MAJORITY OF CONGRESS APPEAR READY TO OKAY SPENDING AND TAX HIKE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (UP) — The GOP's top expert budget-cutting said today that at least $2,000,000,000 could be squeezed out of President Truman's spending program.

be squeezed out of President Truman's spending program.

But most Democratic members of this Democratic-controlled Congress appeared ready to okay Mr. Truman's plans for spending nearly $42,000,000,000 and for levying higher taxes to make the books balance.

The opinion that the new budget, highest in peacetime history, has a couple of billion dollars worth of water in it was voiced by Rep. John Taber (R., N. Y.), who was chairman of the House appropriations committee in the last Congress, told a reporter that:

Attorneys End Testimony In Georgia Lynch Trial

LYONS, Ga., Jan. 11. (UP) — Prosecution - see speedily completed testimony today in the trial c two white men accused of the alleged lynch-slaying Negro casket salesman near here last November.

Closing arguments in the trial of William (Spud) Howell, 24, were set for 2 p.m. Testimony of five prosecution and 20 defense witnesses was completed shortly after noon.

Amy Mallard, widow of the slain Negro, collapsed on the stand after identifying Howell as one of a band of more than 20 white men, who waylaid the Mallards on a lonely Toombs county road shortly after midnight Nov. 19. She said they wore white robes.

But a defense witness, Thomas Banks, young farmer-neighbor of Howell, said he and his wife spent the night in question at the Howell fome and that as far as he knew Howell did not leave the house between 8:30 p.m., and 9 a.m., the next day.

Crisis Over British Planes Seen Easing in Israel

LONDON, Jan. 11. (UP) — The British-Israeli "crisis" resulting from Israeli destruction of British planes at the Egypt-Palestine frontier last week was easing today.

Faced with mounting criticism both at home and abroad of its Palestine policy, the British government seemed prepared to lift its pressure on Israeli and let Friday's incident in which either four or five British planes were shot down by Israeli fighters be forgotten.

Militarily, Britain still was rattling the saber. Preparations to send the home fleet to the Mediterranean, where it had been scheduled to go soon anyhow for Anglo-American naval maneuvers, were speeded up. More naval units were expected soon at Akaba, the Trans-Jordanian Red Sea port, and Cyprus, and there were reports jet planes might be based at Akaba.

Plow Crews Fight Way To Snow-Bound Town

Snowplow crews fought their way today toward stormbound Gordon, Neb., where a state of emergency was declared when food and fuel supplies ran dangerously low.

The plight of Gordon, a northwestern Nebraska town of 2,000 inhabitants, highlighted the miserable weather which has plagued wide areas of the West and Midwest for 10 days. Freezing rain, sleet and snow today had torn down power lines, disrupted communications and blocked highways in many places, from California to the Mississippi river. Southern California had more snow.

FEC Rate Discrimination Charged in Control Fight

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 11. (UP)—The St. Joe Paper Co., battling in Federal Court for control of the Florida East Coast Railroad, today charged the Atlantic Coast Line with discriminatory freight handling.

The ACL, it was charged, denied the paper company use of flat cars for pulpwood loading, until the practice was halted by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The paper company, a Florida Dupont interest and large FEC bondholder, was contesting an ICC reorganization plan giving the ACL control of the bankrupt line.

More Federal Aid Sought For Florida Flood Control

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 11. (IP)—Gov. Fuller Warren announced today that he will meet with Army engineers and Florida's senators in Washington Jan. 21 to discuss an increased Federal contribution to the $208,000,000 flood control program for South and Central Florida.

The meeting is scheduled the day after President Truman's inauguration.

Senators Spessard Holland and Claude Pepper will join Warren in pressing Army engineers to revise the plan so that the state's share of the cost may be lowered.

180,000 Seen Liquidated By Reds Near Nanking

NANKING, Jan. 11. (UP)—Three more Chinese Nationalist army groups which once totaled 180,000 men apparently have been liquidated by the Communists north of Nanking.

An official source said today that all radio contact has been lost with the three army groups, which have been encircled 35 miles southwest of Suchow for weeks. The last radio message from their commander, Gen. Tu Yi-Ming, was received at 6 p.m. vesterday.

By DON CUDDY

Let's warble another chorus of "Sing the Praises of 'Whitey' Campbell."

First 1.000 Points Hardest for Campbell

First 1,000 Points Hardest for Campbell
Hear the colorful Caldwell Caperer is nursing an ambition to become the first University of Miami basketball player to score 1,000 points in his collegiate career. He's still a fur' piece from realizing it, with a paltry (?) 611 counters in slightly less than two and one half seasons;
but all he has to do in the remaining 16 games on the Hurricane schedule this year is average 10 points per game (he's been hitting for 12.2 for the benefit of you statistical wizards) to better a par 750 at the end of the third lap.
The first 1,000 points are the hardest.

