Three B-17s Unreported

Infree D-17's Unfreported In Atlantic: Search Started Lisbon, June 15. (UP) --Three American Flying For-tresses have been unreported since they left the Axores yearcan and Portuguese planes have been searching the Atlantic in vain for the missing Fortresses since yesterday, airport attaches reported. The planes were reported to have left Santa Maria in the Axores for the continent. One of them, which had seven persons aboard, flashed a distress signal, airport informants said. The call said one engine was afire and it was returning to Santa Maria. Since then nothing had be considered to the board of any of the planes, according to the informants. The Axores lie some 800 miles west of Portugal. Air bases in the islands serve as one of the main-way points in transatlantic flights.

Soviets Agree to Discuss Opening of Danube River

WASHINGTON, June 15. (UP) — The state department announced today that Russia has agreed to discuss the question of opening the Danube river to free navigation. The Soviet government, in a note delivered here, reversed a previous position and agreed to let Austria take part in a Danube conference as a consultant. The United States had urged that Austria be granted full participation at the conference. In an earlier note Russia had flatly rejected the possibility of Austrian participation in any capacity.

400,000 Men Face Draft During Next 12 Months

WASHINGTON, June 15. (UP) — Chairman Walter G. Andrews of the House Armed Services Committee estimated today that about 400,000 men will be drafted in the first 12 months of the impending peace-time draft. The New York Republican made the statement as the house settled down to debate on the two-year, 19-through-25 draft bill drafted by his armed services committee. It was the highest estimate so far of the number of men to be inducted

Andrews took the floor in support of the draft shortly after the bill breezed through its first house test by a vote of 329 to 62. This was a vote to take up the bill. Draft backers said passage tomorrow is certain.

NEW CASTLE, N. H., June 15. (UP) — National Com-mander James F. O'Neil of The American Legion said today the Legion will campaign to turn out the "greatest vote in the nation's history" in the November election. O'Neil made the announcement in an address at the 40th Annual National Governors' Conference. The executives were breakfast guests of O'Neil, who lives in nearby Manchester. "It will be a country-wide, doorbell-ringing campaign," O'Neil later told newsmen. "Local Legion posts will provide baby sitters and transportation to get voters to the polls."

$65-Million to Build UN Headquarters is Okayed

WASHINGTON, June 15. (UP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved a $65,000,000 long-term U.S. loan to the United Nations for construction of permanent UN headquarters in mid-town New York. The committee action made it probable that congress will act on the long-pending loan before adjournment. Similar legislation is pending in the house. Congressional appropria-tions committees probably will be requested to provide money for the loan at an early date.

Editor, Riviera-Times: Coral Gables has a potential financial bonanza not yet even touched. According to zoning regulations a fine of $500.00 and also 60 days in jail can be assessed for each violation and for each day of each vio-lation. It is thought extremely conservative to lation. It is thought extremely conservative to estimate that at least 1,000 Coral Gables residents rented for at least 60 days this last winter season to at least one tenant in violation of zoning ordinances. Prosecution of these offenders affords opportunity to assess a maximum of 1,000 times 60 times $600.00, total of $30,000.-000.00 in fines. Allowing for difficulty in collecting part of this sum, there should be a balance sufficient to clear up all bond-ed debt, build a water system, a sewer sys-tem, a municipal hospital and have a large balance over.

debt, build a water system, a sewer system, a municipal hospital and have a large balance over.
In addition each affender could be sent-enced to jail for 6 times 60 days, total about 10 years. However, due to the expense to Coral Gables of taking care of this large number of prisoners for that length of time, (less good conduct allowance, of course) it would seem advisable to change ordinance to omit that part of penalty, at least temporarily. This would also allow offenders to get together money for fines. Since it would take quite some time to run 1,000 offenders through the legal gamtlet, probably lots should be drawn to establish priority among the 1,000.
After above has been accomplished and metha have been completed, it would appear that at the least a bronze tablet carrying the names of the 1,000 benefactors should be bought and installed in a promineut public location, to insure that future generations particularly will know whence.
A society such as "The Sons and Daugh-ters of The Fined Fathers of Coral Gables" could eventually be organized to help percented the memory.

The poor creature has had as much priv-acy as a goldfish, what with the wife, vis-itors and yours truly peeping in to see how things were getting along. About three weeks ago, we drove into the garage and heard little chirps coming from the nest. The brood had arrived! There they were, four naked looking little things with big gaping mouths. It seemed like no time at all, however, until the naked-ness was supplanted by downy pinfeathers and eyes which were closed, were now bright and black. I don't think that the mother bird ap-proved at all of our intruding on her priv-acy for a quick peek now and then. In fact she seemed to totally disregard the fact that she was a rentless tenant under our root, and scolded us unmercifully when we would approach. Yesterday morning as I was waiting for the coffee to brew, I heard a terrific com-motion out in the garage. When I opened the door, I was confronted by mother bird again, who despite her size, planted herself on the floor in front of me and defied me to take one more step. Then I saw the reason why. The youngsters had left the nest and were trying their wings. They did pretty well too, except one who was more venturesome and flew too high. He landed in a cobweb near the ceil-ing, and for awhile I thought that I was going to have to get the step ladder and extract him. But the did some fancy acro-batics and managed to break free and come in for a three-point landing. Another one reminded me of a kid on a diving board, getting set for his first plunge. He was perched on top of the door runs, teetering. Every now and then he'd spread his tiny wings, lean forward and get ready to take off. Then he'd hesitate while Mama chirped encouragement. Fin-ally he took off, fluttered the length of the garage and landed, quite proud of him-self. I suppose in a couple of more days the
