JAX LEGISLATOR URGES STATE TAX INCOMES OF ALL OVER $3,600

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 9. (UP)—Sen. John E. Mathews who has stirred up one legislative storm with a gross receipts tax proposal started another controversial levy through the Senate today when he offered a bill to annul by referendum the constitutional ban against a state income tax.

The Jacksonville Senator recommended an income tax equal to 18 percent of the amount paid yearly to the federal government on the first $500,000 and exempting all persons having an income under $3,600 a year. His bill provided that the issue be decided by the voters in 1950.

Sen. W. A. Shands, Gainesville, offered a bill to increase the tax on liquor by 25 cents a gallon from the present $1.75 levy. He said it would raise $1,000,000 a year.

The bills were offered in advance of the senate's "order of business" debate on the central purchasing agency demanded by the administration.

Dick Haymes, Mate Sign Pact to Part

HOLLYWOOD, May 9. (UP)—Film actress Joanne Drew and singer Dick Haymes have signed a property settlement and the actress will get a Reno, Nev., divorce this month, her attorney disclosed today.

The attorney, Jerry Giesler, said custody of the couple's three children would be settled in a local court action.

Haymes has said he would marry Nora Edgington Flynn, after she divorces Errol Flynn.

Royal 'Cheesecake' Pics Stir Paris Gendarmes

PARIS, May 9. (UP)—Police confiscated today the entire first edition of the Paris weekly France-Dimanche for allegedly publishing a picture of Princess Margaret of Great Britain in a bathing suit.

Circulation of the issue and the picture was forbidden on grounds that it tended to "cast aspersions on the royal family of a large friendly country."

The picture has been published both in Britain and in Italy.

Editors of the weekly denied that it was Margaret's picture. They told police it was a photograph of a member of the party accompanying the Princess on her Italian holiday tour.

London newspapers have published several pictures of Margaret in a bathing suit during her trip. All were taken with telephoto lens since photographers were not allowed closer than 500 yards to the beach she was using.

Police said the French Foreign Ministry ordered the seizure of the paper. The Foreign Ministry said it initiated the action at the request of the British Embassy. The British Embassy denied it had made any such request.

Navy 'Turtle' Ends Memorial Flight

W. Germany Constitution Sent to AMG

BONN, Germany, May 9 (UP)—A new West German constitution, patterned after that of the Weimar Republic and containing a safeguard against the rise of another Hitler, was submitted to the three western military governors for approval today.

The constitution was adopted 53 to 12 by the Bonn constituent assembly last night after 250 days of drafting.

It provides for an elected President and Prime minister. It will go to the various German State Legislatures for ratification after approval by the American, British and French military governors.

Assembly delegates beat back, 66 to 2, a final Communist effort to sabotage the constitution last night. Communists proposed that the assembly abandon the work and start negotiations with Communists of Eastern Germany for an all-German government.

"We don't want a Germany with concentration camps," non-Communists cried at the two communist delegates.

The new constitution was approved on the fourth anniversary of V-E day. It will be the basis of the first German government since Hitler committed suicide in April, 1945.

Ford Snubs Strike Mediation Efforts

DETROIT, May 9. (UP)—The Ford Motor Company today snubbed all offers to mediate the strike against its two key plants, increasing prospects of a prolonged walkout that in 10 days will leave 100,000 U.S. workers idle.

In 30 days, the strike's effects will be felt throughout the world.

The company said that the walkout of 62,000 CIO United Auto Workers against its River Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury plants is a matter for company-union negotiations. It is willing to meet with the union and submit the dispute to arbitration.

The strike, now in its fifth day, forced the company to begin a wide program of plant shutdowns and layoffs in 16 states and Canada, starting tonight.

Cafeteria Suits Set for June 27

Trial of two suits for damages totaling $50,000 against the Ely Cafeteria Incorporated, 212 Avenue Alcazar, was set today by Circuit Judge William A. Herrin for June 27. The suits were consolidated for the trial.

Both claim that they were poisoned by eating contaminated pork roast and noodles in the restaurant on March 10, 1948.

The little boy was rushed to the Huntington hospital for emergency treatment after an automobile accident in which his left leg was broken, and his head and one arm injured.

After he reached the hospital, he stopped breathing.

Three Huntington hospital doctors treated him with injections of Coramine. They accompanied these by artificial respiration.

The boy was revived.

Quick Pact Seen Halting 'Red' March

WASHINGTON, May 9 (UP)—Former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said today the "ambitious and power-hungry dictatorship" of Russia will withhold "the word to march" if the Senate quickly ratifies the Atlantic Pact.

The Defense Treaty, Patterson told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, will give the west a combined strength "far in excess of any that Moscow can muster." Soviet leaders, who pay "strict attention to physical power," will be convinced they cannot win a future war, he said.

Patterson, a vice president of the Atlantic Union Committee which advocates a federation of western democracies, testified as committee chairman Tom Connally, D., Tex., issued speed-up orders in an effort to ratify the pact before the Big Four Parley on Germany begins May 23.

SIMS BILL READIED FOR SECOND TRY

WASHINGTON, May 9 (UP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn said today that administration democrats in the House will overhaul and reintroduce the so-called Sims Bill in their second try at repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The Texan outlined that labor legislation strategy as he and other democratic congressional leaders emerged from their regular Monday morning conference with President Truman.

He said the compromise Sims Bill, which the house rejected last week, will be used by the House Labor Committee as the basis for a new labor law to replace the Taft-Hartley act. He said he did not know when the committee would be ready to bring the bill back to the House floor.