Basketball Ain't Out of the Woods Yef
It would be spreading things a little thick to say

It would be spreading things a little thick to say that Whitey has made Mlami basketball conscious all by himself. Mostly because the sport has yet to catch on to that elusive "big time" tag. That was supposed to happen this year but it will take a clean sweep over Florida and nigh-impossible upset of Western Kentucky to have same materialize.

Prep Jokers Shift Promotion Burden to U-M Anent basketball development, Billy Wilcox of the Youth Center opines that until 1946 the high school brand seemed much faster than today. That was because the U-M had very little and the prepsters had to carry the load. Now the position is reversed and it makes a fan in good standing of ripping the ball through the nets shudder to watch the high school "talent" go through the motions.

Coincidence Campbell Arrived at Same Time

By Coincidence Campbell Arrived at Same Time
The reform dates back to the 1946-47 season. It might be coincidence that that was the same freshman season when Campbell popped 318 markers, but I think not. Reopening of the Coliseum last year enabled the Hurricanes to show off their court ambitions—so Campbell flopped and Abe Friedman, this year's captain took up the pointgetting burden. This season Friedman is playing a floor game and almost refusing to shoot, so Mackey MacDonald moves into the picture—171 points to date despite what almost looks like a deliberate "freeze out."

But Campbell has already notched 121 points, which already enables him to write a new record every time the man in the striped shirt makes his scoring motion.

moves into the picture—171 points to date despite what almost looks like a deliberate "freeze out."

But Campbell has already notched 121 points, which already enables him to write a new record every time the man in the striped shirt makes his scoring motion.

Backing up my statement a couple of paragraphs back about the sad case of local prep basketball is the continual amazement of court-wise northerners at the inferior brand of ball and lack of development. Something of an illustration was the deflation of Minmi High's Pete Silas in the Fort Lauderdale prelim game at the Coliseum last Friday. Another sports scribe raved about Silas and last year he was all-state. Yet the elongated Stingaree is not even well-versed in the fundamentals of the game . . .

Sporthoughts Between Dots
Claud "Corky" Corrigan's reasonable pride at having taken a bonefish on a feather (in deep water, yet) last week was outdone by becoming a father (a boy) on Friday.

Those terrific Hurricane Freshman football players intend to remain a unit throughout what promises to be a brilliant four-year span at the U of M—they've got their own basketball team and want to break into the Youth Center Men's league. Eddie Miller, has placed the state championship plaque won by the Youth Center Skishers (in Jacksonville December 26) right alongside his own championship award—he's planning a national invitational tournament that ought to be quite an event for Coral Gables sometime in March or April

Peeples May Promote Again

The fight promotion story is that Tommy DeTardo and the Coliseum's W. H. Peeples terminated their working agreement after the last Jimmy Curl-Jose Basora fight. Peeples is considering taking on another partner and returning to his own promotions, probably when the sports hiatus arrives late in the spring. . Meanwhile, he tells me, George Tyson has vowed his remarkable ice shows won't return to the Coliseum after this year if the stiff $150 per ferformance tariff for police and fire protection set by the city is demanded. It isn't the fee that he minds so much as the policy of upping the overhead and probability that the situation will get worse before it becomes better.

New York Couple Purchases Grove

Purchases Grove
As proud as new parents over their recent acquisition of a tenacre orange grove at Homestead are Mr. and Mrs. John Hatch, newcomers to our town from Montour Falls, New York.

"Now we can have fresh orange juice for breakfast every morning," quipped young Mrs. Hagch, who, prior to moving to the Gables, was a model, and also did some display work for a specialty shop in Elmira, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch have two daughters, almost-two-year-old Lucinda, who is affectionately called "Belinda" by her parents, and seven-months-old Ruth Carol, whom her parents refer to as "Mole."

"Guess we'll have to think up another nickname for her before long," said Mrs. Hatch about Ruth.

Meat Loaf's Easy-But Flavor! That's a Problem!

Jewish Center

Anyone can stir up a meat loaf, but what the thing will taste like when it's served all depends on the cook's mastery of the art of meat-loafery.

Perhaps that last meat loaf you served at Cousin Nettie's birthday dinner was a little on the dry side. If so, chances are that there was not's enough liquid (of the tomato juice variety) in it, or too large of a proportion of bread crumbs was used in the mixture, or you baked the conglomeration at too high of a baking temperature.

Maybe that loaf you slung together for Cousin Nettie was of a too compact texture, instead of just right in moistness. If that twere the case, you probably spent too much time reading one more chapter of your favorite magazine and let the loaf cook too much. It could be, however, that the dish cooked at a much higher temperature than was necessary, or that you failed to give it enough liquid in proportion to the chery ingredients.

How about the seasoning? Most meat loaves are underseasoned.

