BANKING GROUP PROPOSES BILL ADDING 15 MONTHS AFTER EXPIRATION MAR. 31

WASHINGTON, March 3. (UP) — The House banking committee today voted 23 to 2 to extend rent controls for 15 months beyond the March 31 expiration date. The administration had asked a two-year extension.

Chairman Brent Spence (D., Ky.), announced the vote to reporters, although the committee had not yet worked out all the details of the bill.

He said the committee decided not to subject landlords to criminal penalties, except in the case of veterans' priorities.

The committee rejected an amendment by Rep. Paul Brown (D., Ga.), that sought to set up a rent level based on "a reasonable return on a fair value." The bill contains provisions for relief of hardship and inequities and requires Rent Director Tighe E. Woods to give consideration to landlords suffering loss.

Spence said his committee also agreed to recontrol apartments in residential hotels. Rooms in transient hotels occupied by permanent residents, however, would remain free from control.

Airliner Lands on Belly With No Injuries to 12

IMPERIAL, Pa., March 3. (UP)—A Capital Airlines DC3 made a forced "belly-landing" on a farm near here today after striking an electric power cable.

None of the 12 passengers, including three children, and four crew members was injured when the two-engine plane settled with little damage in a 20-acre hayfield.

Crew Captain Ralph Fretwell, radioed at 9:03 a.m. that both engines quit over East Liverpool, O., shortly after he had taken off from Youngstown, O. on a flight from Chicago.

Tower operators at County airport and Greater Pittsburgh airport instructed the pilot to try to glide the disabled plane to either of the airports.

Orders is Orders

PORT HURON, Mich., March 3. (UP) — The marriage ceremony states that a wife must obey the husband, but police here said it can go too far.

Lewis Andrews, 47, came home intoxicated yesterday and ordered his wife, Harriet, 45, to make him some coffee. She suggested coffee and poison.

"He said, 'put it in,' and I did," she said. Andrews drank R. A. doctor pumped the mixture from his stomach. Police put the couple in jail.

Cardinal Spellman Shovels Despite Grave-Digger Taunts

NEW YORK, March 3. (UP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York, laid aside his vestments today to help dig graves at Calvary cemetery where a seven-week-old strike has held up the burial of 1,200 bodies.

The cardinal, undaunted by taunts of "strike breaker" from officers of the United Cemetery Workers led 100 seminary students through picket lines to assist him with the task.

"This is the most important work I've had in my 10 years in New York," he said. "We'll do the best we can."

Spellman declared that the Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers of America, with which the U.C.W. is affiliated, is a "well-known Communist dominated union" and that he believed the strikers were misled. The strike, he said, was a "moral issue."

Hogan Family is 'Concerned' As 3d Blood Clot Appears

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 3. (UP)—Ben Hogan, bantamweight king of the professional golfers, suffered another blood clot complication last night and his family "is very much concerned" about his condition, a sister-in-law said today.

Mrs. Royal Hogan, wife of the links star's brother, said the new blood clot—third within recent days—appeared around midnight last night and that a New Orleans specialist had flown to El Paso, to join the large staff of doctors attending Hogan.

She confirmed rumors that the colorful little godf ace had taken a turn for the worse and her information lent some credence to one report that Hogan was in "a very critical condition."

This subcommittee, to be appointed by April 15, will work for a full season on the problem and then bring its product to the winter baseball meetings for adoption.

Senate Leaders Stay Move To Choke Filibuster Curb

WASHINGTON, March 3 (UP)—The Senate Democratic leadership today left up in the air the question of when it will try to choke off southern Democratic talk against plans to curb filibusters.

Southern senators have been orating against the proposed limitation off and on for four days. Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas decided today that he would keep the senate in session Saturday. But he told reporters there now is no decision as to when he will seek to call the debate to a halt.

5 Dairies Drop Milk Price; General Cut is Expected

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 3. (UP)—A general drop in milk prices here was in sight today as five dairies announced a cut in the retail price of delivered grade A milk from 26 to 25 cents a quart.

The dairies said the past winter's mildness and lower feed costs have enabled them to lower milk prices that have climbed steadily for the past several years and only last year surged to their final peaks.

Distributors believed the lower price will hold and that there might be even further reductions so long as the trend in feed costs does not turn upward.

CITY TO MEET WITH DADE ON CHAPMAN SITE

City Now Has Joint Request With University

The City of Coral Gables will renew its efforts to acquire the 950-acre Chapman Field, possibly in conjunction with Dade County, at a special meeting set for Tuesday, March 8 at 2 p.m. in the county commission chambers it was announced today.

Meeting with the county commissioners will be Mayor W. Keith Phillips, members of the commission, City Manager William T. McIlwain and City Attorney Edward L. Semple.

The two groups will attempt to clarify requests which have been lodged with various federal agencies to acquire the former-military airport.

The city, at present, has a joint request with the University of Miami for the property, 350 acres of which lie within the Gables city limits. The county, on the other hand, has a request on file for the entire tract. The government has also indicated that it wishes to utilize some of the space for an experimental station.

The tract was originally placed in the hands of the War Assets Administration for disposition as an airport, with the proviso that the recipient must continue to operate it as such. There were no bidders and the property was transferred to the Farm Credit Administration's Federal Land Bank and reclassified as "agricultural."

The city has indicated that it wishes the land for future municipal use, possibly a city park.

