said that the merger would save duplication and expense. He quoted an unnamed former city manager as predicting that the act would save Miami $150,000 a year.

Parade of Marine Creatures Set for Grove Boat Show

Many products of the ocean, odd-appearing microscopic marine life and small living ocean creatures, will be part of the University of Miami exhibit at the seventh annual Miami Boat show, scheduled for Feb. 14 through Feb. 21, at the Dinner Key base. The booth is being arranged by the university's marine laboratory.

The living creatures, from barnacles to jellyfish and from octopus to sea stars, will be contained in tanks mechanically aerated and supplied with water from the Gulf Stream. Visitors can view these, but will have to use microscopes, made available at the booth, to see the minute marine organisms in the ocean water.

Demonstrations of the varied experiments and research carried out by the marine laboratory will be made at the booth by Dr. F. G. Walton Smith, director, and his staff of scientists. These include ship fouling, salt water corrosion and paints developed for marine use.

Mounted fish supplied by Al Pfleger will be displayed on the walls of the booth, and varied products of the sea will be shown and their uses explained. These include such widely different items, such as anti-knock compound, custard, manganese and pearl essence.

Barber Shoppers To Harmonize for Pratt Veterans

As the result of a request made by a patient at Pratt General Hospital, the Coral Gables chapter of the National Society for the Promotion and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will entertain hospital veterans at 6:30 this evening.

The patient, Ross C. Critchfield, is a former member of the NSPTAEOBSQIA (w.h.e.w.) in another city. He is a veteran of World War I and is an amateur song writer.

When he expressed a desire to hear a barber shop group in action, Mrs. Doris Wright, program director of the USO, turned to Warren W. Zinsmaster, who heads the Gables singers.

The motion to sing at the hospital passed unanimously and President Zinsmaster predicted that most of the club's membership of 82 would be on hand tonight. Included in the repertoire will be such old favorites as "The Old Song", "Mandy Lee", "Dear Old Girl", "Violet Sweet", "In the Evening by the Moonlight" and "After Dark".

Two performances will be given tonight, one for a ward of 40 patients and the other before 30 patients in another ward.

Zinsmaster indicated that the club will make regular appearances before hospitalized veterans as part of its program.

City Weighs Method to Raise Funds

Mayor Expected To Call Meeting Of Commission

City Attorney E. L. Semple today filed a notice of appeal of the Circuit Court verdict awarding $104,825 to the owners of the 32 city lots condemned by the City of Coral Gables for its projected bus terminal.

As the city attorney filed his papers, Mayor W. Keith Phillips was expected to call a special meeting of the City Commission next week to discuss ways and means of raising the money to buy the entire 32 lots.

The property concerned is bounded by Avenues Giralda and Aragon, Salzedo Street and Le Jeune Road.

Following the official filing of the Circuit Court Judgment, the city has 10 days to get up the money. Besides the hundred thousand dollar verdict, the city, whether it takes the property or not, must pay an additional $8,410. (Please Turn to Page Eight)

Court Denies Alimony Hike For Mrs. Pawley

Circuit Judge George Edward Holt denied last yesterday the motion of Mrs. Annie H. Pawley, former wife of William D. Pawley, U.S. Ambassador to Brazil, who sought to increase her temporary alimony of $800 a month.

Judge Holt also denied her motion for $10,000 for additional court costs and attorney's fees, but declined to rule on the validity of Pawley's 1943 Cuban divorce, which Mrs. Pawley does not recognize.

Mrs. Pawley filed suit for divorce here on Sept. 6, 1946, and was allowed the temporary alimony pending final judgment. The Pawleys formally resided on Le Jeune Road near Coral Gables and Mrs. Pawley now maintains a home at 3190 Pine Tree Drive, Miami Beach.

$5-Million Suit Filed by Airline Against Union

Notice of a suit for $5,000,000 damages—the largest ever filed in circuit court—was recorded today.

The suit was filed by National Airlines, Inc. and named as defendants Air Line Pilots Association, International, American Federation of Labor.

A. L. McCarthy, one of the attorneys for the air line, said that the suit "will be an action for libel and slander based on an unwarranted charge made by the union that the aircraft were unsafe."

The statement referred to by McCarthy was reported to have been made by union officials when 140 pilots of the union joined mechanics this week in a strike.

Residents of Two Areas Urged to Register Now

By DOT THAGARD
Riviera-Times Staff Writer

To repeat a hackneyed phrase, "Now is the time for all good men, (and women), to come to the aid of the party," the county books are open and our areas may register at 219 Coral Way . . . The Gables registration books for our election are open at the Coral Gables City Hall. Be sure to register . . . this is IMPORTANT.

Among our residents being so active in various fields, we noticed young Vicki Cauley, six-year-old daughter of the W. H. Cauleys, of 540 Zamora, as a participant in the recent Gables Horsheshow. Vicki was an entrant in the Children's Lead Pony Class, in which event she took third prize, but this is tame stuff to this young miss who can handle a real horse like an expert, now quite an equestrienne, she looks forward to the gallops and canters she enjoys on her grandparents' (Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Padgett) ranch on Sunset Drive, this large ranch stables 50 horses and also boasts a very large riding ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Cauley are active members of the South Miami Riding Club, and Mrs. Cauley awarded the prizes at Saturday and Sunday's Horsheshow. Besides these activities Mrs. Cauley (Naomi) is program chairman for the Coral Gables Junior Woman's Club Circus Cabaret, to be held at the Coral Club in April, she also holds the office of corresponding secretary of the Junior Woman's Club. Mr. Cauley has entered new fields by recently purchasing the Colquitt and Martin Insurance Company in Miami. The last member of the Cauley family, the very young Susan, celebrated her second birthday anniversary January 28th. Susan, incidentally, though but two years old loves the horses too, and following in sister's footsteps can also ride, and looks forward, with all the eagerness one so young can muster, to her participation in her first horsheshow, which Naomi will probably be the latter part of this month.

Bracy Richardson returned this week from his business trip which took him to Birmingham, Nashville and Atlanta, with tales of impassable roads from Birmingham to Nashville, and the miserable, awful cold up there. How he never saw the sun from the time he left here until he recrossed the state line into Florida on his way home, he is now thoroughly enjoying and thawing out in our beautiful Coral Gables sunshine.

Youth Takes the Spotlight Of Frog Hollow Activity

By MARY HICKEY
Riviera-Times Staff Writer

What with a birth, a christening, and a birthday party, the younger generation in Frog Hollow seemed to be in the foreground this past week. Last Sunday was a big day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kennedy, of 6079 S.W. 38th Avenue, for the house was all in readiness for the arrival of Mrs. Kennedy and the new addition to the family. Young Douglas Randall Kennedy was born January 27th at the St. Francis Hospital, and we understand that the Kennedy's other son, Terry, who is seven years old, is highly pleased with the new arrival and the prospect of a future playmate in the family.

