Mayor Acted Alone

Youth Job Center Aid for Summer; Method Criticized

A youth placement program initiated by Mayor Robert L. Searle this week after six-months of planning ran into criticism from Commissioner Joe Murphy because the Commission was not let in on it.

"I haven't heard the first word about it," said Murphy after learning about it by reading it in a Miami newspaper.

He said the plan had merits, but is "obviously a political move" in connection with the mayor's candidacy for state democratic committeeman in Tuesday's runoff election.

Murphy has asked that the matter be placed on tomorrow's (Friday) City Commission conference agenda.

He said he asked City Manager L. W. Robinson Jr. about various aspects of the plan, such as costs, but that Robinson did not know.

Said Robinson: "I knew the mayor was doing it."

Robinson said he saw a copy of the letter sent out by Bert Burris, City advertising and publicity director, before it was sent out.

"I hadn't given it any thought," said Robinson of the fact that it had not been presented to the other commissioners.

"Personally, I think it's a good plan."

Had Commissioner C. L. Dressel Jr. heard about the plan?

"No, I didn't," Dressel said.

5-Story Hotel Sought Near Granada Course

A 102-room, five-story hotel is planned for Coral Way, just west of Segovia Boulevard and overlooking Granada Golf Course.

Construction is expected to start by Aug. 1 with occupancy scheduled for Jan. 1, 1963. Cost will be $1.1 million, including furnishings but exclusive of the ground.

Owners and operators of the hotel, which may be called The Seven Gables after the Nathaniel Hawthorne novel, are Robert E. Sullivan and Eugene Wilhelm.

Sullivan and Wilhelm already operate the Town and Country Motel at the corner of Segovia and Coral Way. The new hotel will be located between them and the five-story apartment building on the west end of that block.

The land is owned by Cal Kovens. It has a frontage of 300 feet and is 166 feet deep. The land will be leased for 99 years. Parking for 75 cars will be provided.

The City Commission must approve any buildings of more than three stories' height.

A public hearing is expected to be called early next month. The law requires all property owners within 500 feet to be notified, should they wish to object.

The property is already zoned for hotel use.

Sullivan said the administrative staff would require about 20 people with another 30 to 40 persons needed as bellboys, bartenders, kitchen help and the like.

The hotel will have a public banquet room capable of seating 350 persons.

The hotel will also have a dining room, coffee shop, men's grill and, the owners hope, a cocktail lounge.

As outlined by the owners, their plans qualify the hotel to obtain a city-issued liquor license.

Presently, no other public facility in the Gables has a license, although the Holiday Inn to be built on South Dixie Highway expects to obtain one and innkeeper Al Singer, next door to the Holiday, is pressing

Rock Around the Clock Brings 24 Hour Cop, Too

A week-long, round-the-clock police watch of a group of South Dixie Highway apartments was to end Wednesday — if inhabitants there behaved.

City Manager L. W. Robinson Jr. said he ordered the stake out after a long series of complaints about the behavior of residents in apartments along 706 to 710 South Dixie Hwy. known as S-M Courts.

Complaints stemmed from excessive noise, loud night parties, improper parking, tearing up parkways, driving over sidewalks and drag racing down an alley.

Robinson said he talked to the owner, George Echarate, before he took action.

He also discussed the case with University of Miami officials when it became apparent that many of the offenders are UM students.

Coco Plum's Mrs. Gramley Retiring

Goodbye to 'Hysterical' Novels and Termites

By RAYMOND LANG
Times Reporter

A goat chews up one of your books.

An old tool box, made into a book wagon, falls apart on Bird Road and all the books tumble out as cars speed by.

A little girl, asked by her mother to get a "historical" novel, asks you in a sweet voice for a "hysterical" novel.

These are some of the memories Mrs. Lois Gramley will take with her when she retires the end of May after 14 years as librarian at Coco Plum Women's Club library on Sunset Drive.

Things haven't been dull since Mrs. Gramley, who lives a block away from the library at 7396 SW 53rd Pl., became the overseer of their then 2,000 books. It's now 12,000.

About that book wagon...

A neighborhood man gave the library his tool box, about three feet wide and 12 feet long.

It was old, almost falling apart, but Mrs. Gramley painted the old tool box with little story-book figures, like Alice in Wonderland.

She put in shelves for several hundred books and then hitched the whole affair to her Chevrolet and off she went, stopping at stores along the way each week.

And from everywhere, people who didn't have a chance to go the library, let the library come to them. The fact that the book wagon had room for only one person at a time to step in and browse didn't at all faze our Gables and SW area neighbors.

"It fell apart on Bird Road one day," Mrs. Gramley laughed, and all the books fell off the shelves. It was a rough day.

"And we had to stop it.

The termites," she added sadly, got to the wagon.

Mrs. Gramley, 62, has no definite plans on what she'll do when she retires. She'll have more time for her three grandchildren and be able to drop in more often to visit her married daughter, Mrs. F.S. Alsobrook, 7720 SW 50th Ct.

Mrs. Gramley's husband, John, was an athletic coach when Ponce de Leon was a high school. He died eight years ago.

Sitting at one of the small tables the children use when reading in the library, Mrs. Gramley recalled one little boy who had a child's typical problem.

He just could not keep quiet. He had so many important things to say to his little friends.

"I had told him 'be quiet.'"

And he said "Why? Nobody's dead!"

Cavaliers Back Amigo

Approximately 220 Coral Gables High students have offered their homes for Operation Amigo participants in the future.

It's up to the school to take them up, student leaders said this week.

The offers came in response to a poll of the homerooms which revealed that "students are strongly interested in and want to support the amigo program," says Student Government President Jeff Tew.

Consequently, on Tuesday the Student Government passed the following resolution:

"Resolved: That the Coral Gables High Student Govern-

Grove Woman Is Beaten On Andalusia Ave. Friday

A 27-year-old Coconut Grove woman was severely beaten about the face and robbed in the 200 block of Andalusia Avenue Friday.

Police were to hold a line up with a suspect picked up by Miami police Wednesday to determine if the victim, Marion Lightfoot, could identify her assailant.

Mrs. Lightfoot was treated by Coral Gables firemen and later at Doctors' Hospital for injuries sustained in the beating.

Officer Thomas Quirk said he found her lying unconscious with her empty wallet in the street. It had contained $27.