How about the seasoning? Most How about the seasoning? Most meat loaves are underseasoned. Was Cousin Nettie's? If so, remember that good meat loaves have a fair proportion of bread crumbs in them and the crumbs take care of quite a large amount of seasonings like onion, parsley, thyme and other herbs.

Armed with these tips on how not to bake a dry, too compact, underseasoned meat loaf, try this recipe for a tasty dish that'll be savory-splendid in taste and tex-ture.

Mix one and three-fourths pounds of ground beef with one-fourth of a pound of ground pork, a cup of soft bread crumbs, a cup a cup of soft bread crumbs, a cup of tomato juice, and one slightly beaten egg. With a fork, lightly stir in a fourth of a cup of min-ced onion, two tablesponsful of minced parsley, one-half of a tea-spoonful of thyme, two teaspoons-ful of sait, and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of pepper.

Place this concoction, which, even though it reminds you of "Rover's" favorite dog-loaf, should be good to eat when you get through cooking it, on a shallow pan and shape in a loaf, or pack in an 8x4 inch loaf pan and turn out on a baking pan.

NEW YORK—The year 1948 was a big year—how big we are only now beginning to learn as the final figures are tabulated.

NEW YORK—The year 1948 was a big year—how big we are only now beginning to learn as the final figures are tabulated. The physical quantity of goods produced was exceeded only in the two war years of 1943 and 1944, while the gross national product in terms of dollars was the highest on record. Employment, too, topped all records, Payrolls soared far above anything ever seen in this country. But along with the record-breaking totals and the major economic achievements, the year also produced its share of oddities, of light moments to relieve the grim realities of every-day work, and its celebrations.

People still behaved like human beings. Some 250,000 of them responded to the first newspaper and magazine advertisement of the Lustron Corporation, builder of porcelain enamel steel houses. Among that throng were many who sent family photographs, requesting free homes because they were model families. One man wanted to place a Lustron home on a sky-scraper, saying it would make an ideal penthouse. From Venezuela came an order for 50,000 homes a year. Inventors sent in their ideas with rough sketches from postage-stamp size to huge packets of blueprints. And while company employees were struggling with the job of answering 25,000 letters a week, one optimist wrote "If I don't answer when you bring the booklet, please go around to the back door and ring the bell."

THE SHORTAGE of homes was not the only shortage to produce its oddities. Dis-

THE SHORTAGE of homes was not the only shortage to produce its oddities. Distillers, made acutely aware of the shortage of aged stocks, discovered that enough aged and aging whiskey to load a freight train 32 miles long vanishes annually without a trace. It is lost in leaks, evaporation and absorption in the new, charred-oak barrels in which it is being aged, explained Carl J. Kiefer, production vice president for Schenley Industries, Inc. Kiefer, whose firm is credited by industry sources with having the nation's largest supply of aged whiskies, said federal reports show that during the past 10 years the average annual loss of aged and aging whiskey was 20 million tax gallons. In those years the average amount shipped was 71 million gallons.

FROM the staid engineering departments of SKF Industries, Inc., precision manufacturer of ball and roller bearings, came the startling announcement in 1948 that certain employees were being paid to listen to "dirt." Their job is to ferret out bearings fleeked with even the smallest particles of dust. They detect the dirt by submitting hundreds of thousands of bearings to electronic noise tests in a soundproof room SKF is also the company that installed its own laundering machines (for gloves, belts, etc.) as a cost-cutting measure. The company found it could do its own laundry cheaper than sending it out.

THE CHICAGO & North Western system oldest railroad west of Chicago, celebrated its 100th birthday in 1948. From that celebration grew the Chicago Railroad Fair, one of the surprise "hits" of the year. Quizzing a cross-section of the people who came to the show, railroad officials were staggered to learn that the average American thinks the railroads earn something like 25 per cent annually on their invested capital. Since, on the average, the roads actually earn less than three per cent, the railroad officials were staggered to learn that the average American thinks the railroads earn something like 25 per cent annually on their invested capital. Since, on the average,

ANOTHER industry to celebrate its 100th year in 1948 was casualty insurance. The first casualty policy, according to H. G. Kemper, president of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty, was written in England in December, 1848, to provide coverage for any injuries that might be sustained from a

OUR TOWN

The Spider and the Fly __By Jim Moore

I was distracted from my work yesterday afternoon by the antics of a spider and a fly on the window by my typewriter.

The fly was on my side of the glass while the spider was on the other side. Saturday, we had the window washed. So there you had the perfect story of frustration. The spider, you see, didn't realize that Mr. Fly had a pane of glass protecting him. So as the fly walked his meandering way across the glass, the spider would lunge for him. He'd pounce, feel nothing, then back off and watch the carefree fly again.

