HISTORICAL VIRGINIA KEY BEACH PARK 1953

The difficulty of finding a picnic location for large organized groups has long been recognized, but happily, at Virginia Beach, the picnic facilities are sufficient to accommodate several hundred persons at a time.

For a thrilling ride, get aboard the narrow gauge railroad that will carry you happily on a trip along the beach and into the thickly wooded areas. Primarily designed to attract the youngsters, the miniature train often carries a capacity load of oldsters - reliving one of childhood's pleasant memories.

HISTORICAL
VIRGINIA KEY BEACH PARK
1953

Located on the North shore of Bear Cut on Virginia Key, Virginia Key Beach Park offers a majestic view of the Atlantic Ocean and the placid waters of the blue Biscayne Bay ... Here at Virginia Beach the pleasure-seeker will find varied opportunities to enjoy the invigorating surf, sun bathing, cabana life, overnight apartments, family or organized picnics, wholesome food at reasonable prices, ample free parking, courteous beach guards and attendants, free dressing rooms and showers and scenic railroad... It is the plan of the Board of County Commissioners to expand the facilities at Virginia Beach as soon as it is practical, with the ultimate goal of creating a complete park for Negroes.

Refreshments, cold drinks and beach accessories are available at the large refectory at reasonable prices. At Virginia Beach, as at all other Dade County Parks, all sales are handled by the park department and not by concessionaires.

Twelve modern cabanas, equipped with shower stalls, beach chairs and awning porches, are grouped on the East end of the park. These cabanas are for daytime use only, and may be leased, for any number of days.

Shelters for large organized picnics may be reserved through the park office or by telephoning. Besides the individual barbecue grills, a large 20 x 6 foot barbecue pit is available for large groups.

Messages of Greeting;

Gene Tinnie, Chair

I am blessed with the distinct honor, on behalf of my fellow Trustees, the Virginia Key Beach Park Trust staff, and the community at large, of welcoming you to a history-making day in Paradise, the Grand Reopening of Historic Virginia Key Beach Park after some twenty-five years of being closed, and to these beautiful, restored 82+ acres of citizen-owned land that will remain henceforth open for public use and enjoyment. This Reopening of this treasured location, which has been aptly described as "a sacred site," and "a place of freedom," truly represents, in its past, present and future, triumphs of the human spirit in the face of adversity and daunting challenges. None of this could not have been possible without broad support from many segments of the community, in outstanding cooperation with elected officials and staff at the Federal, State, County, and especially City levels.

In this regard, we must pause to remember two individuals who were absolutely vital to the success of this project, and whose spirits are forever embodied in this sacred place, even though they are no longer physically present amongst us. The late City of Miami Commissioner Arthur E. Teele, Jr., will always be remembered for his vision and leadership in bringing the efforts of a disparate coalition of concerned citizens to fruition by drafting the necessary Resolutions and Ordinances that he and his fellow commissioners passed into law and ultimately established the Trust which was necessary to carry the actual work of restoration and reopening forward. Nor can enough be said about our late beloved community matriarch, former City Commissioner and Founding Chairperson of the Trust Mrs. M. Athalie Range, who in her final years embraced the community's vision for this site and led the effort as only she could. The widespread respect in which she was held by people of all tiers of society, and the wisdom and tenacity that were the hallmarks of her life were vital in garnering the funding and support without which none of what we are celebrating today could ever have been possible.

As might be expected, the list of persons who deserve to be thanked publicly for their own critical roles in making this effort a success would be long enough to fill volumes, such was the nature of this extraordinary coming together of diverse people around a common cause. These include past and present City and County Commissioners and a host of friends and allies. A few names, at the risk of being unfair to the many not mentioned, must be given due recognition. Among these are Dr. Gregory Bush, former County Commissioner Dr. Barbara M. Carey Shuler, Mrs. Mabel Miller, Mr. Robert Weinreb and Ms. Nancy Lee, and, most recently National Football League legend Larry Little. Organizations like the Urban Environment League, Sierra Club, Tropical Audubon Society, Dade Heritage Trust, The Black Archives and the Historical Museum of Southern Florida, among numerous others, were also, and will always be, a crucial part of this success. And, of course, this is most especially true of the community itself – the "regular folks" whose knowledge, fond memories, and dedication to community betterment were the ultimate keys to reclaiming this special place and its stories for posterity.

Although today's Grand Re-opening represents a culmination of more than eight years of diligent work by all concerned, it also represents only the beginning of what will be. The vision for the future, born out of a successful planning charrette and several public meetings, includes a park-wide museum experience with a new museum structure on the site, which will bring to life both the natural and human history of this unique barrier island, in an environment of family fun and recreation. Appropriate special events and cultural experiences will not only attract global audiences but also provide valuable support and funds for the museum and park maintenance. A classic merry-go-round, comparable to the original, will be installed as a companion amusement ride to the Mini-Train, just as in the Park's historic heyday. In addition to these historic renovations and replications, a new Nature Center will be built, greatly enhanced by the improvements of the adjacent wetland area being restored by Miami-Dade County Department of Environmental Resources Management (DERM), which will include a wildlife observation boardwalk. All of these developments will be carried out with a strong commitment to clean-and-green environmental sensitivity.

In short, Historic Virginia Key Beach Park (HVKBKBP) will be a unique experience in all the world, serving not only Miami's residents and visitors, but also serving as a model for the rest of the nation and the world. May this very special place be enjoyed for many generations to come.