The Senate has not acted on the Taft-Hartley repeal legislation, but Sen. John J. Sparkman, D., Ala., suggested earlier that the administration had better get behind a repealer modeled on the Sims Bill.

SPORTY EMBEZZLER PLEADS GUILTY; GIVEN 3-10 YEARS

Prager's two wives were not in court. The 23-year-old former $200 a month cashier of the Hunt-Berlin Coal Company, didn't utter a word during the time his case was disposed of. His attorney, Graham Moore, entered the guilty plea.

Prager, in prison attire—blue denim shirt and trousers—sat between two Negroes until his case was called. Then he stood erect until the court imposed sentence.

Bill to Okay Buying Site In Hopper

Construction of a Coral Gables Post Office building is on the "priority" list of the Post Office department, according to a letter from Rep. George A. Smathers to James A. Henderson, president of the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce.

Smathers' letter reads in part: "The Senate recently passed and the House Public Works Committee has reported favorably on a bill authorizing acquisition of sites and drawing of plans for the construction of Post Office and other public buildings, among them the Coral Gables Post Office.

"The Post Office Department officials here advise me that the Coral Gables Post Office is among their priority projects. There is little doubt of the passage of this bill by the House and of course you can depend on my vigorous efforts to see that nothing impedes its progress."

The building is planned to be built within a cost of $730,000, including plans and land, according to word given Senator Claude Pepper by the Acting Commissioner of Public Buildings R. O. Jennings in Washington last week. Copy of Jennings' letter was forwarded to Mrs. Mary Moore, Chamber of Commerce executive secretary. His letter reads in part:

"We have developed a project for consideration under future building programs, contemplating the acquisition of a site and the erection of a Post Office for Coral Gables, under a limit of $730,000. Due to the continuing policy of deferring the erection of post offices until shortages in the private construction field have been met, it is unlikely that the project will be consummated in the early future. However it is hoped that the present Congress will enact legislation authorizing the acquisition of Federal building sites and the preparation of architectural drawings, in order that we can proceed immediately with actual construction following such time as funds are appropriated for that purpose.

"This office is cognizant of the situation at Coral Gables, and you may be assured that in the formulation of future public building programs, the project for that community will be carefully considered."

The Chamber of Commerce, which has campaigned for the federal building over a period of ten years, re-opened the efforts recently on the advice of Acting Miami Postmaster S. R. Valliere who has been cooperating throughout the campaign.

The present Coral Gables branch Post Office has been housed in a series of rented quarters over a period of 24 years.

IN OUR MAIL

Editor, Riviera Times:

Since missionaries from Miami Beach and adjacent communities have decided to come to Coral Gables (uninvited so far as known) to save its citizens from its grasping property owners, it is suggested that they propose a plan to Congress to relieve the situation (believed better than "rent controls," but similar to the agricultural adjustment program).

It is believed obvious that no private individual or company with any business sense is going to sink or risk their capital in housing, when it is liable to be subject, even possibly over a long term of years, to political ideas of government bureaus as to what constitutes a fair return.

Especially in a place with the high standards of Coral Gables, outside of government subsidies in some form, $80 apartments are not going to be built to rent for $40 a month, no matter what bureau in Washington may figure is a correct figure.

It does not seem "rent controls" are the answer to encouraging housing here.

Why not apply same methods in agriculture, since federal government wants to get in?

Establish a "party" cost and rental value to be allowed upon any housing parallel to that given on certain agricultural products. The U. S. will give loans and payments necessary to insure full "parity" payments to property owners over what can be received from buyers or renters.

As in agricultural products any profits realized by owners above the parity prices will be kept by the owners.

If surplus building develops in certain areas or in certain types, government will take over to prevent "ruinous" price drops and either demolish buildings (selling for fire wood, road ballast, etc.) or if possible ship to needy foreign countries (through E.R.A.). In this connection, some sort of portable housing design should be favored.

With above method, no matter what surplus in materials, labor, etc., may develop construction no doubt would continue at full capacity, thus insuring a relief of shortage at earliest possible moment.

To supplement, of course, there is the projected slum housing replacement to be financed by the federal government which presumably will take care of those in slum areas unable to pay rentals required by cost of construction. Fortunately Coral Gables seems to have little prospects here or concern, except in its citizens paying towards the taxes for its cost.

OUR TOWN

By AL HARUM

Peace, it's wonderful!

It wasn't so long ago mothers and fathers feared to open their mail while their sons and daughters fought for the VE Day we celebrated yesterday.

The streets of Our Town were filled with uniforms and a Just Plain Civilian felt out of place at the Country Club Dances the Beach or the movies.

AL HARUM

Remember? You couldn't go into the local grocer and get a pound of coffee, a bar of soap or a slab of bacon.

Remember? Even with ration coupons it was tough to keep the butter on your bread, fat in the frying pan or sugar on your cereal.

Remember?

The family car was left in the garage more often than not—Sunday driving was out, and the bus lines did a booming business. Your gas station proprietor moved 'way up in the social ladder and you polished your own windshield, checked the air in your own tires and poured water in your own radiator.

Remember?

New tires were practically unheard of—and the kind of recap you were able to secure was dinner table conversation. The screech of rubber against asphalt was the sign of a traitor and the speeder who burned up his tires on the highways hung his head.

Remember?

A good hunk of beef was something you read about. Bacon became divorced from eggs because you couldn't buy either. Meatless days were proclaimed by the powers-that-be and university dieticians devised strange concoctions which would take the place of beef.

Remember?

Block captains visited your home to check your canned goods so you wouldn't have more than your share of foodstuffs.