An employe of the Marshall Insurance Agency, 222 Andalusia, she was walking back to her car shortly before 8:30 p.m. when the attack occurred.

She described her attacker as a white man in his mid-20s, short and light.

Private School

Gilbert Johnson has received approval by the City Commission to operate a private school at 4023 Le Jeune Road. The private tutoring school will be staffed by teachers at nearby Coral Gables High School, who will instruct students having difficulty in grammar, speech and like subjects.

Dr. Robert Cherry, Coral Gables oral surgeon, has been re-elected president of Florida State Oral Surgeons Association. Dr. Cherry, 900 Hardee Rd., is serving his third term.

DR. RICHARD E. STRAIN, Gables neurosurgeon, will receive an Alumni Citation from Maryville, College, Maryville, Tenn., at commencement Saturday. This is the third such citation given in the history of the Presbyterian college, one of the South's 10 oldest.

Realtors Hit Hardest, Among Few Protesting License Hike

Years of deficit spending and inflation cropped up as the main "villains" in the "plot" to increase occupational licenses in Coral Gables. When Robert Davidson, president of the Coral Gables Board of Realtors, pressed Finance Director Kenneth Allyn for the reason for the increase, this is what Allyn told them at Monday's hearing before the Budget Advisory Board: For years the City lived on unspent wartime surpluses, choosing after the war to live off these surpluses rather than levy additional millage. As a matter of fact, Allyn pointed out, the millage dropped from 22 to 17, until raised last year to 19. This came, at a time when the City paid off its bonded indebtedness accrued after the real estate collapse of the 20s. "By this time, said Allyn other forces — such as 30 per cent added inflation — had combined to cancel that gain. The City was blocked last year when it attempted to raise the occupational licenses in certain categories without first holding a public hearing. This year, a more systematic approach was used, but objections still came. But they were few. Only 27 written objections were received on 5,000 post card queries and only 15 persons turned up Monday night to protest at the Budget Advisory Board hearing. The Board of Realtors, led by Davidson, was hit hardest by the increase in fees. They jumped from $30 to $40 on brokers fees. This amounted to a 33 1-3 per cent increase compared to the 15 per cent general boost. Salesmen, who paid no fee before and $5 now, had asked to pay a fee to preserve their standing. Spelled out, this meant a boost from $4,500 to $6,000 for the 150 brokers in town and an additional $2,480 from salesmen. This accounts for approximately 28 per cent of $30,000 the City hopes to derive from this source of revenue. "We feel it was raised too high," said Davidson, who indicated that perhaps $35 would have been more reasonable. "We would like to feel that we are no better or worse than doctors or other proven professional men," he said. The only other major group of objectors was the Apartment Owners Association, which went up from $25 to $30, but no change in the per-room charge. George F. Henry, representing the group, said economic conditions in the apartment business did not warrant an increase at this time. The next move is up to the Budget Advisory Board. They will turn over their recommendation, probably the early part of next month, and the City Commission will then have the ball.

Jobs for CG Youth Arouses Comment

(Continued from Page 1) He said he remembered something vague about a conversation with Personnel Director Robert Harrison in which the subject was brought up but that the mayor had never discussed it with him. Commissioners George Wilson and Frank Evans could not be reached for comment. Searle saw nothing unusual in the way the plan developed. He said he met with a group of local ministers six months ago to discuss ways to help young people. The employment bureau idea was kicked around, Searle said, and a second meeting held with interested groups. Later, Searle said, he contacted Harrison and Youth Center Director Jeannette Hunt and worked out some of the details. This is the plan that evolved: Three thousand letters were mailed out Monday to Gables businessmen asking for their cooperation in providing jobs to teenage youngsters between 14 to 19. Beginning May 28, students will be placed in temporary, part-time, After-school, evening, weekend and summer vacation jobs through the Youth Center employment program until school resumes next fall. A group of high school graduates will help handle the plan. They will be paid a small hourly wage and will earn a 50 per cent tuition scholarship at the University of Miami next fall. The Youth Center operation will open after school and Saturdays and after school closes Monday through Friday until resumption. The program is not concerned primarily with earning of money but provide an opportunity for young people to learn what an employer expects from an employee and help them acquire a sense of responsibility, the mayor explained. "The reaction I've gotten thus far has been good," said Searle. Murphy said the mayor has acted on his own before without getting Commission approval. He cited the commercial committee plan,

Clubhouse Is Planned In Gables

A public hearing has been set for May 28 on a proposal to build a garden center for the Coral Gables Garden Club on a triangular piece of city-owned land bounded by San Amaro Drive, San Amaro Avenue and Campo Sano Avenue. The hearing has been set for 7:30 p.m. before the Zoning Board at City Hall. A change of zoning from R-7 single-family to special use to permit a club house and garden center is involved. Persons interested in the project may present their views either in person or in writing. Letters should be sent to John Vinsant, secretary of the Zoning Board, City Hall.

3 Students Are Injured On S. Dixie

Three University of Miami students were injured in crash at South Dixie Highway and South Alhambra Circle Sunday shortly before midnight. Injured were Steve Weiner, 22, and two 18-year-old twins, Jerold and Richard Berger, all living at 1226 Walsh Ave. They were treated at Doctors' Hospital after being given first aid by Gables firemen. According to Officer G. F. Rusk, the youths' car, north-east bound on South Dixie Highway, left the road for some unexplained reason and crashed into two parked cars, one owned by Mrs. L. R. Summerlin, 1418 South Dixie Hwy., and the other by Thomas Rudder, 1410 South Dixie Hwy.

Sullivan said he has had to turn away many people who didn't want cooking facilities (Town and County is composed of 21 studio apartments; or sought facilities strictly like those of a hotel.

"Furthermore: Let it be known that the members of the Student Government assembled here today are willing to support this program whenever the administration of Coral Gables High deems it feasible." The resolution was presented soon after Gables Principal Harry N. Rath ruled out the program for the school because of overcrowded conditions and the presence already of 400 Cubans in the student body. Many other area schools have supported the visits by Latin American students. Gables High is one of the few to turn down the program.

10th Holers Mix Golf & Fun

Twenty three members of the Coral Gables Country Club got together six years ago to organize a golfing group within the club.

By unanimous consent it was called The Tenth Holers, and Dr. T. Lyle Hazlett elected first president.

The idea of a golf club got so much response within the club membership, that pretty soon the number of applicants exceeded the number of people that the golf course could accommodate on Saturday morning.