David L. Shorter, Executive Director

Historic Virginia Key Beach Park is a treasured living legacy of land, history and beauty which integrates the rich past and a vision of bright tomorrows. As we re-dedicate this remarkable site at the close of Black History Month, it is appropriate to mention the long standing story of Historic Virginia Key Beach as a place of freedom--

Freedom sought, as illustrated by the Seminoles defending their land, freedom found as when the early African American community served as the founding builders of the City of Miami, freedom denied as in the way these African Americans established their own informal recreational area before it was officially sanctioned and freedom triumphant, the end result of dedicated people acquiring an exclusive public park for people of color during the segregation era which became known as Historic Virginia Key Beach Park.

After a 26 year closure and a multi-million dollar renovation of the grounds, we are pleased to close the first phase of our park restoration program by opening the gates of this magnificent green space to all people, everywhere. So, it is my profound wish is to see this great recreational facility be enjoyed, be nurtured and be preserved as an everlasting symbol of social justice and equality.

Her Legacy:

Historic Virginia Beach Park owes its legacy to the late M. Athalie Range. When people a generation younger were retiring into senior citizen status, Mrs. Range took up the cause of saving Historic Virginia Key Beach Park from private development for an exclusive few.

Through her experience as a successful business leader in the African-American community and as a former City of Miami Commissioner, M. Athalie Range understood the profound and sacred historical significance of this unique recreational facility as an emblem of the universal human struggle for justice and equality.

Through Mrs. Range's energetic advocacy as part of the Virginia Key Beach Park Civil Rights Task Force and as the founding Chairperson of the Virginia Beach Part Trust, Historic Virginia Key Beach Park has evolved in many ways. It is an 'urban jewel' within an ever-changing city starved for green, open spaces. A wonderfully scenic beachfront with full public accessibility that is sensitive to the ecologically fragile barrier island it shares and, most of all, a treasured site that is deserving of its landmark status for preserving the history of the past.

Her Future Vision:

M. Athalie Range was among the first to express the dream of building an unique museum/cultural center at Historic Virginia Key Beach Park that would impart Miami's untold story, particularly, the many contributions of the local Afro-American population, as a legacy for future generations.

She advocated vigorously to secure support for the museum project from Miami-Dade County, the City of Miami, other agencies and the community-at-large but, most of all, Mrs. Range played a critical role in expressing her vision and enthusiasm to the competing architects who would ultimately devise the most visually and environmentally exciting concept.

Virginia Key Beach Park Trust

Mission Statement

The mission of the Virginia Key Beach Park Trust is to create and carry forward a community-based vision for the development and use of Historic Virginia Key Beach Park by: a) promoting and maintaining absolute public ownership and access; b) fostering its perpetuation as a passive open green-space which includes nature trails, recreational facilities and appropriate museum structures, all compatible with the natural environment of Virginia Key; c) honoring the rich social and civil-rights history of the site and of South Florida; and d) preserving the site as a valuable historical, environmental, educational and recreational resource to be enjoyed by posterity.

Reverend Dr. Joseph Lowery, Key Note Speaker: Reverend Dr. Joseph Lowery is a minister and leader in the American civil rights movement. He was a Co-Founder, President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, former President of the Black Leadership Forum and worked with Campaign for America's Future, Citizen's for a Moratorium on Federal Executions and the NAACP. As pastor of Warren Street United Methodist Church in Mobile, Alabama, he helped lead the Montgomery boycott after the arrest of Rosa Parks in 1955. His property was seized in 1959 along with that of other civil rights leaders (including Ralph Abernathy) by the state of Alabama as part of a libel suit but, the US Supreme Court ordered the suit reversed. At the request, of Martin Luther King, Lowery led the Selma-to-Montgomery civil rights march in 1965. He served as pastor of Cascade United Methodist Church in Atlanta until his retirement in 1992

Trina Robinson, News Anchor, Mistress of Ceremony: Emmy award winning journalist, Trina Robinson, has proven her talents to South Florida viewers as an experienced anchor, reporter and meteorologist. Robinson began working at NBC 6 in 1999 and has become one of WTVJ's most visible and versatile reporters. Her wide range of duties also includes being a weather anchor and co-host of South Florida Today. Robinson came to WTVJ from KYW in Philadelphia and has worked in Tampa, Orlando, Fort Myers, South Carolina and Virginia. Her commitment to news truly parallels her dedication to giving people information that can improve and even change their lives. Trina received a BA degree from the College of Notre Dame in Baltimore, a graduate degree in Journalism and Public Affairs from the American university in Washington, D.C. and did her course work in Meteorology at Mississippi State University.

Lift Every Voice and Sing

Lift every voice and sing
till earth and heaven ring,
ring with the harmonies of liberty.

Let our rejoicing rise
high as the listening skies;
let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark
past has taught us;
sing a song full of the hope that the present
has brought us;
facing the rising sun
of our new day begun,
let us march on, till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod,
bitter the chastening rod,
felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
yet, with a steady beat,
have not our weary feet
come to the place for which our parents sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears

have been watered;
we have come, treading our path through
the blood of the slaughtered,
out from the gloomy past,
till now we stand at last
where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.
God of our weary years,
God of our silent tears,
thou who hast brought us thus far in the way;
thou who hast by thy might led us into the light;
keep us for ever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met thee;
lest, our hearts drunk with the wine of the
world, we forget thee;
shadowed beneath thy hand
may we for ever stand,
true to our God, true to our native land.