Remember?

At the howl of the siren you doused your lights and sat in the darkness in tense fear of the possibility that the roar of enemy aircraft might one time be heard.

Remember?

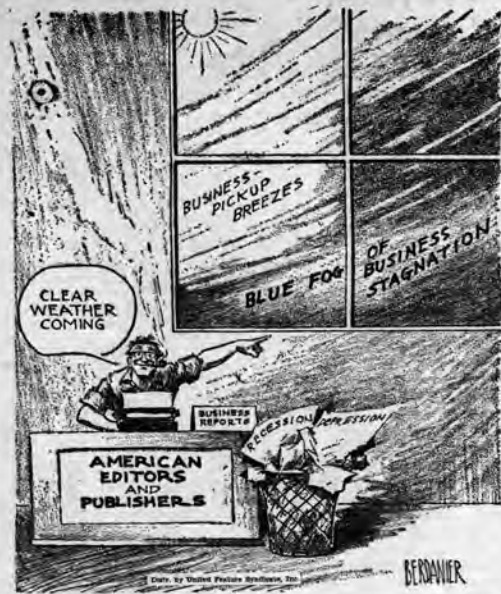

We couldn't go swimming because oil slicks from sunken craft crept toward our beaches and folks reported sighting subs offshore.

Remember?

All the channels of promotion were directed at purchase of war savings stamps and bonds. (The kids you bought them for will soon be going to college).

Remember?

Peace, it's wonderful! Let's remember that, too!

REMINISCING

By TRACY HOLLINGSWORTH

The other night the radio announced the passing of one Tracy Richardson in Chicago. He had a very colorful career, being the general in Nicaragua who once made Villa apologize to him at pistol point, down in Mexico.

Unfortunately, there were three of us with the first name of Tracy. Richardson, Spaulding and myself, and I presume I am the last of the three.

The name of "Tracy" was easy for the Latins to understand, as it sounds like the word for "Thirteen" in Spanish. But they could never pronounce nor understand our last names, so when any guy with the name of "Tracy" got mixed up with a revolution or the law in any way, they would say, "Oh, you are Senor Tracy?" regardless of your credentials. So you got the works.

Fortunately, we outlived some of those who disliked the name of "Tracy," below the border.

I was accused of being in Honduras once when actually, I was in the state of Chiapas, Mexico, and Richardson was accused of being in Monterey, Mexico, when I knew he was in New Orleans, because he was with Lee Christmas, buying guns for the revolution.

For me, "Thirteen" has been lucky.

DOG TALES

By TOM FARLEY

"IRON CURTAIN" DOGS

This is the fourth and final report on dogs in Europe by Elizabeth Fagg, noted foreign correspondent.

***

Dogs play an important role in forming the so-called "Iron Curtain" in Europe today. They are used extensively along the tense frontiers of the Eastern countries in border patrol. Refugees from the "Iron Curtain" states who slip out "on the black", as crossing borders illegally is called, say dog patrols are harder to elude than unaided foot police patrols or watchtower sentinels. Dogs detect the presence of a hidden person where a man will not.

The purpose of the "Iron Curtain" is perhaps as much to keep citizens in the communist countries, as to keep visitors out. As each of the Eastern European countries became communist states, an immediate measure has been the increasing of frontier restrictions and patrol. As the new government grows stronger, frontier policing is intensified and it becomes harder and harder for dissatisfied persons to get away.

Yet, despite risks and dangers, illegal border crossings from the East continue. Refugees usually travel by foot at night, seeking wooded areas where possible, although woods have been cut on many boundary lines in order to make patrolling easier. Darting from tree to tree, or hiding behind rocks, dropping into ditches and culverts and crawling from time to time, they get out by eluding the patrols, with just the clothes on their backs and whatever small luggage they can carry.

But patrols that use dogs often spell doom to the escapee. The dogs are usually kept leashed, but they scent out the hiding man, woman, or, sometimes, groups of persons, betray their presence to the guards, and the escape is finished.

Actually, though dogs have become an objectionable ingredient in compounding the "Iron Curtain," they have long been standard equipment in border patrol work all over Europe. Their use in various kinds of police and guard work is far more extensive than in the United States. The trained police and guard dog was traditional in Europe years before the term "Iron Curtain" was ever coined.

Midwifery Out of Date

TOPEKA, Kan. (UP)—Midwifery apparently is an obsolete profession in Kansas. An annual report by the Kansas department of vital statistics showed that physicians attended 99.6 per cent of the total births in the state. Only seven per cent of the births occurred outside the hospital.

According to National Safety Council tabulations, the highest death rates from accidents were reached in December and January last year.

CORAL TERRACE AND GROVE DEMONSTRATORS CARRY OFF ACHIEVEMENT DAY PRIZES

Blue ribbons were handed out in profusion at the annual county wide home demonstration achievement day program held recently in the Bayfront park auditorium.

On hand to receive their share of the first place prize winning ribbons were twelve members of the Coral Terrace, South Miami and Coconut Grove home demonstration clubs.

Top prize winners in the Coral Terrace group were Mrs. J. B. Harnes, canned meats; Mrs. Fred Wulf, felt articles, and Mrs. E. L. Sisson, tooled linoleum card table.

Members of this group also achieved third place in the competitive skit portion of the program.

In the South Miami club, blue ribbon winners were Mrs. A. L. Kemp, cooking; Mrs. R. F. Riley, jelly and stuffed toys; Mrs. H. B. Heath, aluminum tray; Mrs. A. B. Olsson, crepe paper work; Mrs. Thomas Rogers, swedish darning, and Mrs. George C. Beacham, renovated hats.