THEFT CHARGES AGAINST GIRL ARE DISMISSED

Criminal Court Judge Ben C. Willard today indicated that charges of grand larceny against Miss Jeanne Cummings, 19, charged with stealing jewelry and clothing from the residence of Mrs. Olive Kyle, 4155 Avenue Malaga, will be dismissed.

In court today, Mrs. Kyle testified that the girl had been a roomer in her home last month when many articles of clothing and jewelry were missed. The clothing and some of the jewelry were found packed in a bag in the girl's room, Mrs. Kyle testified, but a solid gold chain, valued at $100, was not recovered.

Judge Willard ruled that as long as the girl was not specifically charged with the theft of the chain, and the other articles had not been removed from the house, the defendant could not be charged with grand larceny.

No further action was taken by Judge Willard when Miss Cummings said she was attempting to obtain funds with which to return to her home in California.

They will don the judicial robes and silvery haired wigs of the old Chancery Courts to mete out justice to unsuspecting victims of the fun frolic. E. B. Poorman will perform the duties of clerk of court and Bailiff W. D. Fuller will boomingly announce the offender and the offense.

A jail is to be erected to house the convicted and it will be full, believe the word of the judges.

New Candidates in Offing For March 15th Election

By JIM MOORE

Riviera-Times Staff Writer The Coral Gables "Political Pot" began to bubble a bit more furiously today as City Clerk Edwin B. Poorman announced a total registration, to date, of 3,323 voters and the city burst out in a rash of potential candidates.

With the exception of the incumbents, Mayor W. Keith Phillips and Commissioners Andrew T. Healy and Thomas C. Mayes, who have already stated they will seek re-election, the rest of the "potentials" were playing cagey and making no definite commitments.

A definite deterrent to many positive statements was the lack of any conclusive statement from Commissioner Frank N. Holley Jr., who had at first stated that he would not run but later indicated that he might change his mind. Holley, out of town on a buying trip, is not expected back until two days prior to the March 12 deadline for filing. It appeared that the majority of the possible entrants would hold back to ascertain his decision before making any announcements.

However two additional citizens did tell the Riviera-Times that they had been approached and urged to run and stated that they were considering the proposition. They included Col. J. R. Younger, retired Army officer and real estate man and Leroy J. Farmer, a director of the Riviera Property Owners Association.

Friends of Robert Ely, Sr., operator of the Ely Cafeteria, also informed the Riviera-Times today that the restaurateur had told them that he would run, providing Frank Holley does not.

Their names must be added to the roster of potentials that includes Earl Gates, a private detective and L. W. "Larry" Larson, map publisher and self-styled "entrepreneur". Both of them had previously informed the Riviera-Times that they were considering entering as commission candidates, but had reached no definite decision.

It also began to appear the Mayor Phillips, who has two more years to serve as a commissioner along with Commissioner David J. Hendrick, may have no opposition for return to the city's helm.

Two other citizens were mentioned as potential candidates, both insurance men. They included Richard Marshall and William Hartnett. It was understood that Marshall was interested only if Holley decided not. (Please turn to Page Two)

Thieves Fail To Penetrate Car Agency

Window Tampering Reported at Wilson Motors

Burglars last night made an unsuccessful attempt to break into the Don Wilson Motors building at Avenue Almeria and Salzedo Street, Gables police reported today.

The burglars removed a screen and tried to pry open a latch on the window, damaging it, investigating officers said, but there was no indication that they had gained entry at any other spot.

Edward Oxenberg, operator of Ed and Min's at 2424 Ponce de Leon Boulevard, reported this morning that a watch, valued at $75, had been stolen from their place of business. Oxenberg said the watch was in the kitchen when taken.

Detectives reported no new developments in the $628 safe burglary of the Plydium Bowling Alley on Tuesday night. Burglars pried open a rear door, knocked the dial off of a new safe, and escaped with its contents. It marked the second time the safe there had been looted in 12 months. The first time the burglars took the safe, containing $1,400, with them. They were later apprehended.

March 1st Set For Parley on Bus Financing

Coral Gables city commissioners will go into a huddle with representatives of bond companies at 8 o'clock, March 15, to try to make definite arrangements for financing the new bus terminal, it was revealed today.

Scheduled to attend the meeting, which will be held prior to the regular commission meeting on that evening, will be C. T. McCreedy and A. B. Morrison, both Gables representatives of bond companies and Edmund Friedman of the engineering firm of Maurice Connell and Associates, which is conducting the preliminary survey.

At Tuesday's meeting, the commission decided to postpone the appointment of an architect until after a definite method of financing had been reached. The commission has roughly estimated the cost of the terminal, to be located at Salzedo Street and Avenue Aragon, at $200,000.

The city has planned all along to include store and office space in the building with which to defray the cost of construction.

South Miamians 500 Strong Attend Rebirth of C. of C.

Over 500 South Miamians turned out last night to give their Chamber of Commerce a new lease on life and to map plans for the continued growth of their community.

The residents brought their children, enjoyed a fish fry supplied by the Holsum Baking Company, voted for directors and listened with interest while the plans for the new South Miami District Chamber of Commerce were outlined by Dr. Charles Doren Tharp, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Committee members were kept busy signing up members at a large table near the entrance to the baking company's patio, while other groups went on conducted tours of the bakery, then lined up for heaping platters of fried fish, cake and coffee.

Members were being signed up on a basis of $15 for a firm membership and $3 for individual memberships. Dr. Tharp reported that several firms not only held business memberships but that their employees had signed up 100 percent.

