

June 20th, 1912.

Mr. J. E. Ingraham,
Vice-President,
St. Augustine, Fla.

Dear Sir:

Yours of the 18th addressed to Mr. Morse regarding your trip south, received. Mr. Morse left for the north with his mother on the evening of the 18th, and a telegram received this morning tells me he has reached his destination, (Dansville N Y) with her safely, and will start on his return trip the latter part of this week; he will stop over in New York, remaining there a few days the first of next week, and then I can't say positively just when he will get home. Before he left he spoke some of going to Buffalo Luthia Springs for a few days after leaving New York, and if he does this presume he would be a week or ten days longer on the road, but I am quite confident if you wish to see him on business of any great importance, he would be pleased to come direct from New York here to meet you; otherwise probably he could stop over in St. Augustine to see you on his return. I note you expect to get here about the 25th or 26th and we shall be pleased to place an auto. at your disposal.

It was rather coincidental that Mr. Powers came up from Cape Sable today and inquired if we had heard when you were coming down. I showed him your letter, and he made some suggestions about meeting you here, but I told him to write you direct today regarding the matter, which he said he would do.

Yours very truly,

FJP