Two or more blue ribbons were won by three members of the Coconut Grove group. These included Mrs. D. C. Woodrum, canned tomatoes and miscellaneous canned vegetables; Mrs. James Russell, afghan, tooled copper waste basket, and what-not shelf made of spoons, and Mrs. E. V. Bettner, painted chinaware, tooled and painted linoleum pictures and girls' dresses.

Girl Scouters to Model Own Handiwork Before PTA

Making real skirts, measuring six yards around, and cotton-flannel long sleeved night gowns earned not only sewing badges for Girl Scouters, troop 75, but a chance to model their handiwork at the Parent Teacher Association meeting come May 17 at Merrick School.

All seventh grade students, the 12 girl scouts include two sets of twins, four "Betty's," two "Anns" and three "Nancys."

"You may imagine the fun and distraction we had," exclaimed Mrs. French Koger, who assisted troop leaders, Mrs. Claud Nowlin and Mrs. Maurice Richardson, "when we would call those Betty's and Nancys for fittings. We got so we just yelled 'twinky' for one of the sets of twins, for being identical twins, each could 'double for the other in fitting," she explained.

Thoroughly interested in their project the girls made their long sleeved night gowns (for those "cold" winter Florida nights) of outing flannel. The skirts, cut circular, are made of pastel shades of Indianhead cloth.

Grace Moore, Atlantan, Meets Mate At New Year's Day Game in Orange Bowl

If it hadn't been for the Orange Bowl classic a few years back, perhaps Dr. R. Spencer Howell would never have met his attractive blonde wife. But they did meet there, by arrangements, through mutual friends, and not by accident.

It all happened when Mrs. Howell, the former Miss Grace Moore, of Atlanta, Georgia, accompanied her daddy, Wiley Moore, director of several companies here, and Pure Oil distributor for Atlanta, on his annual trek to the New Year's Day game.

"I am sure the king jamboree session that day proved a spring board for Spence and me toward a romantic and speedy courtship. We were married the following

—Gables Studio

MRS. R. SPENCER HOWELL

August", Mrs. Howell laughingly admitted.

Mrs. Howell, newly elected treasurer of the Coral Gables Junior Woman's Club, is another subject in a series of stories concerning junior club leaders. She has served as case work chairman in the dental clinic, the project the juniors maintain so munificently.

"I suppose it is because I am the mother of three young children myself, that I took the case work so seriously. To tell you the truth," she explained, "my heart ached for those children, and their parents, as prospective patients. One mother said, 'Oh, I am so glad you are going to do something about my son's teeth. Everytime he runs in the wind his teeth ache, for there are holes in every one'."

Graduate of the University of Georgia where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority, Grace Moore attended Fairmont Junior College. She was the youngest of five children of the Wiley Moores, and the family home, on Lakemoor Drive in suburban Atlanta, has always been a mecca for the Howell family come summer time.

"All of my brothers, except one, and sisters are married and have their homes around my daddy's big lake there, so you may imagine we have one big picnic come summertime", Mrs. Howell said.

Dr. Howell is a graduate of the University of Georgia Medical School at Augusta, Georgia. At Georgia he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity, and Alpha Kappa Kappa, medical fraternity. Marriage of the couple took place in 1942 and, because they had planned it, they came to live in Coral Gables, but it was only for a month.

"Spence was called into the Army and I was tickled to pieces," Mrs. Howell related. "I thought it would be just like living in a country club traveling from one army post to another as a medical officer's wife, but I surely found out about the army life being hard, the 'hard' way," she laughingly admitted.

The Howells and their three sons, R. Spencer Jr., five years old, Wiley, three, and Tommy, two, reside at 1015 Avenue Sevilla.

They are members of the Country Club of Coral Gables, the Riviera Country Club, and of the Capital City Club in Atlanta.

A champion golfer in her college days at the University of Georgia, Mrs. Howell has little time for golf with three sons and a busy doctor husband to look after.

"I find my days taken up pretty much with the household routine. I am active in the Women's medical auxiliary, and of course my junior club work keeps me very busy, so that little time remains for those nostalgic Atlanta days, when my father would say, 'Get your hat Grace we are going to fly to Miami.'"

Cinnamon Thins For Snacks

Another variation for plain roll refrigerator dough are cinnamon "thins," which can be used as between-meal-snacks or dessert.

Roll risen dough out into a fourth of an inch thick square. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Roll up like a jelly roll and seal.

With scissors, cut into sections a third of an inch thick. Dip top of section in cinnamon and sugar mixture.

Place cinnamon thins in greased pans and let rise until doubled (about one and a half hours). Bake in a moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 or 20 minutes.

Mrs. Parkinson Past Presidents' Parley Hostess

If you happen into the University of Miami's Taxidermy department and see a handsome gray fox stuffed and mounted, you'll know that same gray fox was, until very recently, stealing the prize white fat hens belonging to Mr. and Mrs. O. C. (Jack) Corbin. The Corbins set traps for their marauder, and a single shot finished him. But fat white hens, aren't the only beautiful attributes of this interesting Corbin country place on Ponce de Leon Road. There is the swimming pool, which last night, during the cocktail hour, at the party Mr. and Mrs. Corbin gave, became the center of attraction. Centered in the back of the ranch type house of the Corbins, the pool mirrored a nearly full moon overhead, until the hosts turned on lights underneath the water. Flanking the pool on either side were picnic tables where scores of guests had supper, as well as in the house.

they will visit and inspect the interesting flora which grows in this state.