Representatives of the Coral Gables and North Dade Chambers of Commerce were present to offer encouragement and assistance to the re-born South Miami organization.

Dr. Tharp and Mayor Clayton Acker discussed the potentialities of the community and how the Chamber and the city fathers can work together to develop the community. (Please turn to Page Two)

Reynolds Firm Sues to Prevent Job Interference

Reynolds Construction Company, Inc. of Coral Gables today filed in circuit court, three injunction suits seeking to prevent interference with the construction of a $1,500,000 building project in the south-west section.

The suit named as defendants Narudana Corp., Home Sweet Home Operating Company, Alma Corporation and F. A. Harris as architect for the three-corporations.

Each of the three corporations, according to the suit, entered into contracts with the Coral Gables company to construct 12 eight-unit apartment houses for each corporation.

It is charged that while the work is well under way the three corporations are threatening to terminate the contracts and Harris is negotiating with sub-contractors to take over the work, alleging that the Reynolds company has not completed the work within a specified time.

Members of the Coral Gables law firm of Robertson and McLeod will present the cases to Circuit Judge George E. Holt at 9:30 a.m. Friday and ask that the contracts be construed and that Harris and the corporations be enjoined from interfering with the completion of the work.

Minister Kills Self; Blames Ill Health

Rev. Harry C. Geiger, 44, founder of the Apostolic Church of God, 1301 NW 23rd Street, shot and killed himself in his home today at 3300 NW 19th Avenue.

Deputy R. W. Howden of the sheriff's office said that Rev. Geiger left a note blaming ill health for his action and absolving a Negro maid, who had brought him a .22 rifle, of all blame.

Howden said Rev. Geiger had been ill for 10 years and after eating breakfast in his bedroom asked the maid Lee Shivers, to bring him his son's rifle as he "wanted to fix it."

A few minutes later a shot was heard and the maid and Mrs. Geiger found the minister dead with a bullet hole in his head.

Puerto Rican Statehood Urged By Speaker

Advocating statehood for Puerto Rico, his native country, University of Miami Professor Jose A. Balseiro declared that "by gaining more and more good will among the Puerto Ricans themselves, the United States could bring to an end, smoothly and positively, any vestige of nationalism down there" when he addressed a meeting of the University's Hispanic-American institute Wednesday.

Farmer told the Riviera-Times that he planned to "think it over awhile" and if he did decide it would probably be at the last minute. "My only interest in running would be for the good of the community," he commented.

Langdale Services To Be Held Friday

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow for Edward Langdale, 76, of 357 Avenue Almeria, who passed away late Tuesday.

He had been a resident of Dade County for the past 33 years. He is survived by a son, Robert Langdale; three daughters, Mrs. R. E. Chandler, Mrs. K. L. Krum and Miss Helen Louise Langdale; three grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Reviewing the interest which United States' presidents as far back as Thomas Jefferson, have displayed in Puerto Rico.

Prof. Balseiro also discussed Puerto Rico's present point of view, the people's foremost desire to attain political equality with the other people of the world.

"The people of Puerto Rico realize that to be free one must achieve a decent economic standard of living for all social classes. And the industrialization of the island, inspired by the successful government-owned Puerto Rico Industrial Development Co., is one of the main and immediate policies of its government," he stated.

Most roof hairs of a tree are fine as gossamer. Some of them are 1/250th of an inch in diameter, says the Bartlett Research Laboratories.

Only 64 persons have registered in the last week. Registrations close at 9 p.m. March 15 and any one who has not registered since January 1, 1948, must do so in order to participate in the April 12 election.

OUR TOWN

Dangerous Beauty

By Jim Moore

A reader called me early yesterday morning. She had been a witness, the night before, to the accident in which two teen-aged lads on a motor scooter had been injured.

One of the boys was hospitalized with what hospital authorities labeled "a crushing injury." That could mean, they explained, a fractured pelvis. "I saw that boy lying on the pavement, crumpled and bloody, and it just made my heart sick," my caller told me.

She went on to explain that she wasn't blaming the driver of the automobile. "Nobody wants to injure a boy," she said, "and I'm sure that the accident was unavoidable from the driver's standpoint."

What she did want to point out was that she thought that many such accidents could be eliminated if the shrubbery at intersections is cut back so as not to hamper the view of vehicles approaching from any direction.

She pointed out that three other accidents have occurred at that particular intersection within the past year, and that there are many others in the Gables that are just as dangerous.

I took a ride after talking to her and I'm inclined to agree. There are some crossings where it is necessary to pull out into the intersection in order to see if traffic is approaching. Should a car be coming in the other direction at any rate of speed, a crash would be almost inevitable.

It's not city shrubbery in all cases that obscures the intersections. In some instances its planting on private lawns that has branched out until it's impossible to see around the corner.

But in either event, a nicely branched shrub is hardly worth injuring a child or killing a motorist.

Nor do I think that cutting back and trimming shrubbery at these crossings will detract materially from the beauty of the landscaping.

It's a condition that should be closely watched by our city officials.

IN OUR MAIL

Editor, Riviera-Times:

The excellent publicity given by the Coral Gables Riviera-Times to the recent Sales Clinic sponsored by the Retail Merchants Division of the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce certainly is appreciated.

Altogether we had 235 paid enrollments to the Clinic and we know that your newspaper was greatly responsible for bringing it to the attention of the public.

The help given by the Miracle Theatre in providing a central location, free of charge, also is deeply appreciated. I hope that we may have a repeat performance of this successful project.