Over at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maccarron, 3726 S.W. 60th Avenue, there was a "double feature" celebration! The big event was in honor of the christening of the Maccarrons' twin sons, born last Christmas Eve—just in time to be a surprising Christmas present for the Maccarrons' little girl, Patsy, who at the age of three, is quite intrigued with the two new members of the family.

The little boys, who were named Michael Paul and Matthew John, were christened in a ceremony at the Church of the Little Flower in the Gables. The rite was performed by Father Filbin, a friend of the family from St. Michael's parish in the Northwest section. Mr. Anthony Maccarron, brother of the twins' father, and Miss Irene Fitzmorris were godparents.

Approximately 40 youngsters had the time of their lives last Friday at a really "super" birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gaither on S.W. 60th Avenue. Little Georgann Gaither and Judy Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myers of Coconut Grove, both having reached the age of three years on the same date, their parents decided to celebrate the occasion with a joint birthday party. The party was held in the rear of the Gaither home and followed the picnic lunch idea.

Valentine Theme
Using St. Valentine's Day as their theme, Mrs. Gaither and Mrs. Myers decorated the table in red and white, with a huge red and white cake as the centerpiece.

Each young guest was provided with a novel game consisting of a small ball attached to a wooden paddle. These favors, in addition to the sand box, swings, and sliding board in the Gaither yard, provided plenty of amusement for the small fry. Assisting Mrs. Gaither and Mrs. Myers with the refreshments and entertainment were Mrs. Jack Beckwith, Mrs. John Ring, and Mrs. Walter Hunkey. The list of guests represented friends of both little girls and included Gail and Debbie Toomey, Lynn Gordon, Enid Milligan, Grant and Louisa LeRoux, James Tigert, Leslie and Binx Howdon, Langdon and Neilson Rogers, Betty Ann Estes, Kip Paschwich, Patricia Maccarron, Nancy McLeod, Mary Frances Fincher, Jody Gates, Caroline Patterson, Julie Towson, Sandy Coleman, Melinda Pam, and Hillary Willis, Susan and Ann Crowe, Lee Hamilton, Frank Mackie, Bobby Mackie, Judy Vetter, Larry Walters, Chris Eisasser, Frances Mercer, Howe Moredock, Mary Stuart Patton, Kent McGahey, Kent Lantaff, Lon Dowlen, Dongis Mackie.

Swinging over to the adult membership of the Hollow, Mrs. Harry Van Riper of 16th Court

Another home reading the "new look" is the one belonging to the aforementioned W. H. Cauleys, with a complete redecorating job. With all the homes in the area being polished up the Thagard chimney is a disgrace to the lovely neighborhood. We will be glad to be the first to put our name on a petition asking them to please paint it. Well dots Dot now.

Swinging over to the adult membership of the Hollow, Mrs. Harry Van Riper of 16th Court entertained this past Monday at bridge at the regular monthly meeting of the Junior Group of the D.A.R. Making up the two tables of bridge that followed the regular meeting were Mrs. Fred Diestlehorst, Mrs. G. Broking, who is regent of the senior group of the D.A.R., Mrs. L. E. Westerdahl, Mrs. John Brons, Mrs. Millican, Mrs. Herbert H. Johnson, Mrs. Richard Davis, Mrs. Robert Shelley, and Mrs. Victor Yaska, a guest member here from Kansas City.

Last Monday, folks saw the opening of the annual Community Chest drive in this area. A number of your neighbors have volunteered to work for this organization and will, no doubt, be calling on you before long in behalf of the Chest, and we're hoping that all of you who can will give your support to this worthy organization.

Co-Eds Predominate At Purdue University

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UP)—Purdue University, long a stronghold of rugged masculinity in Indiana, has succumbed to an invasion by feminine students.

Even the pool room of the Memorial Union Hall has become a hangout for co-eds, and an announcement said a woman's tournament would be held in the billiard room during February.

The feminine enrollment has risen from 649 to 2,097 in the last 15 years. The co-eds are enrolled in almost every division of the university—from civil and mechanical to chemical and aeronautical engineering.

Native Typewriters Planned For India

NEW DELHI, India. (UP)—India is expected to have language typewriters within the next few years.

Reports from Wardha, Central Provinces, indicate that an invention already has been perfected. It will have 48 Hindustani characters.

There is already much public opinion against keeping English as the national language of this country. Many provincial assemblies have adopted the local language.

Rayon Panties Bring Hush To Senate Banking Group

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
UP Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (UP)—Your Congress got itself snarled yesterday in a complicated discussion of nails and—ahem—ladies' pants.

The dignified Senate Banking Committee was hearing witnesses on some bills designed to put a re-cap on prices. One of the witnesses was Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, an economist for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

The committee cupped legislative ears and listened with rapt attention. Dr. Schmidt said that the way he looked at it, the purpose of controls is to divert production and to create scarcities in some sectors, for the benefit of other sectors. The senators quirked several sets of eyebrows.

The doctor, a somewhat portly gentleman wearing a pompadour too high up on his forehead, said that a lot of sorry messes occur when we try to control economy—or prices—by law. Like in 1946.

Pigs, Calves and Horses
"Did you know," he asked the senators, "that the decline in packing house slaughter actually reduced residential construction?"

Senatorial jaws dropped. And before Dr. Schmidt could open his mouth to continue his testimony, the inevitable question steamed up from all corners of the oblong table in room 301 of the senate office building.

"In Heaven's name, how?"
The C. of C. expert was right there with the answer, having asked the question in the first place. Like this, said he: Nails for house construction are made of wire. Granted, noddled the senators. Wire can't be pulled through the molds without certain lubricants. Okay. These certain lubricants happen to be by-products of animal slaughter.

So the killing of fewer pigs and calves, he said, meant building fewer houses.

The same was true for a lot of other things that go into a house, Dr. Schmidt said. Glue, for one thing. The stuff that sticks furniture together; a slaughter house by-product. The committee, from Chairman Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire on around

County's Own Farm Pays Dividends

SHELBYVILLE, Ind. (UP)—Shelby County's 30,000 residents own a farm collectively and the income is, rolling in.

In 1933, the will of John A. Tindall was read. It bequeathed its 247-acre farm to the county with a provision that the income be used "for the poor."

That was during the depression and farm income was small. County officials almost forgot the Tindall farm as a source of revenue. But times changed and Tindall farm prospered.

Now the county finds the enterprise has accumulated more than $23,000 in a bank account. The income during 1947 alone was $9,500 and the year before that $8,000.

Officials are considering using some of the money to improve the Shelby County Home, a haven for penniless old folks, and the Gordon Children's Home.

