Historic Preservation Committee

Talking Points for the May 1, 2006 Board Meeting

- The Historic Preservation committee met April 20, 2006 – 6:18pm.
- The committee reviewed its committee goals and objectives to set a more determined course of action through the coming months. The importance of maintaining our state and national representation at future preservation meetings and conferences is of the utmost importance. A list of important annual conferences and events is included in your board packet for review. Some conferences of special note are the National Trust for Historic Preservation Annual Conference, the Florida Trust for Historic Preservation and the African American Preservation Group bi-annual meeting.
- The committee also held discussion regarding the historic preservation committee's involvement in any park opening ceremonies or events by creating a signature activity, project or theme. Some of the ideas that were discussed are, but were not limited to, continuing oral history interview collection; developing themes such as "Why I'm Proud of my Heritage" and developing an annual collectable Trust poster or image.
- The committee agreed, voted on and pasted a quarterly meeting schedule that will begin following the May 18, 2006 meeting. A copy of the future meeting schedule is included in your board packet.