Thanking you again for the many times your newspaper has cooperated so splendidly with this division, I am

Sincerely yours,
 EUGENE MUMPOWER,
 President, Retail Merchants Division

World of Books

Murder strikes twice during the annual Azalea festival in historic Charleston. First pretty Rene Mae Thrupp, a scheming little mill-town girl who wants to be the Azalea queen, is poisoned. Then Valeria Trevelyn, whose socialite father has fled Charleston in disgrace several years earlier, is shot during a midnight tryst.

Dr. Victoria Grant, a Connecticut woman doctor, finds herself in the middle of the double murder case and almost a victim herself. How she discovers the murderer and incidentally uncovers a third murder makes The Hankman's Tree, by Dorothy Cameron Disney (Random House, $2.50), one of the season's best mystery novels.

Swears Her Father In

BELLAIRE, O. (UP)—Sally Sue Witten, admitted to law practice last summer, finally got a chance to do her father a good turn. Bernard G. Witten was sworn in for his third term as a Belmont county common pleas judge by his daughter.

Cow Wins Decision

KELLER, Tex. (UP)—Cows are hard headed critters, as Davis Caudell, 44 knows from experience. He and his cow bumped heads when Bossie raised heads when he was feeding her. Bossie's head wasn't hurt but Caudell's needed three stitches.

His Number Repeats

BOSTON (UP)—As a rookie policeman 29 years ago, Detective Albert A. Hurst was issued badge number 142. All police department badges were called in the other day so newly-designed shields could be issued. By coincidence, Hurst again drew number 142.

Bored to Snore

WHEELING, W. Va. (UP)—It must have been a boring conversation. So police surmised after a telephone operator alerted them to investigate a "moaning" sound on her wire. They found the owner sound asleep, snoring into the phone he was holding.

SOUTH MIAMI SCHOOL NEWS

Shamrocks and Green Paper Streamers To Decorate Auditorium for Dance

(Edited by the Students)

The Junior High School will have a dance Saturday night in the school auditorium. Shamrocks and green and white paper streamers will transform the auditorium into a gala setting for the first party of the season arranged by the junior high teachers for all pupils in the seventh and eighth grades. The decoration committee is being artistically handled by Mrs. Ruth Brown and Mrs. Edith Mason; the reception committee is to be headed by Mrs. Rosemary Wikus and Miss Doris Rickard; the refreshment committee is being taken care of by Mr. Hurn and Mrs. Alice Faust; a committee of doorkeepers is composed of Mrs. Mary Morrison, Mrs. Marie Phillips, and Mr. Krug; and finally, the inevitable clean-up committee will be handled by Mrs. Mildred Perry and Mrs. Alma Jane Schwarzenbek.

Dancing from 7:30 until 9:30 will consist of the western style of square dancing, and also the Kentucky running set style. Mr. Rod Nowakowski, of the Coral Gables School, will be guest caller. The Schottische Waltz and the Varsouvienne, as well as round dancing, will be enjoyed.

PA System Installed

As a result of the Junior High Capers repeat performance on February 18th, the auditorium is now equipped with a microphone and public address system. This equipment has been needed for some time, and has already found many uses in everyday school work as well as special programs. "I wasn't nearly as scared as I thought I'd be!" Many such exciting comments came from the boys and girls from Mrs. Floyd's class following their very first experience over the real microphone last Wednesday in the school auditorium when they invited the other two sixth grades to share their experiences about the study of Italy.

Patricia Garrison acted as mistress of ceremonies and announced the following program: Humorous song by class—"I Love Geography"; "Rise of Roman Empire"—Janet Heirs; "Julius Caesar"—Patricia Garrison; "Augustus Caesar"—Alice Coker; "All Roads to Rome"—David Atwood; "Government of Rome"—James May; "Romulus and Remus"—Kenneth Burnsed; "Schools of Early Rome"—Jo Ada Williams; "Costumes of Roman Citizens"—Charlotte Conway; "Roman Public Baths"—Charlene Williams; "National Sports"—Natalie Bingham; "Ancient Theaters"—Paulette Matthews; "Horatius at the Bridge"—David Eckel; Italian Folk-Song "My Little Dog and I"—by Class Members; "Mt. Vesuvius"—Marilyn Tischer; "Story of Pompeii"—Rodney Sawyer; "Mussolini"—Connie Smith; "Crops of Italy"—America Rickels; "Macaroni"—Rae Shittaker.

Made Model Bridge

Freddie Herman constructed a reproduction of the famous Rialto Bridge which crosses Grand Canal. Following his display of the shapely bridge, James Morris talked about Venice, the city of canals. Barbara Stang talked about the city of Naples and illustrated her talk with a colored drawing of the beautiful Bay of Naples. Gary Johnson talked about Columbus' birthplace, Genoa. Mary Manley told of Milan's Great Cathedral with over 2,000 life-size statues. Carl Larkins discussed the rivers of Italy and illustrated his talk with the map, and Brooks Lettingwell told about the Isle of Capri.

Italy's great contribution to the fine arts was discussed by the following class members: Ruth Ballentine—"Stradivarius, Greatest Violin-Maker"; Robert Newman—"Paganini, Violinist"; Edwin Abbott—"Enrico Caruso"; Margaret Dailey—"Italy's Beautiful Architecture."

Great scientists from Italy have contributed greatly to our happiness. Jeffrey Westberry told of Galileo's invention, the telescope, and told of his great astronomical discoveries. Marconi's wireless telegraphy has added to our advancement.