5 Husbands Show Wives How Pickling's Done

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Downtown, John Orman and Gene Myers are bankers, Tom Evans is a lawyer, Jack Eakin is an electrical engineer, and Charlie Andrews is an advertising man.

But once each year they gather at the Orman house, chase their wives out of the kitchen and become what they proudly call a first-class pickling team—tomato pickling.

They work with production-like smoothness, with Banker Orman calling the signals and running a sub-assembly line of glass jars with the necessary dirt, garlic and onion in them. Banker Myers washes the tomatoes, Lawyer Evans quarters them, Engineer Eakin inspects the quarters and packs the jars, and Andrews, the advertising man, handles the brine and screws on the tops. Evans, first to finish, also is chief coffee maker.

More than 4,000 persons died from cancer during 1946 in Minnesota.

The corn border did nearly $13,000,000 worth of damage to Minnesota corn crops in 1946.

City's Growth Taxes FPL Facilities Here

(Continued from Page One) plans this morning, Fuller said, and "with the best of luck" that machine will be back in operation in about a week.

The rapid growth of the city of Coral Gables and its neighboring areas has severely taxed the power system here, Fuller stated.

If a cold wave should come, the situation would be extremely serious.

If the weather does get cold, Fuller said "We'll have to make a desperate appeal to consumers not to use electric heaters."

City to Join Oil Protest

(Continued from Page One) heads, said the price paid by this city for gasoline has jumped 2.2 cents a gallon in the last 14 months.

The price of gasoline, as well as the cost of electricity, is directly based on the barrel price the major oil companies demand for crude oil.

While this crude oil cost has zoomed, the oil companies' earnings per share has advanced at a corresponding rate, the Florida municipalities hold.

Daytona Mayor Padgett states "We believe the oil companies are trying to pay for a tremendous expansion program with their earnings in one single year."

"They are foisting this expansion program on us, the consumers," said the Daytona mayor.

He called the oil companies' actions "high-handed and unwarranted."

Reckless Driving, Intoxication Fines Total $35

A driver blamed by police for a three-car accident paid a $20 fine, a woman motorist charged with driving on the wrong side of the street was penalized $5 and a man charged with intoxication failed to appear in Municipal Court yesterday and forfeited a $10 bond.

Ray K. Wilson, 19, of 3801 SW 60th Court, was held responsible by police for a three car crash near 1906 Ponce de Leon Boulevard last week.

Wilson's passing another car on the right hand side caused the mishap, the police said.

Helen Friedman, 2340 SW 25th Terrace, was the motorist fined for driving on the wrong side.

Dan Carver, 59, of 145 NE 20th Terrace, failed to appear on tipping charges and lost his bond.

Police Hold Youth In Exposure Case

Richard Robertson, 21, of 701 Avenue Valencia Street, was held for investigation by Gables police today after he was arrested by Officer A. E. Tipton outside the Venetian Pool this morning.

Robertson was charged with indecently exposing himself. Officer Tipton reported that Robertson had confessed in writing to calling a girl to his car and then committing the alleged exposure.

Keys Found Here

A bunch of three keys, one of them a house key, were found by Coral Gables police today near Woolworth's here. The key ring bears the legend "George's Bridge Inn, Healeah."

A crude glass furnace, constructed to make beads for trading with the Indians, was America's first industrial enterprise.

Merger Fights Verbal Odds In Debate at Legion Hall

The Miamian said that consolidation would promote home rule and would place control with the people rather than with the state legislature.

Pruitt, who is a candidate for state senator, said that the real reason the cities named by Choate had never abolished the consolidation was that they didn't know how to go about it. He claimed that repeal of consolidation would be a very difficult thing once it had been voted in, since an amendment of the state constitution would be required to kill it.

EXPERTS SEEN NEEDED

The task of drawing an adequate charter within 90 days after their appointment would be "hopelessly impossible" for any charter board, Pruitt said. Many high-priced experts would be needed to do the job properly, he contended, and this cost, as well as cost of the election, would be borne by the county as a whole.

The contents of the charter, Pruitt charged, would not be known by the general public until it was published in a Miami newspaper. Such important factors as the number of commissioners, their tenure of office, their salaries and the authority which their offices carry would not be divulged until the charter was submitted, Pruitt declared.

If the charter were rejected, Pruitt predicted, the election process would be repeated until the majority of the voters tired of it and then an organized minority could vote it in.

LAWYERS 'UNCERTAIN'

Pruitt said that he had contacted 750 lawyers for their reaction to the proposal. Of the 250 replies which he received, all but two said that the act was "fraught with uncertainties" and would result in "unlimited litigation" if adopted.

After the two speakers had completed their remarks, a 20-minute period was allowed for crossfire questions between the two.

Later, questions from the floor were invited with the debaters providing the answers. City Manager William T. McIlwain and City Commissioner Thomas C. Mayes were prominent among the interrogators.

Students Sport Beards As Protest to Exams

NEW YORK, (UP)—Undergraduates at Columbia University aren't taking this term's final examinations sitting down.

A self-styled "revolutionary movement" is rousing college men to action to convince authorities that the three-hour tests are unjust. The rebels, who are called "Wilding Whiskers," are growing beards during the ten-day examination period as a protest.

Stalwarts of the group had predicted that the spectacle of so many unshaven faces would force the administration setup. The dean promises to confer with student representatives about the problem. "That is, after this term's examinations," he chuckled.

During a 10-day period, nearly 60,000 skiers were counted on the famous Cranmore Mountain ski trails.

Nebraska law permits the governor to offer a reward of up to $200 for the arrest of a murderer.

British Declare Martial Law; Jews Ask Holy Land Militia

JERUSALEM, Feb. 5. (UP)—British authorities declared limited martial law in northern Palestine today in the wake of a Jewish demand that the United Nations approve formation of a Jewish militia to guard the entire Holy Land, including Arab areas.

Under the new decree, announced by the military commander of upper Galilee, residents of the Tiberias area around the sea of Galilee were prohibited from leaving their homes starting at 8 a.m.

The restrictions were clamped down only a few hours after a new Arab invasion of north Palestine yesterday near Rosh Pina, seven miles north of the sea of Galilee on the Palestine-Syrian frontier.

The British army confirmed a Palestine government report that the invaders were garbed in Syrian army uniforms and carried French army rifles. Syria formerly was under French rule.

Anti-Communist Measure Won't Work, Clark Testifies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (UP) — Attorney General Tom Clark today opposed congressional proposals to outlaw the Communist Party. "It should be our effort at all times to expose to the light of public examination the activities of such individuals rather than by means of restrictive legislation to afford them an opportunity to operate underground," he told a House un-American activities subcommittee hearing on Communist control legislation.

While terming the Communist movement a "cause for concern," Clark said he agreed with FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover that "from a security standpoint it would be best not to outlaw the party by statute."