By-laws were drawn and approved, and the membership limited to 95 active members and 45 associate members, as it stands today.

The Tenth Holers play the Granada Golf course every Saturday from 7:45 a.m. until late in the afternoon. A business meeting is held at 1 p.m. at which time results of the tournaments are read, besides the weekly play, with prizes given.

Eight regular tournaments are held every year.

Besides encouraging good golf, the group has also set up a social schedule, with some outings to other clubs. This year, the group visited Naples for a week-end of golf, fishing and entertainment.

There are two main social events every year; the Annual Awards Dinner (see picture) and the Christmas Dinner.

President officers of the club are William McKone, president; Walter Zimmerman, vice president, and Rollo Budde, secretary-treasurer.

We also sell a funny-looking car.

We sell a car that looks like a beetle. And a station wagon that looks like a bus. But we (and all our fellow VW dealers) think of them a little differently. We think both VWs look just like what they are.

The VW Sedan carries 4 people. The station wagon carries 8 (bag and baggage). The wagon also handles a staggering amount of just stuff. (It has 170 cubic feet of space, compared to about 105 in conventional wagons.)

Both VWs have air-cooled rear engines. (No water or anti-freeze needed; terrific traction on ice and snow.) Both park in practically the same space. (The wagon is only 9 inches longer than the sedan.) Both defy obsolescence. (Nobody knows what year Volkswagen you drive. Except you.) And both have restored a sense of proportion to the size of cars.

The VW Sedan is a pretty familiar sight, so not too many people laugh at it any more. But the VW wagon is still good for a few chuckles.

Suggestion: have some fun yourself. Come and take either or both for a ride today.

Why Peggy Beaton, Et Al Need to Reconsider

Well, we helped fight for a new library for our town and we're delighted that Librarian Peggy Beaton has it all tied up. But we're displeased with the site selection. It is being recommended that our $400,000 new library be jammed in behind City Hall between that building and the medical center.

This would do several things:

1. It would destroy a needed open space behind City Hall, preventing expansion of that building. We don't need a bigger City Hall? Not now but how about in 1980 when we have 75,000 people, twice as many as now?
2. We believe it would destroy the aesthetics of the City Hall's own architecture. Visually, it is now a beautiful structure.
3. Putting the Library behind our municipal building will require double decking the parking lot and we've yet to see a handsome double decker parking garage. Additionally, this parking structure would blot out the rear of the library.
4. Putting the library there is seriously questioned by the experts hired and paid for by the City and blessed by Miss Beaton. Understandably, neither she nor the City are making much noise over the item on page 27 of the consultants' report.
5. Putting the library there is not recommended in the $12,000 report just in from Rader Associates. That firm has spent six months coming up with a comprehensive land use plan for our city. While—

Rader's Not Infallible

—it's interesting that Rader too, has different ideas about the placement of the Library.

Rader makes a couple of proposals relative to the City Hall area which find favor with us. One suggests that Biltmore Way alongside City Hall be closed off and Merrick Park extended across it. This would certainly enhance the Miracle Mile-Le Jeune Road intersection as well as rectifying an impossible traffic intersection.

Further, the planners suggest going a couple blocks west on Biltmore Way and dead ending it into Segovia Street. To do this, the first block of Biltmore Way west of Segovia — between Segovia and Cardena Streets — would be filled in. All of this would discourage further diffusion of the central business district, but more importantly it would create the possibilities of a City-owned tract for development of a civic center.

Rader suggests that our fire and police station now needlessly situated in the central business could be withdrawn to this center and that our library would be a natural for this complex. We concur.

Coral Gables cannot be measured against other cities — Hartford, New York, Los Angeles or you name it—for library location. We are unique in the proportion of population on wheels. Access via public transportation is not necessary. If it were, the library in its current awkward location in northern Coral Gables wouldn't be receiving the use it is.

The fact that 14 per cent of its users are non-Gableites is further proof that—

Location Isn't So Important

—as is parking facilities. Incidentally, that percentage of out-of-city users is a figure we'll touch on next week in a different editorial.

The Time urges the City Commissioners to review their thinking about locating our new library. If they're not moved by the editor's persuasiveness we'll quote them their own consultants:

"The only disadvantage of the site is the possibility that some difficulty would be experienced in securing an adequate amount of first floor space.

"It should be stressed that for economical staffing as well as for public convenience, a single floor operation is much to be preferred . . . The surveyors urge that a sufficiently large lot be assigned to permit all book services for the public to be placed on the ground floor."

Know who underlined those words? The consultants themselves! They are men who direct the public libraries of Cincinnati, Denver and Washington, D.C. Let's follow their advice. We're paying $5,800 for it.

We Back Bob Brake

We'll take Bob Brake. The young Gables attorney is our choice in the runoff for the District 1 Metro seat.

No part of Dade County — incorporated or unincorporated — should be more interested than Coral Gables in what Metro does. This is because our community has the most to lose at the hands of Metro commissioners should they chose to exercise all that kingly power which the Charter bestows upon them.

In Brake, we believe there are forces of moderation as well as intelligence and energy.

We've been a bit disappointed in his unwillingness to be tied down on the Seadade refinery issue and Crandon Amendments. So what if he won't be in a position to vote on them? His opinions would be indicative of his thinking.

But we won't fault him too much for that. The Times believes that voters within the City as well as those without it will be ably served by Bob Brake. We respectfully commend him to you on Tuesday.

Postscript

All who attended last week's concert on Ponce de Leon Boulevard Plaza were thrilled, we believe, by the combination of the University of Miami Band's music, the lovely setting provided by Nature and that evening's moon over Miami. It was a magical kind of a night.

After it was over, we thought: Now is the time for the City to look into acquisition of this island of land, owned by the McBride family.

This space, just a few blocks south of our city's crossroads, is ideal for a park and public concert bandstand. The ground is sloping and the landscaping's beautiful, and sufficient, with those pines.

If you believe the idea has merit, talk to our City Commissioners or express yourself at the Chamber of Commerce. The concert itself began with one man's stubborn, visionary insistence that it could be done; parks have been built in the same manner.

Where Our Library Shouldn't Go

Stanford: 'I'm Goin' to Be Boss'

Prior to the entrance of Dr. Henry King Stanford, the 25 students were restless with anticipation, hopeful and eager to have a certain question answered.