Not many of the guests attending Mrs. E. N. Belcher's coffee Friday morning knew that the beautiful crystal chandelier, hanging in the dining room, was new. A regular collector's piece, the six candle design piece is made of Czechoslovakia glass over gold. Mrs. Belcher complemented the lovely orchid plants hanging in her solarium entrance by wearing an orchid silk print herself. Her daughter, Mrs. John B. McLeod, also a hostess, was in pale pink, cotton gingham with embroidered yoke. Two of the guests, Mrs. David Giffen and Mrs. Edwin Klassy, wore identical bolero type silk suits of shantung and lace, but confessed they were quite happy about the whole thing. Mrs. Klassy's white suit with white accessories was purchased here in the Gables. Mrs. Giffen's beige hat and shoes, was bought in Atlanta.

Mrs. Corbin, who is so interested in things horticultural, that early morning finds her digging, planting, weeding, trying her hand at exotic new things she has heard about, received her guests wearing a pale blue eyelet silk jersey frock. All of the assistants, Mrs. Francis Graham, Mrs. Roy Page, Mrs. Maurice Hart, Mrs. Kenneth Goodrich and Mrs. C. E. McWethy, wore formals and complemented their frocks with corsages fashioned of stephanotis and double hibiscus gifts from their hostess, and grown in the Corbin gardens. Mrs. McWethy made the pretty things. The hostess also was presented a corsage made of frangipani—the gift and handiwork of Mrs. Paul Ochiltree, also a guest with her husband at the party. Among others noted from across Miami were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hilton, Mrs. John D. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Thompson all of Miami Shores. Near neighbors of the Corbins at the party included Mr. and Mrs. George A. Chatfield, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman Hineckley in addition to the Roy Pages.

Tonight the Corbins will be hosts at a fish fry and swim party for Miami Rotarians and their Rotary-Anns. Later in the week Mr. and Mrs. Corbin and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Page are taking a jaunt to Vero Beach to inspect some rare orchids—then across state to visit Mr. Page's brother in Sarasota. Everywhere

Miss Betty Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Burns, of 748 Alhambra Circle, has named June 5 as the date of her marriage to David Dick III. The 4:30 p.m. wedding will take place at the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Frank Imand, sister of Betty's, who will be matron of honor at the wedding, will honor Betty and other members of the bridal party with a luncheon at Burdine's June 1. Miss Mary Dick, sister of the groom-elect, will carry the role of maid-of-honor at the marriage of her brother and Betty. Raymond Jarvis, Bill Murray, and Joe St. Pierre will be ushers, and David Dick Jr., father of the bride-groom-to-be, will serve as best man. More parties have been planned for Betty, including a crystal and china shower to be given by Mrs. George Jahn and Mrs. A. L. Lambert in the former's home, at 3524 S.W. 57th court, on Thursday of this week. On May 18, Miss Lusal Faul will be hostess at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Howard Ozias, 4408 Palmarito Street.

Former Clevelanders Here
Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Draper, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, are now making their home at 311 Avenue Fluvia.

All of the interest groups have been asked to elect their chairmen for next year at their May meetings. Names of the new chairmen should be turned in as soon as possible to Mrs. Virgil Sleight, 4410 S. W. Fifth Terrace.

Lady Dusters Lead as Cleaners; However, Men Excel in the Job

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
U.S. Press Correspondent

Women can out-dust the men when it comes to spring house cleaning, according to Arthur Schoenbaum.

But the men have a muscle advantage in heavy cleaning jobs.

Schoenbaum and his brother run a home cleaning service with an all-male staff. They hire men because they work faster and Elizabeth Toomey can do the heavy chores much easier. But women win their votes for the best cleaners.

"They're more thorough," Schoenbaum said. "They remember the little things." Men may know how to wash a wall, for instance, but they usually forget to dust the light bulbs. In fact, Schoenbaum has figured out that 80 per cent of the men ignore light bulbs when they clean house. He offers no percentages on the women.

On spring days his male staff of cleaners can be seen moving into New York homes and apartments like a squad of commandos, armed with buckets, cans of cleaning fluid, floor polishers and plenty of imported French chamois for the windows. First they wash the walls, then the woodwork, then they dust and finally clean the furniture.

Paint Needs Care

Schoenbaum said he had to learn just how much soap and water it would stand. The water soluble paints, for instance, won't stand as thorough a sudsing as other paints. On those they use a soapy rag that has been squeezed fairly dry. Then, instead of rinsing the wall with clear water, they dip another rag in clear water and then wring it out, then wipe the wall free of soap.

Whether a wall should be washed from the top down or the bottom up is a question that's puzzled many a housewife. Schoenbaum has a ready solution. His cleaners wet a strip of the wall from bottom to top, then start washing from the top down.

If the soapy water runs down over a dirty wall, it leaves stained or bleached streaks that won't wash off. But if the wall has been dampened with clear water before the washing starts, Schoenbaum said the water film would keep the soapy rivulets from leaving permanent scars.

Experts Preferred

Furniture cleaning and rug shampooing are two jobs best left to the expert. Schoenbaum uses a dry cleaning solution on upholstered furniture. He doesn't believe in washing it. Water may take the sheen off the upholstery or cause it to fade. Rug shampooing is successful on certain carpets only if it is properly done. The amateur had better content himself with a thorough vacuuming, and cleaning of soiled areas with a cloth moistened with a commercial cleaner.

Schoenbaum and his all-male housemaids will even wash the dishes and clean the silverware for home owners. But they get a little impatient doing those jobs.

Washing dishes, Schoenbaum explained, is just a little too tedious for a man.