Famous paintings were shown to the audience. Carol Shafer told about Da Vinci's painting, "Mona Lisa." David Hays concluded the program on Italy by telling of the great artist and sculptor, Michelangelo.

Perfect Attendance

Members from this active group who received perfect attendance certificates are America Rickels, Barbara Stang, Janet Heirs, Rodney Sawyer, Patricia Garrison, Natalie Bingham, Charlene Williams, Mary Manley, Gary Johnson and Jeffrey Westberry.

Music Appreciation Series

The three sixth grades met again last Friday morning at Music Appreciation Hour. "Papa Haydn" was the subject of discussion and fourth grade pupils were the guests.

Mrs. John Paul Floyd told about Haydn's sense of humor and how he purchased toy instruments for his orchestra to play his surprise composition, "Toy Symphony." The boys and girls, the bird whistles and various toy instruments in the record. Prize winning compositions about Franz Joseph Haydn were read by Ricky Acker from Mrs. Brock's room, Allen Solie from Mrs. Bland's room, Patricia Garrison from Mrs. Floyd's room, Patricia Adkins from Mrs. Solie's fourth grade, and Patricia Vann from Mrs. Ramsey's fourth grade.

Fathers Honored

The PTA at South Miami school held its second night meeting of the year Thursday evening in the school auditorium. The presence of so many fathers plus a very delightful program made this quite a successful meeting. Our own third grade teacher, Miss Marilyn Bailitt, and an accomplished musician, was soloist. Mrs. Bruce Powers, former Southside School PTA president, conducted the devotional while all members and guests participated in a quiz contest led by Mrs. Shirley F. Lay.

Program Interesting

The auditorium has been the scene of many highly interesting programs this past week. Mrs. Brock's sixth grade class presented a very interesting program last Friday entitled "Great Men of February." Pat Paller, Club President, directed the class quite skillfully, and David Martz played the part of Abraham Lincoln. Members of this class received awards for perfect attendance

It Says Here

Mrs. H. George Fink Sr., who has been seriously ill, is on the road to recovery, we're glad to report. Her friends will be pleased to hear that she will be up and around within the next week or so. The doctors have not allowed any visitors but she reports that the flowers and cards sent by her many friends have shortened the period of her enforced illness. . . . What's this we hear about Col. Jack Younger and Leroy Farmer being mentioned as possible commission candidates? . . . Fox's Restaurant in South Miami, closed since last summer, is re-opening tonight completely remodeled and redecorated. George Fields and his orchestra is furnishing the music. There'll be a special section of the dining room for clubs and private parties. . . . Mrs. Connie Minton has been named manager of the Coral Gables office of MacDonald Cleaners at 258 Avenue Giralda. The business is operated by H. W. "Mac" MacDonald, who has been in business here for years.

Hollywood Film Shop

By PATRICIA CLARY
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A movie producer who scouted the country for locations decided that a batch of central California small towns best represent "typical" America. Robert Rossen scoured Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, where he expected to find typical America, before he made his decision. Then he picked Fairfield, Suisun and Stockton, all about 50 miles inland from San Francisco.

"Our story, 'All the King's Men,' is about American politics, and we wanted to put it in a setting everybody would recognize instantly as only American," Rossen said. "It couldn't look like any one state, but it had to look a little like all of them."

Suisun started to grow up on Suisun Bay 50 years ago and then was left behind when its neighbor, Fairfield, mushroomed on the big transcontinental highway a mile away. Suisun's old main street showed what happened to hundreds of American towns, Rossen said.

Dirt Used on Streets
 It had to be changed a little to double for Kanoma City, birthplace of the vernal politician around whom the Columbia movie centers. Signs on street corners, buildings, theaters and pool rooms were switched, and Suisun's paved streets were covered with dirt.

Rossen picked Fairfield to show a town that had grown up in a hurry. He cast Stockton as the big city.

"We used a lot of well-known landmarks in Stockton," Rossen said, "the civic center, the old courthouse, the new city hall, the Stockton Hotel and the Warren Atherton and John Zukerman homes on the river. It'll be pretty hard for people who know Stockton to miss them."

Signs Changed
 They won't recognize the signs that spot the old buildings, carrying two-story-high portraits of the story's governor, Stalin-Hitler style, or the billboards with his campaign cliché, "My program is the will of the people."

Regular patrons of the Stockton Hotel were shunted through the back door while the lobby was draped with campaign signs and state troopers, drawn from the local police, guarded doors of the set.

"We were fortunate," Rossen added with a twinkle, "in having 'typical' American weather during the winter—sleet and rain and snow—to photograph in our 'typical' American towns."

Weather like that, everybody knows, is very untypical for California.

REMINISCING

By TRACY HOLLINGSWORTH

This is two "Reminisces" in one. Of course very few readers of this newspaper, or any other newspaper, ever heard of the town of Larkins, Florida, (now South Miami). So to explain to those Sunday travelers Southward, who noticed the removal of the old yellow-billions colored Florida East Coast station, on the corner of Sunset Drive and Homestead Highway, it was formerly "Larkins," and Henry Flagler decorated it with his favorite paint color.

When the FEC built their nice new station just north of the old one, South Miami's wondered what was going to happen to the antique (just like Miami's are now wondering what will happen to their FEC antique and when. The other day somebody jacked up the old Larkins station and hauled it off—to where, neither Omer Stang, nor Mrs. Sylvia Martin, City Clerk knew.