The question was one in the thoughts of nearly all students on campus, no matter how much they may be disinterested in the general affairs of the University.

Dr. Stanford appeared. The students rose to welcome him. His movements gave me the impression of what must be considered a mixture of self-confidence, humor and friendliness. His first words established the impression.

Visibly, the students relaxed as he spoke.

Dr. Stanford said he wanted his decisions to advance

When the new president of the University of Miami sat down last week with a couple dozen student leaders, we asked one junior for his impression. Here it is, unfortunately without his name. Due to a recently adopted University policy — a gross affront to student and faculty freedom, in our opinion — any such piece as this must go through UM censorship. To this we refuse to submit.

the University toward his promise of "development." This word, I particularly took note of. In spite of the University being relatively young, the air about it is that all is settled.

Yet, most students realize that all is not well within our school.

Dr. Stanford's words bespoke his intention of a fresh start.

Then came the question pe-

Great Men on Films Is Quick Way to Mind

By PHILLIPS RUSSELL, Correspondent

The life of Dr. Frank P. Graham, former United States senator and University president, and for some years a United Nations mediator, is to be recorded on television film through an appropriation of $2,500 voted by the student government of the University of North Carolina.

There is no reason why this example should not be followed by other states and institutions.

Printed biographies have their value, but they have been known to suffer from undue laudation and occasional lapses from fact. But filmed biographies are by nature bound to stick close to truth and do not lend themselves easily to exaggeration.

Most important of all is the fact that filmed stories of whatever kind are welcomed by the young and impressionable, whereas biography in print often fails to impress men until they are middle-aged or past their most active years.

Every area or community ought to find means to preserve on film the life and activities of its good and useful men and women. Pictures thus made catch the appearance, movements, and characteristic traits of the subject while he is least self-conscious and least likely to be caught in a stiff and unnatural pose.

We would give much for filmed biographies of Shakespeare, Milton, Queen Elizabeth, Julius Caesar, George Washington, and Thomas Jefferson, showing them as they were in life.

If we have their equivalent today—and sometimes we do not find this out till too late—now is the time to film them for video's preservation and for viewing by the generations to come.

She Has Nominee For Prize

By HELEN D. O'NEILL, Correspondent

It is regrettable that the Pulitzer Prize trustee feel that no biography written in 1961 merits an award.

The trustees, in a rare move, turned down the recommendation of their own advisory board which had chosen W. A. Swanberg's "Citizen Hearst."

Our choice for this prize would be "Education in Violence: The Life of George F. Thomas and the Army of the Cumberland" by Francis F. McKinney. We feel that this biography meets all of the requirements of the advisory board.

Thomas, a neglected and controversial figure, is considered by many to be the best general the Union armies produced.

He received his military training at West Point and ranked 12th in his class.

After receiving his diploma — his credentials to violence — he was recommended for a commission as second lieutenant in the United States Army. He served in both the Seminole and Mexican Wars and in campaigns against the Texas Comanches.

In 1850 he was recommended for the post of instructor of artillery and cavalry at the United States Military Academy. All of this was training that helped him earn the title, "The Rock of Chickamauga."

As Thomas was a VIRGINIAN BY birth, his personal decision was to remain with the Union Army at the beginning of the Civil War.

Dr. Stanford took a few steps forward in his loose, meditative way. He put his hands behind him. Then he smiled. Pointing to himself, he said:

"I'm goin' to be the boss."

There was loud applause. Dr. Stanford seems like a good man.

Cole to Lead CG Juniors

By LEE SANDLER
Herald Correspondent

Coral Gables High student, George Cole, defeated Steve Brody 623 votes to 462 as Brody ran for reelection to class presidency. The contest was for Junior Class.

Other results of the run-off elections held on May 23 saw Ronni Wekster defeat Larry Davison 576 to 449 for vice president and Kathy Lewistopped June Lang 725 to 346 for treasurer.

Janice Dutcher had already won election as secretary last week as she garnered a majority of 702 votes in the primary election.

Chemistry teacher Walter D. Bowlby has continued work to prepare Gables High for a good showing in next year's Westinghouse Science Talent Search Competition.

There are now two teams at the school, one composed of juniors and the other of sophomores. Each is preparing to enter the competition in their senior years.

The junior Westinghouse team recently elected officers for next year. Those who will serve are Mike Zinner, director; Loraine Lieberman, girl's director; David Groves, boy's captain; Mike Saltzman, boy's co-captain; Michael-Ann Russell, girl's-captain; and Arne Bornstein, girl's co-captain.

The sophomore team also elected officers for next year. They are boy's director, Alan Keith; girl's director, Judy Abrams; boy's captain, Richard Milburg; boy's co-captain, David Morris; girl's captain, Helene Stoler; and girl's co-captain, Marilyn Seittin.

Although the sophomores will not officially enter the Westinghouse competition for two years, 14 of them have already started doing research work in laboratories throughout the county.

The third of series of four annual award assemblies was held at the school on May 10. Among the outstanding awards presented were the First National Bank of Coral Gables Scholarship to William Foster, the Science and Math Honor Society Award to Michael Machtley and Jack Catlin, Arion Foundation Music Award to Karen Valentine and Vic Fishman.

National Secretaries Association Award went to Judy Fuller and Thomas P. Camobell Memorial Award for second year French student went to Stephen Dubrow.

Theta Sigma Phi award for outstanding girl in journalism went to Rusti Hausman and Rochelle Draizer won the Edwin Cook Memorial Award in music.

The Harry N. Rath Science Scholarship was presented to Robert Frank and Mark Hollins was named as one of the two students in the county to win the Dade County Council of Parent-Teacher Association Scholarships.

Patricia Hall won the Barnard College Book Award for outstanding junior girl and Edith Ann Genung was awarded the International Association of Machinists Scholarship. This scholarship is $1,000 a year for four years to any school of the recipients choice.

The program also highlighted the naming of the 13 Westinghouse winners, 12 Silver Knight nominees, and three National Merit Scholarship winners. The school newspaper, the High Lights received a plaque for first place in the Mental Health contest. The prize was earned by devoting an issue of the school newspaper to articles and letters concerning mental health.

H. Rinalden Saunders Retiring

He Grubbed With the PTA, Was Man With Ready Sledgehammer

By RAYMOND LANG
Times Reporter

"Just now I want to go out into the world, see the world and let the future take care of itself."