Rocket Tower Preserved

ROSWELL, N. M. (UP)—An 80-foot steel tower which played a part in the earliest American rocket experiments now stands on the grounds of the Roswell museum. The tower was donated by Mrs. Robert H. Goddard, widow of one of the pioneers in rocket research. Goddard used the tower to launch rockets in his upper-atmosphere research for the U. S. Army and Navy.

Bugs Ironed Out

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Amateur radio operators tracked down two "mystery stations" that have been interfering with television broadcasts in this area. The "stations" were electric germ killers which, acting like transmitters, sent out a signal in the television wave bands. The owners of the devices promised to quit using them.

SCORECARD

By DON CUDDY Sports Editor

Olympia folded in the stretch and Scorecard was asleep at the switch. That's the second-morning after analysis of what happened in the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Gables Disappointed by Olympia in Derby

Coral Gables did root mightily for Fred Hooper's colt and everybody was disappointed that he didn't take the Run for the Roses.

But where Scorecard struck out was in riding Ben Jones' endorsement of Olympia. The Calumet wizard seemed resigned that this was not the Devils Red and Blue's year when Deluxe didn't approach the required standard. In a tour of the Hialeah barns Calumet folks pointed to the "picture horse," Deluxe and didn't mention once that Ponder might also run. You shouldn't discount a Calumet entry even if they are running Bessie, the milkman's plug, as several thousand other folks know by now.

Transplanted Kentuckian Recalled Traditions

Probably one of the most attentive listeners to the description of the pre-race festivities was Mrs. J. E. Moss, of 2703 Alhambra Circle. She was reared in Louisville and this was one of the first year's she's missed the Derby. It was interesting to watch her hanging on every word describing the parade to the post and, literally, on every note of "My Old Kentucky Home."

"Wonder if a Gableite 'abroad' would sense the same loyalty to, say, the Orange Bowl game."

U-M's Bill Lufler Overlooking Good Local Prospects

Bill Lufler, the University of Miami tennis coach, has done himself proud by the Hurricane netters his first year—but it's obvious he's overlooking some bets for replacement material in allowing racket-swingers of Bill Merriam and Dick Holroyd calibre to be led away to the University of Florida.

Gator Coach Harry Fogleman not only has taken some of South Florida's prize prospects on a Gainesville-ride, but has even provided plane-transportation for the player's parents to close the deal.

Orlando Garrido is Looking for a Hat-Rack

But Bill can still get Orlando Garrido, the Cuban fireball who won the Gables Junior Invitational flashily yesterday. The youngster needs a scholarship in order to remain in this country and, as a newcomer, looks like the best of the local crop.

Olympia Out Of Preakness; Taking Rest

By United Press
LOUISVILLE — Olympia, the pre-Derby favorite than ran sixth in the big race, will not be entered in the Preakness at Baltimore Saturday, it was announced today.

Fred W. Hooper, the colt's owner, said "we decided to send him back to New York to rest for a few days." He declined further comment.

Olympia left Louisville at 6 a.m. (CST) today by Eastern Air Lines. The colt was to be flown non-stop direct to LaGuardia Field, N.Y.

Meanwhile, at Baltimore, the Preakness previewing and prognosticating society was torn between two factions.

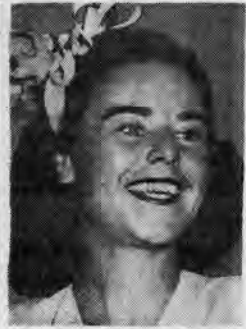

On one hand there was the "Praise Ponder" clique which was quite willing to concede the triple crown to the Calumet Comet on the basis of his longest victory in the Kentucky Derby.

And on the other there was the "wait-til-next-week" crowd, really Brooklyn baseball fans at heart, who insisted that Olympia is still the three-year-old of the year despite his sixth place finish in the Derby.

At any rate, the manner in which Ponder ripped open the Derby promised one of the largest Preakness fields in recent years—perhaps 12 to 14 horses. Last year only three were paraded to the post for a futile challenge of Citation.

Three Win Close Rounds in Riviera Prexy Cup Tourney

Three Riviera golfers moved into the second round of the Presidents Cup tournament by scoring 1-up victories in the opening match play test over the Blue Road links yesterday.

John Hardeman, Paul Anderson and Dr. James Putnam were the three who skimmed past Dr. L. W. Dowlen, Doug Reynolds and Paul Bell.

Other scores posted in the tournament found R. H. Marshall defeating Conway Hamilton, 2-1; O. J. Jorgensen ousted Mel Martin, 2-1; Dr. C. H. McDevitt eliminated Frank Hessler, 4-3; Jack Harding was the victim of G. C. Kirkland, 3-2; S. M. Franklin defeated Phil Joechem, 3-2.

Second round of the tournament must be completed by May 15, with the field now whittled down to 32 players, Pro Leonard Ott said.

Krutulis Ends 10-Week Drill For Cavaliers

Guard Bill Fader and end George Joechem will captain respective White and Red teams in Ponce de Leon's spring football game, concluding more than two months practice, Coach Joe Krutulis announced today.

Teams for the game will be selected by the two captains tomorrow morning, Krutulis said. The clash is scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m. Friday on Cavalier field.

Both Fader and Joechem won monograms with the luckless Cavaliers last year. They are rated two of the hardest-working players on the 30-man squad which has been developing the T-formation under Krutulis, who moved up from his post as assistant to Johnny Noppenberg last year.

Krutulis said today that, as much as possible, running of the teams will be the job of the captains and quarterbacks with neither his aide, Fabian Hoffman, nor himself planning to interfere.