While worrying about the ultimate destination of "Larkins" landmark, Old 711, the antique Florida East Coast "Produce Jack," pulled in. (That Jack is a freight engine). I asked George Blumh, the engineer, how business was. George has been on that run for 25 years. He said that if I couldn't hear that mournful whistle of his engine at all hours of the night, there was something wrong with my hearing.

Old 711 and Old 709 haul potatoes, tomatoes and other kinds of vegetables from Down South Dade County, to Miami, to meet the Northbound fast freights that take them to folks up North. If you live anywhere within ten blocks to the FEC tracks, these nights, you can hear George blow at every intersection, and at about one o'clock in the morning, you may hear him blow for the bridge in Miami.

Have you ever heard a Hoot Owl on a quiet night? Well, that's just about what the whistle of Old 711 and 709 sound like. And if you know all the crossings, you can almost tell when the engineer is going to "toot" next, until he gets home.

Grove, South Miami Clubs Plan County Fair Exhibits

Seek Victory In Greatest Entry Number

From waste paper baskets and skirts to coffee cakes and poultry will be exhibited by Grove and South Miami members of the Home Demonstration and 4-H Clubs beginning tomorrow night at the fourth annual Dade County Fair, sponsored by the Mahi Temple Shrine.

"We're hoping to repeat our victory of last year of winning the prize for having the greatest number of entries in proportion to our membership," confided Mrs. R. F. Riley, leader of the junior and senior high 4-H clubs in South Miami.

As they did last year, the eight members of Mrs. Riley's senior high group will all enter something in the fair. Of the twenty-eight members in her junior high group, approximately twenty will enter samples of their work.

Members of the elementary group of South Miami, of which Mrs. J. M. Mathews is the leader, will also have exhibits at the fair.

Group Exhibits

Among the exhibits of the groups will be skirts, blouses, mending samples, dresses, poultry, livestock, and canned goods.

Prize-winning ribbons for all of the 4-H Clubs in the county will be put on the exhibits tomorrow night, in time for the official observance of 4-H Day at the fair Saturday. Besides the ribbons, winners will also receive monetary prizes.

Sponsored by the South Miami Home Demonstration Club, the City of South Miami will have their own booth in the community displays division of the fair. Decorated by Mrs. H. W. Alexander and her committee, the booth will feature a miniature town, representing South Miami, and it will include representative educational, agricultural, and industrial exhibits of that community.

Although they will not represent their club, three members of the Coconut Grove Home Demonstration Club will enter several of their own individual exhibits in the women's department of domestic science and home industry division.

Included among the entries of Mrs. Thomas D. Blakely, president of the club, will be embroidered, linoleum, and copper pictures, lace doilies, and a copper tray. Mrs. E. V. Bettner will enter a painted aluminum picture. Also entering items in the show will be Miss Flo Russell.

Two or three parties are making social scene news as March rolls up its cold curtain. Mrs. William N. Huntley will honor Mrs. M. Lewis Hall and her houseguest sister, Mrs. W. S. Sanders of Elsberry, Missouri next Wednesday when she entertains at the Surf Club weekly style luncheon. Another in her winter series of parties, Mrs. Huntley will have a small group on March 9, but plans a larger party for St. Patrick's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Turner have issued invitations to a large group of their set for Sunday, March 27. The invitation says, 2814 Granada Boulevard, which is the home of Mrs. Turner's parents, the Robert Pages. Ben and Jody have invited their guests from six until eight o'clock for cocktails and a buffet supper.

Miss Martha Dunn, daughter of the Henry Dunns, of 533 Alhambra Circle, is off to Nashville, Tennessee, where she has been appointed a secretary in the editorial department of the Baptist Publications. Martha was graduated last month, from the University of Miami, a journalism and psychology major.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McLeod Jr., have taken possession of their newly acquired home, at 2412 North Greenway Drive, moving from 3736 S.W. 59th Avenue. The McLeods formerly lived in the Gables until war took Mr. McLeod into the Navy. Mrs. McLeod was the former Hazel Goza of Clearwater.

We hear that the popular Mrs. McHenry Hamilton and her husband Lieutenant Colonel Hamilton, Army Air Corps, have left for California and that an exciting year is in the offing for the colonel with a South American locale. Mrs. Hamilton and their two sons, McHenry 3rd, 4, and John, 2, have spent the last several months with Mrs. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. Wiley Sams, and Dr. Sams, of Coral Gables.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fairfield have returned to their home, "Fairfield", Kendall, after five weeks in Mexico. They penned us a little note from their country home, saying "we had the grandest time in Mexico—hablo espanol muy bien ya", which means to you, who can not translate, "and we learned to speak Spanish quite well".

Russian Meat Balls Are New

No matter what politics you have, you're sure to enjoy Russian meat balls.

Mixed with tomatoes, these meat balls are made with enriched bread or baking powder biscuits which have been soaked in a little milk for about fifteen minutes.

Use a fourth of a cup of milk to six slices of enriched bread or ten baking powder biscuits. Season a half of a pound of ground beef with pepper, salt, and a little minced onion, add the softened bread or biscuits, and mix well.

Shape into balls and flatten each slightly. Brown them in a little hot fat, and, when brown on both sides, pour a cup of canned tomatoes over them. Cover the pan and simmer for five minutes, then take off the cover and cook for fifteen minutes longer.

Recipe makes eight meat balls, about two inches in diameter, which should be sufficient to serve three or four persons.