H. Rinalden Saunders was telling how he feels as he's retiring as principal this year at Sunset Elementary School and bringing to a close 36 years as an educator.

Last year, his wife died of cancer. "She had never been sick in her life," Saunders said, "and then suddenly she went."

His foot tapped nervously. "And so I decided I was going to retire and see some of these things," he said, talking about Europe and South America, "before I'm all crippled up and can't."

This summer, Saunders will tour the Mediterranean, stopping to see the pyramids in Egypt, the Roman ruins in Italy and the sights in Spain.

This fall, he'll tour South America.

Saunders, spry for his 65 years and looking like 50, walks to school each day from his home four blocks away at 7240 SW 53rd Pl.

He stepped from his office into the school's patio.

"You see that tree?" he asked. "I planted it myself. You don't see one like that everywhere. It's an achia regina."

Saunders, who loves gardening, pointed to another tree.

"That's a peltathoran; I got a garden club lady to come here and give it to us."

Saunders took a final sweeping look at the remaining trees and shrubbery and fondly recalled how he, the Daddies' Club and PTA got down on their hands and knees in the dirt and planted them.

"When I came here, there were old wooden buildings, portable classrooms," Saunders recalled. "And there was dust here," he motioned to the ground, now covered with hibiscus in bloom.

"And I used to come out here after school and with the PTA put them in."

Saunders began walking back to his office. "And I'd come over when they had their carnivals and use the sledgehammer to pound things in."

He laughed heartily. "I owned the sledgehammer. "Well . . . they'll miss that part of me."

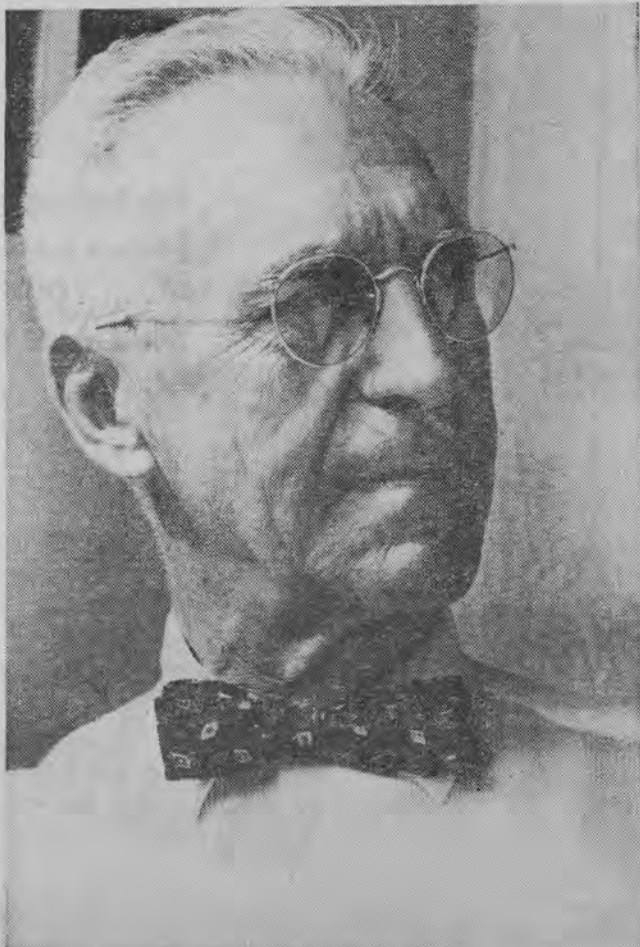

Sunset Elementary Has Its Origins Way Back . . .

Sunset Elementary School, originally named Cocoplum, began as a one-room school in 1896 through the efforts of Jim Bertshaw and A. H. Ramsey.

A year later Larkins and his family took over the school and changed the name to Larkins School. His daughter Mary, one of the first pupils, later taught there.

The little school room was moved, board by board, to Sunset and 52nd Ave. in 1911 and was renamed South Miami in 1924. The school originally went as far as the junior class and the senior class attended Miami High School.

The original school room is now a storage room. The old teacherage, an L-shaped building for teachers' living quarters is now used as a home for the caretaker.

First Job In Orlando Back in '26

H. R. Saunders' first teaching job was in Orlando in 1926. He turned down an offer at the University of Miami in 1934 because the pay was only $1,200.

Instead, he became a social studies teacher at Miami Beach High. Latin American affairs is what he originally hoped to teach.

He did advanced study at the University of Chicago, George Washington University and the Brookings Institute. He was one course away from earning his doctorate, but this was during the depression and he could not afford further schooling.

Saunders, a native of a small Ohio town, Columbus Grove, has two married daughters. He has been Sunset principal 10 years.

SAMUEL COHEN

Sam Cohen Takes Job In Mass.

A Coral Gables resident and social welfare executive has accepted an appointment as executive director of the Springfield Jewish Community Council in Massachusetts.

Samuel Cohen, 221 Viscaya Ave., has served for the past six years as assistant director and head of the community planning and budget division of the Greater Miami Jewish Federation. He will take over his new post in July.

The GMJF is the central fund-raising organization in the Dade area for more than 50 local, national and overseas agencies.

Harris said the Federation's executive committee accepted Cohen's resignation "with deep regret and sincere appreciation of the job he has done in Miami. His work has been of superior caliber, and the community has benefitted from his conscientious attention to every endeavor of which he has been part."

Mr. and Mrs. Cohen's sons, Stuart and Alan, are both Times carriers.

EDITOR STU PATTERSON, ONE LAST PUFF AND BULLETIN

'Here's Stu Yuh!'

Gentlemanly Hell Raiser With a 'Private Public'

By ADELE SITKIN
Correspondent

"We're lucky if he devotes as much as 25 per cent of his time to insurance," says the secretary of Stuart Patterson, a man who must make his living selling that service.

"He's an insurance man with a hobby," says Mrs. Mary Scott, Patterson's girl Friday.

How then does Stu, as almost everyone addresses him, spend the other 75% of his time?

Working for the Kiwanis Club.

"Well, you do get wrapped up in this sort of thing," he explained.

One of Stu's duties is to issue a weekly newsletter to the members of his club. The "Gable Gram," as the bulletin is called, reflects this mild-spoken man's very vivid opinions.

Kiwanis is a service club devoting many of its projects to youth, and is "supposed to stay out of politics," — Stu's own words.