Gables Cops Split In Beach Shoot

The Coral Gables police department's pistol team traveled to the Miami Shores range yesterday and in two matches split with the Miami Beach small arms officers.

Captain F. J. Neff and detective Del Edwards led the Gables shooters to a victory in the .38 class.

Edwards fired a 277 and Neff a 273 to aid in the gross of 1088 the Gables squad compiled to edge the Beach cops by five points.

Earlier the Beach scored 1127 in the .22 class to beat the Gables who fired 1110.

GARRIDO GETS JUNIOR TITLE VIA 2 UPSETS

An adopted son from Cuba paid Coral Gables in full for the tennis privileges it affords him yesterday by sweeping the Junior division of the Coral Gables second annual Spring tournament against the strongest court competition that Florida has to offer.

Orlando Garrido, slim dark-haired Cuban junior net champion of last year, confounded the experts early in the day by coming from behind to rout Florida's number one junior, Dick Holroyd of Miami, 2-6, 6-1, 7-5 in the semi-finals.

Garrido

The Havana-bred lad, who now wears the Gables colors, proved he'd really hit his stride later in the day by dumping Bill Merriam, his longtime practice opponent and second ranked junior in the state 8-6, 4-6, 6-4 in a title match which saw every point bitterly contested.

Dusk was closing in when Garrido teamed with sharp-shooting Doug Sandberg, also of the Gables, to capture the Junior doubles trophies from Holroyd and Bill Izlar of Miami, 6-2, 6-1.

Second favorite with the crowds who watched the four-day competition directed by Leo Fullwood at Salvatore Park was tow-headed six-year-old Merrill Mathews, who was dumped from the tiny boys singles battle by an elderly gentleman (aged nine) from Palm Beach, but who paired with ten-year-old Johnny Skogstad of the Gables to defeat Dougie Jones and Lyons Williams, both of our town, in the tiny boys doubles, 6-0.

In the boys 15-years-and-under, Leslie Ruthven of Fort Lauderdale took Al Harum Jr. of Coral Gables 6-3, 3-6, 6-2 for the singles championship, then teamed with Harum to defeat Jeff Arnold and David Harum, 6-2, 6-1, in the doubles finals.

Jerry Moss of Miami Beach turned back Jeff Arnold of the Gables, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, for the 13-year-and-under title, and Moss and Mike Green of the Beach defeated Arnold and D. Harum for the division's doubles championship.

Johnny Skogstad stroked his way to the 10-and-under singles title by defeating Bob Kassatly of Palm Beach in the finals yesterday 8-6, 6-0.

Major League Roundup: Four Starters Hurl Giants Into Lead in 6-Game Streak

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK—For folks who think there are 15 better pitching staffs in the majors, it may come as a shock today to learn that the four big New York Giant starting pitchers have turned in 11 complete games, more than any other team in either league.

Manager Leo Durocher has stuck to just four starters, Larry Jansen, Clint Hartung, Sheldon Jones, and Montia Kennedy, fewer than any other team, and they have come through in an almost spectacular manner.

Riding a six-game winning streak, the Giants moved into first place yesterday when Larry Jansen scattered 11 hits in a 10 to 1 victory over the Cubs at New York. Jansen, though hit hard at times, had a shutout until the ninth when Frankie Gustine hit a homer. Bobby Thomson got a three-run Giant homer and Whitey Lockman got a triple and three singles in the 14th Giant attack.

Although much of the success of the Giant pitchers must be attributed to the terrific offensive support given them by the batters, it still is significant that seven of their last eight starters have gone the route and only two innings of relief work have been needed on the club since May 1.

The Pirates upset the Braves, 8 to 3 and 11 to 8, Cliff Chambers winning the opener with relief help from Bob Muncief. In the second game, Pittsburgh put on (Please turn to Page Thirteen)

National, Carls, Aircraft Slated In Softball Loop

The top level of the Youth Center Men's Softball league is due for a quick shuffle tonight when three of the top teams go into action in a bargain bill starting at 7:30 p.m.

In the opening game pacesetter National Air Lines puts its 5-1 record on the line against upset-minded Ware Laboratories. The technicians are shackled with a won 2, lost 4 record but may find the punch to ease the Buccaneers out of the lead.

Carls Liquors and Aircraft Service are due to settle their second-place tie in the nightcap, with the winner possibly taking over the lead should NAL falter. Both teams boast a 4 and 1 record with Carls packing the heaviest artillery in the circuit at the plate and Aircraft Service leaning heavily on the stingy hurling of Mac Flythe.

The standings to date:

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Removable plastic wallpaper has been developed as a remedy to one of the critical health hazards of the atomic age, radioactive pollution of laboratories and factories.

A scientist from the Oak Ridge national laboratory in Tennessee, Dr. Carleton Jealous, described this new wall coating to the American Chemical Society.

The walls are covered with three coats of a dense paint known as prucoat, and over it is sprayed a thin rubbery film called cocoon.

If the walls become "hot" from radioactive substances, the coating can be stripped off and replaced with a new one, he said.

Raft Loves to Be Inconsistent; That's What Made Him, He Says

By PATRICIA CLARY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — George Raft delights in being inconsistent, and he claims that if he'd been consistent he never would have got anywhere.

It's the inconsistencies of human nature that make people stand out from the crowd, Raft says. He himself is so inconsistent that, by his theory, he ought to loom up like the Empire State Building.

Raft is a gregarious person and loves company. But he's never had a party at his house.

"Closest I ever came to it," he recalled, "was having six people over once for a Thanksgiving dinner."

