TRANSCRIPTION OF ABOVE BY MICHAEL WATSON 4/-

The bugler paced through the dreary Snow
By the frozen river to watch the foe
Behind him in camp his comrades
Wounded & Spent from the morning's fray

His orders ran, when ever he spied the foe
Three loud blasts on his bugle blow
Those were his orders he'd keep them we
Gallantly, faithfully till he fell

The wind blows cold from the frozen

He raised himself in the blood-stained sno