Yet, to pick up almost any copy of Gable Gram, the reader would find such statements as this:

"It beats me how the American Public can be so stupid as to still believe they can get something for nothing. You can't get anything out of Washington without Washington having to take it out of you two or three fold at some previous time."

This comment referred to the medicare proposal.

"As editor," Stu Patterson says, "I do take some liberties. The board has commended me on it (the bulletin) so I don't feel badly." Stu has been issuing the Gable Gram since June, 1956.

Noting the 145 members in the club, Stu was asked if he ever got opposition.

"Once in a while one of the members will raise the devil, but I always say, 'Do you want to get out the next bulletin?' I always stop them with that."

One of the previous presidents of Kiwanis Club, Dr. Frank Rentz, said of Patterson:

"He tries to be non-partisan as far as Republican or Democratic issues are concerned. His comments stimulate interest and thought.

"If the members agree, okay; if not, we hash it out with Stu. He expresses a lot of concern about the encroachment of more government in business. Most businessmen will concur with this."

Dr. Rentz would recommend that everybody take time to read the pointed opinions in the local Kiwanis Club bulletin.

"Even though I get paid," Stu said, "it is pretty much a thankless job."

Stu lives with his wife Eva and children, Janet, 19, and Jim, 15, at 5815 Maynada Ave.

He has had experience in getting out newsletters before. When he was in New York, as Master of his Masonic lodge, he started a bulletin. The membership of the lodge increased 150% and the bulletin is still going.

Stu said he doesn't write letters to the editor of local newspapers.

"I write them to congressmen and the President of the United States, instead." Although concerned about government, Patterson doesn't have any political aspirations.

The Kiwanis Gable Gram includes plugs for attendance, reminders, anecdotes and evidence of his personal crusading.

Commenting on an Easter message, given at the club the previous Tuesday, he wrote in one bulletin:

"I'll probably catch it for this, but I'll bet some of our own ministers learned some things from that message.

"I know that Christ has got to come back to this earth just as the Bible states. The selfishness of the human will force his return for the same reasons he came before."

At another time he wrote, "If the world is getting smaller, then now come postal rates are getting larger."

Stu votes independently. He wrote a short while ago an editorial on the fallacy of our being the richest nation in the world:

"We aren't; we owe more money than all the other nations in the world combined. We are burning up our substance.

"Who's going to pay the national debt? In 1912 the Federal Government took in and spent $7 for every person. In 1960 this figure was $450. And so it goes with the 360-odd Gable Grams that Stu Patterson has put out for his private public to which he signs: "Here's 'Stu' Yuh!"

Concert Success

with flameless Electric Range and Electric Water Heater

Flames and fumes are as old-fashioned as wood-burning in today's modern kitchen. When you cook with flameless electricity there's no fuel grime to soil your walls or settle on your furnishings...no soot to blacken pots and pans. Your kitchen stays cleaner...and up to 16 degrees cooler, too, because the heat goes directly into your food and not into your kitchen. It's faster, too.

Another nice thing about living better electrically is flameless water heating... something your whole family will appreciate. It's automatic, super-fast and super-safe. No noise, no odor, no constant-burning pilot flame...and no flue is needed. Just lots of hot water in a hurry, with never a worry — and peace of mind that's priceless!

For an Electric Range, see your appliance dealer. For an Electric Water Heater... your dealer, plumber or electrical contractor.

There's no Match for flameless Electric Living...IT'S CHEAPER, TOO!

Have We Horse-Age School For Outer Space? Exec Asks 50 Gables Seniors Honored

"Does the nine or ten-month, two-semester attendance pattern of American education fit the scientific age?"

This question was asked today, Thursday, by an executive of one of America's leading corporations.

Speaking at a civic leaders luncheon sponsored by the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce in recognition of the scholastic achievements of 50 honor students from Coral Gables High School, R. H. Venn, vice president of the Humble Oil — Refining Co.'s Southeast Esso Region, questioned whether a free society, "in competition with one determined to destroy it, can afford to continue a pattern of school attendance which evolved to satisfy our education needs in our agricultural period?"

Also honored was Principal Harry Rath, retiring this year from Gables High School which he has directed the 12 years of its life. The luncheon was held at the CGCC.

Stressing the marked rise of cooperation between businessmen and educators in the last 10 years, Venn called for "some controlled experiments . . . to determine whether the 9 months school year exists because like Topsy 'it just grewed' or because it really is the optimum in terms of educator's goals and society's needs."

Citing such experimentation as only one of hundreds of ways in which educators and businessmen "should become more deeply 'involved' in collaborative projects," Venn said that business has a responsibility to support the educators continuing efforts to better adjust the educational process to meet the current needs of business and other segments of society.

"Businessmen must invite the educator into the business world," he said, "not to tour plants or to 'explain' business", but to "devise ways and means of working jointly on the problem of improving the adaptation of the educational process and subject matter to these needs."

In commenting on the dependency of modern business upon the educational system, Mr. Venn noted "several areas in which graduates are less than adequately prepared for real participation in the national life."

Among these he listed economics, general science, reading and communications skills, political and governmental structure and "absolute sense of moral and ethical values."

"It is in these areas," he said, "that with some curricular modification education, and the product it sends to the business world, could make even greater contributions to business, to the individual and to the general society."

Venn warned against merely crying out for new courses to be added to the already crowded curriculum. "The educator," he said, "cannot be expected to change merely for the sake of change, but only when change is indicated to be of value."

Map Suit Holds Fast; Trial Seen

Efforts to have a map infringement suit tossed out of Federal District Court failed Monday when the court denied another motion to dismiss. "I've felt all along that it was just a question of time," said L. W. Larson, local mapmaker who claims the City, Chamber of Commerce, Parker Art Printing and another guide map distributor, John Giffen, copied one of his maps illegally.

This was the third time Larson had filed the suit through his attorneys, Pruitt and Pruitt. Previously the suit has been dismissed.

The defendants have 20 days to file an answer.

Larson said he is certain of victory now that the case is apparently headed for trial. The original suit was filed back on Aug. 8, 1961.

MIAMI — Elmer Whalley has transformed his Flagler Pharmacy into a sleek, lean discount-type — yet professional drug operation.

"The drastic change was made because of the trend of the times," Mr. Whalley declared.

Changes in the Flagler operation included slicing the 2400-square-foot store in half, ridding it of a myriad of gondolas containing items not related to the ethical pharmacy.