I'm not saying that the fly knew he was protected by the glass, but I will say that he spent over two hours on that pane of glass, and was later joined by another fly. Between the two of them, they just about drove the spider crazy. He'd lunge at one and then at the other, but between him and a free meal was that unrelenting pane of glass.

Now spiders are supposed to be crafty devils. Fabre wrote a whole book on their engineering ability, their skill in luring nnuspecting insects into their webs and traps. But this fellow never did catch on to the fact that the pane of glass was between him and dinner. He became frenzied to the point that he'd even chase my pencil point if I'd touch it to the glass, And I finally had him spinning in a circle by the simple expediment of turning the pencil in a rapid circle about him.

I suppose that a writer with a philosophical vein could draw some sort of a moral to repay him for his time in watching the spider and the flies.

All I can do is sympathize with him. I often have the same feeling myself these days when I pass a butcher shop and see spider and the flies.

All I can do is sympathize with him. I often have the same feeling myself these days when I pass a butcher shop and see a luscious steak or a standing rib roast on the other side of the pane from me.

Unlike the spider, however, I know that the pane is there. I know also that on that steak and the standing rib roast there is something else that deters me.

It's called a price tag.

High Birth Rate Boosts Population

More than 3,650,000 babies were born in the United States during 1948, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. This number is the second highest in the country's history.

The high birth rate, in combination with the lowest death rate the country ever has known and a sizeable immigration, has produced an increase in population of about 2,500,000. The death rate was a little over 9.9 per 1,000 of population, which is slightly below the previous minimum recorded in 1946, and about 1½ percent under the 1947 rate.

The statisticians add this cheering foot-note to their estimate of the number of births:

"Because of the decline in infant mortality to a new minimum, a higher proportion of the babies born in 1948 will survive the hazardous first year of life than the babies of any prior year. The reduction of infant mortality in the last 15 years means the saving of nearly 75,000 infant lives in 1948 alone."

The high rate of natural increase in the present decade has added nearly 15,000,000 to the population of the United States since the 1940 census, exceeding by more than 65 per cent the population growth from both natural increase and invariants.

65 per cent the population growth from both natural increase and immigration during the entire decade of the 1930's.

"Unless there is a very sharp reversal of present trends, the population will pass 150,000,000 by the time of the 1950 census, or shortly thereafter," the statisticians assert. "In any case, the total gain in population of the 1940's will be the largest for any decade in the country's history, and is not likely to be surpassed in the foreseeable future."

John Day, 83).

It has none of the explosive qualities of the novels we have become accustomed to read in the Occident. It is simply the story of a family in Chinatown in New York—of their struggles and their hopes and fears, of the stress they place upon communal or family life rather than the things that affect the individual.

The story opens with the arrival in New York of Mother Fong with her two younger children, Tom and Eva, and their reunion with the husband and two elder sons who have been working in America, for years. The family works together, saves together and plans together—and the story of their closely-knit life is refreshing in these days of uncertainty and isolation, even within a family.

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The 10 best roles for an actress, one actress says, range from Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" to a life of the comeditenne Mabel Normand.

The girl who wants to play those parts is Dorothy Malone, one of the Warner Bros, decorations. Her bosses are now finding out that while she smiles sweetly at Jack Carson or Dennis Morgan and livens up the scenery in fare like "One Sunday Afternoon," she's, dreaming of deathless dialogue by Shaw, Shakespeare and Oscar Wilde.

Miss Malone's first choice is Katherine, the shrew in Shakespeare's taming of same. If Warners wants to make it, she thinks it would be nice for Morgan to play the man who tames her.

Child 'Improved' After Crash In Which Grandmother Died

role of Aida. A soprano, Miss Kaye has been well-received throughout this country and throughout this country and Europe.

A Miami Beach singer, Frank Edwinn, will be heard in the role of the King. Edwinn recently won a spot on the Metropolitan Opera auditions of the air.

Other local singers in the cast are Tom Winston, who will replace Edwinn for one performance, Saceolia Dueñas, Nora Jenne De Clerco, Mus Gresce and Nice.

At your club the New Year is off to a good start. The first reading for the play "Kiss The Boys Good-Bye" was held last night, it will go into rehearsal as soon as the cast is chosen and will open on February 14th. Plans are in the making for the fashion show to be presented at a luncheon the early part of February 14th.

Ine making for the Iashion luncheon the early part of February.

The party last Wednesday evening to welcome new members included a bride and groom, Emily will be remembered for the dance number she did with Ike Maey in the recent fashion show and also for the clever decoration on the mirror in the bar for the holidays. They tell us their romance is of long standing; Tony admitted he used to carry her school books twelve years ago. We had sisters from different towns in the north, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor from Harrison, N. Y. (a cuz of Carlton Hurst) and Mrs. Margaret Tobin from New Haven, Conn., who are real Gableites already.