Patricia Clary and he specializes in exotic dishes.

But he seldom invites anybody to eat them. And for himself, he eats steaks 365 days a year, except Leap Year, when he eats steaks 366 days. While he can mix excellent seasonings, he eats his steaks with nothing more than salt.

Likes Perfume

The actor used to be a professional fighter and a jockey. Nobody ever got away with calling him a sissy. But he has an expensive perfume collection, scatters his favorite bottles through his house and changes the scent in his swimming pool daily.

Most people consider Raft the shady tough guy he plays on the screen. But in the Roy Del Ruth production "Red Light" he flatly refused to do a scene because it went against his principles. Raft was supposed to throw a candlebra through a church window. He wouldn't do it until a Catholic priest called on the set and persuaded him that no sin would be attached to him.

Although he came from New York's teeming Hell's Kitchen tenements, Raft has decorated his own home with rare and beautiful antiques.

Probably the best example of his inconsistency is that Raft has never yet seen himself in movies, and the doesn't plan to until the day he retires.

"Then I'm going to get all my movies," he said, "and I'll spend a week running them all off from the first to the last."

COOPERSTOWN—The doors of baseball's Hall of Fame swung open today to admit Mordecai (three-fingered) Brown and Charles (Kid) Nichols, two famous hurlers of yesteryear.

Election of Nichols and Brown by the permanent Hall of Fame committee brought to 58 the total number of players now enshrined in baseball's Hall of Fame here.

SUBJECT WAS DOG, BOTH IN COURT AND OUT
SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—In a court session, attractive Deputy District Attorney Doris Schnacke prosecuted a San Franciscan named Harold Betts. Annoyed by some dogs in his neighborhood, Betts had created a scene and was brought into court to be fined $50.

The same afternoon Miss Schnacke attended her public-speaking class to find a new instructor. It was the same Harold Betts. To make matters worse, the subject she had picked for her three-minute talk was: "Guide Dogs for the Blind."

Four Starters Hurl Giants Into Nat Lead

 a six run rally in the eighth after Boston had scored three times in the seventh to take an 8 to 5 lead. Brooklyn came from behind with four runs in the seventh to beat the Cardinals, 8 to 7, scoring the winning run on a double play. Gil Hodges hit a Dodger homer and Jackie Robinson got a double and two singles.

The Reds beat the Phils, 14 to 7, in a fantastic 12-inning game at Philadelphia then lost the second game, 8 to 1, shortened to six innings because of the curfew. In the opener the Reds scored five runs in the ninth but the die-hard Phils came back to score four and tie the count at 7-all. The Phils used five shortstops, including second string catcher Ken Silvestri, in the wild affray. The Reds made 21 hits including a homer by Jimmy Bloodworth and four singles by Red Stalcup.

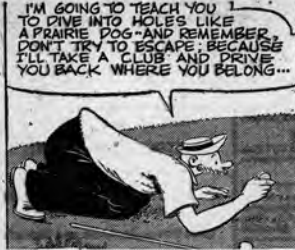

The Yankees extended their American League lead to four full games, beating the Tigers, 12 to 0, on Lefty Tommy Byrne's two-hit pitching at Detroit.

The astonishing Senators who started out the season in horrid fashion, climaxed a seven-game on-the-road winning streak by drubbing the Indians, 7 to 3 and 2 to 0.

The Red Sox, who have had rough sledding on their western trip, finally found a haven of refuge in St. Louis where they won a pair, 10 to 6 in 13 innings and 4 to 3 in eight as the Browns' losing streak was extended to 10 games. The Red Sox got to the wild Joe Ostrowski for four runs in the 13th of the opener, then took the darkness-shortened second game with a rally in which Billy Hitchcock's single and Matt Batts' triple were the big blows.

The White Sox rapped out an 11 to 3 victory over the Athletics in Chicago but Philadelphia countered with three runs in the eighth to win the second game, 3 to 2. Randy Gumpert went the route for Chicago in the opener and Bill McCahan was the winner for the A's in the second game.

St. Pete Shopping For Another Pilot

St. Petersburg shopped around for its third manager of the season Monday while the other teams in the Florida International League looked for some way to halt the blazing Miami Sun Sox.

Harry Sullivan handed in his resignation immediately after St. Pete sank 7 to 2 Sunday under an 11 hit Flamingo barrage as Miami was climbing into first place with a 6 to 5 win over Tampa.

Havana hung in fourth place with a 6 to 1 win over Fort Lauderdale and West Palm Beach slugged Lakeland 7 to 2 for its second in a row over the pilots.

The Cubans counted nine hits off Dizzy Howell but Fort Lauderdale's Chuck Aleno stole the batting show when he slammed his 19th home run of the season in the ninth.

IT IS TOO BAD THAT YOUR FRIEND VERRAL STUPIDLY ALLOWED US TO RECOVER THIS FILM. TOO BAD FOR YOU!

QUITE INGENUOUS OF YOU TO HIDE THE FILM IN THIS BEAR, THEN TO PUT IT IN THE MAIL ROOM TO BE SENT TO YOUR DETECTIVE FRIEND WHEN YOU KNEW YOU WERE ABOUT TO BE CAUGHT.

A VERY CLEVER SCHEME, MR. REPORTER, SNEAKING INTO THE STORE AND TAKING PICTURES OF OUR... ER... TRANS-ACTIONS.

BUT WHAT'RE THEY HOLDING QUOTES FOR, CHEFF? I DON'T GET IT.

NEITHER DO I -- YET. SHHH. MAYBE THEY'LL GIVE US THE ANSWER.