The main change, according to Mr. Whalley, and one on which the store will try to build a city-wide image, is low price.

Copying new pricing policies from two successful discounters here, the front of the store offers an across-the-board discount price policy. The prescription department promises "rock bottom prices" according to circulars given out to customers of the store.

The store also cut former lengthy hours to 9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M. and closed all day Sunday and holidays.

To make a profit in this type of operation, Mr. Whalley buys in as great a volume as possible, and he expresses the belief that the public has been made so price-conscious that the "discount apothecary" will garner the prescription and drug business of the area.

Linda Peterson, who received her wings from National Airlines, May 11, took her first flight as stewardess May 15. It was a long one, to California. However, Linda has lived with her family long enough to know all about making deadlines for the air.

Her daddy, Alvin E. Petersen, known as Pete, has just retired from Pan American Airways after 32 years in the P.A.A. service.

Linda after completing her education in the Coral Gables and South Miami Schools, graduated from the Walsh School of Business Science. The Pete Petersen's reside at 8142 SW 132nd St.

LINDA Meg Hennon, one of Coral Gables' licensed "ham" radio operators, writes from their summer home in Hiawassee, Ga., that she celebrated her birthday high in the air.

It all happened when Meg and Gordon, her husband were invited to celebrate the day by their son, Jack who flew up in his Bonanza plane and took his parents from their Georgia home to Orlando, for a Ham-fest over the weekend.

Meg says it took three hours and ten minutes to go down at about 7,500 feet and the same number of hours to come back. It was rough. They had to climb to 11,600 feet above the clouds to get out of the bumps but what a thrill it was.

She says it is beautiful in Georgia now, and the dogwood trees are in full bloom, and the fish are biting, Gordon bringing in some beauties.

Meg is busy planting her garden, so hasn't fished yet, but has plans.

The lake is too alluring with fish to hunt the precious ones in the mountains. As long as the fish are biting, who cares to hunt rocks?

Mrs. William L. Huntley, "Katheen" as she is known to all her friends, says of their 24-room, two-story house on North Greenway Drive, their home for many years, that the view from the upstairs porch across the greens of the Granada golf course is heavenly.

She also says why go away? Not far away reside the Huntley's son, W. L. Huntley Jr., and family of our children at 3315 Durand St. Kathleen says they have plans to build a large, two-story colonial home in the University Drive area which will have five bedrooms, each with its own bath.

Reason?—The junior Huntley's are expecting again, and they are planning for plenty of room for their kids to play.

Prize for the girl who would get the most sevens in the "Secret Tournament" was won by Mrs. Richard Hunt who had nine 7's.

Least number of putts award was taken by Mrs. A. M. Franklin with 26 putts.

Mrs. Thomas J. Birmingham won the prize for driving closest to the hole on number 10.

Putting aside their clubs, golfers partied in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt C. Houser took their yacht "Miss Linda" and docked at Ocean Reef. Overnight guests of the Houser's were Mr. and Mrs.

Their Gift of Work Brings Gift of $$$

THAT CHECK being presented Dr. Thomas S. Gowin by Mrs. Leonidas W. Dowlen is for $2,500 to Doctors' Hospital.

Although the Auxiliary of Doctors' Hospital in Coral Gables is less than two years old, its membership consisting of 92 wives of staff members, has achieved considerable success in raising money for this medical institution.

This has been accomplished through operation of, and revenue received from the hospital's Gift Shop, a once-a-year fund raising benefit, and other programs.

On National Hospital Day, last week, the Auxiliary presented to the John T. MacDonald Foundation, operators of Doctors' Hospital, a check for $2,500. It will be used for the purchase of surgical equipment and a new intercom system.

The Gift Shop at Doctors' is open seven days a week. Forty eight women, including members of the Auxiliary and volunteers, donate approximately 3,600 hours a year on this project.

The Auxiliary also staffs the information desk at the hospital on a five-day a week basis, and provides library service three days a week.

Another source of revenue is photographing new-born babies a few hours after birth. These pictures are taken by a nurse in the maternity wing.

First president of Doctors' Hospital Auxiliary was Mrs. Willard L. Fitzgerald. During the past year, Mrs. L. W. Dowlen has served as president, with Mrs. Robert P. Keiser, first vice president.

Management of the Gift Shop was under the direction of Mrs. Frances Cook.

On Monday new officers for the coming year were installed at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Edward Preston, 1215 Alhambra Cir.

New officers of the Auxiliary to be installed are Mrs. Wesley Nock, president; Mrs. Roger Forestier, first vice president; Mrs. Robert P. Keiser, recording secretary; Mrs. William T. Mixson, treasurer; Mrs. Henry Caffee, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Stanton, corresponding secretary.

Rolfes Optical Dispensary

What affects your appearance more than the clothes you wear, your hairdo, or your posture? Your glasses! While you look at people through your glasses, they are looking at them.

Fortunately nowadays, since eyewear is available in so many modern styles, you can be fitted with frames which are not only extremely attractive in themselves but can even enhance your appearance by bringing out your best features or by minimizing some defect. The girl or man who wears glasses today may be more attractive with them than without!

You know your eyes are your most precious possession. Frequent eye examinations are necessary to continue their good health. And the place to take your prescription and for help in choosing your "new look" is Rolfes Optical at 2340 Galiano Avenue just off Miracle Mile. Mr. Rolfes, who has a fine reputation and background in the fitting of cosmetic eyewear, uses a modern method known as Proscopic Analysis. He not only provides dependable work in filling prescriptions but also gives close attention to the design and fit of the frame to each individual face. "People just don't pay enough attention to how they look," he says. And whether you are a new or a long-time user of optical aids, his knowledgeable assistance might make all the difference.

If you already have glasses, Rolfes Optical can often reshape your present lenses into one of the modern frames. Or perhaps your breakage rate is high and it is time to switch to shatterproof lenses. For bifocal wearers, Mr. Rolfes can style frames which will distract from the "Bifocal line." If you are one of those "frame-pushers" whose glasses slide down your nose, Rolfes can adjust the frames so they are reliable again. Better yet, he has in stock a newly developed light weight frame which virtually eliminates this problem of slipping. The material in these will not expand with heat and therefore will hold its original shape much longer.