Earlier Rep. Karl E. Mundt (Rep., S. D.), urged approval of his bill to require Communists to register with the Justice Department as agents of a foreign power.

Clark said the proposed law "provides no penalty for the offending organization's continued existence or activity after conviction. It continues on its way."

Boring came upon a wildcat in a trap. The animal broke free and lunged at the elderly man. Boring brought the only weapon he had into use and killed the beast. His weapon—a wooden cane.

UAW Head Warns Congress Against Marshall Plan Cut

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (UP)—Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers (CIO), cautioned Congress today against cutting Marshall plan funds on the assumption that "an apple a day will keep totalitarianism away."

Reuther urged the Senate foreign relations committee to take a "long second look" at the proposed $6,800,000,000 down payment to see whether it should not be increased, instead of reduced as many prominent persons have recommended.

"I suggest," said Reuther, "that it is better to provide for too much than to be caught short with too little."

"Aid that is less than enough, that is given as a dole, or as a cash-and-carry proposition, or by exacting first mortgages on entire national economies, may buy us a little time but it will fail to win the friends and allies we need if we are to make democratic and human values secure in the world."

Iran Rejects Soviet Charge Of 'Undue' U. S. Influence

TEHRAN, Feb. 5. (UP)—The Iranian government flatly rejected last night all Russian charges of undue American activities and influence in Iran.

Rejection of the Russian charges was accompanied by American assurances that Iran, as a member of the United Nations, no longer stood alone against the Soviets.

An Iranian government note delivered to Soviet Ambassador Ivan Sadokhikov denied one by one all Russian charges presented last week that American activities in Iran were threatening the Soviet frontier.

Among the charges denied was that the U. S. was arming Iran.

The Iranian note said that Iran was prepared to purchase military supplies from any power able to supply her.

"The Soviet government also was approached but the prices quoted by you were so high we were constrained to accept the United States offer," the note said.

Iran also denied that the American advisory mission controlled the army.

OUR TOWN

Drop the Ciphers

By Al Harum

This inflation's got me. You can't even tell a young lady she looks like a million dollars anymore. With Congress, Truman and the election year candidates talking about billions and hundreds of billions what self-respecting young lady wants to look like only a million?

If Harry expects to get the almost 40 billion he says he needs to run the government I hope he took the economic trend into consideration when he prepared his list of anticipated expenditures. Preparing a budget is very similar to closing a sale. We have a buyer and a seller. Experience has proven that the best way to establish a price on a given item is to find out what the seller wants to sell for and what the buyer wants to pay for it. Somewhere in between lies the purchase price. Anticipating this the buyer usually sets his asking price high and the seller his opening bid low.

Truman's asking price was $40-billion. But Congress won't buy that figure. And Congress won't say what figure they'll buy. Apparently they are just going to hack and hack, $2-and-a-half billion at a time, until Harry squirms and takes back the $40 tax cut he's promised Joe Taxpayer so that the GOP can better the slash.

Meanwhile, the Republicans and Democrats who are tossing these digits with abandon about Washington should realize that one of these days Mr. Taxpayer will cancel out the ciphers and take pencil in hand to figure how he stacks up. He has a bid price he's willing to pay and it had better be somewhere near the current Washington asking price.

The nice thing about being a taxpayer is that you can switch principals in the middle of a sale.

AL HARUM

Just about every state in the Union is as busy as the proverbial Pilgrim on a dog's back trying to lure and trap out-of-state spenders and vacationers into their webs. This means that many towns and states have gone all-out for this one purpose. Towns are washing behind their purging ears, and washing their dirty little faces, perhaps for the first time since birth. Back streets and alleys galore which, through the past decades have been terribly neglected, are now getting a thorough licking. Ears, eyes and nose specialists have been called to the front lines and are doing their work where it's needed most.

We're more or less worried here in Florida over the thousands who aren't here, spending freely and loosely, like they once did. There's many a reason why million dollar places are doing fifty cent business over against past thousand dollar business.

Looking the situation over we might as well know that between here and out yonder there's many a would-be vacationer who has been squeezed into somebody else's camp ground rather than our own. Places that were once filled to overflowing are now empty cans. Where once upon a time a waiter served several tables, two men are hovering around one table hoping to split the diminished tip between themselves. It means better service, perhaps, but it's awfully demoralizing to a fellow who makes his living that way!

But things have changed overnight!

You can say what you please, but apparently the spenders are finding other spots on the globe to turn loose their cash. They're window shopping the nation over for a place where they can spend their money and get more for their dollar. You can't blame a fellow for that, now can you?

As I said in the beginning, the nation is clean-up conscious and every town is ready or getting ready to stop as many vacationers as possible. This means less vacationers for other places which ordinarily would expect returns. The travelling public is saying: "why make such a long, weary trip to so and so when we can get what we want nearer home, or out at so and so?" Every State is on its toes and towns are waking up to the possibilities and prospects of enormous income from out-of-Staters! You can bet your last coin on that, my good friend. States are out to get them!

One State is pushing another good rush. And gold pieces, made from good American mints, have been discovered.

Anybody here got a good idea?

HOLLYWOOD

FILM SHOP

By PATRICIA CLARY
 United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—A noted South American movie director says the difference between European and American movies is the difference in European and American education.

American education concentrates on the young history of the country, director Hugo Fregonese said. American movies consequently are filled with outdoor action.

European education develops appreciation of art, and European pictures in their subtleties reflect cinema art, he said.

"So as a result, Europeans think American pictures are cheap, unimportant 'chase' thrillers," Fregonese said. "And we look on European pictures as heavy, dull, uninteresting and laborious."

Fregonese, now under contract to M-G-M, is an Argentinian whose latest south American picture, "Where Words Fail," was chosen Latin-America's best picture of the year and is its biggest money-maker. The picture's claims to art go right up to a full-length ballet, which not only is art but also forwards the plot.

Americans Differ

It was a natural for foreign audiences, but Americans prefer their own musicians. Fregonese said it was only natural for tastes to differ.

"The appreciation of all forms of art has been developed in Europe for hundreds of years," he said. "By the time a child is 10 or 12 in Europe, he has been exposed to so much culture he can name most of the classics in music from hearing a few bars; he has classic literature and history down pat, and he can differentiate generally between good and bad art in any form."

But American children have a different set of interests. They concentrate on physical activity.

While America turns out many serious important stories each year, Fregonese said, most of them and most of the popular ones are musicals, westerns or action films.

ments with mice with an interesting result.

The experiments continued for 16 years. The work began with one mouse with 12 white hairs on its forehead. The 12 hairs have been increased by selection—exclusively within the descendants of the one mouse and four related females—until some mice are 80 per cent white, Dr. Goodale reported.

He said approximately 600 males and 3,000 females have been mated during the 40 generations covered by the experiment to date.