SCORECARD

By DON CUDDY Sports Editor

One of our carrier boys stood pop-eyed yesterday while "Mr. America" Alan Stephan slipped out of a polo shirt and showed his muscles. When the 25-year-old, blonde, blue-eyed Adonis takes a deep breath places where most men are smooth or even a little flabby quiver with the darndest assortment of straited musculi you ever saw.

Body-Builders Flex 'Em Tonight

The interview concerned Stephan's exhibition at the Miami Women's Club tonight where he will help judge a "Mr. Florida" and his pretty wife, Grace, will judge a "Miss Florida" from about 30 local body-building enthusiasts.

Alan modeled for war bond and recruiting posters while a Seabee and won the title the first time he entered at Detroit in 1946. Since then an international federation has made the country body-building conscious and he had to flex 'em a lot harder to repeat the title in New York this year.

Mr. America Has Gained a Convert

He hasn't done much with those biceps in a competitive-athletics way since he started developing himself 10 years ago while a high school student in Chicago. But an impromptu showing has converted that carrier boy from wanting "to be like 'Whitey' Campbell" in favor of the bar-bells and calisthenics.

Biltmore Women's Open Hanging Fire

As of this sitting Biltmore pro Umpa Clark has no definite word on whether the Palma Ciesga golf tournament committee in Tampa will change their dates to help the promotion of a $3,000 Women's Open here next January. . . . He has got heavy play at the municipal course (about 170 yesterday, with a genuine jam between 10 and 2) and a sore foot that a student he was tutoring mistook for the little white ball. . . .

Art Saey Faces 'Crooshul Test'

Faithful followers of Hurricane heavyweight Art Saey (among which you can number me) will know what the score is Friday night when "Left Hook Cum Laude" squares off with The Citadel's Bill Ohlandt.

We were shocked when Art went down and stayed from the Sunday-punch of Syracuse's Marty Crandall back in December but wrote that off as a desperation-punch that connected. Art scored a TKO against Virginia and we said "Sure, he's the same old Art now." Then he was outpointed at Louisiana State and there was an underone of "Has he slipped?" in our jeers of "Home Town Decision." When he massacred Georgia's Weyman Creel a week ago tonight in the Coliseum it still seemed he took too many jolts to do the job.

Citadel's Ohlandt is a Mean Customer

On paper Ohlandt is every bit as good as the aforementioned Crandall: Former Golden Gloves champion; Southern Conference heavyweight king; winner of six straight last year and three more this campaign; and, according to Coach Billy Regan, Saey's toughest opponent to date with a deadly knockout punch.

It looks like a blow, mates.

He Predicted Only Five Percent Decline

Hialeah was expected to feel the betting drop up to 30 percent that hit horse tracks across the country last year but Clark predicted well before the track opened for business that it would only fall about five percent.

Until today betting has been seven percent under last year and another 22,000 "getaway day" crowd is expected to feed the kity with $1,250,000.

Harmuth Gets Country Club Net Pro Post

Country Club of Coral Gables today announced the appointment of Joe Harmuth as tennis professional to succeed Ike Macy, whose resignation in order to accept a pro position with the Rock Hill Tennis Club, Kansas City, Missouri, will be effective April 1. A club committee had interviewed three other applicants, one of whom later withdrew.

Harmuth has been assistant to Macy since last fall when he came here from his first tennis pro assignment with George Lott at the Allegheny Country Club near Pittsburgh during the summer of 1948.

He said this morning he first plans to stage a men's singles and doubles club tournament and intends to continue inter-club doubles matches with the LaGorce Country Club players.

Harmuth was captain of the tennis team at Carnegie Tech during 1945 and completed his education at the University of Miami. His amateur tournament achievements include reaching the semi-finals of the national public parks championship in 1946 and he was western Pennsylvania champion during that time. He shared the doubles championship of the Edgewood Invitational and also the Pittsburgh public parks title.

Senior Varsity Quintet Records 117-Point Spree

Larry Kilbride's Varsity quintet, racing the clock at more than three points-a-minute, set a new youth center scoring record yesterday afternoon by trouncing the Falcon Bees, 117-22, in the Coral Gables Youth Center senior boys league.

Jerry Bishop, rangy Varsity forward, paced the onslaught by pouring 16 field goals and one charity toss through the hoop for a 33-point total. All of the Varsity's starting five had a scoring field day for along with Bishop came David Davis and Tony Gulliver scoring 20 points apiece, and Tom Inman and George C. Smith racking up 18 points each.

In the afternoon's second tilt the Falcons pulled away in the second half to post a 40-27 defeat on the Cavaliers.

Larry Grimes, Falcon forward, paced the winner's attack with a 12-point performance with Falcon guard Fred Anibal gaining runners-up honors with a 10-point total. Harry McMechen led the losers with 12 points.

Varsity	Score
FALCON BEES	27
FALCONS	117
CAVALIERS	27

GABLES ACE Frank Froehling will be one of the bulwarks of the South Florida Tennis League's "All-Star" net team that tackles the unbeaten University of Miami varsity Sunday at Hurricane stadium. Froehling, who captains the Coral Gables Tennis club squad, is a former Canadian doubles champion and No. 11 player in the nation.

Dykes Outpoints Taylor in Rough Causeway Scrap

Chuck Taylor worked hard carrying the fight to mechanical Bobby Dykes but the "local" youngster counterpunched his way to a surprise decision proclaimed as his spring-board to the fistie big-time at the Causeway Arena main event last night.