Here in Florida where the climate requires extra protection from the sun's rays, sunglasses are a real necessity for almost everyone. To give the best protection and greatest comfort, custom-made quality lenses are vital, and Rolfes has a big selection to choose from. Did you know that certain colors are especially recommended for maximum satisfaction while water skiing or fishing? These suggestions are free at Rolfes.

Of course, Mr. Rolfes also fits contact lenses. When these are properly made and used, they are both comfortable and practical. Take a tip from the television stars and try them out for yourself!

Publix' South Gables Unit Will Face Nervia Street

Publix Supermarket will face Nervia Street, the Board of Architect and the Coral Gables Zoning Board decided.

The new market, designed by Charles N. Johnson, is expected to be started this week sometime. Plans are being studied by the Building Department and a permit was expected to be issued this week.

The question of facing was introduced by John E. Vinsant, secretary of the Zoning Board after the Building Department had presented drawings indicating a facing at 1401-1451 Monza Avenue.

O. K. Houstoun Jr., who sits on the Board of Architects and who is also associate architect on the Publix market, appeared before the zoning board to present the board's recommendation that the legal facing be changed to Nervia.

Neighborhood residents opposed the Publix market last year when the chain proposed to build on the rear of the lot after the City Commission vacated an alley on first reading.

The Commission later reversed itself, but Publix decided to go ahead and build on the front of the tract,

Water Study Is Delayed

Completion of an interim report on a survey of Consumers Water Company water rates has been delayed by the inclusion of new information to study and other work.

This is the word from Internal Auditor Paul Gleman who was to have presented his report this week.

Gleman has been busy with a group of University of Miami students interviewing local merchants over the new commercial personal property form.

Members of the Coral Gables Board of Architects huddled with the City Commission Friday morning to discuss the possibility of having an engineer on the board and the role of the board.

No change in the composition of the board is expected after the meeting.

Commissioner Franklin Evans had brought up the desirability of having an engineer sit on the board.

Jerry Carter Says:

Thanks Folks!

I want to thank all the good citizens of Florida, especially the ladies and their organizations, as well as the men and theirs, and also the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Young Democrats for the magnificent support they gave me in the first primary, and solicit their activity and vote in my behalf in the coming run-off primary.

In the first primary Jerry Carter LEAD in 60 out of the State's 67 Counties!

40 Counties each gave Jerry Carter MORE VOTES than all other opponents combined!

20 Counties each placed Jerry Carter FIRST with a big majority in each of these Counties.

JERRY CARTER has saved the Florida Residents nearly . . . $200,000,000. ON ELECTRICITY, GAS and PHONE BILLS.

A PROVEN RECORD NOT PROMISES

TALLAHASSEE AREA — Jerry Carter was directly responsible for refunds to the customers of Southeastern Telephone Company in North Central and Northwest Florida of nearly $1 million.

SOUTH FLORIDA — Four (4) separate rate reductions on Florida Power and Light Co. were ordered by the commission in 1957 reducing electric light rates $4,725,000 annually. Another $200,000 in '60, another 6¼ million in 1960 and another for $2 million. Total nearly $15 million in this vast area alone.

PENSACOLA — The Commission ordered rate reductions of $257,501 annually — went into effect January 1958. (Gulf Power Co.)

JACKSONVILLE — Refunds in gas amounted to $105,727 (Jacksonville Gas Co.)

MADISON — Commissioner Carter brought before the commission the phone company serving Madison, into a public hearing on rates and an inadequate and inefficient service. Charges were cut ONE HALF! This action spurred other phone companies in the state to install more modern and efficient equipment under the supervision and through the cooperation of your Commissioner Jerry Carter and the Commission.

ALL FLORIDA — Reduced rates for natural gas have gone into effect all over the state by order of the Commission. Jerry Carter's first act was to urge investigation and it resulted in the first statewide 10 percent reduction of exchange phone charges; and abolished a 50c per month charge for desk and hand phones.

Grove Is Interested In Sunrise

The Coconut Grove Civic Club has sent a resolution to the City of Coral Gables supporting the Sunrise Harbour Association's recommendation that the City hire planners and work with Miami and Metro in developing Sunrise Harbour.

Claiming a membership of 700, Lester Pancoast, president, pointed out that a part of Sunrise Harbour subdivision lies in the Coconut Grove section of Miami.

The Sunrise Harbour Association recently filed suit against Coral Gables in an attempt to block construction of a 28-unit, two story apartment along Edgewater Drive.

Creation of a density problem is claimed in opposing the apartment.

S. Dixie Fence

Anchor Post Products Inc. of Florida has been awarded $2,127 contract by the City of Coral Gables for a chain link fence from Oak Avenue and Brooker Street along South Dixie Highway.

The fence had been turned down by the State Road Department initially, but later approved on reconsideration after the City pressed its case for the need of a protective barrier along the heavily travelled highway.

How Did Planners Come In?

How did the Coral Gables Planning Board get into the oil refinery act?

City Commissioners Tuesday indicated they did not know but would try to find out.

The Board at its May 2 meeting invited representatives of the proposed Seadade refinery east of Homestead, County officials and representatives of Everett Clay and Associates, public relations firm handling the deal for Seadade.

No stand was taken by the Board at the time and Chairman Don Wessell indicated the group would be reinvited after the County comes up with controlling ordinances.

The City Commission has taken no stand on the refinery and has not indicated that it will.

Hearing Set On Sewers

A public hearing on sanitary sewer district SS-9 — an estimated $487,000 project — will be held next Tuesday at 3 p.m. by the City Commission.

Two areas, the Industrial section and the Negro settlement, will be covered by the sewer project.

City Manager L. W. Robinson Jr. estimates the City's share at $100,000, with private owners paying the $387,000 balance.

Estimated hookup cost will be $500 for individual units and more on industrial tieups, depending on conditions.

A total of 768 units are estimated.

The City Commission had originally planned to sewer an area along South Dixie Highway near the University of Miami, but changed its plans when a greater need was felt for the industrial and Negro sections.

Robinson has reported the septic tank situation in the Negro area as reaching the saturation point.

DANCE TUESDAY

St. Theresa's Catholic Young Adult Club will sponsor a Hard Times Party Tuesday at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 270 Catalonia Ave.

Red Mumford and his band will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to midnight. Prizes will be given for the most original "hard times" costumes.

The City Beautiful is the choice of an even greater percentage of the people who do the appreciating... Symphonies and sculpture. Drama and good books; painting and the ballet.