Dr. Goodale reported that so far as known, it is the only experiment on record in which a small, insignificant character has been built up by selection to the degree obtained. The experiment poses many questions, such as:

What happened to the chromosomes of the mice?

Is the increase in white due to rearrangement of the genes of the five original mice? Is it due to intercurrent mutations?

Dr. Goodale believes that whatever answer is found in the future, "it is apparent that selection has some, at least, of the potentialities attributed to it in the days following the publication of 'The Origin of the Species.'"

The Radio Corporation of America is offering a new television picture magnifier which enlarges the images received on seven of ten-inch television picture tubes to the approximate equivalent in size and brilliance of those produced by a 15-inch tube.

The RCA engineers say the new magnifier, in use, is placed in front of the viewing screen of the television receiver.

Science at Work

By PAUL F. ELLIS
 United Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Dr. W. D. Valleau, plant pathologist, is out to give this country a good five-cent cigar.

He insists, however, that no such thing is possible as long as the tobacco plant suffers from $5,000,000 diseases.

Dr. Valleau, a veteran in the study of plant diseases, reports that progress is being made in the battle to free the nation's crop of tobacco from disease—that he has been able to develop a new kind of tobacco with resistance to not one, but four major diseases.

Starting with a wild form of tobacco with resistance to the wildfire disease, Dr. Valleau used a drug known as colchicine to induce the reluctant wild tobacco to cross with domestic tobacco.

Then, step by step, he mated the offspring with plants resistant to root rot, wilt, and mosaic. Finally, he produced tobacco plants of acceptable market and agricultural qualities, with resistance to all four diseases.

Such advances, he believes, will bring back the good five-cent cigar.

Dr. H. D. Goodale, geneticist of Mount Hope Farm, Williamstown, Mass., wants to know whether Darwin was right after all. He recalls that Darwin and his followers attributed creative power to selection, and that such a theory has been denied in recent years.

However, Dr. Goodale has done experi-

FROM A RIVIERA NOTEBOOK

By Mary Holm Clarke

If the people of Coral Gables ever doubted the wisdom of community-life insurance, they learned their lesson during the 1926 hurricane. Two demonstrations, one negative and one positive, proved the value of efficiently administered social service agencies as security for community life.

In 1926, Dr. M. H. Tallman had just completed his hospital which was to bear his name. It was on Douglas Road, between the sturdily built homes of Coral Gables and the flimsy structures of an outlying section of Miami. When the eye of the hurricane passed over the southwest section, the force of 140 mile winds splintered clapboard homes. The community was totally unprepared for such wide-spread disaster.

Dr. Tallman threw open his new hospital and cared for hundreds of injured. Out of his own pocket he paid for medicine and equipment, and when his cash was exhausted, he took advantage of his credit standing to obligate himself for thousands more. When the day of reckoning came, it was discovered that no one had kept an itemized record of his expenditures, adequate for the National Red Cross to reimburse him for his disaster relief program. Dr. Tallman was forced to sell his hospital and recoup his losses as best he could. Even the city commissioners admitted, "The city has no right to impose upon Dr. Tallman as we were forced to do. We should have an emergency hospital."

That was the negative proof. The positive values of organized group work were demonstrated by local youth organizations. The Girl Reserves of the YWCA were already strong in the schools. They mobilized immediately to care for the children of injured mothers and to comfort those who were separated from their parents.

There was no telephone service so all messages had to be delivered. The brunt of this messenger service fell on the Boy Scouts. The Notebook records that Roy Narcato, a Scout, worked without food or rest for 18 hours on a stretch.

The Community Chest supplies the working capital for 22 agencies prepared to render as many different kinds of community service. The Red Cross now has an efficient unit for disaster relief, insurance against such a financial sacrifice as Dr. Tallman made. The Community Chest is insurance against a similar loss of capital assets, represented in human factors.

Remember—this is not a Drive to end all Drives. It is a campaign to unify 22 campaigns. It is our Community-Life Insurance.

SHORT QUIRKS

Big Feet Get Break
KEENE, N. H. (UP)—Students attending a dance at the Keene High School gymnasium stared at the sign at the box-office. Then they took off their shoes and stood on a yardstick. The price of admission was three cents per inch of foot. No charge was made for feet over a foot long.

Long Time to Come
OLYMPICA, Wash., (UP)—Dr. Lauren Donaldson of the University of Washington displayed a sea shell from Kikini Bay here which he said would have one-half of its radioactivity remaining in 1,600 years.

Tenting Days Over
PERU, Mass. (UP)—After six months in a tent, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oakes have found a home for their six children. They purchased a woodchopper's cabin and planned to build an addition to house their family during the winter.

Idaho Curtain Lifted
MOSCOW, Ida. (UP)—The University of Idaho will drop its bars against non-Idaho residents next semester. President J. E. Buchanan said the big rush of veterans appears to be leveling off and construction of additional housing facilities permitted enrollment of selected non-residents.

Now It's Tulipburgers
MILWAUKEE (UP)—The John Drees family thought the hamburger sandwiches with sliced onion tasted a little odd, but no comment was made. The next morning Mrs. Drees discovered she had sliced up some of her husband's tulip bulbs instead of the onions.

U. S. Goes for Gasoline
CHICAGO (UP)—The average daily demand for gasoline is 91,014,000 gallons, according to the American Petroleum Institute. If all the gasoline were used in cars which average 22 miles per gallon, it would mean that Americans travel 2,002,308,000 miles daily.

Marriages Decline
NEW YORK (UP)—The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company estimated there were about 2,000,000 marriages in the United States in 1947, compared with 2,285,000 in 1946. It predicted the downward trend will continue.

Old Truth Re-Set
MEDIA, Pa. (UP)—Joseph Mielcarek, of the county domestic relations department, said there would be fewer marital mixups if men would remember that courting is just as important after the marriage as before.

Pietro, a Goldfish, and a Cat Named Joe

THEIR HOME AROUSES THE CURIOUS IN YOU

By CHUCK WILEY
 Riviera-Times Staff Writer

Decadent, lonely, beautiful. That's the house where Pietro Santi lives with his goldfish and cat named "Joe."

But it won't be decadent long if Pietro has anything to do with it because right now he's working from sunrise to sunset trying to rebuild the home which the depression, war, and several hurricanes tried to destroy.

Located at 10300 Sunset Drive, the Santi house has long been a source of curiosity to tourists and residents who venture out that way.

"And why, I don't know," Pietro will tell you, adding "the place is such a mess now."

The "mess" he refers to is a white concrete two-story house consisting of sixteen rooms. Of a Roman architectural design, the exterior of the house is decorated with four small Roman columns and numerous Florentine arches downstairs, and four larger columns and a small balcony upstairs. Directly in front of the entrance to the house, there's a goldfish-filled fountain, in the middle of which is a pompous statue of a Roman maiden.

