

P. A. VANS AGNEW

ATTORNEY AT LAW
WINTER PARK, FLORIDA

June 9, 1925.

Mr. J. M. Willson,
Kissimmee, Florida.

FRIENDS FLORIDA SEMINOLES.

Dear Jimmie Wiltsie:

This man Coates is a common nuisance and I fear that the only thing to do is to teach him a lesson, which means filing a suit to cancel his tax deed. This, of course, spells trouble but we have it, I believe, on the authority of the Honorable Bill Shakespear that the world is full of trouble.

We cannot bring suit without the Abstract. Did you ever order one? If so shoot it to me. If not you had better order one and if you have no official funds on hand to pay for it send the bill to me and if you can chip in on it so much the better, if not I will take care of it.

Billy Co-ne-pat-chee's typist must be away in a bathing beauty contest somewhere on the Coast which evidently interferes with his correspondence.

Me and my squaw will surely be at that paw-wow when he does arrive for the Ten Thousand Islands conference. Our ojus pickaninie insists upon being present and expects to wear a Seminole Squaw Costume.

Hink-les-chay to your squaw and to your good self.

Sincerely,

PAVA:D

P. S. Enclosed I am returning the letter from the Tax Assessor of which we have made a copy for our files.