Both judges and Referee Frank Petit awarded the nod to the 147-pound San Antonian who finished strong with two no-count knockdowns of his veteran opponent after getting the worse of the infighting in the early rounds. It could have gone either way, according to the record 4,300 fans who watched the card.

Taylor, 145, Coalport, Pennsylvania whose only knock-out was in a title scrap with Sugar Ray Robinson, kept the battle at close quarters and Dykes could not untrack himself until after he fought his way out of trouble in the fifth round. Taylor kept boring in but Dykes jolted him with hard rights to the head before coasting in the clinches.

From there on it was Dykes scoring with clean, hard punches while taking most of Taylor's vicious right-hand chops with little damage.

In an action-packed prelim scheduled for eight bouts, Ted D. Cline, who survived a first-round nine count and knocked out tough Mike Santonino, at 137 of the second chapter, D. J. Glanville, 155 1/2, from Bergen, N. Y., had the Long Island rougher down for a three count earlier in the round. Santonino weighed 137.

Glenn Henderson, 118, out of Birmingham, N. Y., stopped Joe Bruwasser, 140, from Pittsburgh in 1:45 of the second round of a scheduled eight rounder.

Jack Lettmore gained the nod over Billy Hill of Memphis in a six, 145-pounder was in at 144 and Hill weighed 147.

K. O. Lefty Torres of Havana, 143, lived up to his name as he pounded out Boots Smith in the first chapter, the time 1:42.

Play W. Palm Beach at 7 P. M.

Senior Trio Starts for Ponce In Class A District Tourney

Three seniors will be in the Cavalier lineup tonight as Coach Clarence Dreppard's basketball team starts the last lap of the campaign in the Class A Group 4 basketball tournament at Miami Jackson High School court at 7 p.m. Ponce drew West Palm Beach, fourth seeded, in the opening round of the tournament.

Sonny Parrish, Tom Wood and Ray Evans is the trio of graduating players who will open the game. Sophomore Ray Ealy and either Junior Jerry Loos or sophomore Jimmy Welch will fill in the other positions.

Ponce closed out its regular season with a won seven, lost 11 record last week, defeated Miami Beach in the first round of the Gulfstream Conference tournament and was eliminated by Miami Tech last Friday night. Most of the Cavaliers' losses this year, however, have been by one or two-point margins.

Eight games, sending five other Greater Miami prep quintets into action, are also on today's program. Miami Edison and Jackson were scheduled for a tap-off at 2:30 this afternoon and Tech takes on Fort Lauderdale at 4 p.m.

Miami High's Stingers, on a 38-game winning streak, plays Miami Beach in the second game of tonight's double-header.

Four lettermen are with the Cavaliers this season, headed by Tom Pennekamp, Florida's fourth-best scholastic hurdler. Ed Ingram, high-jump; Jim Overstreet, weight events; and Angelo Mandis, dash man, are the other monogram-winners.

One senior and three sophomores are listed by Kaspar as his best prospects. Upperclassman Chuck Frary is an expected point-getter in distance events, while Don Nugent (distance events), Claude Thomas (high hurdles), Ken Barber (dashes) and Talmadge Horne (hurdles) show promise as sophomores.

Kaspar added that improved times and distances are expected over last year's performances—especially in the weight events where Overstreet looms as one of the Cavaliers' best performers.

Scoring last night:
MIAMI 24 21 11 13—15
BROOKLYN 12 12 12 23—18

1-Hit in 18
BOSTON—Howard Ehnke, former Red Sox hurler, allowed only one safe hit in an 18-inning game as he turned back the Athletics by a 1-0 score in an epic game played in the 1923 season.

Class A honors were won by Mrs. L. W. Dowlen in Wednesday's "subtraction tournament" with a gross 53. Mrs. D. L. Hulsman won Class B with a 111 and Mrs. Robert Clark topped Class C with 129.

The nine hole low net special went to Mrs. Harry Lamont with 58-25 1/2-32 1/2. Mrs. H. S. Cordes was nine and one-half feet from the pin on the ninth green for that special prize. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. P. M. Stubbs and Mrs. Lowell Southern.

Andrinua-Perez Team in Doubles
Andrinua-Perez will be the favored team tonight in the second match of the Gold Cesta Stakes eliminations. In the round-robin play they have drawn the last-place handicap post for the annual internationally-ranked stakes competition which carries through March 22 and to the semi-finals.

With the top-ranking 16 now listing a full roster if stars for this titular play, Ochoa-Gutierrez, Osa-Quintana and Alberto-Epifanio rank high in this team play battle.

GULFSTREAM PARK at Hallandale is all set to accommodate South Florida's last 40 days of racing with the opening of their meeting tomorrow. This imposing avenue of royal palms forms the smart clubhouse entrance to the plant.

Brooklyn Ends Roller Derby Losing Streak

Brooklyn bounced back after taking four straight defeats to trounce Miami 18 to 15 in the sixth game of the roller derby series at the Coliseum last night. The victory also shortened the gap in the series scoring at Miami 86, Brooklyn 81.

The game could have gone either way until the final period when Sam Skobel crashed the jam for two points to put the night's contest on ice. Skobel was also high scorer for the night with four points, one more than Miami's high-scoring Bob Lewis was able to register.

The seventh game of the series is scheduled to start at 8:30 tonight, with the skaters sitting out Friday with the University of Miami-The Citadel boxing teams providing the attraction, but will return to action on Saturday.

Scoring last night:

MIAMI	24	21	11	13	—15
BROOKLYN	12	12	12	23	—18