"Before the 1947 hurricanes," Pietro explains, "my yard was graced with numerous hedges and many colored flowers, including zenias, dahlias, and roses. Now all I have left are two hedge formations on both sides of the center walkway."

The hedges form the letters V.O.V. which, Pietro shyly explains, stands for "victory over victory."

Upon passing the Santi place, you'll probably surmise that no one lives there. Yet if your curiosity causes you to venture up to the front door and knock, you'll be met by a friendly, lively little Italian who'll be just as curious as you as to why you stopped.

Nothing But a Swamp

If encouraged, Pietro will tell you about how his land looked back in 1931, just five years after he came to Miami from Chicago.

"I bought this property when there was nothing here but a swamp," he'll explain.

"Soon after I started building a house on it like we had in Sicily, where I came from in 1901, the depression came along and I had to stop working on it and take a job to support my family. As soon as possible, I began building again. Poof! Along came World War II and off to the Army went building materials."

When he was able to get a few materials in 1944, he started building again. His efforts were again in vain because the September 1945 hurricane destroyed all but four rooms of the house. It was the same hampering story with him during the '47 hurricanes.

"But I'll get 'er finished yet," Pietro boasts while pointing to his dream home. As you listen to him and look up to where he's pointing, you are reminded of a crumbling pompous residence on one of the seven hills of Rome.

And one of these days, a little more of the grandeur that was Rome can be seen out there at Pietro's place. But I'm wondering if the changes that are to be made will attract as many of the curious as does the present decadent, lonely, beautiful shell of a Roman house.

They're Back in Cold, Cold North

But Willises Still Remember

"They won't believe us," wrote the A. C. Willises from Manchester, Tennessee, remembering a steak dinner they enjoyed in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Willis, 4777 S.W. Fifth Street, last Sunday night. With the temperature four below zero when the Willises returned to Manchester the first of this week, they wrote their Miami hosts that their friends couldn't imagine having dinner outdoors.

The Tennesseans, together with Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Tate, spent three days with Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Willis last week. For their first trip to Florida, they toured the entire state stopping in every major city.

HAVE YOU EVER SEEN a brand new daddy and a brand new mother promenading a brand new baby in a brand new carriage? Daddy with that "DO LOOK!" mother with that "new look" and baby with that "goo look" . . . It makes you feel good just to look at them.

Do you suppose the committee in charge of Christmas Lights have decided to leave ours up until next Christmas? Could be . . . Well . . . I've gone and done it . . . After years of nursing my tresses to a length where I could do things with it (with the help of a hairdresser) I suddenly got an uncontrollable urge to cut it all (almost) off. That's what reading the fashion magazines do to you . . . I look like a shorn lamb and have a delicious light-headed, giddy feeling . . . and I'm at once delighted and dismayed! It's really most effective.

Talking about flowers reminds me of a certain party who wanted very much to impress his hoped-for bride-to-be . . . having to be separated from her for a while he ordered a florist to deliver ONE LOVELY RED ROSE every day, rain or shine, winter or summer and including Sundays . . . Plan Scavenger Hunt

Miss Patsy Weiland, Miss Mary Elizabeth Walters and Miss Nancy Woodward will detail plans for a scavenger hunt which the Spinster Club will stage March 20 for its members and their escorts.

The six distinguished guests, all past presidents, occupied a table of honor in the middle of the luncheon table arrangement. These past presidents, Mrs. J. J. Hinson who served in 1916-17; Mrs. John Opsahl, 1919-20; Mrs. V. E. Eisfeller, 1934-37; Mrs. R. W. Dorn, 1921-22 and 1938-39; Mrs. J. J. Miller, 1939-41 and Mrs. Frederick F. Ravlin, 1945-47 cited the amazing growth of the club from their terms of office down to the present.

Mrs. A. L. Buzzell Jr. was introduced as the "granddaughter" of the club. Mrs. Buzzell's mother is Mrs. R. W. Dorn, past president, and her grandmother Mrs. Mary E. Dorn was one of the founders of the club and its president in 1913 and 1914.

Mrs. Ravlin, immediate past president, predicted a great future for the Coco Plum Women and complimented the members on the great good they are accomplishing with their accelerated welfare program.

The program opened with the singing of the Lord's Prayer by Frieda Reilly Doughty and closed with the presentation of six new members: Mrs. James T. Ross, Jr., Mrs. Robert S. Grant, Mrs. H. C. Tysinger, Mrs. Helen Brod, Mrs. Kenneth Vee and Mrs. Robert C. Kuntz. Miss Betty Olliff of the University of Miami School of Music played piano numbers during the luncheon hour and accompanied Mrs. Doughty.

U-M Cagers Brush Past Tampa, 86-67

Abe Friedman, sharpshooting University of Miami guard, paced his Hurricane mates to an 86-67 win over Tampa University Spartans for their second win in as many days and third of the season over the Spartans.

Friedman was closely followed in the scoring by Bob Carroll, who apparently has successfully filled ex-Captain Tony Yovicin's shoes in the pivot. The Bobcat fought off all Tampa attempts to snatch rebounds off the boards and dumped in seven field goals and five charity throws to account for 19 tallies.

The Hurricanes get a one-day rest today before invading Florida Southern College at Lakeland for a two-games series Friday and Saturday.

Beachcomber Seeks Fifth Against Flagler's Pick

Paul Sutherland will send his great racing star, Beachcomber, out in quest of his fifth victory tonight at West Flagler Kennel club.

Last Monday, the son of More Taxes raced to his fourth victory of the Flagler with such a decisive victory that all indications point toward him being a top-sided odds-on favorite tonight.

In winning Monday, Beachcomber ran the 5-16th mile course in 31 7-10ths seconds, the fastest time any greyhound has been able to maneuver the course this season.

Tonight, Beachcomber will be up against the best Hot Box stars on the track. In the field will be Nicolette, Country Gent, Much Liked, Sooner Select, No Refund, Bos'n's Mate and Miracle Mile. Country Gent is the pre-season favorite to annex the 1948 running of the West Flagler Nursery Stake. The dog scored a brilliant triumph last time out, but tonight will be up against too much greyhound in the rambling Beachcomber to get home on top again.

The secondary feature this evening is the 10th race, a lap and half marathon race pitting Gene Roller against Dick Miller, Flying Gold, Hedda Hopper, Dale R, Nanken, Mamaloo and Jovial John. Gene Roller schooled brilliantly in a recent test run, but may find the Hot Box ace Dick Miller a tough dog to set down over the Flagler marathon course. Jovial John also looms as a threat in the field.

Bob Daniels Bowls 703 Set At Playdium

"Seven hundred" sets don't come often to any bowling alley, but in the case of the Playdium lanes two such high sets turned up on successive nights after a lapse of 18 months or better.

Bob Daniels turned the trick for the second time last night with a 703 in the mixed doubles league—the highest mark ever set in league competition, after Johnny Brannick of Verna & Barney rolled one 248 game to record a 701 in the Classic League Tuesday evening.

But both still have to go some to catch Dave Metzger, who knocked off a staggering 743 set in a match game on the local lanes last month.

Myers Electric, 31 P. C. Gulf, O. Franklin-Webster, 2; MacArthur Dairy, 1; Rehobo Safety Cap, 1; Vess Cola, 2; Rehobo Safety Cap, 1.

Renowned Sires Represented

Sires represented by their offspring in this race includes names familiar to racing fans. Two of the youngsters were sired by Doubler, the "gray ghost" of a half-dozen years ago who won the sprint championship in 1942. Doubler includes among his victories a verdict over the famed Whirlaway. Also on the list of sires is Mucho Gusto, an old Florida favorite, now standing at Stefan Zacher's Golden Shoe Farm; Liberty Franc, a good sprinter and stakes winner; and Suffern, a Canadian stallion, leased by Carl Rose and standing at Ocala.

Home Bang-Tails Are Growing Up

Earliest opposition to Florida-breds was their lack of size but the crops produced the past few years compare favorably to those foaled in other states. Horsemen pointed out that the sparse pastures was not conducive to rugged growth. However, the Florida breeders have practically overcome this difficulty by their selection of favorable locations where the grass is plentiful.

Probably the most successful of the state's breeding farms is Carl Rose's farm at Ocala. Rose is fortunate in having a natural limestone deposit on his acreage and this has proven quite an asset as horses he has raised have been of good size and rugged.

Riviera Women Play 4-Ball Tie

Mrs. Marie Lamont and Miss Catherine Clark went 6-up with a net 65 to edge the duo of Mrs. Helen Gibbs and Mrs. Robert Ely, also with a net 65, in the Riviera Country Club Ladies' Day Best Ball tournament Wednesday.

In the 9-hole division of the tournament Mrs. Stanley Simpson came home on top with a net 80.

Mrs. Lamont and Miss Clark had handicaps of 27 and 23, while Mrs. Gibbs and Ely were rated at 13 and 34. Mrs. Simpson played with a 40 handicap. The play is a Wednesday spec-

MacDonald Posts 19 to Route Jax J.C.

Riddle Inter-American College's basketball forces revved up their scoring punch at the expense of Jacksonville Junior College at the Landon High School gymnasium last night, adding the local quintet as their 13th victim in 18 starts by a 64-35 margin.

The Coral Gables team remains in the Gate City for a vengeance game with a classy Jacksonville Naval Air Station quintet on the same court tonight. The Air Sailors hung an 80-65 surprise on Riddle on the latter's home court Jan. 20—the second team to beat the Leo Boles-coached crew on their home court.

Mackey MacDonald continued his merry scoring pace with 19 tallies in Wednesday night's game and Captain Leo Benjamin contributed 13. Forward Jack Penny-witted netted 16 counters for the losers.

Besselink Fires 70 to Pace U-M Golf Tourney

With Al Besselink firing a one-under-par 70 and Southern Inter-collegiate champion Dave Sullivan clipping the 18 holes just one stroke behind, the University of Miami Medal Golf tournament which will determine the Hurricane varsity squad for the coming season attracted a score of players to the Coral Gables Biltmore course in the first round Wednesday.

The squad will play another 18 today and wind up with a 36-hole round Friday to complete the tournament.

Besselink, one of the best local amateurs, hit the circuit for a neat 35 in both halves, while Sullivan took 37 on the first nine but rallied with the low nine holes of the day, a 34, in the home stretch. Sullivan's card was matched, however, by the 35-36—71 turned in by a comparative newcomer to the ranks, Jim Manley, who finished 2-up on Captain Bob Seyler and Bill Godwin.

Returning lettermen were hard put to retain their berths on the Hurricane varsity as challengers outpaced them. Jack Larkin carded a 90, Guy Ferina came home 42-43—85, Tommy Parks got in with a 76, Leo A. Kay filed a duplicate 76, Art Severson shot 42-38—80, and Harold Bryan posted 47-40—87.

Other scores yesterday: Reed, 42-43—85; Mink, 39-45—84; Moran, 45-45—84; Carametti, 42-47—89; Kardish, 40-44—84; Thomas, 38-47—85; T. Sullivan, 40-43—83; and Sorrel, 39-48—87.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE $500 Million Sports Market Ripe for Gear Producers

By OSCAR FRALEY
UP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (UP)—United States and Canadian sportsmen, equipment-hungry for some seven years, are ready today to spend an estimated $500,000,000 for outdoor gadgets—and the manufacturers are just about ready to take it away from them.

Proof of this can be had at the 17th annual National Sporting Goods Association show. Shortages still are felt in golf clubs, bamboo fishing rods, reels, silk fishing lines, firearms and ammunition but by late summer production is expected to balance the scales.

Anticipating the boom, every sporting goods outfit is in there pitching, using such salesmen as Luke Sewell, former manager of the St. Louis Browns; Mel Hein of football fame; track star Greg Rice; Vinnie Richards, the one-time tennis ace; Hal Schumacher, one of baseball's immortals, and Bob Hoffman, coach of the Olympic weight lifters.

Everything and anything the sportsman ever dreamed of is on display with the accent on safety improvements, improved juvenile numbers and women's equipment. These include football helmets with outside as well as inside padding; rubber footwear which gives perfect traction on wet decks and slippery surfaces; rubber collapsible football sideline markers, and bright red hunting coats which can be seen a mile away.

Hoffman, head of the York, Pa., bar bell company, needs only an opening to drop sales conversation (Please Turn to Page Seven)

$10,000 TEXAS OPEN SEEN MUDDY BATTLE

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 5 (UP)—The nation's top golfers prepared today for a muddy battle over the sweeping fairways of Brackenridge Park...

The favorites, Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, South African Bobby Locke, and Sammy Snead, were all out Wednesday in the dense fog and drizzle that blanketed San Antonio...

With the pro-amateur preliminary event set for today, tournament Manager Reuben Albaugh reported greens in only "fair" condition after recent sleet and sub-freezing temperatures...

Hogan Favorite Son Hogan, 1946 title winner, was the favorite with the home folks. His total two years ago, a 20-under par 264, is the course record...

The 1947 champion, Ed (Porky) Oliver, has retired to his home in Wilmington, Del. Skip Alexander, who sizzled through all opposition to take the Tucson open championship...

YANKS RALLYING Seattle Housewife Wins U.S. First Olympic Ski Crown

ST. MORITZ, Feb. 5. (UP)—Blonde Gretchen Fraser, 28-year-old pigtailed housewife from Vancouver, Wash., streaked over a treacherous ice-crusted course to win the women's Slalom race today...

Her victory also won the first gold medal the U. S. has taken in seven days of the fifth winter games. Jack Heaton of New Haven, Conn., lost out to Nio Bibbia in the Cresta (one-man bobsled) event...

The unwelcome warmth which yesterday reduced the skating rinks to slush and caused postponement of several events was gone today. In its place was a freeze which glazed the rinks and bobsled runs.

Ede Reinalter of Switzerland, a 27-year-old garage mechanic and ski instructor, won the men's slalom. Despite Heaton's failure to win the Cresta and a 12 to 3 loss suffered by the American hockey team to Canada...

Dick Buton was rated a heavy favorite to win the men's figure skating, and such a victory would add 10 more points to the 15 garnered by Heaton and Mrs. Fraser. Canada's hockey team unleashed surprising speed to defeat the United States, 12 to 3, in the round-robin tournament...

MANGRUM HIGH ON PGA MONEY LIST

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (UP)—Lloyd Mangrum, the 1946 national open golf champion, is setting the money winning pace for golfers on the winter circuit...

Mangrum has won $5,783.33 for the first month of 1948 play. He won the Bing Crosby tourney and finished tied for second in the pro-amateur section. He was second in the Los Angeles open, 11th at Richmond, Cal., third at Phoenix and tied for seventh at Tucson.

The money-winning standings as computed by the Professional Golfers' Association:

SPORTS PARADE

(Continued from Page Six) and tout United States weightlifting hopes for the Olympics. "We thought we might win six out of the six Olympic events but the Egyptians are improving and we may lose two events," Hoffman predicted.

Meanwhile, across the hall they're displaying the costliest pair of boots in the country. This flashy footwear can be had for a mere $3,500. The boots are hand-tooled from the hide of last year's champion steer, T. O. Pride...

Two new golf bags are available, one called the "Pipe Organ" style which has 10 individual full length pockets to keep the clubs from rubbing and scratching. The other has a "perfect balance" shoulder strap anchored in three places instead of the usual two.

Telescope sights for shotguns guaranteed to increase your bag; new golf grips designed to eliminate slipping; synthetic rubber shuttlecocks for badminton which don't lose their shape; a "stubb-caster" fishing rod only 21 inches long; plastic head golf clubs; swivel-sleeve golf jackets and air pistols with terrific velocity.

With more than 18,000,000 fishermen expected to spend more than $100,000,000 this year for angling accessories, innovations are plentiful. One of the best is the "Squid King" reel for surf casting which features a push button clutch control, eliminating the clumsy protruding lever.

Even the minnows must be getting smarter, so they've come up with a folding plastic minnow trap which is transparent. The instructions must tell you how to detect whether the bait is inside or outside.

And for the first time, sportsmen now can avoid deterioration of game by applying a coating of liquid ice.

As a matter of fact, the manufacturers are prepared to do everything for you now except pull the trigger or set the hook.

NEW BUILDING BOOM SEEN FOR GABLES

Light and power should also be available. Satisfactory proof from the Consumers Water Co. and Florida Power & Light that these services will be available should be obtained before a building permit can be issued. Be sure to get an estimate in writing as to cost of running water or power to your lot before you go too far.

(4) The building department interprets the code as to permits as follows:
Any repair job costing at least $50 or any remodeling, alteration, or new job of any size whatsoever requires a building permit. (This provision protects the community from small unsightly structures and hazardous alterations.)
(5) A building permit does not include electrical or plumbing work nor permission to dig up or obstruct a sidewalk or street. Such street and sidewalk permits are obtainable at the public works department, room 290, city hall.
(6) Building, electrical or plumbing permit blanks are obtainable at each respective department on the first floor of the Coral Gables city hall.
(7) You must present two complete sets of plans. (No specifications. These must be drawn by an architect licensed in the state of Florida. Plans must be drawn to scale and understandable without verbal explanations. Blue or black and white prints are required and sealed with the architect's seal. The five man architectural board meets weekly to pass on these same plans before a permit can be issued.

City Weighs Method to Raise Funds

The City Attorney may ask Judge George E. Holt to grant an extension of the 10-day period which the city now has to pay for the lots.

Appeal Basis Not Revealed
With $42,900 set aside from current budgets to buy the terminal property, the most likely financial scheme to pay for the property and to erect the $200,000 bus terminal is the use of revenue certificates.
These certificates would be paid from the income of the municipal bus company.
The papers filed by Simple today gave no hint as to the grounds the City Attorney would base his appeal on. He had only informed the court that an appeal would be taken.
Warren W. Lehman, with 14 of the 32 lots, is the biggest property-holder in the condemned area. His land was valued at $48,850 by the jury.

John Needed Real Pal And Gets Right One

CHARLESTON, Mass. (UP)—John Arendale finally got his dog — Sissy, a black-and-white cocker spaniel nine months old.
John had appealed for a dog because he needed a pal. John is 14 years old, but he's just 42 inches tall and weighs only 40 pounds. That makes it tough to play with other kids his own age. So John asked for a dog.
"Just tell them my condition," he said. "Tell them that I can't play like the big boys."
Mrs. E. B. Hicks of Memphis, Tenn., saw his picture in a local newspaper, read his story and gave John his dog.

Hard of Hearing, But Not Too Hard

SHELBYVILLE, Ind. (UP)—A 74-year-old man was called for jury duty in a murder trial. He asked that he be excused because he was hard of hearing.
"Can you hear me now?" said an attorney in a low voice from across the room.
"No, I cannot," replied the prospective juror.

Retired Pastor to Bless Fishermen as Always

SEATTLE (UP)—The Rev. O. L. Haavik has ended more than 26 years in the pastorate of the Ballard Lutheran Church here.
The nationally-known Fishermen's Festival—in which fishermen moving out to the banks from the Port of Seattle were blessed and prayers said for their safety and a good catch—was instituted by the Rev. Mr. Haavik in 1929.
Haavik said although he will no longer step up to the pulpit, he will continue to officiate at the Fishermen's Festival.

country like a new broom . . . the melody is fascinating and the verses double ditto . . .
More members of the moustache colony . . . Richard Marshall, Checker Norman, Bob Weed, Al Harum, Sid Cassell . . . What, no goatees?
Dark-haired and lovely Pat (Mrs. Jim) Lyons somehow reminding me of the beauty of Cleopatra . . . Wynne Cassell wearing her long hair down to her shoulders and looking lovely . . . Auburn-haired Roxy Walters wearing a dress the exact color of her hair . . . First night of the mystery "Kind Lady" at the Country Club was a sell-out a week ago.

If you want to test your memory try to repeat the following sentence after you read it (without peeking): "Gooding, madam," to Eve said Adam. To him said she, "Good morning, Adam." SUZY.
